Financial Review

Review of the charity's financial position at the end of the period	The charity aims to provide as many grants as possible with the donated funds while ensuring that overhead costs are kept to a minimum level. In July 2023, a grant refund for an event that did not take place means that the charity had larger funds to consider for distribution than usual. The Trustees decided that some funds (c£1000) would be set aside to invest in the development of the charity.
Statement explaining the policy for holding reserves stating why they are held	The reserves policy of the charity is that sufficient funds should be held to cover agreed admin costs (which include but are not limited to bank charges and fundraising regulator costs).
Amount of reserves held	Reserves of £125 are required to cover overhead costs (bank charges and fees). The balance of the reserves will be designated for charity development.
