Structure, governance and management

Governing document

Al-Aqsa Educational Centre is constituted as a Charitable Incorporated Organisation (CIO) registered with the Charity Commission in October 2021 under charity number 1196030.

Organisational structure

The charity trustees are responsible for the general control and management of the charity. The trustees give their time freely and receive no remuneration or other financial benefit for their duties as trustees. Payments for any other activities are disclosed separately in the financial accounts.

The trustees are responsible for all decisions taken in relation to running the educational centre and activities provided by the charity. Specific administrative duties are delegated to staff.

Risk management

The trustees have developed a safeguarding policy that is reviewed to assess its continual appropriateness and application. Additional steps have been taken to identify and mitigate major risks. In particular, insurance cover is in place and the finances of the Charity are kept under review. Appropriate Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) checks, supported by regularly review policies, are made for all those who work with children within the Charity.

Objectives and activities

Our aims

The objects of the charity are set out in the charity's governing document:

To advance the Islamic religion for the benefit of the public through the provision of Islamic education according to the Quran and Sunnah of the Prophet Muhammad.

To advance the education of the public in the study of the Arabic language.

Our objectives

Our objectives are set to reflect our faith and community aims. These objectives and activities have been reviewed to ensure they continue to reflect our aims. This has taken into consideration the Charity Commission's general guidance on public benefit and in particular its supplementary guidance on the advancement of religion for the public benefit.

The overall objective is to provide young people and adults in the local community with self-confidence and a well-rounded understanding of Islam that will allow them to develop and contribute positively to society.

The main objectives are:

Provide weekly classes for young people and adults to study Islam, Quranic recitation and the Arabic language.

Strategies

Fees are continuously assessed for affordability while still maintaining financial viability. Discounts are offered to larger families and for those requesting financial assistance.

There is regular communication with parents to update on term activities, obtain feedback and share ideas. End of term reports are sent to parents giving a summary of student progress.

Enrolment is open to all, with students attending from a variety of religious backgrounds.

Activities and achievements

How our activities deliver public benefit

The trustees consider that the activities carried out in pursuit of its charitable aims benefit directly those who attend the classes provided as well as the wider community.

Weekend Classes

Regular weekend classes continued with student numbers largely unchanged compared to the previous year (166 Autumn Term 2023/24, 169 Autumn Term 2024/25). Student numbers fell to 145 at year end in Summer Term 2023/24. This was largely due the older boys' class being stopped owing to difficulties finding replacement teachers, as well the expected drop due to regular school exams. The weekend classes taught the full curriculum of Quranic recitation, Arabic language and Islamic Studies to children.

Weekday Classes

Weekday classes continued with a waiting list due to parental demand. There are two classes per day, three days per week after school with two teachers per class. Classes are small (maximum 13 students) in order to ensure appropriate supervision and maintain standards.

Financial review

Principal funding sources

The main source of funding is student fees (£63,207) with a small contribution from donations (£21). Course fees are mainly paid termly for weekend classes and monthly for weekday supplementary classes.

Principal costs

The main costs are:

- Teacher payment £35,225
- Classroom £6,970
- Books £4,885

Statement of Trustees' responsibilities

The charity trustees are responsible for preparing an annual report and financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

The law applicable to charities in England and Wales requires the charity trustees to prepare financial statements for each year which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charity and of the incoming resources and application of resources of the charity for that period. In preparing the financial statements, the trustees are required to:

- Select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently.
- Observe the methods and principles in the Charities SORP.
- Make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent.
- State whether applicable accounting standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements.
- Prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charity will continue in business.

The trustees are responsible for keeping proper accounting records that disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charity and to enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Charities Act 1993, and the Charity (Accounts and Reports) Regulation 2008. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charity and hence taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

The trustees for the purposes of charity law who served during the year and up to the date of this report are set out on page 1.

- To state whether particular matter have come to my attention

Basis of independent examiner's report

We have conducted an independent examination of the Centre's financial statements for the year ending 31/03/2025. Our examination was conducted to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement. The procedure includes a review of the accounting records kept by the centre and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records.

The financial statements include the balance sheet as at 31/03/2025 and the income and expenditure statement for the year then ended.

Independent examiner's statement

I have completed my examination. I confirm that no material matters have come to my attention in connection with the examination giving me cause to believe that in any material respect:

- (1) to keep accounting records
