Director's Report for Nahamu Limited for the Year ended 31 March 2025

The directors present their report and accounts for the year ended 31 March 2025.

Principal activity

The principal activity of the organisation in the year was research and analysis in support of the promotion of human rights. In particular, we have:

Built on previous training delivery to develop innovative training on extremism and harmful cultural practices, and how these relate to policy and practice.

Delivered this training in across 4 different government departments, reaching hundreds of civil servants who work to develop policies that affect Charedi communities.

Delivered guest lectures at two universities, reaching more than 150 students and staff in person, and 3000 graduates online.

Engaged with UK media to promote public understanding of the human rights issues we promote.

Engaged meaningfully with MPs and members of the House of Lords to ensure our Education Paper (2024) was efficiently disseminated.

Engaged with stakeholders across the Charedi community as we develop our research and analysis.

Continued to speak out about forced marriage in the Charedi community, partnering on two academic studies.

Directors

All the directors held office for the whole period.

Statement of directors' responsibilities

The directors are responsible for preparing the report and accounts in accordance with applicable law and regulations. Company law requires the directors to prepare accounts for each financial year. Under that law, the directors have elected to prepare the accounts in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice and applicable law.

Company law requires the directors to prepare accounts for each financial year. Under that law, the directors must not approve the accounts unless they are satisfied that they give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the company and of the profit or loss of the company for that period. In preparing these accounts, the directors are required to: - select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently; - make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; - prepare the accounts on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the company will continue in business.

The directors are responsible for keeping adequate accounting records that are sufficient to show and explain the company's transactions and disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the company and enable them to ensure that the accounts comply with the Companies Act 2006. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the company and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

Small company provisions

This report has been prepared in accordance with the special provisions relating to small companies within Part 15 of the Companies Act 2006.

I report to the trustees on my examination of the accounts of the above charity ("the Trust") for the year ended 31 / 03/ 2025.

Responsibilities and basis of report

As the charity's trustees, you are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the requirements of the Charities Act 2011 ("the Act").

I report in respect of my examination of the Trust's accounts carried out under section 145 of the 2011 Act and in carrying out my examination, I have followed all the applicable Directions given by the Charity Commission under section 145(5)(b) of the Act.

examiner's statement

I have completed my examination. I confirm that no material matters have come to my attention in connection with the examination (other than that disclosed below *) which gives me cause to believe that in, any material respect:

the accounting records were not kept in accordance with section 130 of the Charities Act; or the accounts did not accord with the accounting records; or

- the accounts did not comply with the applicable requirements concerning the form and content of accounts set out in the Charities (Accounts and Reports) Regulations 2008 other than any requirement
- that the accounts give a 'true and fair' view which is not a matter considered as part of an independent examination.

I have no concerns and have come across no other matters in connection with the examination to which attention should be drawn in this report in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.
