Section C Objectives and activities

Summary of the objects of the charity set out in its governing document

For the public benefit to relieve the needs of children, young people and adults who are suffering from cancer in particular by the provision of End of Treatment Bells to be placed in hospital wards that will act as a source of mental and emotional support during the course of the beneficiaries' treatment and stay in hospital.

To donate bells to treatment centres in the United Kingdom for patients who are undergoing treatment to ring during and after their treatments, or to celebrate milestones along the way. These include (but are not limited to) cancer treatment centres and special care baby units.

We sponsor a bead for children enrolled on the Beads of Courage UK programme to receive when they ring one of our bells during and after treatment. All trustees are aware of and believe our activities fall within the guidance set here: https://assets.publishing.service.gov.uk/government/uploads/system/uploads/attachment_data/file/588234/PB1_The_Public_benefit_requirement.pdf

Summary of the main activities undertaken for the public benefit in relation to these objects (include within this section the statutory declaration that trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit)

Additional details of objectives and activities (Optional information)

You may choose to include further statements, where relevant, about:

- policy on grantmaking;
- policy programme related investment;
- contribution made by volunteers.

Section D

Achievements and performance

Summary of the main achievements of the charity during the year

The activity has slowed down since we launched, and this is down to the fact we have supplied bells to most of the major hospitals in the UK. In total we have distributed over 450 bells.

We do however still get enquires and distribute bells on a fairly frequent basis. The Milestone bell and plaque have seen increased interest since we first rolled them out in March 2022. We believe that this will continue because of its more inclusive nature.

We have continued to sponsor 'our' special bead through Beads of Courage UK and Ireland for children who are enrolled on their programme to add to their bead collection when they ring a bell.

We continue to supply certificates to centres to give to patients as they ring their bell to celebrate their end of treatment or milestones along their treatment path.

Section EFinancial review

Brief statement of the charity's policy on reserves

Details of any funds materially in deficit

Further financial review details (Optional information)

You may choose to include additional information, where relevant about:

- the charity's principal sources of funds (including any fundraising);
- how expenditure has supported the key objectives of the charity;
- investment policy and objectives including any ethical investment policy adopted.

As the distribution of bells has fallen over the last year, so has the number of donations.

We did however receive over £1200 from various benefactors including our local church. This is a significant amount to a charity like ours.

Our outgoings are minimal, and our costs can be almost entirely attributed to bells, assembly and distribution. On occasion people ask to sponsor a bell, and this is one way in which we have been able to recoup some of the costs
