Objectives and Activities

	SORP reference
Summary of the purposes of the charity as set out in its governing document	Para 1.17	1.1 The objects of the CIO are: (a) To promote human rights (as set out in the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child and subsequent United Nations conventions and declarations ("the UNCRC") throughout the world, in particular the child's right to play, leisure and cultural activities, by all or any of the following means: (i) providing technical advice to government and others; (ii) promoting public support for the UNCRC; (iii) promoting respect for human rights among individuals and corporations. (b) To provide or assist in the provision of facilities in the interests of social welfare for play, recreation or other leisure time occupation of children throughout the world who have need of such facilities by reason of their youth, disability, financial hardship or social circumstances with the object of improving their conditions of life.

Summary of the main activities in relation to those purposes for the public benefit, in particular, the activities, projects or services identified in the accounts.	Para 1.17 and 1.19	It provides a forum for exchange and action across disciplines and across sectors. IPA's purpose is to protect, preserve and promote the child's right to play as a fundamental human right. IPA operates a membership scheme. This year time has been focussed on ensuring the new is CIO is sufficiently provided with systems and policies to enable it to be fit for its purpose. We have engaged with our members and other NGOs internationally to ensure that children's need to play is better understood and provided for The Board of directors meet monthly via zoom.
Statement confirming whether the trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit	Para 1.18	We review our aims, objectives and activities each year. This review looks at what we achieved and the outcomes of our work in the previous 12 months. The review looks at the success of each key activity and the benefits they have brought to our membership and children. The review also helps us ensure our aim, objectives and activities remained focused on our stated purposes. We have referred to the guidance contained in the Charity Commission's general guidance on public benefit when reviewing our aim and objectives and in planning our future activities. In particular, the trustees consider how planned activities will contribute to the aims and objectives they have set.
