

Annual Report 2024

A quiet year for Bryan's Quest.

In July (2024), The British Library was the venue for a donation be handed over to Bryan's Quest. The donation was in the form of 5 ceramic scale-models of whales. Bryan's Quest paid some of the expenses of the clay model maker, who kindly donated his time for free.

The BBC In Touch radio programme featured the 'Wildlife Within Reach' initiative. Focusing on the life-sized wood carving of a 'Barn Owl', donated by John of The Cornish Wood Carvers Association and the 5 whale ceramics created by Everton.

Due to some significant changes in the personal lives of each of our trustees, the ambitious plans for Bryans Quest, in 2024 have been delayed.

The website continues to be maintained and developed to encourage blind and partially sighted people to be given the same opportunities to enjoy and learn about the natural world, at can e experienced by sighted people.

We continue to encourage creative people to make scale models and donate them to Bryan's quest.
