Annual Summary of the Charity

Manchester Advanced Trauma Training (MATT) became a Charitable Incorporated Organisation on 10th February 2022. There are five Trustees of the Charity. The object of Manchester Advanced Trauma Training is the advancement of health for public benefit by educating healthcare professionals about major trauma.

Activity

High Acuity Low Occurrence (HALO) Course

On 7th March 2024, a one-day, bespoke cadaveric course was held to train pre-hospital and emergency department doctors and paramedics in the surgical procedures they may be called to do under austere circumstances. 27 people attended. The informal feedback was excellent and MATT continues to receive requests to run the course again.

This course formed part of a suite of courses run in the first week of March 2024. MATT partnered with Manchester Trauma, a local company running predominantly orthopaedic trauma courses, to share costs. The specimens, and their cost, was shared across the courses. A modest fee was charged to the participants to ensure there was not a shortfall. Medical technology companies who produce orthopaedic equipment also sponsored the courses. MATT did not take a profit or loss and did not see any cashflow. The aim was to break even, rather than to produce a profit.

Future plans

MATT is run by volunteers with full time healthcare positions within the NHS. It is becoming increasingly challenging to deliver trauma courses. From a financial perspective from MATT has seen increasing costs, particularly of cadaveric specimens, and decreasing study budgets available to healthcare professionals as well as educational budgets available from industry. The volunteers who run the charity or under increasing pressure from their NHS practices and time to run courses is very sparse. The administrative load to running a suite of courses is very large. The future of the charity is uncertain.

FOR THE PERIOD 10 FEBRUARY 2022 TO 31 JANUARY 2023

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Significant activities

"Firefighting" for Surgical Teams: the Manchester Trauma Course

In April 2022, we ran our flagship course "Firefighting" for Surgical Teams. This three-day, multi-professional course was developed following the 2017 Manchester Arena Attack. It was initially designed to address the training needs of surgeons who only meet trauma on very rare occasions to permit them to maintain their decision-making and operative skill sets. The course in April 2022 was the fourth iteration of the course and has changed significantly in its format. The first day consists of lectures with key messages followed by simulation exercises. Teams of multi-professionals, similar to those teams who would be receiving a trauma patient, resuscitate the mannequin and de-brief about what went well and could be improved. This day is designed to create a shared mental model of trauma management and for some of the human factors that affect patient care to be explored. The following two days are spent in the cadaveric laboratory with a focus on practical procedures and surgical skills.

The feedback from this course was excellent and presented at a national conference (Royal College of Emergency Medicine 2022). The financial costs to MATT were minimal, and most of the course was funded by other charitable bodies. Some modest sponsorship was obtained. 65 people were trained on this course.

Thoracotomy course

On 21st November 2022, we ran a one-day, cadaveric course undertaking resuscitative chest procedures. The course was aimed at pre-hospital and emergency department doctors and nurses. It featured key-decision making skills, case studies as well as the opportunity to practice surgical manoeuvres. The funding was predominantly obtained from Manchester Foundation Trust. 20 people were trained on this course.

Resuscitative Procedures Course

On 3rd January 2023, a one-day, bespoke cadaveric course was held to train pre-hospital and emergency department doctors, nurses and paramedics in the surgical procedures they may be called to do under austere circumstances. 35 people attended. The informal feedback was excellent and MATT continues to receive requests to run the course again. This course formed part of a suite of courses run in the first week of January 2023. MATT partnered with the Orthocycle charity to deliver the suite of courses. Funding was obtained from Health Education England, Northwest (now NHS England) and medical technology companies who produce orthopaedic equipment. The cadaveric specimens represent the bulk of the cost for these courses. The specimens, and their cost, was shared across the courses. A modest fee was charged to the participants to ensure there was not a shortfall.

"Firefighting" for Orthopaedic Teams: Damage Control

On 4th and 5th January 2023, an orthopaedic version of the flagship "Firefighting" course was held in Manchester. It consisted of one day of simulation training and one day of cadaveric skills, very similar to the original offering but with the practical skills for the surgeons geared towards orthopaedics. This course was multi-professional with the premise of training in teams as one would work. This course was part of the combined offering from the Orthocycle-MATT partnership described previously. Again, a modest fee was charged of the participants to ensure all costs could be covered.

Public benefit

The trustees have given due regard to the charity commissions guidance on public benefit and are confident that the charity meets the criteria.

FUTURE DEVELOPMENTS

Plans for next 12 months:

Sustainability of the organisation is a concern given the part-time nature of the volunteers running MATT. Accessing administrative support is going to be a priority.

Responsibilities and basis of report

As the charity's trustees you are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the requirements of the Charities Act 2011 ('the Act').

I have examined your charity's accounts as required under section 145 of the Charities Act 2011 ('the Act'). In carrying out my examination I have followed the Directions given by the Charity Commission under section 145(5)(b) of the 2011 Act.

My role is to state whether any material matters have come to my attention giving me cause to believe:

1. that accounting records were not kept as required by section 130 of the Act; or
2. that the accounts do not accord with those records; or
3. that the accounts do not comply with the accounting requirements of the Act; or
4. that there is further information needed for a proper understanding of the accounts.

Independent examiner's statement

I have completed my examination and have no concerns in respect of the matters (1) to (4) listed above and, in connection with following the Directions of the Charity Commission I have found no matters that require drawing to your attention.

Dear Trustees

I have pleasure in uploading a copy of the charity accounts for the year ended 31 January 2023.

Once the board have had chance to see the accounts I would be obliged if Ms Stella Smith could sign pages 3 and 6 and return the accounts to me for my signature as independent examiner.

If you have any queries regarding the accounts please do not hesitate to contact me.

I would be happy to fulfil the role of independent examiner for the forthcoming year if required.

Finally, I upload our account for services rendered, as agreed, for your kind attention.

Best wishes

Yours sincerely
