Type of governing document
(eg. trust deed, constitution)

Constitution

How the charity is constituted
(eg. trust, association, company)

Charitable Incorporated Organisation

Trustee selection methods
(eg. appointed by, elected by)

Nominated by any member and elected by the members present at AGM. If vacancies occur mid-term, the Trustees may appoint new Trustees subject to election at the next AGM.

Additional governance issues (Optional information)

You may choose to include additional information, where relevant, about:

- policies and procedures adopted for the induction and training of trustees;
- the charity’s organisational structure and any wider network with which the charity works;
- relationship with any related parties;
- trustees’ consideration of major risks and the system and procedures to manage them.

Trustees are expected to familiarise themselves with the charity’s Constitution, Regulations, minutes of previous Trustees’ and Advisory Committee meetings and the Charity Commission’s guidance so that they are up-to date with current issues. Prospective Trustees may be invited by the Chair to attend meetings prior to election.

Most of the Charity’s volunteers are organised into 21 branches grouped into 10 regions in England and Wales, managed by Regional Directors.

We had 11 Associate Members in UK, France, Iraq and The Netherlands.

The Regional Directors, Trustees and holders of specialist roles (such as Publicity) form the Advisory Committee, which helps the Trustees make decisions and acts as a communication link with the membership.

The Charity maintains policies on Environment, Expenses, GDPR, Grievance, Equity-Diversity-Inclusivity, Health & Safety, Safeguarding, Honours and Awards, Fund-raising and Social & Digital Media.

Section C Objectives and activities

Summary of the objects of the charity set out in its governing document

To enhance for the public benefit education and training in rescue, first aid, medical and allied disciplines by the provision of realistic, simulated patients or casualties.

Summary of the main activities undertaken for the public benefit in relation to these objects (include within this section the statutory declaration that trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit)

The Trustees are aware of the Commission's public benefit guidance and take it into account when directing the Charity's activities. We are convinced that expert rescue and medical care needs realism in the training and practice of protocols and techniques. We are proud to work with many sectors of emergency agencies by providing their personnel with volunteers trained in acting and makeup to simulate injury and illness.

Our clients include first aid training organisations, the emergency services, rescue workers and hospitals. Feedback from our clients makes it clear that our volunteers' efforts are appreciated by them and the personnel who train with us. The practical, realistic, hands-on experience we provide increases their confidence and skills for handling real-life emergencies. The benefit this brings to members of the public in need of help in an emergency is what motivates our volunteers to study and practise the art of casualty simulation, both in their local branches and at our annual residential Training Weekend which incorporates the Annual General Meeting. About a third of our members attend this important event.

An important forum for reporting on our activities and exchanging ideas is our quarterly magazine 'Casualty Simulation' and our social media sites. We encourage our branches to provide their services free of charge to charities and many public organisations on low budgets; this is in line with our charitable objects.

Additional details of objectives and activities (Optional information)

You may choose to include further statements, where relevant, about:

- policy on grantmaking;
- policy programme related investment;
- contribution made by volunteers.

All members of Casualties Union, including the Trustees, are unpaid volunteers. In 2024 they gave 10,056 hours on operational duties for our clients, and nearly 40% of these were given free of charge to our clients.

The time spent on study, training, administration, publicity and governance is not recorded for statistics, but is just as willingly given. 76 new members were recruited in 2024.

Summary of the main achievements of the charity during the year

Our Hon. Treasurer worked hard at installing systems that allow him and the Trustees to have better control over branch finances.

The reformed and revitalised Advisory Committee enjoyed useful, productive meetings, discussing topics with the Trustees to enable them to make the best governance decisions.

Publicity through the press, social media and a radio interview brought in large numbers of enquiries and many new volunteers to work with us. This in turn led to the opening of two new branches, allowing us to provide even more of our services in casualty simulation.

Section E

Financial review

Brief statement of the charity's policy on reserves

The reserves maintained for some years in anticipation of a High Court settlement that might have exceeded our insurance provision are now steadily declining, reducing by 8.6% in 2024. This is largely because of increased provision of charitable services free of charge, mostly to public and charitable bodies.

Details of any funds materially in deficit

None.

Further financial review details (Optional information)

You may choose to include additional information, where relevant about:

- the charity's principal sources of funds (including any fundraising);
- how expenditure has supported the key objectives of the charity;
- investment policy and objectives including any ethical investment policy adopted.

The principal sources of funds are:

1. Fees charged for our services to commercial operators.
2. Income from a Charitable Trust set up to provide income in Casualties Union's favour and managed by the Ludlow Trust, outside Casualties Union.
3. Subscriptions from members and payments to attend annual training weekend.
4. Other donations via Just Giving.

Our expenditure is mostly devoted to paying travel, make-up etc. expenses to members and supporting the annual residential training weekend. This expenditure supports the objective of providing casualty simulation services to many organisations free of charge, expanding our range and providing opportunities for our members.

You may choose to include further statements, where relevant, about:

- policy on grantmaking;
- policy programme related investment;
- contribution made by volunteers.

Summary of the main achievements of the charity during the year

We applied for closure of unincorporated Casualties Union 234672 (confirmed 9 Oct 2023) and prepared for the creation of CIO Casualties Union 1200120. The new Constitution having been already approved, we published the new Regulations.

A new bank account for the CIO was set up with CAF Bank and the old closed.

We reviewed and began implementing document control to our forms and documents and created many new Policy Documents.

We decided to produce a two-year Strategy Plan.

Our Treasurer made plans for a tighter grip on branch accounting,

We encouraged our branches to provide a more charitable service by waiving charges for defined organisations. Branches' operational and administrative costs would then be supported by Headquarters' funds in line with our new policy for maintaining reserves.

Section E

Financial review

Brief statement of the charity's policy on reserves

Our reserves are dropping – having been kept at a high level in anticipation of a High Court settlement in 2022 while our organisation was an unincorporated charity – in order to fund the provision of casualty simulation to more organisations free of charge.

Details of any funds materially in deficit

None.

Further financial review details (Optional information)

You may choose to include additional information, where relevant about:

- the charity's principal sources of funds (including any fundraising);
- how expenditure has supported the key objectives of the charity;
- investment policy and objectives including any ethical investment policy adopted.

The principal sources of funds are:

1. Fees from commercial clients needing casualty simulation
2. Members' subscriptions
3. Grants from the Joan Brackin Trust
4. Other charitable donations

Expenditure by the charity allows members to travel to events in order to provide casualty simulation as required by clients without costing them.

Branch accounting is being improved by greater central oversight.

I report to the trustees on my examination of the accounts of the above charity ("the Trust") for the year ended 31 DECEMBER 2023

Responsibilities and basis of report

As the charity trustees of the Trust, you are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the requirements of the Charities Act 2011 ("the Act").

I report in respect of my examination of the Trust's accounts carried out under section 145 of the 2011 Act and in carrying out my examination, I have followed the applicable Directions given by the Charity Commission under section 145(5)(b) of the Act.

Independent
examiner's statement

I have completed my examination. I confirm that no material matters have come to my attention (other than that disclosed below *) in connection with the examination which gives me cause to believe that in, any material respect:

- accounting records were not kept in accordance with section 130 of the Act or
- the accounts do not accord with the accounting records

I have no concerns and have come across no other matters in connection with the examination to which attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.

* Please delete the words in the brackets if they do not apply.
