THE GRASSHOPPER MUSIC TRUST
TRUSTEES' REPORT
FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31 DECEMBER 2023

The trustees present their second report together with financial statements of The Grasshopper Music Trust for the year 2023. The trustees confirm that the report and financial statements of the charity comply with the current statutory requirements, the requirements of the charity's governing document and the provisions of the Statement of Recommended Practice (SORP) applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS102) (effective October 2019).

Objectives and activities

Policies and objectives

The objects of the charity are, for the public benefit, the promotion and appreciation of music (in particular, but not limited to, classical music) among members of the public, in particular but not exclusively to young people.

The trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on Public Benefit when setting their objectives.

The charity was set up initially to be a vehicle for Felicity Dahl to continue her generous support of developing an appreciation of classical orchestral music among young people and to continue the development and promotion of the operatic and concert pieces based on adaptations of Roald Dahl's verse and stories after her death. The creation of Odyssey Festival Orchestra in the spring of 2022, with very similar aims to The Grasshopper Music Trust, but without an existing charitable structure of its own, presented an opportunity for The Grasshopper Music Trust to begin this support of young orchestral musicians and orchestral audience-building. Felicity Dahl is a generous supporter of Odyssey Festival Orchestra and its aims.

The trustees are delighted to report that 2023 saw Odyssey Festival Orchestra grow from strength to strength, with three successful concerts in January, May and September at Cadogan Hall and Queen Elizabeth Hall. The sell-out Queen Elizabeth Hall concert with Sir David Suchet and the young piano soloist Sebastian-Benedict Fiore also marked the beginnings of the orchestra's community outreach programme into South London schools. In this period, the orchestra also won the support of three significant charitable trusts, while all its key individual supporters continued to support into its second year.

The trustees continued to approve the choice of Music Link International Ltd. (Company 03031030, established 1995) as producers of Odyssey Festival Orchestra concerts on the basis that Music Link International does not charge Odyssey for its production services and administration, nor make any profit from the arrangement (this agreement will be kept under regular review). Donald Sturrock, a director of Music Link International Ltd, absented himself from this decision. Donald Sturrock does not charge for any of his services to Odyssey Festival Orchestra.

Music Link International also undertakes that all box office income received for Odyssey concerts is directed towards defraying the costs for the relevant concert. Costs not covered by box office receipts are met by donations for the Odyssey project held by The Grasshopper Music Trust and transferred to Music Link International in advances of £5,000 which are then checked against appropriate proof of expenditure.

The trustees initially agreed to underwrite the costs of each of three concerts (September 2022, January 2023 and May 2023) up to a level of circa £30,000 per concert for the first year of the orchestra's existence. This situation has worked well and at a board meeting in June 2023, trustees undertook to support the orchestra at a similar level through the three concerts of the orchestra's 2023-24 season.

The charity solicits donations, but only currently in respect of Odyssey Festival Orchestra.

Strategic report

Achievements and performance

a. Review of activities

During 2023 the charity received donations (including Gift Aid) of £99,105 and made remittances to Music Link International Ltd (representing Odyssey Festival Orchestra) of £85,752. It also paid bursaries of £2,700 to young musicians.

Approximately £30,000 of these remittances was used to pay venue hire costs, £35,000 to pay tutor and artist costs, the remainder going towards administration costs, marketing and development. The costs of the orchestra's growing community outreach programme in South London state schools was funded by The Lennox Hannay Charitable Trust and the Newcomen Collett Foundation.

The balance of donations received after the outlays for these three concerts (£71,570) is restricted to underwriting further Odyssey Festival Orchestra concerts. At the end of the financial year ending 31 December 2023, the breakdown for 2024 expenditure is anticipated to be as follows: Final costs for January 2024 concert (£7,500), with £30,000 currently allocated towards May 2024 (Queen Elizabeth Hall) and £30,000 towards the first concert in the orchestra's 2024-25 season in September 2024 (Cadogan Hall).

b. Fundraising activities and income generation

Income was generated in the year from donations made by individual supporters of Odyssey Festival Orchestra and other charitable trusts and foundations.

c. Duty to promote the success of the charity to achieve its charitable purposes

The trustees act in a way to promote the success of The Grasshopper Music Trust in delivering the charity's aims for the public benefit. Conducting activities on a strictly ethical basis, with due regard to the interests of other stakeholders and the wider community, is fundamental to ensuring the support the charity provides to its beneficiaries.

Financial review

a. Going concern

After making enquiries, the trustees have a reasonable expectation that the charity has adequate resources to continue in operational existence and meet its liabilities as they fall due for the foreseeable future, being a period of at least twelve months from the date these financial statements were approved. Accordingly, they continue to adopt the going concern basis in preparing the financial statements.

b. Reserves policy

The trustees have taken the view that at this stage they do not need a reserves policy. The charity operates with no fixed costs or other ongoing obligations and all fundraised income is currently restricted to Odyssey Festival Orchestra. The trustees are entitled to and do apply income for such charitable purposes as they decide from time to time, and it is not their practice to overcommit themselves in advance to specific expenditure. At the present time, the trustees are still considering the long-term aims of the charity and intend to reconsider the grant-making policy at the next trustee meeting in April, 2024.

c. Principal risks and uncertainties

The trustees have assessed the major risks to which the charity is exposed, in particular those related to the operations and finances of the charity and are satisfied that systems and procedures are in place to mitigate exposure to those major risks. The trustees will only make grants when they have sufficient funds in hand to do so.

d. Financial review

During the year ended 31 December 2023 the charity received donations from individuals of £73,513 plus Gift Aid of £5,592 and donations from trusts and foundations of £20,000. The donations were received in the form of cash.

At 31 December 2023 the charity had cash at bank of £71,570.

a. Constitution

b. Method of appointment or election of trustees

Future trustees will be appointed by existing trustees for such term as they shall see fit, either to fill a vacancy or as an additional trustee. At any one time there may be no fewer than 3 trustees.

Statement of trustees' responsibilities

The trustees are responsible for preparing the trustees' report including the strategic report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

Charity SORP requires the trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial period that give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charity and of its incoming resources and application of resources for that period. In preparing these financial statements, the trustees are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- observe the methods and principles of the Charities SORP;
- make judgments and accounting estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- state whether applicable UK Accounting Standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements;
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charity will continue in operation.

The trustees are responsible for keeping accounting records that disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charity. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charity and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

As the trustees of the charity, you are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements in accordance with the Requirements of the Charities Act 2011 ("the Act").

I report in respect of my examination of the charity's financial statements carried out under section 145 of the 2011 Act and in carrying out my examination I have followed all the applicable Directions given by the Charity Commission under section 145 (5) (b) of the Act.

Independent examiner's statement

I have completed my examination. I confirm that no material matters have come to my attention in connection with the examination giving me cause to believe that in any material respect:

1. Accounting records were not kept in respect of the charity as required by section 130 of the Act; or
2. The financial statements do not accord with those records; or
3. The financial statements do not comply with the applicable requirements concerning the form and contents of accounts set out in the Charities (Accounts and Reports) Regulations 2008 other than any requirement that the accounts give a "true and fair" view which is not a matter considered as part of an independent examination.

I have no concerns and have come across no other matters in connection with the examination to which attention should be drawn in this report to enable a proper understanding of the financial statements to be reached.

2.1 Basis of preparation of financial statements

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the Charities SORP (FRS 102) - "Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice" applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) (effective October 2019), the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) and the Charities Act 2011.

The Grasshopper Music Trust meets the definition of a public benefit entity under FRS 102.

Assets and liabilities are initially recognised at historical cost or transaction value unless otherwise stated in the relevant accounting policy.

The principal accounting policies for the charitable company are set out below.

2.2 Going concern

After making enquiries, the trustees have a reasonable expectation that the charity has adequate resources to continue in operational existence and meet its liabilities as they fall due for the foreseeable future, being a period of at least twelve months from the date these financial statements were approved. Accordingly, they continue to adopt the going concern basis in preparing the financial statements.

2.3 Income

All income is recognised once the charity has entitlement to the income, it is probable that the income will be received and the amount of income receivable can be measured reliably.

Donations are included in the statement of financial activities on a receivable basis. The balance of income received for specific purposes but not expended during the period is shown in the relevant funds on the balance sheet. Where income is received in advance of entitlement of receipt, its recognition is deferred and included in creditors as deferred income. Where entitlement occurs before income is received, the income is accrued.

Where the donated good is a fixed asset, it is measured at fair value. The gain is recognised as income from donations and a corresponding amount is included in the appropriate fixed asset class and accounted for in accordance with the charity's accounting policies.

Investment income is recognised when receivable and the amount can be reliably measured.

2.4 Expenditure

Expenditure is recognised once there is a legal or constructive obligation to transfer economic benefit to a third party, it is probable that a transfer of economic benefits will be required in settlement and the amount of the obligation can be measured reliably.

All expenditure is inclusive of irrecoverable VAT.

2. Accounting policies (continued)

2.5 Investments

Current asset investments are a form of financial instrument and are initially recognised at the fair value of the investments donated and subsequently measured at fair value at the balance sheet date. Investment gains and losses, whether realised or unrealised, are combined and presented as "gains/(losses) on investments" in the statement of financial activities.

2.6 Debtors

Trade and other debtors are recognised at the settlement amount.

2.7 Cash at bank and in hand

Cash at bank and in hand includes cash and short-term highly liquid investments with a short maturity of three months or less from the date of acquisition or opening of the deposit or similar account.

2.8 Liabilities and provisions

Liabilities are recognised when there is an obligation at the balance sheet date as a result of a past event, it is probable that a transfer of economic benefit will be required in settlement, and the amount of the settlement can be estimated reliably.

Liabilities are recognised at the amount that the charity anticipates it will pay to settle the debt or the amount it has received as advanced payments for the goods or services it must provide.

2.9 Fund accounting

General funds are unrestricted funds which are available for use at the discretion of the trustees in furtherance of the general objectives of the charity and which have not been designated for other purposes. Restricted funds are those donated for and only available for expenditure on specific projects.
