- Hosting of two women's conferences to teach and empower

- Undertaking men's fellowships through walks, social events such as barbeques and physical activities such as the maintaining and upgrading the church premises. We used these engagement points to teach men how to be better fathers, husbands, brothers and members of society able to communicate and maintain healthy relationships and environments.

- Hosting an open praise and worship session open to all churches with performances from the resident artists and guests from other churches with particular emphasis on the youth in order to grow them and provide focus in their Christian life.

- Free music lessons on the keyboard, guitar and drums to members as well as those willing to take them up from the wider community in Leeds. To date the offer has been taken up by children with the first class graduating in May and a new class currently in progress.

- Visiting the sick and in times of hardship providing financial aid as well as food packages.

- Providing spiritual guidance, help with prayers as well as counselling to those going through divorce, marriage (about to wed), job hunting and other day to day activities.

Respective responsibilities of the Trustees and examiner

Trustees and management of the charity are responsible for the preparation of the accounts. You consider that the audit requirements of section 145 of the Charities Act 2011 do not apply and that an independent examination is needed.

To keep adequate financial records that supports the reported annual accounts and to ensure that published reports are free from material misstatements and frauds.

My responsibility

To carry out procedures such as analytical reviews, inspection of sampled financial records and enquiring from those tasked with governance of the charity any matters that arise.

I also considered the disclosure of material facts in the reports and the going concern of the church.

The nature and extent of my examination did not provide appropriate adequate audit evidence and therefore no audit opinion is provided in this report.

Independent Examiner's statement

During my examination, no matter has come to my attention:

1. Which gives me reasonable cause to believe that, in any material respect, the requirements:
 - To keep accounting records in accordance with section 130 of the Act and
 - To prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records and comply with the accounting requirements of the Act and the Regulations have not been met or
2. To which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.
