Aura's Annual General Meeting

covering April 2024 until March 2025

GEMMA GLOVER

Welcome

A massive welcome to our AGM. (Toilets, fire etc)

Thank you all so much for being here at this exciting time for us all.

A little later in the meeting we will ask our members to vote to accept the finances and to vote trustees onto the board.

Members will have been given a voting card when they have arrived. Could I ask for a show of those cards so we can count how many in attendance. Please also when you are asked to vote, can you leave your cards in the air until we have counted them.

You will be asked by our Chair to accept the minutes of last years agm, a copy of which was sent with your invites, although there are a few in the room also and asked by the Treasurer to accept last year's figures, again included in the minutes you received.

Thank you.

Apologies

I do have apologies from - None

We do not intend to keep you long, we can all get to the refreshments very soon!

Both myself, and Aura's Chair, Helen Lockett will update you on what we have been doing in the last year and how or if we have met our aims from the last agm. They will present to you our new aims for the forthcoming year and how we propose to achieve them.

Karen Cork, our Treasurer, will present our financial figures for the last year with a report about Aura's spending, funding and fundraising.

Three of our 4 trustees shall retire at this meeting. We will then ask our members to vote in the trustees for the next year.

Each year a minimum of 3 trustees shall retire, these 3 usually being the 3 being in position for the longest.

If you have any questions or other business you would like to bring to our attention, we will be open for that and then we can have refreshments and an informal chat.

CEO speech

Well we have achieved another year, thank you for all being here, your support and time doesn't go unnoticed and I appreciate all of you, Thank you!

So In April 2024 we announced our 1st business partner Bathroom Basics in Fenton – A family run business.

We cannot thank the guys enough for their ongoing support in helping Aura to grow and spread the word about the service. Not long after we had the lovely Megan Victorias Hair salon in Alsager come on board as a charity sponsor, Thank you!

In April we partnered with Sarah Hulson-Beech, a licensed Menopause champion who helped us to run monthly menopause events 'Menopause meets' at a lovely venue in Alsager, these monthly groups ran from May to November and we met some lovely ladies along the way, Thank you to Sarah for dedicating your time and helping us to arrange these monthly groups.

In May we secured the keys to our new home, Unit 5A, Thomas Street Congleton. Thank you to Vicky at Fierce Spirit Gym (our neighbours) who made us aware of this premises. Now having 2 counselling rooms and an office has been a game changer for our service, and being able to grow the service and offer more face to face support, it is amazing even if we are slightly out growing this one too 😊

Last year I had a vision and this came alive in the shape of our Wellbeing Festival which we held on Saturday 3rd August at Milton Park in Alsager. As Aura provide counselling to those struggling with their mental health we also understand that counselling isn't for everyone and not everyone achieves positive outcomes this way, so the idea of the festival was to bring together wellbeing practitioners and facilitators of other therapies including breathwork, meditation, yoga, vision boarding etc to provide free workshops for the community so everyone has a chance to try different things in the hope people come across something they enjoy and maybe a new positive addition to their life while also having a positive impact on their wellbeing. With many stalls in attendance and family entertainment throughout the day it went just as we had hoped and we even had sunshine too, an added bonus we raised much needed funds for the service.

In October me and Kay attended a book launch event (our first ever one, we were so excited to be asked to be part of this event). The lovely Lisa Williams – The vision board queen reached out to us and asked if we would like to attend the event to promote their new book called 'Ripples of Positivity' This book is where 27 wonderful ladies came together and shared their story and how they have managed to turn the life around to create something positive, the whole buzz of the night was mega. It included a game of stand up bingo and funds raised came to Aura, it was an amazing £225 Thank you Lisa.

Due to our work with the Menopause together groups Aura held a stall and I gave a speech to over 50 people about what Aura can offer at The Civic in Alsager, this event was also a great opportunity for networking and great fun, with a comedian entertaining us.

In October, Helen & Kay had a stall at Affinity in Talke, Raising awareness for Aura.

Then it was Christmas and we held our 2nd Christmas Fayre at Lawton memorial Hall, meeting lots of lovely people in our community as well and raising funds and providing a lovely free community event.

In Jan 2024 we kick started our new monthly 'Your Wellbeing Matters' group this was to replace the menopause events. Our first one was a fabulous Drama Therapy session run by one of our wonderful trustees Sadie. Then our February group was run by Kay/service manager thank you Kay this was a very popular one. We tapped into our inner child and got all crafty. This was a craft group and we focused on 'Positives when things don't go to plan'. Our March group was run by Anna from Writing with Purpose which was a Journalling workshop, this was the busiest group so far and enjoyed by all who attended.

In March 2024 we welcomed 4 new student counsellors who have joined us in helping us provide the much needed one to one support to clients on our waiting list, helping us open the service on more days. We hope you enjoy your time with us.

I will now pass you over to our wonderful Chair of Trustees, Helen Lockett

HELEN LOCKETT

Hello everyone and thank you for attending this evening, we do appreciate your attendance tonight. I am Helen Lockett Chairperson for Aura.

I want to talk tonight about something I am sure most of you will have heard about, the “Let them” theory. Let Them is about letting go of the need to control others and focusing instead on what we can control—our reactions, boundaries, and choices. If the person that you're really attracted to is not interested in a commitment, let them. If your kids don't want to get up and go to that thing with you this weekend, let them.” We all waste too much time and energy on trying to force other people to match our expectations and this causes us unnecessary stress!

If we listen to ourselves and say two simple words “let them”, it is amazing how free we can begin to feel. I know it won't eradicate stress completely but it will begin to make us realise that we can only control the way we respond to other people's actions or words and this in turn may make a difference to the way we feel

We feel that the Let Them theory has an important message to send to clients we work with at Aura and we are happy to support this way of thinking, always remember getting professional help is so important to help us adjust our way of thinking and explore our feelings.

Last year we spoke of our aims to support the government plans to prevent suicide and we feel very much that we have achieved this by supporting the clients and offering a safe place for them to share their thoughts and feelings.

Due to the funding crisis we find ourselves in we have unfortunately not met the other 2 aims we set ourselves

- Help clients to improve their emotional health by offering support to improve physical health and fitness.
- To promote counselling support and drama groups in schools and education facilities in and around Stoke on Trent.

With the funding situation we, and many other charities find ourselves in we have decided that keeping our aims for the year ahead as realistic and possible is the best idea, therefore, the year ahead will see us aim to:

- Source sustainable funding
- Continue offering support to those who need it
- Investigate the need for our service in Stoke on Trent

My thanks to the tremendous volunteers who have meant that Aura have been able to stay afloat this year and help each other and the clients that come to us

If I can ask members to now vote, if you haven't already done so, to accept and adopt the minutes of 2022 to March 2024 agm.

Here is to our future year being another success.

I will now pass you on to Karen Cork to present Aura's figures for the past year and to say a few words before the voting for our trustees takes place.

Treasurers report (KAREN CORK)

We are going through difficult times and our biggest challenge continues to be the acquisition of funding to secure the Future of Aura and to allow us to continue our good work and to support as many people as possible.

Everyone involved in Aura does this voluntarily to ensure costs are kept to a minimum, but there is definitely a cost to provide this service, which is why funding is crucial for this much needed mental health service.

All our volunteers work tirelessly giving their time freely to ensure the running of Aura and the services offered are maintained for our clients.

We began with just 2 volunteer counsellors, we now have 13 counsellors and 3 admin volunteers, we work closely with Keele and Staffordshire University and other training providers to help students gain the counselling hours needed to qualify and to gain the experience they will need moving forward.

In this reporting period we have offered over 50 clients, 12 weeks of one to one. This means we have offered over 580 hours free support for those who come to us for help. This figure allows for holidays, client and counselling cancellations. In addition we have run workshops and events that have reached 100's of clients, wellbeing practitioners, supporters and the general public

In this reporting period other volunteers have offered us over 1500 hours. These hours are needed for fundraising, administrative tasks organising events and ensuring Aura are running legally and in line with the charity commission.

We cannot thank you enough for the massive amount of support we have received throughout this time and we want you all to know how grateful we are. Enormous thanks to all our volunteers, funders and supporters.

Can I now bring your attention to the figures that were submitted at last years agm and ask you to vote to accept and adopt these. (SENT WITH INVITE)

CEO speech

What a year, from October 2022 to March 2024 has been a whirlwind but a good one of course. We hosted a Christmas wreath making workshop in December 2022, which was amazing, bringing lots of people together doing a festive fun activity. This not only helped alleviate isolation but raised awareness of who we are as a charity and what we can offer in way of support.

In March 2023 we hosted a mums night at Johnston Brady salon in Alsager, being a mum of 3 I know how wonderful and magical motherhood is but also you crave a little time for yourself sometimes, so the evening was for mums of all ages to come together have a chat, ice breaker games, have a pamper and relax for a few hours. I can't believe it was this long ago, another one is definitely overdue. For many reasons some mums can find being at home with children isolating and this leads to depression, anxiety and sometimes with questions around who this new person you find yourself to be is. This night we hope, helped with some of these issues, giving mums a time to talk and to realise their feelings are not unique to them. We had an amazing 9 mums who attended.

In April 2023 we became Organisational members of the BACP (British Association of Counselling Psychotherapy) Me and Kay worked very hard behind the scenes in making this happen. This is a huge deal for us and means we are committed to providing safe, ethical and professional counselling and psychotherapy services and/ or training. It will also assist us with tender applications and contractual requirements.

In May 2023 we were over the moon to have received funding from The National Lottery Community Fund

This helped us to work with a local company to produce a professional website, new IT equipment to help us with our virtual counselling sessions and meetings and helped towards the costs of supervision and training for the next year.

In this year also we attended many networking events from the Create and Cultivate nights at a local gym 'The Fitness Collab', to the Congleton Partnership meetings, helping us to keep up to date with the local communities going on and connecting with other local services and charities.

In June 2023 Kay our service manager and counsellor was asked to be part of 'The Fitness Collabs' Retreat day and did talks on self reflection & change.

In August 2023 we attended Click Dealers charity football match and family fun day in Eccleshall, this was lots of fun and as their charity of the year all money raised at this event was split with ourselves and Donna Louise which was amazing Thank you.

In September 2023 we received funding from Congleton Town Council to run a 6 week Drama Therapy workshop, our talented volunteer Sadie who is an ex drama teacher kindly offered her time and knowledge. She developed an empowering workshop. This was a huge hit by all who took part and those who attended took a lot away. I've lost count of how many people have asked if this workshop will be run again.

In September our chair Helen and some of our lovely volunteers ran a stall at Stafford carboot sale and raised a whopping £223.

In September we also secured counselling room at St Johns Community Centre in Buglawton, Congleton. Having secured this room helped us to support clients face to face, meaning we were able to welcome our first intake of student counsellors who joined us on placement from Keele University. This has proven to be successful in many ways:

- Reducing the waiting list
- Meeting the needs of clients wanting in person sessions
- Assisting us in our last years aim to work with Keele University.

November saw Laura Glover organise and run, with support from TFC, a fitathon. Laura completed a whole day of exercise, joined by many others, supporting each class. Brilliant idea which raised funds, helping to get the local community together and easing isolation.

December saw us organise a Christmas Fayre, the morning of which we woke to snow everywhere. We need not have worried it was attended by lots of people, Santa was a huge success and so were the food stalls that did a roaring trade all day, as did the horse box bar!! A huge success that brought people from the community together for fun and chats.

So as you can see the service has been working hard to meet our aims that we set last year, to:

- Work with Keele University offer students counselling placements
- Setting up diverse events to try to engage hard to reach communities and individuals
- Becoming members of the BACP

TICK TICK AND TICK.

I will now pass you over to our wonderful Chair of Trustees, Helen Lockett

HELEN

Good evening all and thank you for joining us this evening.

Although we started out in a couple of years ago now I feel that this year the charity has grown legs and began to actually take on a life of its own.

Thinking about the whirlwind that has been this year as chair I was heartened to notice, whilst researching the Governments 5 year suicide prevention plan that our aims as a charity were firmly aligned to their priority groups which are:

- children and young people
- middle-aged men
- people who have self-harmed
- people in contact with mental health services
- people in contact with the justice system
- autistic people
- pregnant women and new mothers

Risk factors that make groups a priority for support are:

- physical illness
- financial difficulty and economic adversity
- gambling
- alcohol and drug misuse
- social isolation and loneliness
- domestic abuse

Of course there are lots more changes within a person's family that can cause a negative impact on mental health, but it is a positive move that the government are prioritising and acknowledging that these changes will, and do make a difference and that there is a need for services to offer early intervention to help stop the escalation to suicidal thoughts and attempts.

The strategy talks about working together to prevent suicide and that it is everyone's business. Aura have made sure that all volunteers feel confident to talk about suicide by offering training to all, including Trustees. Something that Aura strongly agree with is that physical and mental health run parallel, and each have a massive impact on the other. This is why our CEO, Gemma is undertaking level 2 fitness and working in collaboration with TFC and Laura, a trained pt and nutrition expert to run classes for mums with emotional support on hand if it is needed.

We recognise that we are a small charity, we have big ideas and aim to be part of the community for a long time to come, offering our services and delivering our goals to benefit our communities. This could not be achieved without us all working together.

I know that Kay Glover and Gemma Glover have put so much work into getting us to this position and I'd like to thank them for all their hard work. I would also like to thank Karen Heath and Karen Cork for their parts throughout the year and Sadie Beresford and Samantha Boden for all their volunteering efforts too, wonderful guys and thank you.

I'm so proud of Aura and all the progress made and I hope we can carry this on in the forthcoming year by aiming to:

- Help clients to improve their emotional health by offering support to improve physical health and fitness.
- Work in collaboration to help prevent suicide.
- To promote counselling support and drama groups in schools and education facilities in and around Stoke on Trent.

Thank you for listening,

If I can ask members to now vote, if you haven't already done so, to accept and adopt the minutes of 2021 to 2022 agm.

Here is to our future year being another success.

I will now pass you on to Karen Cork to present Aura's figures for the past year and to say a few words before the voting for our trustees takes place.

Treasurers report

Our biggest challenge has been the acquisition of funding to keep us going and to enable us to support as many people as possible. Everyone involved in Aura does this voluntarily to ensure costs are kept to a minimum but there is definitely still a cost involved to provide our service. All of our volunteers work tirelessly to ensure the running of Aura and the services offered are maintained for our clients.

Mums get together at Johnstone Brady was enjoyed by 10 ladies

We began with just 2 volunteer counsellors who volunteered their time for us, then we were joined by a supportive listener and in September 2023 we were happy to welcome on board 5 volunteers from Keele university to help them gain their counselling hours and offer support to more.

In this reporting period Aura have offered 103 clients, 12 weeks of one to one counselling and support, meaning over 1200 hours of counselling have been given. This figure allows for holidays and client and counsellor cancellations.

This reporting period other volunteers have offered us over 250 hours. These hours are needed for fundraising, administrative tasks, organising events and ensuring that Aura are running legally and in line with The Charity Commission. What a massive amount of support we have been given throughout this time, we want you all to know how grateful we are.
THANK YOU

All that is left for me to do is bring your attention to the figures that were submitted at last years agm and ask you to vote to accept and adopt these.

1 Chairs report.

Hi

Welcome to Aura, my name is Helen and I want to give you a bit of information about myself. I am a web onboarding specialist for a company called Click Dealer. The job carries significant responsibility but there is still time for staff to reach out if they have a problem, personal or professional.

I am a divorced mother of 4 men aged between 33 and 25, my youngest Oliver, has mental disabilities and although he has grown into the most wonderful young man he still has a lot of struggles that we deal with on a daily basis. This has taught me to be extremely patient most of the time, not all the time! My two grandsons also live with me, they are 13 and 16 so you can imagine how busy my days are.

It also gives me an insight into how changes within a family can have a massive effect on mental health and gives me a real passion for my involvement with Aura.

What a time to start a charity. During a lockdown that was unprecedented, no one knew what to expect!! And what trauma it brought to many. The changes it caused for families!! Gemma went all out when she realised how little support there is out there for people affected when changes occur within their family. And how much of that scant support is focused only on the actual person it has happened to.

Auras, aim to support all involved with the changes within the family, causing emotional trauma.

Gemma has worked tirelessly to interest people in the work we do. She has built a great relationship with agencies and has been invited to agencies within Cheshire East and Stoke on Trent.

Our aim for this coming year is to continue to work in Cheshire East introduce Aura to Stoke on Trent where there will also be demand.

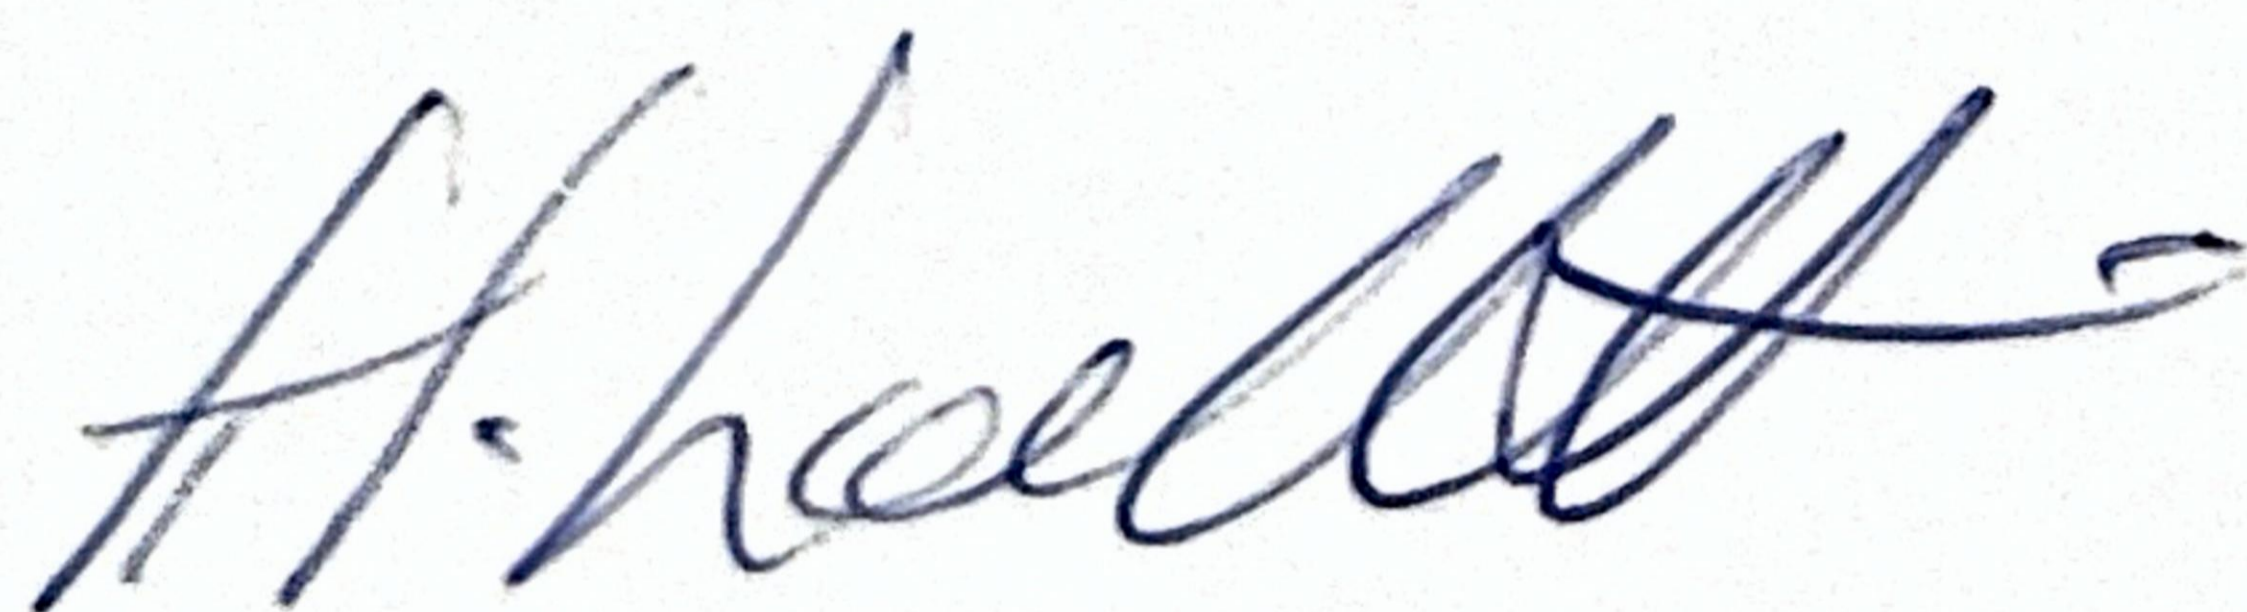

We have to tread carefully as already the demand is beginning to outstrip resources a funding is elusive. But unless we can prove to funders that there is a need, we will never get that funding. A difficult place to be, but we are tenacious and will try and try until we succeed.

Lastly but definitely not least I want to say a big thank you to Click Dealer for all their support during the last year, choosing us for their charity of the year along with Donna Louise and letting us use their room for our AGM. Pippa and the staff have been wonderful.
