OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Objectives and aims

The purpose of the charity is to relieve financial hardship for the public benefit of people who have experienced homelessness, or people who are living in vulnerable housing situations or people who would otherwise be at risk of homelessness in Birmingham and surrounding areas. We do that by providing accommodation and related support services to such people. This includes giving guidance, mentoring and providing opportunities to gain skills and experience to enable them to break the cycle of homelessness and to achieve independence.

In pursuance of that aim, the CIO is responsible for the management of properties in Birmingham, which it leases from Green Pastures, a Community Benefit Society which fully supports our objectives. Our properties provide good quality accommodation for persons who meet the above criteria and we are responsible for giving them the ongoing support described above.

Public benefit

We have considered the Charity Commission's guidance on public benefit. We believe our activities have delivered this, since we are seeking to tackle the very considerable problem of homelessness in society. As stated above, we do this by not only providing accommodation but also providing ongoing support. Although we can only help a limited number of people at a time, we believe each person is important and we aim to make a difference in that individual's life. We are also happy to work alongside other organisations that deal with the issue of homelessness, for example, by accepting referrals from them.

Volunteers

During the period in question, we have benefited from the support of 9 volunteers. Their contribution includes mentoring, giving guidance and offering such skills as they have. We take the opportunity to record our thanks to them. We have a volunteer policy, which includes an application process, a DBS safeguarding check, induction and training.

ACHIEVEMENTS AND PERFORMANCE

At the start of the year the charity held the lease of one property. This has space for four men, each with their own bedroom with shared cooking, washing, toilet and living room facilities. We were open to expanding our operations by taking on a second property, if a suitable one became available. In May 2024, following an invitation from Green Pastures, we agreed to lease such a property. It is in another part of Birmingham. It is considerably larger than our other property: it has the potential to accommodate eight persons, again each with their own bedroom and with shared facilities. It has a spacious garden, which the residents tidied up so that we were able to host an enjoyable outdoor barbeque to celebrate the new property, which was attended by residents from both of our houses, support workers, trustees and their partners.

We have ensured that both properties are kept in good condition. During the year some roofing repairs were carried out to our first property. Our second property, when we took it on, also needed roofing repairs, as water damage had rendered some of the rooms unserviceable. These works were duly carried out, and the affected rooms were decorated. Otherwise, we have authorised minor repairs and maintenance in respect of both properties as necessary.

We are very keen to ensure that each of our residents receives regular high quality support, including training, as is appropriate for their individual needs. We are aware that not every organisation that claims to provide supported accommodation in the city does so to a degree that adequately addresses the issues that have led to the person in question becoming homeless, so we are determined to ensure that those we accommodate are helped in a significant way. In April 2024, in order to increase our capacity to provide the support they need, we engaged Paul Atkin, who has considerable experience in working with homeless people, as a paid support worker. He has been very effective in providing one to one support for each of our residents in addition to the support given by volunteers. At the same time, our founder trustee, Rev Paul Tyler, was appointed to work for our partner organisation, Green Pastures, and his employment with them includes delivering housing and support management at the houses we lease from Green Pastures. In order to avoid any conflict of interest, he had resigned his trusteeship in anticipation of taking up this employment, as advised by the Charity Commission. We are grateful to both of the above-named for the way they have furthered the objectives of our charity through their work.

Throughout the period of reporting our first property has been occupied by at least three male residents - for much of the time there have been four residents. When we became responsible for our second property, it already had three residents who met our support criteria and since then it has usually been home for the same number of people. This does mean there is ample space there to accommodate several other persons. We recognise there is a great need within the city to accommodate people who face homelessness and we are seeking to find ways to demonstrate to referring agencies that we have programmes in place which would genuinely benefit those people they have contact with.

Upon our taking on the newer property, the initial three residents had to adapt to the support regime which we provide, which is more intensive than that to which they had been used to. Normally we would look to taking in residents who are informed of and are agreed to our expectations before they move in.

The trustees receive regular updates about the residents at both of our properties. Whilst we do our best to ensure each person is helped in a significant way, it is inevitable in the sort of work we are involved with that there are the occasional setbacks. There have been two occasions during the year when we have had to remove residents who have presented a risk to other residents. Nevertheless, we have seen real progress with other residents who have engaged with our programme of support. For example, one of our residents was able to move on to undergo training elsewhere and we were able to say farewell to him at the barbeque event mentioned earlier.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Financial Position

We refer to the attached financial statement, which sets out total receipts of funds and expenditure, together with fund balances.

Principal funding sources and expenditure

As stated in the financial statement and accompanying notes, our sources of income during the period of review included:

Housing benefit	£44,908.85
Residents' charges	£3,424.71
Voluntary donations, including Gift Aid	£7,044.09
Gift from ReachOut charity	£10,174.75
Gift from Thrive Together charity	£5,000.00

We are very grateful to individual donors and the above charities for funding us during the year.

The principal expenditure items were:

Lease payments	£22,100.00
Property maintenance, utilities, etc	£20,063.51
Administrative support, staff and volunteer costs	£5,623.81
Direct resident support, hardship and furnishings	£4,872.11

Reserves Policy

It has previously been agreed to try to maintain a reserves balance of unrestricted funds of at least the equivalent of 3 months' running costs. But, given the recent expansion of the charity, the trustees are in the process of reviewing this policy, as the 3 months' running costs figure may not be adequate to ensure that commitments would be met in the event of a major reduction in current income levels.

STRUCTURE, GOVERNANCE AND MANAGEMENT

Governing document

Still Waters House is a Charitable Incorporated Organisation and its activities are regulated by its constitution.

Charity Trustees

Under the constitution, the only members of the charity are the trustees. They are responsible for the direction of the charity, ensuring that it is well-run and delivers its charitable outcomes in accordance with its aforesaid aims and objectives.

The constitution names the first trustees. Further trustees may be appointed at a meeting of the existing trustees. Also, up to four trustees may be nominated by Birmingham Central Baptist Church. As stated earlier, Rev Paul Tyler resigned as a trustee during the year. We record our thanks to him for the energy and vision he has displayed in establishing and developing the charity. In January 2024 the trustees agreed to the appointment of an additional trustee, Andrew Jolly. As a lecturer in social work with a background focussing on homelessness issues, he brings considerable experience to our organisation.

Organisational structure

Decisions are made at trustees' meetings. During the year 2024 there have been ten regular meetings plus a safeguarding meeting following a particular incident requiring immediate attention. The trustees also share information between meetings using private electronic media.

The charity was registered as a Charitable Incorporated Organisation ('CIO') on 17th August 2022. The financial year runs to 31st December. The trustees therefore present their report together with the financial statements from the date of registration to 31st December 2023.

Objectives and aims

The purpose of the CIO is to relieve financial hardship for the public benefit of people who have experienced homelessness, or people who are living in vulnerable housing situations or people who would otherwise be at risk of homelessness in Birmingham and surrounding areas. We do that by providing accommodation and related support services to such people. This includes giving guidance, mentoring and providing opportunities to gain skills and experience to enable them to break the cycle of homelessness and to achieve independence.

In pursuance of that aim, the CIO is responsible for the management of a property in Birmingham known as Still Waters House, which it leases from Green Pastures, a Community Benefit Society which fully supports our objectives. The property provides good quality accommodation for four persons and we are responsible for their ongoing support as described above. Prior to registration Still Waters House had operated since March 2019 as a ministry of Birmingham Central Baptist Church, which is an excepted charity. With the agreement of the Church, the trustees decided to form the CIO and to operate independently of the Church, although it continues to support us in promoting our work.

Public benefit

We have considered the Charity Commission's guidance on public benefit. We believe our activities have delivered this, since we are seeking to tackle the very considerable problem of homelessness in society. As stated above, we do this by not only providing accommodation but also providing ongoing support to enable individuals to break the cycle of homelessness and achieve independence. Although we can only help a few people at a time, we believe each person is important and we aim to make a difference in that individual's life. We are also happy to work alongside other organisations that deal with the issue of homelessness, for example, by accepting referrals from them.

Volunteers

During the period in question, we have benefited from the support of 9 volunteers. Their contribution includes mentoring, giving guidance and offering such skills as they have. We have a volunteer policy, which includes an application process, a DBS safeguarding check and induction and training.

ACHIEVEMENTS AND PERFORMANCE

Upon registration the CIO took over the lease of Still Waters House. The property has remained in good condition throughout and we have authorised minor repairs and maintenance as necessary. It has three floors. The ground floor includes a living room, a meeting room, a kitchen and a bathroom. The first floor includes two bedrooms, a toilet and a shower and laundry room. There are two other bedrooms on the second floor.

Throughout the period of reporting the property has been occupied by at least three male residents - for much of the time there have been four residents. Each resident has had their own individual issues. The trustees receive regular updates about these. Because of confidentiality we cannot give details, but we can report that our team of volunteers have been very active in helping them to deal with those issues, providing them with support on a regular basis and assisting them to gain access to other organisations which are able to help them further. One resident was housed without rent as they were not eligible for housing benefit. This decision was made on compassionate grounds and in keeping with the aims of Still Waters House.

During 2023 the trustees explored the possibility of expanding its operations by taking on a second property in Birmingham, again in partnership with Green Pastures. They appreciated that they could only do so when the charity is in a position to increase its capacity to offer housing management and resident support. However, by the end of the year, plans to do so were well on the way to being implemented and a suitable house had been identified.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Financial Position

We refer to the attached financial statements.

In the period under review receipts of unrestricted funds totalled £47,239. The CIO spent £37,407 from unrestricted funds. The net receipts of unrestricted funds amounted to £9,832. There was no movement of restricted funds during the period other than the addition of interest of £71. At the commencement of registration, the sum of £45,854.88 was transferred to the CIO from Birmingham Central Baptist Church, who had until then been holding these funds for Still Waters House. £15,000 of these funds were restricted. The fund balance at the end of the year amounted to £55,758, of which £15,071 remains restricted.

Principal funding sources and expenditure

Our sources of income during the period of review were housing benefit receipts of £42,145.78, residents' charges of £2,990.00 and voluntary donations, including Gift Aid, of £2,103.65.

The principal expenditure items were lease payments of £21,700.00, administrative support, staff and volunteer costs of £5,375.94, property maintenance, utilities, etc of £8,434.61, and direct resident support, hardship and furnishings of £1,896.51.

Reserves Policy

During the year our policy was to maintain a balance of unrestricted funds of at least the equivalent of 3 months' running costs. It is recognised this needs to be reviewed as the charity expands and its ongoing commitments increase.

STRUCTURE, GOVERNANCE AND MANAGEMENT

Governing document

Still Waters House is a CIO and its activities are regulated by its constitution.

Charity Constitution

The constitution sets out the names of the first charity trustees and their terms of office. All of them have remained in office throughout the period covered by this report.

Recruitment and appointment of new trustees

Apart from the first trustees, further trustees may be appointed at a meeting of the existing trustees. Also, up to four trustees may be nominated by Birmingham Central Baptist Church. In November 2023 the existing trustees agreed to the appointment of an additional trustee, Shirley Mallon. She brings considerable experience regarding supporting homeless people. By the year end the trustees were seeking to recruit a further trustee early in the following year.

Organisational structure

Decisions are made at trustees' meetings. From the time of registration until the end of 2023 they have met ten times. They also share information between meetings using private electronic media.
