UT Foundation UK Limited

The trustees who are also directors of the charity for the purposes of the Companies Act 2006, present their report with the financial statements of the charity for the year ended 31 December 2022. The trustees have adopted the provisions of Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) (effective 1 January 2019).

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Objectives and aims

The objectives of the charity, for the public benefit, are to:

- operate a registered charity, under the Charities Act 1993, to assist in the advancement of education
- make grants to the University of Texas and other educational institutions
- assist in the advancement of education of students attending those institutions.

The aims for the year have been to increase the collection of gifts and donations from members of the public, alumni and friends; and consider further ways to bring the Charity's educational programme benefits to a wider range of people, within the available budgets.

Future plans are to continue to build on the increase in donated funds activity and make these funds available for grant making.

Significant activities

All donations received during the year were for restricted charitable activities and the trustees applied the funds in accordance with the donors' wishes to the following causes:

President's Award for Global Learning ("PAGL") is a multi-disciplinary program that empowers student and faculty teams to examine real-world challenges and enact solutions in one of three broad categories: expanding existing research, social impact, or entrepreneurship. Funds may be used in a variety of ways to support the students and faculty who apply and receive the awards. Such uses may include, but are not limited to, supporting travel, and research and materials expenses, and stipends for students. Funds are managed by Texas Global (formerly the International Office).

Austin International Framework ("AIF") supports an exchange program for chemistry majors and is currently led by Dr. Simon Humphrey in the College of Natural Sciences the donor provides funds to support a full-time position to coordinate AIF. Participating students engage in research at the university and in international locations, to co-author scientific publications, and meet researchers and students from Scotland, Canada, France, England, and Japan.

The Global Professional Training: East and Southeast Asia program is a conference and cultural program that was established in 2015 to prepare students for international careers, to create a peer-to-peer network, and to integrate Asian international students into the university. The conference and program will be coordinated by Texas Global (formerly the International Office), and funds will be used to support the conference and subsequent cultural activities.

The William and Judith Bollinger International Student Fellowship Fund provides annual scholarships and program activities for international students studying at the LBJ School for Public Affairs. Funds are administered by the LBJ School.

Sustainability and Leadership Institute. The McCombs School of Business and Moody College of Communication will partner to establish a program to implement and communicate effective models of sustainability. The centrepiece of the program will be the multi-disciplinary curriculum, including experiential learning opportunities, through which students enrolled in the program may earn a Minor in Sustainability and Leadership. This will be open to all students. This gift is an academic landmark for the University, helping to coalesce an unprecedented level of talent, ingenuity and energy toward the challenges that sustainability is uniquely positioned to solve.

The gift covers:

- 1) Bake Chair in Sustainability and Leadership - an endowed chair that will attract distinguished leadership to the institute and ensure that efforts to accelerate sustainability will be supported in perpetuity
- 2) Bake Endowed Sustainability and Leadership Industry Engagement Fund - A permanent endowment that will support a series of programs that will make the University an international destination for those at the cutting edge of sustainability, including a speaker series, symposiums, competitions, fellows' programs and conferences.
- 3) Academic Program Funds (non-endowed) - current use funds will provide support to advance academic instruction.

Grant making and public benefit

The Charity, through its governing body, the Board of Trustees, is aware of its responsibilities as a charity to act for the public benefit across its activities and has had due regard to the latest version of the Charity Commission's public benefit guidance.

During the year under review grants to educational establishments of £1,498,059 (2021 - Nil) were made in furtherance of the aims of the charity. The trustees believe that the educational grants, all made to the University of Texas, ultimately result in benefiting the wider public and humankind in general.

STRATEGIC REPORT

Financial position and review

In the year under review incoming resources amounted to £1,505,099 (2021 - Nil) and the Charity exceeded its financial objectives for the year. The Charity continued its policy of making educational grants to the University of Texas and to keep minimum reserves of under £5,000 for administration purposes only. The Charity has the support of its sole member, the University of Texas, in its day to day obligations.

Future plans are to continue to build on the increase in donated funds activity and make the funds available for grant making.

Investment policy and objectives

In accordance with the charity's Memorandum of Association the Trustees of the charity have the power to invest in such investments, securities, or property as they see fit. Funds are invested in accordance with the donor's wishes and in the absence of a specific request; donations received by the charity are placed on bank deposit until distribution.

Reserves policy

To achieve its objectives, the charity has elected to donate all its incoming resources less administrative expenses, to designated educational institutions. Therefore, all funds are designated, and, as a policy, funds are not retained in general reserves, save to meet general expenses of £10,000.

The charity's Memorandum of Association does not allow payment of any dividends to shareholders. It also precludes shareholders from partaking in the distribution of any remaining property, should the charity be wound up or dissolved, in which event, any remaining surplus would be payable to charitable institutions with similar aims.

STRUCTURE, GOVERNANCE AND MANAGEMENT

Governing document

The charity is controlled by its governing document, the memorandum and articles of association dated 3 December 2020, and constitutes a limited company having a share capital of £1, as defined by the Companies Act 2006.

Recruitment and appointment of new trustees

Any new appointments are at the unanimous recommendation of the board but after consultation with the ultimate controlling party. At least half the board members should be at such meeting.

Organisational structure and decision making

A minimum of two trustees must be appointed, who shall hold office until the AGM following their appointment. Trustees, who are competent, may be re-appointed for a further term. There has been an average of 5 trustees throughout the period.

Induction and training of new trustees

On appointment, each trustee is given, in the view of the board, sufficient training and has sufficient knowledge of their specific field to understand the nature of the charity and is fully compliant with the charity's current view of its progression and given a copy of the UK Charity Commission's publication 'The Essential Trustee: what you need to know and what you need to do' and agrees to follow it.

Related parties

The charity is a related party of University of Texas in Austin, USA which is the main beneficiary of the charity, and whose board of trustees are the sole member of the Trust.

Related parties

1) The University of Texas (USA) is the ultimate controlling party and beneficiary of the charitable donations made by the company and it bears the annual audit and accountancy costs amounting to £1700 (2021 - Nil) of which audit fees were £900 (2021 - Nil). It also contributed £5,000 (2021 - Nil) towards the charity's finance and administration costs. These contributions are recorded as part of other income in the accounts.

2) Restricted funds includes £1 representing the issued share capital of the company, being the fully paid 1 ordinary share of £1 allotted and issued to the University of Texas (USA).

STATEMENT OF TRUSTEES' RESPONSIBILITIES

The trustees (who are also the directors of UT Foundation UK Limited for the purposes of company law) are responsible for preparing the Report of the Trustees and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

Company law requires the trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial year which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charitable company and of the incoming resources and application of resources, including the income and expenditure, of the charitable company for that period. In preparing those financial statements, the trustees are required to

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- observe the methods and principles in the Charity SORP;
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- state whether applicable accounting standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements;
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charitable company will continue in business.

UT Foundation UK Limited

They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charitable company and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

In so far as the trustees are aware:

Report of the Independent Auditors to the Trustees of

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of UT Foundation UK Limited (the 'charitable company') for the year ended 31 December 2022 which comprise the Statement of Financial Activities, the Balance Sheet, the Cash Flow Statement and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies. The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

In our opinion the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the state of the charitable company's affairs as at 31 December 2022 and of its incoming resources and application of resources, including its income and expenditure, for the year then ended;
- have been properly prepared in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice; and
- have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Act 2006.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK) (ISAs (UK)) and applicable law. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the charitable company in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in the UK, including the FRC's Ethical Standard, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Conclusions relating to going concern

In auditing the financial statements, we have concluded that the trustees' use of the going concern basis of accounting in the preparation of the financial statements is appropriate.

Based on the work we have performed, we have not identified any material uncertainties relating to events or conditions that, individually or collectively, may cast significant doubt on the charitable company's ability to continue as a going concern for a period of at least twelve months from when the financial statements are authorised for issue.

Our responsibilities and the responsibilities of the trustees with respect to going concern are described in the relevant sections of this report.

Other information

The trustees are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Annual Report, other than the financial statements and our Report of the Independent Auditors thereon.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and, except to the extent otherwise explicitly stated in our report, we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify such material inconsistencies or apparent material misstatements, we are required to determine whether this gives rise to a material misstatement in the financial statements themselves. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Matters on which we are required to report by exception

We have nothing to report in respect of the following matters where the Charities (Accounts and Reports) Regulations 2008 requires us to report to you if, in our opinion:

- the information given in the Report of the Trustees is inconsistent in any material respect with the financial statements; or
- the charitable company has not kept adequate accounting records; or
- the financial statements are not in agreement with the accounting records and returns; or
- we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit.

Report of the Independent Auditors to the Trustees of
UT Foundation UK Limited

Responsibilities of trustees

As explained more fully in the Statement of Trustees' Responsibilities, the trustees (who are also the directors of the charitable company for the purposes of company law) are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view, and for such internal control as the trustees determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the trustees are responsible for assessing the charitable company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the trustees either intend to liquidate the charitable company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

UT Foundation UK Limited

Our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

We have been appointed as auditors under Section 144 of the Charities Act 2011 and report in accordance with the Act and relevant regulations made or having effect thereunder.

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue a Report of the Independent Auditors that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (UK) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

We have obtained an understanding of the charitable company's policies and procedures through discussions with senior management.

We also considered our existing understanding of the working model of the charitable company.

We understand that the charitable company complies with its responsibilities through close involvement of the chair in the day to day running of the business and regular liaison between the Chair, trustees and key management. If there were any matters of litigation or claims they would come to the attention of the Chair.

The charitable company also holds periodic Committee meetings at which all such matters are discussed.

Externally prepared financial information is circulated to all trustees and senior management in advance of these meetings along with detailed reports by the nominated portfolio holders. We have reviewed these report and minutes of all meetings, and no irregularities were identified.

In the context of the audit we considered those laws and regulations which determine the form and content of the financial statements, which are central to the company's ability to conduct business and where failure to comply could result in material penalties.

We have considered the disclosure requirements of the Companies Act 2006 and the Charities Act 2011, along with the Charities SORP FRS102 and the Charities (Accounts and Reports) Regulations 2008 as part of our finalisation processes.

We discussed the possibility of fraud with senior management and whether they had any knowledge of any actual, alleged or suspected fraud. We designed our audit tests to consider controls and tested a sample of receipts and payments to various parties paying attention to the evidence obtained in all respects.

In common with all audits under ISAs (UK) we also performed specific procedures to respond to the risk of management override. We assessed that the charitable company's control environment is adequate for the size and operating model of such a charitable company.

A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements is located on the Financial Reporting Council's website at www.frc.org.uk/auditorsresponsibilities. This description forms part of our Report of the Independent Auditors.

Use of our report

This report is made solely to the charitable company's trustees, as a body, in accordance with Part 4 of the Charities (Accounts and Reports) Regulations 2008. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the charitable company's trustees those matters we are required to state to them in an auditors' report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the charitable company and the charitable company's trustees as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.
