	SORP reference

Para 1.20	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - The orchestra provides an opportunity for nearly 100 musicians to benefit from making music together, and has put on 5 public concerts, reaching over 1600 members of the public. - The orchestra put on a free concert for children and their families, with a range of music. The concert was advertised in schools in disadvantaged areas, and offered children the opportunity to conduct an orchestra, meet musicians and have a go playing different instruments. 300 people attended this concert. - The orchestra took part in a community festival, performing music in a local park, and accompanying a children's chorus for their performance. - For each term, the charity has continued to sponsor musicians who would not otherwise have been able to afford to play in the orchestra, including a sponsored double bass role. - Our concerts have broadened the scope of music available to the public,

		including music by female composers which have been only rarely performed. The orchestra has commissioned a new work by a young composer, to be premiered in the next season. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Raffles held as part of our concerts have raised £400 for charities.
