Objectives and Activities

The purpose of the charity as set out in its governing document is to provide grants to a variety of organizations that it decides will best benefit from funding within its charitable purposes, including schools as an initial focus, providing grants to help them further their charitable activities. The objects of the Foundation are to advance such charitable purposes (according to the laws of England and Wales) as the trustees see fit.

One of the projects that the Salata Family Foundation had anticipated funding, the Eton/Star partnership has been delayed.

A second project that the Salata Family Foundation anticipates funding is a Wellbeing Centre at Wellington College, with a proposed gift of £5million (five million pounds) over a five year period, with gift distribution commencing the June following when planning permission is granted. The Salata Centre will be a home for Global Citizenship and Climate Education.

The trustees confirm that they have referred to the Charity Commission's guidance on public benefit in reviewing the charity's aims, objectives and future plans. Details of how the charity fulfils this responsibility are given above and, in the activities and performance section below;

Achievements and Performance

The Foundation intends to make grants to fund projects which support its objectives, including providing funding for educational institutions and programmes. As a grant-making foundation, the Foundation's general charitable purposes will enable it to support a wide range of charitable activities. The key areas of charitable activity which the Foundation wishes to focus on in the short term are educational projects in schools and colleges.

As has been publicised already, Eton College and Star Academies Trust have signed a partnership agreement and the Foundation anticipates following the Eton/Star partnership developments.

More specifically, since October 2024 the government funding for Wave 15 of the Free Schools programme has been on indefinite hold. The Department for Education is currently conducting a review of funding and the Eton Star Partnership made a powerful submission outlining the many benefits the project offered Teesside, Dudley and Oldham. This was buttressed with evidence of the economic benefits and the positive reception the project had received in all three localities. Eton College and Star Academies continue to work closely together around this project and maintain their links with each community. However, the process of the review is opaque and after an initial suggestion that decisions would be forthcoming early this year the indications are now that the review could proceed slowly with no firm date for its conclusion. Eton and Star continue to do what they can to encourage a positive outcome but their options are limited at the moment.

Financial Review

The primary source of the charity's income is donations received from its trustees. Out of the total income of £2,130,000 received during the year, grants amounting to £2,110,000 were disbursed.

Funds will be donated and injected into the Foundation based on the planned donation programme as required. The trustees aim to uphold a reserve of unrestricted funds at a level equivalent to approximately three months of governance costs. The trustees believe that maintaining this level will ensure sufficient funds to address both support and governance costs.

The balance held in unrestricted funds as of 31st May 2024 was £11,302 (2023: £11,448)

The trustees have undertaken a review of the principal risks and uncertainties that the charity faces, categorising the risks between those affecting the governance and management of the charity, operational risks, financial risks, reputational risks and those which occur because of circumstances outside of the charity's control such as changes in government policy, laws and regulations. They regularly review the measures already in place, or needing to be put in place, to establish policies, systems and procedures to mitigate those risks identified in the annual review and ensure that action is taken to implement changes to those policies, systems and procedures should they be needed to minimise or manage any potential impact on the charity should those risks materialise.

Having assessed the major risks to which the charity is exposed, the trustees believe that by monitoring reserve levels, by ensuring controls exist over key financial systems, and by examining the operational and business risks faced by the charity, they have established effective systems to mitigate those risks.

Plans for Future Periods

The Foundation will provide support to schools and educational institutions, which will improve the students' education and lives more generally. The Foundation proposes to provide support to a variety of schools throughout England and Wales.

Additionally, the foundation is also following the progress that Wellington College is making with the Wellbeing Centre, "The Salata Centre".

The Salata Centre will be part of the new campus which will have a nutrition hub, 'Grubbies' that will have a teaching kitchen and teaching spaces. In addition, there will be a mental health counselling suite as well as dance, health and fitness studios. Final planning approval is expected in November 2025 and completion expected in April 2028.

Structure, Governance and Management

SALATA FAMILY FOUNDATION is a Charitable Incorporated Organisation (CIO) governed by its Constitution dated 7th March 2022 and it is a UK registered charity (1199077) with the Charity Commission. The foundation was registered with the Charity Commission on 25 May 2022.

The Trustees consist of the Founder of the Foundation, Mr Salata with his wealth of experience in philanthropy activity, the distinguished Lord Waldegrave, Ms Melania Pong, Ms Martha Genieser and Mr. Jonathan Simons.

Any person who is willing to act as a Trustee, and who would not be disqualified from acting under the provisions of constitution, may be appointed to be a Trustee by a resolution of the Members or by a decision of the Founder notified in writing to the Trustees.

The Board of Trustees takes responsibility for general management and control of the charity and to ensure that it operates within the guidelines dictated by the Charity Commission and its own governing documents.

A board of trustees meets annually to discuss and review the operations of the charity. At these meetings, they also make appropriate decisions regarding the operation of the charity and its activities. As part of their responsibilities, they approve the grants and the viability of the projects that have been implemented or are in the process of being implemented, as well as to ensure compliance with regulatory requirements. A board of trustees administers the charity and meets at least once in a year.

Statement of trustees' responsibilities in relation to the financial statements

The charity trustees are responsible for preparing a trustees' annual report and financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

The law applicable to charities requires the charity trustees to prepare financial statements which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charity and of the incoming resources and application of resources of the charity for that period. In preparing these financial statements, the trustees are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- observe the methods and principles in the Charities SORP;
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; state whether applicable UK accounting standards have been followed,
- subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements;
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charity will continue in business.

The trustees are responsible for keeping proper accounting records that disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charity and to enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Charities Act 2011, the applicable Charities (Accounts and Reports) Regulations, and the provisions of the Trust deed. The Trustees are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charity and hence taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

Statement of disclosure of information to auditor

So far as the trustees are aware, there is no relevant audit information of which the charity's auditors are unaware and each trustee has taken all the steps that he or she ought to have taken as a trustee in order to make himself or herself aware of any relevant information and to establish that the charity's auditors are aware of that information.

Opinion

We have audited the accounts of SALATA FAMILY FOUNDATION (the 'charity') for the year ended 31 May 2024 which comprise the Statement of Financial Activities, the Balance Sheet, the Statement of Cash Flows and the Notes to the Accounts, including a summary of significant accounting policies. The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards, including FRS 102 'The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland' (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

In our opinion the accounts:

- give a true and fair view of the state of the charity's affairs as at 31 May 2024, and of its incoming resources and application of resources for the year then ended;
- have been properly prepared in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice; and
- have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Charities Act 2011.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK) (ISAs (UK) and applicable law. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the accounts section of our report. We are independent of the charity in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the accounts in the UK, including the FRC's Ethical Standard and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Conclusions relating to going concern

In auditing the accounts, we have concluded that the trustees' use of the going concern basis of accounting in the preparation of the accounts is appropriate.

Based on the work we have performed, we have not identified any material uncertainties relating to events or conditions that, individually or collectively, may cast significant doubt on the group and parent charity's ability to continue as a going concern for a period of at least 12 months from when the accounts are authorised for issue.

Our responsibilities and the responsibilities of the trustees with respect to going concern are described in the relevant sections of this report.

Other Information

The other information comprises the information included in the annual report, other than the accounts and our auditor's report thereon. The trustees are responsible for the other information.

Our opinion on the accounts does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the accounts, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the accounts or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify such material inconsistencies or apparent material misstatements, we are required to determine whether there is a material misstatement in the accounts or a material misstatement of the other information. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact.

We have nothing to report in this regard.

Matters on which we are required to report by exception

We have nothing to report in respect of the following matters in relation to which the Charities (Accounts and Reports) Regulations 2008 requires us to report to you if, in our opinion:

- the information given in the accounts is inconsistent in any material respect with the trustees' report; or
- sufficient accounting records have not been kept; or
- the accounts are not in agreement with the accounting records; or
- we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit.

Responsibilities of trustees

As explained more fully in the trustees' responsibilities statement found in the trustees' report, the trustees are responsible for the preparation of accounts which give a true and fair view, and for such internal control as the trustees determine is necessary to enable the preparation of accounts that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the accounts, the trustees are responsible for assessing the charity's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the trustees intend to liquidate the charity or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the accounts

We have been appointed under the Charities Act 2011, s. 145 and report in accordance with the regulations made under the Act and relevant regulations made or having effect thereunder.

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the accounts as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (UK) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these accounts.

Irregularities, including fraud, are instances of non-compliance with laws and regulations. We design procedures in line with our responsibilities, outlined above, to detect material misstatements in respect of irregularities, including fraud. The extent to which our procedures are capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud is detailed below:

How the audit was considered capable of detecting irregularities including fraud

Our approach to identifying and assessing the risks of material misstatement in respect of irregularities, including fraud and non-compliance with laws and regulations, was as follows:

- The engagement principal ensured that the engagement team collectively had the appropriate competence, capabilities and skills to identify or recognize non-compliance with applicable laws and regulations;
- We identified the laws and regulations applicable to the charity through discussions with management and trustees and from our knowledge and experience of the charity sector;
- We focused on specific laws and regulations which we considered may have a direct material effect on the accounts or the activities of the charity. These included but were not limited to the Charities Act 2011; Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable to the United Kingdom and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102); and
- We assessed the extent of compliance with the laws and regulations identified above through making enquiries of the trustees and the review of minutes of meetings of the trustees.
- We assessed the susceptibility of the charity's financial statements to material misstatement, including obtaining an understanding of how fraud might occur, by:
  - Making enquiries of the trustees as to where they considered there was susceptibility to fraud and their knowledge of actual, suspected and alleged fraud; and
  - Considering the internal controls in place to mitigate risks of fraud and non-compliance with laws and regulations.

To address the risk of fraud through management bias and override of controls, we:

- Performed analytical procedures to identify any unusual or unexpected relationships;
- Tested and reviewed journal entries to identify unusual transactions;
- Carried out substantive testing of expenditure; and
- Investigated the rationale behind significant or unusual transactions. In response to the risk of irregularities and non-compliance with laws and regulations, we designed procedures which included, but were not limited to:
  - Reviewing the minutes of meetings of trustees;
  - Enquiring of management as to actual and potential litigation and claims; and
  - Agreeing accounts disclosures to underlying supporting documentation.

As a result of our procedures, we did not identify any key audit matters relating to irregularities.

There are inherent limitations in our audit procedures described above. The more removed that laws and regulations are from financial transactions, the less likely it is that we would become aware of noncompliance. Auditing standards also limit the audit procedures required to identify non-compliance with laws and regulations to enquiry of the trustees and other management and the inspection of regulatory and legal correspondence, if any.

Material misstatements that arise due to fraud can be harder to detect than those that arise from error as they may involve deliberate concealment or collusion.

A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the accounts is located on the Financial Reporting Council's website at www.frc.org.uk/auditorsresponsibilities. This description forms part of our auditor's report.

Use of this report

This report is made solely to the charity's trustees, as a body, in accordance Part 4 of the Charities (Accounts and Reports) Regulations 2008. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the charity's trustees those matters we are required to state to them in an auditors' report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the charity and the charity's trustees as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.
