We are a charitable company organization that welcomes everybody regardless their Race, Religion, Ethnic group, Disability and Sex. We have put a focus on supporting aspiring and professional footballers. The charity has set out to tackle prevalent issues deemed to be major concerns for footballers. Such as: lack of emotional support for football players when they are released, psychological effects of long-term injuries, financial literacy skills and mental health issues e.g. depression, suicide and burnout. In addition, post-release matters such as, finding employment, self-image issues and finding a new purpose, will be addressed by the charity.

2) AIMS:

The main functions of the charity will be carried out by a team of hired professionals and qualified trainers. Our team of professionals, trainers and volunteers will assist in the lifestyle mentoring and the running of well-being workshops, the qualified professionals will run the career and cv workshops and volunteers will ensure the smooth running of events, helplines and provide further administrative assistance to mentors and members of the organization.

Similarly, a team of professional footballers will collaborate with the qualified trainers and coaches to provide enriched coaching sessions and mentoring workshops. The qualified health professionals will provide ad-hoc assistance to the running of our therapy, holistic hubs and 24hr help lines. The team of volunteers and pro footballers will provide support on various match days, tournaments and scouting games provided by the charity.

All fortuitous issues arising out of our scope will be dealt with immediate effect with notice to the police, social services, local authorities as set out in our guidelines.

We plan to work with organisations such as job centres, learning centres, community centres, professional football teams and stadiums to use their venue spaces, rooms to facilitate workshops and events where necessary. The charity will hire a space and rooms within local community and within football clubs and training grounds during pre-season/off seasons as and when required.

We will also work alongside local council and authorities to provide a list of youths or areas that may need support. We will work collaboratively with other football trusts and the football player liaison officers to provide further guidance to footballers during off seasons, loans and long-term injuries.

We will also work closely with the local health authority to provide short term accommodation to young children going through family issues.

Given the actual state of the financial situation of our charity, we were not able to provide as many projects as we anticipated to, however we used the rest of the year building a strong team so they are ready and have all the tools needed to support the young people moving forward.

Planning for a better future: We will plan to network with other charities who are also supporting young aspiring/professional footballers, in order to build partnerships to enable our charity to grow.
