Report of the trustees for the year ending 31 March 2025

The trustees are pleased to present their annual report together with the consolidated financial statements of the charity.

The financial statements comply with the Charities Act 2022.

Chair's Report

Staged CIO continues to provide high-quality, inclusive arts provision in Biddulph East, a deprived area within Staffordshire Moorlands, delivering meaningful cultural opportunities that benefit the local community. Based at Biddulph Town Hall, we are fortunate to operate from a well-equipped venue that offers a safe, welcoming, and inspiring environment for participants of all ages.

This year marks our third year with charitable status and has been one of significant growth, recognition, and achievement. We are extremely grateful for the continued support received, particularly local funding from Awards for All, which enabled the second year of funding for our much-valued Theatre for the Ages project. We were also fortunate to receive funding from Councillor Flunder, the UK Shared Prosperity Fund, and John Robinson, which enabled the purchase of new moving lights. This investment significantly enhanced the production quality of our performances and provided young people with hands-on experience using professional-standard equipment.

Over the past year, Staged has continued with the weekly sessions; Dance and Drame, Firebirds and Creative Performance Group. These sessions have gone from strength to strength, engaging over 50 young people each week and culminating in vibrant end-of-term showcases that celebrate creativity, confidence, and collaboration.

Theatre for the Ages, our intergenerational project running from January to July, continues to thrive. The project offers participants the opportunity to explore all departments within a theatre, fostering understanding, skills development, and meaningful connections across generations. Alongside this, we have continued to run our established theatre group, Firebirds, based in Astbury. Designed for younger children from the age of four, Firebirds focuses on singing and dancing, providing an early introduction to the performing arts in a fun and nurturing setting.

We also remain committed to extending access to the arts through our holiday provision, delivering a range of workshops including two weeks of Summer Schools. This year saw exciting new partnership work, including collaboration with Biddulph Youth and Community Zone to deliver a Halloween Scaremaze for the local community, and with Ball Green Working Men's Club to produce a festive Christmas pantomime, Snow White, which was warmly received. Staged also worked in partnership with Stage Management Services for both the Christmas production and the Inspire Dance performance earlier in the year, supporting high-quality technical delivery and professional learning opportunities.

Young people were encouraged to take an active role in promoting their work and represented Staged on Moorlands Radio, where they advertised their Christmas performances and took part in a guided tour of the radio studio. This experience helped to build confidence, communication skills, and an understanding of media and promotion.

The quality and impact of Staged's work has been recognised both locally and regionally. At the Biddulph Volunteer Recognition and Civic Awards Night, Staged was proud to receive two awards: Volunteer Recognition and the Civic Award for Youth 2024. In addition, Staged was named Performing Arts Community Group of the Year 2024 – Staffordshire, at the Midlands Enterprise Awards, highlighting the organisation's growing reputation and commitment to excellence.

Safeguarding and wellbeing remain central to our practice. During the year, staff completed Mental Health Level 2 training, strengthening our ability to support the emotional wellbeing of participants and ensure a safe, inclusive, and supportive environment.

As the year drew to a close, our senior group began rehearsals for our largest and most ambitious production to date: 131 High Street, a time-travelling sketch show developed in preparation for the Biddulph Festival 2025. This production reflects the growing confidence, creativity, and scale of our work and sets an exciting direction for the year ahead.

The trustees are proud of what has been achieved this year and would like to thank our participants, volunteers, staff, partners, funders, and supporters for their continued commitment and belief in the work of Staged CIO.

Purposes and Activities

To advance education in performance arts for public benefit, by providing support and activities which develop skills in theatre studies, for people of all ages, backgrounds and economic circumstances, in Staffordshire Moorlands and surrounding areas.

The vision that shapes our annual activities remains to be to the advancement of education and appreciation of the arts by the provision of facilities and recreation of the public in the fields of drama, dance and technical elements. The charity also has the general aim for contributing to the quality of life of the people in Staffordshire Moorlands by expanding their horizons through the provision of exciting, challenging and accessible performing arts for ages 4 and above.

The strategies employed to achieve the charity's aims and objectives are to:

- Provide a safe, friendly, and inclusive environment for all, by tackling aspiration and exclusion in an area of deprivation and disadvantage to the arts.
- Generate wider benefits for users, supporting them to gain confidence and acquire beneficial skills such as communication, team-working, decision making, social skills and creative thinking.
- Work in partnership with organisations to deliver quality support services to raise the aspirations of the community, through learning new skills and being creative.
- Classes and workshops for young people and parents designed to be active, informative, educational, and fun for the whole family.
- Classes and workshops aimed particularly for vulnerable groups including those with Special Educational needs (SEN) and learning difficulties and disabilities (LDD).
- Classes and workshops for more mature members of the community, to help reduce social isolation and build lasting relationships and connections within the community.
- Inter-generational projects to bridge the gap between generations building positive relationships throughout the ages.

We endeavor to encourage all ages within our community to take part in our activities and sessions. The performances we aim to provide are enjoyed by all for a donation. Affordability and access to our groups is important to us and is reflected in our pricing.

Organisation

The board of trustees, which must be more than 3 trustees, ensure all decisions be made to further the provisions of the Charity.

The trustees are pleased to present their annual report together with the consolidated financial statements of the charity.

The financial statements comply with the Charities Act 2022.

Chairs Report

Staged CIO provides a provision of arts in Biddulph East, which is a deprived area within Staffordshire Moorlands, and benefits the local community. We are based at Biddulph Town Hall where the facilities are good and provide a safe environment to run the sessions.

We have been very lucky for all the support within our second year with charitable status, and grateful to local funding from the Community Foundation #IWILL, Biddulph Mayors Charity Fund, Awards for All, Tesco Community Fund and the Biddulph Rotary.

Throughout the past year Staged has increased the weekly classes to include the Dance and Drama which has grown from strength to strength engaging with over 30 young people, and producing fantastic end of term showcases. Theatre for the Ages which is an intergenerational project that runs January to July and focuses on all the departments within a theatre. As well as taken over the running of an established theatre group; firebirds based in Astbury for the younger ages starting at 4 years old, this group focuses on singing and dancing.

We continue to provide holiday workshops including 2 weeks of Summer Schools. This year has also seen partnership work with Biddulph Youth and Community Zone to do a Scaremaze at Halloween for the Biddulph Community.

Staged staff has increased from Ange and Katie to include Beth who had previously volunteered for over a year and has now become a paid worker

The end of the year saw our senior group write an original musical 'Swings and Roundabouts' and started the rehearsals in preparation for the Biddulph Festival 2024.

- Inter-generational projects to bridge the gap between generations building positive relationships throughout the ages.

Putting these strategies into action we have provided three performing arts holiday activity workshops and a radio play writing workshop. 4 performances with our dance and drama and Firebirds group, 2 weeks of Summer School and worked in partnership with Biddulph Youth and Community Zone to create a Scare Maze. We completed the intergenerational performance of 'We were all Young Once' at the Biddulph Festival and performed at 2 of the Town Councils Christmas light switch on events.

Most recently we have received funding from the Awards for All to continue the Theatre for the Ages project for a further 2 years. Starting with an original Musical 'Swings and Roundabouts' For this project the young people take on the role of project leaders, putting together an amateur production of an original production, to be performed at the annual Biddulph Festival in July 2024.

We endeavor to encourage all ages within our community to take part in our activities and sessions. The performances we aim to provide are enjoyed by all for a donation. Affordability and access to our groups is important to us and is reflected in our pricing.

Report of the trustees for the year ending 31 March 2023

The trustees are pleased to present their annual report together with the consolidated financial statements of the charity.

The financial statements comply with the Charities Act 2022.

Chairs Report

We achieved charitable status in February 2022, since then things have gone from strength to strength mainly due to the hard work and tenacity of the board of trustees, Ange Williams and Katie Thompson. At the beginning of the year we were running 1 session per week, Home Ed drama classes, providing a creative outlet for young people who are home educated, this then led to a second weekly class, Dance and Drama, which initially attracted 15 attendees and has since grown over the year to a class of 30+. From this it has sprung half term workshop days, summer school weeks and term end performances.

Staged CIO provides a provision of arts in Biddulph East, which is a deprived area within Staffordshire Moorlands, and benefits the local community. We are based at Biddulph Town Hall where the facilities are good and provide a safe environment to run the sessions.

We have been very lucky for all the support within our first year with charitable status, and grateful to local funding from Biddulph Town Council, Tesco Groundwork, #IWILL community Foundation, Biddulph Mayors Charity, Biddulph Rotary, Staffordshire Council of Voluntary Youth Services.

As exciting as the last 12 months have been we are all looking forward to our future productions and the development of 'Theatre for the ages' which is an intergenerational project and received funding at the end of the year to perform at the annual Biddulph Festival in July 2023. As the year progresses, we hope to bring drama workshops into school to help alleviate funding crisis for arts within schools.

- Classes and workshops for more mature members of the community, to help reduce social isolation and build lasting relationships and connections within the community.
- Inter-generational projects to bridge the gap between generations building positive relationships throughout the ages.

Putting these strategies into action we have provided four holiday activity workshops including; Performing Arts, Acting and Drama, Writing and Lighting and Auditioning techniques. 5 performances with our dance and drama group, 5 short showcases with our Home Education group, two weeks of Summer School and worked in partnership with Biddulph Perform Group participating in an intergenerational production. The groups have taken part in a fundraising event, raising over £300, and performed at the Town Councils Christmas light switch on event.

Most recently we have received funding from the National Lottery; Community Foundation as part of the #IWILL which is a UK wide campaign aiming to get young people involved in social action. For this project we will continue with an intergenerational project whereby the young people take on the role of project leaders, putting together an amateur production of a community written play, to be performed at the annual Biddulph Festival in July 2023 as a fundraising event for the charity.

We endeavor to encourage all ages within our community to take part in our activities and sessions. The performances we aim to provide are enjoyed by all for a donation. Affordability and access to our groups is important to us and is reflected in our pricing.

Testimonies and Feedback

Received from members parents:

“My son first joined Staged last summer for their week-long summer school. He thoroughly enjoyed the experience. The Staged team encouraged the children in everything that they did from prop design to lighting and writing scripts for their short performance pieces which were very entertaining. My son has now joined the weekly sessions that started in February and is really enjoying learning his part, and to his surprise, the dancing too. I would highly recommend Staged to friends, the children enjoy the sessions and grow in confidence by the week, encouraged by the supportive Staged team.”

“When my daughter was in year five she had been attending a musical theatre class at a local dance school and had performed in a couple of shows, she was intrigued by the whole experience and keen to do more. I saw Staged were offering holiday activities and my daughter attended all the ones available and loved it from the off. She was so talkative each time she came home, telling us about how she had written scripts, made sets and even knew how to change lighting and asked if there were more sessions. When Staged started their after school club she signed up straight away and asked friends to join too, which one did. She looks forward to going each week and has met lots of children from the whole town. I can't praise the team highly enough for their dedication and passion for theatre and their enthusiasm to pass this on to the children."

Acting in 'Staged' has had a highly beneficial effect upon my son on many levels; Having to master a demanding script has taken him out of his comfort zone and given him the confidence to realize just what he is capable of. The script itself is highly thought provoking and challenges all those involved to consider how lives are impacted by loneliness and social problems. The experience of working as a team, whether in writing, acting or backstage, is a positive opportunity to develop new skills in an encouraging, socially inclusive environment. The 'Staged' unique selling point is that it is featuring an original script written by local people which is brought to life by the brilliance of the directors, and that anyone is welcome to be involved whether it be acting or backstage support. There is a tremendous feeling of everyone working together to produce a great play!

"My 2 oldest come to Staged every Monday. They both have disabilities and find it very difficult to fit in. Every week there's always something that they enjoy and some weeks my oldest comes away feeling so proud of himself which happens so rarely, it's absolutely wonderful to see."

"Staged has helped my daughter realise her passion and flair for acting and theatre and given her the opportunity to perform on stage for the first time. Staged has also introduced her to Shakespeare and Charles Dickens and broadened her knowledge of Greek myths. She has thoroughly enjoyed all the sessions she has attended and has learned a lot and her self-confidence on stage has come on in leaps and bounds."
