Financial Review

Review of the charity's financial position at the end of the period	Para 1.21	As stated in the 2023 report, the reserves at the end of 2023 enabled significant work during 2024, in particular the architectural work with drawings now available for two different options. The fund raising environment has become more challenging and resulted in a delay in the project. However, the reserves at the end of 2024 were sufficient to enable planning work to continue in to 2025.
Statement explaining the policy for holding reserves stating why they are held	Para 1.22	During this initial development phase, it is not considered necessary to hold reserves. All outgoings are predictable, commitments to these outgoings are made in line with income, and so there are very limited circumstances in which reserves would be required. This policy will be reviewed on a regular basis, and adapted according to the different phases of the charities existence.
Amount of reserves held	Para 1.22	£7,375
Reasons for holding zero reserves	Para 1.22	See above.
Details of fund materially in deficit	Para 1.24	None
Explanation of any uncertainties about the charity continuing as a going concern	Para 1.23	N/A

Financial Review

Review of the charity's financial position at the end of the period	Para 1.21	A number of successful fundraising events were held during the year. This, along with a £10k grant from the county council's Building Back Better fund, enabled the charity to end the year with a strong cash reserve of £23k. Funds continue to be spent on building the charity brand, carrying out pre-planning surveys and funding the land option. The year end reserves enabled the charity to commission the architect to start to create the facility drawings and commence the detailed cost estimating process.
Statement explaining the policy for holding reserves stating why they are held	Para 1.22	During this initial development phase, it is not considered necessary to hold reserves. All outgoings are predictable, commitments to these outgoings are made in line with income, and so there are very limited circumstances in which reserves would be required. Financial Review

Review of the charity's financial position at the end of the period	Para 1.21	As a result of initial fundraising the charity has a cash reserve of £825. In total fundraising generated £24k of income. Most of this income has now been spent largely on the legal costs associated with the land option, the branding, web site and documentation exercise plus the initial phase of the planning process.
Statement explaining the policy for holding reserves stating why they are held	Para 1.22	During this initial development phase, it is not considered necessary to hold reserves. All outgoings are predictable, commitments to these outgoings are made in line with income, and so there are very limited circumstances in which reserves would be required. This policy will be reviewed on a regular basis, and adapted according to the different phases of the charities existence.
Amount of reserves held	Para 1.22	£825
Reasons for holding zero reserves	Para 1.22	See above.
Details of fund materially in deficit	Para 1.24	None.
Explanation of any uncertainties about the charity continuing as a going concern	Para 1.23	N/A
