Achievements and Performance

	SORP reference
Summary of the main achievements of the charity, identifying the difference the charity's work has made to the circumstances of its beneficiaries and any wider benefits to society as a whole.	Para 1.20	The Trust's individual and family counselling sessions have continued to generate positive evaluations demonstrating considerable benefit gained from the counselling provided to clients. Of considerable value, particularly to children, is equine therapy provided by a local specialist in this field. The school-based parent support groups also continue to be well received with a meeting of local Family Liaison Officers generating further interest in this specialist work by the Trust. Parents are able to discuss concerns within the group and learn from each other as well as from the facilitating counsellor. The schools also benefit, for example from improved relationships with the parents and less disruptive behaviour from pupils.

Achievements against objectives set	Para 1.41	HearSay Charitable Trust set the following objectives in its Business Plan covering the period 2022 to 2025: • To increase the number of clients by 10% and increase the number of counselling hours in the first year of the plan. • To support families and carers of students in four schools in the local area. • To improve the organisation of the Trust, and thereby the impacts of the Trust's work, by recruiting an administrator and additional volunteers. The part-time Administrator will be in post by the end of 2022 (requiring the Trustees to decide on the job description, hours and salary). Recruit other volunteers by the end of 2022. • To put in place relevant policies and procedures to improve efficiency in the Trust's operations, and review them regularly, while ensuring the impacts are measured through client recommendations and evaluations. • To further improve the financial position of the Trust by increasing income through fund-raising from a range of sources by increasing visibility; applying for funding from local, regional and national organisations; developing a strong donor base of both individual and corporate donors; and undertaking a range of fundraising events, including street collections. By the end of 2024, the Trust had further increased the number of clients and counselling hours. The grant from the Colyer Fergusson Charitable Trust obtained in late 2023 facilitated the delivery of parent support groups to additional schools, work which has continued into 2025. Discussions took place during 2024 regarding the appointment of a new part-time administrator. The post has been advertised during 2025 and an appointment has been made. No further applications were made to grant making bodies during 2024 but the increase in the number of clients for counselling paying the ordinary subsidised rate as increased the Trust's income to some degree. HearSay had a stall at a local Summer Festival which not only raised money but also facilitated considerable publicity. The Trust decided not to continue with street collections as the money raised on the last occasion a collection was held did not justify the time spent in organising and staffing it.

Performance of fundraising activities against objectives set	Para 1.41	As indicated above HearSay has continued to use the grant obtained from the Colyer Fergusson Charitable Trust to support the running of further parent support groups. The grant, together with funds raised through the local Summer Festival, and increased income from counselling has ensured that the Trust is able to cover all its costs.
Investment performance against objectives	Para 1.41	Not applicable

Financial Review

Review of the charity's financial position at the end of the period	Para 1.21	The Charity's annual accounts have been produced in accordance with FRS102 as were the previous years. Therefore, no adjusting entries were required for the comparative year. Our main sources of oncome were Counselling Fees £16k in 2024 [£15k in 2023]. Overall, our income from donations and legacies dipped in value by £15k [down 46%] from £32k in 2023 to £17k in this financial year. This was mainly driven by the non-recurrence of the £11k grant from the Colyer-Ferguson Charitable Trust. The two major sources of expenditure were Counsellors' Fees £17k in 2024 [£18k in 2023] and Rent £3k in 2023 [£2k in 2023].
Statement explaining the policy for holding reserves stating why they are held	Para 1.22	There is no policy for the Charity to hold reserves. All unused resources (cash) are carried forward to support the charity's activities.
Amount of reserves held	Para 1.22	Not applicable
Reasons for holding zero reserves	Para 1.22	All unused resources (cash) are carried forward to support the charity's activities.
Details of fund materially in deficit	Para 1.24	Not applicable
Explanation of any uncertainties about the charity continuing as a going concern	Para 1.23	There are no known or anticipated events (or non events) that threaten the going concern of HearSay Charitable Trust as at the end of 2024. There are enough funds to support the charity for the next 12 months, even in the absence of material donations.

Additional information (optional)

You may choose to include further statements where relevant about:

The charity's principal sources of funds (including any fundraising)	Para 1.47	The principal sources of funding are client contributions to counselling fees, grants from grant-making organisations and an annual fete. In 2023, we received £4.2k from partners [£2.6k MK and £1.6k John Lewis]. These were not replicated in 2024.
Investment policy and objectives including any social investment policy adopted	Para 1.46	Not applicable

A description of the principal risks facing the charity	Para 1.46	None envisaged

Achievements and Performance

	SORP reference
Summary of the main achievements of the charity, identifying the difference the charity's work has made to the circumstances of its beneficiaries and any wider benefits to society as a whole.	Para 1.20	From evaluations of individual and family counselling sessions submitted at the end of their series of eight sessions (which is the most commonly received number of sessions), it is evident that clients have benefitted considerably from the counselling they have received. The charity acquired the services of an equine therapist, and the clients referred to her, mainly children, have been helped considerably by this form of counselling. The school-based parent support groups have also been well-received, enabling parents to discuss concerns within the group and learn from each other as well as from the facilitating counsellor. The schools also benefit, for example from improved relationships with the parents and less disruptive behaviour from pupils.

Achievements against objectives set	Para 1.41	HearSay Charitable Trust set the following objectives in its Business Plan covering the period 2022 to 2025: - To increase the number of clients by 10% and increase the number of counselling hours in the first year of the plan. - To support families and carers of students in four schools in the local area. - To improve the organisation of the Trust, and thereby the impacts of the Trust's work, by recruiting an administrator and additional volunteers. 		local, regional and national organisations; developing a strong donor base of both individual and corporate donors; and undertaking a range of fundraising events, including street collections. During 2023, considerable progress was made against all objectives, although by the end of 2023, both self-employed part-time administrative staff had resigned for personal reasons. The charity is aiming to appoint one part-time administrator to be in post by the beginning of 2025. HearSay had, by the end of 2023, been working with one school and a charity that supports young carers, and good progress is being made towards work with further schools. The grant from the Colyer Fergusson Charitable Trust is enabling the charity to offer more of these very well-received parent support groups in 2024. The charity's financial position was boosted by the award of a grant from the Colyer Fergusson Charitable Trust of £11,000 in October 2023.
Performance of fundraising activities against objectives set	Para 1.41	The charity has been successful in raising sufficient funds through fund-raising activities and applications to foundations to cover its running costs and to continue to deliver counselling to a wide range of people.
Investment performance against objectives	Para 1.41	Not applicable

Financial Review

Review of the charity's financial position at the end of the period	Para 1.21	During the year under review, there was a 39% increase in the total revenue (£32k in FY 2023 compared to £23k in FY 2022). This was mainly because of a grant of £11k from the Colyer-Ferguson Charitable Trust in 2023, and an increase in counselling fees (£15k in FY 2023 compared to £8k in FY 2022). This increase in revenue enabled HearSay to undertake more charitable activities (as reflected, for example, in an increase in total expenditure on counselling from £5k in FY 2022 to £19k in FY 2022). The charity was able to carry forward £26k excess unrestricted funds to support its activities in FY 2024.
Statement explaining the policy for holding reserves stating why they are held	Para 1.22	There is no policy for the Charity to hold reserves. All unused resources (cash) are carried forward to support the charity's activities.
Amount of reserves held	Para 1.22	Not applicable
Reasons for holding zero reserves	Para 1.22	All unused resources (cash) are carried forward to support the charity's activities.

Responsibilities and basis of report

As the charity trustees of the Trust you are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the requirements of the Charities Act 2011 ("the Act").

I report in respect of my examination of the Trust's accounts carried out under section 145 of the 2011 Act and in carrying out my examination, I have followed the applicable Directions given by the Charity Commission under section 145(5)(b) of the Act.

Independent examiner's statement

I have completed my examination. I confirm that no material matters have come to my attention in connection with the examination which gives me cause to believe that in, any material respect:

- accounting records were not kept in accordance with section 130 of the Act or
- the accounts do not accord with the accounting records

I have no concerns and have come across no other matters in connection with the examination to which attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.
