TRUSTEES' REPORT

FOR THE 15 MONTHS ENDED 31 MARCH 2025

---

The Trustees present their report with the financial statements of the charity for the 15 months ended 31 March 2025.

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Charitable objectives

For the public benefit, the relief of men in need in the UK, who may be experiencing or at risk of experiencing poor mental health, by means of, but not exclusively:

- a) Increasing awareness of, and reducing the stigma attached to, men's mental health;
- b) Creating content, events, partnerships and experiences that encourage men to share their own inner struggle in a friendly and supportive environment.

Summary of activities

Our primary objective at Men Who Talk ('the charity') is to promote the relief of men in need in the UK, who may be experiencing or at risk of experiencing poor mental health. We deliver this objective primarily through the delivery of:

- Online support groups for men to come together and talk about what's on their mind;
- Bespoke workshops to institutions and employers designed to raise awareness of men's mental health and provide tools for better wellbeing.

Public benefit

The Trustees have referred to the guidance contained in the Charity Commission's general guidance on public benefit, 'Charities and Public Benefit', when reviewing the charity's aims and objectives, and planning future activities.

ACHIEVEMENTS AND PERFORMANCE

Significant activities and achievements against objectives

Our objectives for the period were to grow stability and capacity as an organisation with a view to improving the consistency and utilisation of our services for men, after a challenging first year. While we made some progress towards organisational stability in the year after our registration - securing a grant from the National Lottery Community Fund to safeguard the delivery of our core services, growing our trustees and improving our financial position - we also saw significant challenges with the temporary pause of our online groups and trustee resignations. In the past 15 months, the charity has seen a number of successes, and we have begun to see the impact for our service delivery and the men we support.

During the period, the charity delivered 80 online support groups to 455 attendees, up from 11 attendees in 2023. We steadily increased our service offer during the period, initially introducing weekly groups on Wednesday evenings, then growing to occasional twice weekly groups (adding a Saturday morning group) whenever there was demand from our service users. To facilitate this increase in service delivery, the charity recruited and trained new volunteers to work with us, as well as increasing the contracted hours of our Operations Manager and bringing our Founder and Director on board as a second part-time contractor. We further bolstered our internal capacity and governance through the recruitment of two new trustees in January 2024.

We used part of our income during the period to invest in digital marketing activities to boost awareness of our online groups for men, which resulted in a significant uptick in both sign-ups and attendance. In 2023, we saw an average of 3.8 monthly sign-ups and 2.2 attendees, whereas in 2024 we saw an average 50.9 monthly sign-ups and 28.8 attendees.

We continued to implement recommendations from our previous marketing strategy, including increased spend on social media advertising to promote the online groups, and ensuring the Men Who Talk brand is consistent across all digital and physical touchpoints. We also began planning the rebuild of the charity's website scheduled to occur in the next period.

During the period, the charity established systems to monitor the efficacy of our online groups, to ensure they are helping our service users in the way they are intended. A feedback form is now sent as standard to everyone who signs up to or attends an online group, the results of which are examined by our Operations Manager. We also collected qualitative feedback from attendees including quotes and a longform case study to inform future service developments.

Support the Supporters

During the period, we piloted our Support the Supporters (STS) groups, a service developed in response to feedback from individuals supporting men with their mental health. Whilst there was clear interest in the concept, we found that engagement levels were lower than anticipated, and it became obvious that we were not yet reaching this audience in the most effective way. In light of this, and recognising the limitations in terms of capacity that were being put on the Founder and Administrator, the trustees agreed to temporarily pause STS to allow for a more thorough review. This review, which will take place over the next period, will explore the marketing, structure and viability of the service, with the intention of relaunching a strengthened and more accessible STS offer at some point in the future.

Partnerships

The charity grew our partnership development during the period work by providing eight workshops to companies and institutions including Hammersmith and Fulham Borough Council, providing employers with the tools to better support male employees with their mental health and supporting men to practice self-care around work. As well as furthering our charitable objectives, these activities generated additional unrestricted income for the charity.

Additional internal capacity had a knock-on impact for our fundraising activities. We secured a second transformational grant of £19,250 from the National Lottery Community Fund in September 2024, and saw several fundraisers and collections organised in support of Men Who Talk. As a result of this and other fundraising successes, we ended the period in a stable financial position with no debts or liabilities.

Raising funds and awareness

We were delighted to receive a second grant from the National Lottery Community Fund in September 2024, totalling £19,250. This grant enabled us to bring our Founder and Director on board on a contractor basis, supported the ongoing work of our Operations Manager, helped fund vital training for our paid team and volunteers, and supported our digital marketing activities to connect with more service users and volunteers. We also gratefully received grants totalling £5,200 from several other charitable trusts and foundations during the period, including the Ambergate Charitable Trust, the Simon Rivett-Carnac Trust, and the Grace Trust.

Other funds raised during the 15 month period were £16,631.27 in donations from the general public (2023: £563.21), and £3,375 in business income through the delivery of men's mental health workshops to institutions and companies. This included workshops with construction company Severfield PLC and Allianz Insurance. The Caterham Round Table were valued champions of our charity during the period, supporting us with direct donations and helping us to raise public donations at their annual Beer Festival in September 2024.

Still a young organisation, we continue to recognise the importance of effective marketing to connect with potential service users, as well as possible partners and volunteers.

During the period, Men Who Talk increased its focus on digital marketing to raise awareness of its services and drive sign-ups to the men's groups. The charity invested £2,549 in Meta advertising, reaching almost 220,000 unique people, and began posting regularly on Facebook and Instagram to promote upcoming groups. In addition, the charity started to make full use of its $10,000 per month Google Ads grant, directing more targeted traffic towards the Men Who Talk website. Together, these activities led to a significant month-on-month increase in visits to the website and visibility of the charity's offer.

Contribution of volunteers

During the period, the charity's online groups were facilitated by a team of 30 volunteers.

All new volunteers with the charity in the period underwent a Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) check and reference checks. New volunteers also received a 90-minute induction from the Founder and Director, which confirmed their roles and responsibilities and outlined our safeguarding procedure, and all volunteers shadowed at least three online groups before facilitating one themselves. Group facilitator volunteers make a minimum time commitment of one 90 minute online group per month.

We look to recruit volunteers who have a passion for men's mental health, and work to include service users in the organisation through volunteering. One former online group facilitator is now a trustee of the charity. Our Founder and Director, and Operations Manager, both assisted with the running of online groups during the period to maintain best practice, safety and equality.

Team capacity

In August 2024, the charity further enhanced our internal capacity by taking on our Founder and Director on a contractor basis to focus on developing and maintaining relationships with corporations and strategic partners, growing fundraised income, and continuing to recruit and onboard volunteers.

We also reviewed the role of our Administrator and made the decision to amend this role to an Operations Manager position with an increase in monthly hours, to better align with its responsibilities for ensuring the delivery and safety of our core service offer on a more regular basis. This further increased capacity had a significant impact, enabling us to deliver groups more consistently, grow our volunteer base from 4 to 30, and raise funds proactively from a more diverse range of sources.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Financial position

During the period, the charity amended its financial year end from 31 December to 31 March in order to align more effectively with the reporting cycles of partners and funders. As a result, this Annual Report and Accounts covers a 15-month period from 1 January 2024 to 31 March 2025. Future reporting periods will revert to a standard 12 months ending on 31 March. Due to the extended reporting period this year, the figures presented are not directly comparable with those of the previous 12-month period.

The charity's income for the 15 months ending 31st March 2025 was £44,456.27 (2023: £10,480.02).

MEN WHO TALK

This income comprised a combination of donations (£16,631.27), a grant from the National Lottery Community Fund (£19,250), grants from other charitable trusts and foundations (£5,200) earned income from workshops and the creation of resources for companies (£3,750).

The charity's expenditure for the 15 months ending 31st March 2025 was £24,007.85 (2023: £4,898.44).

Cash funds at 31 March 2025 were £25,731.19, (2023: £5,282.78), with no debts or responsibilities. Of this amount, £8,010.15 comprised restricted funds from the National Lottery Community Fund. The charity held £17,721.04 (2023: £584.13) in unrestricted funds at the end of the period, none of which were designated funds.

Reserves policy

The charity did not have a reserves policy in the period however the Trustees focussed on building financial stability over the period through donations and grants received and prudent expense management.

Since the period end a Reserves Policy has been put in place and the funding level currently exceeds the minimum desired level with opportunities being sought to invest the surplus.

Going concern

At the time of approval of this report, the trustees have a reasonable expectation that the charity has adequate resources to continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future. Thus the trustees have adopted the going concern basis of accounting in preparing the financial statements and this report.

The charity has had a successful 15 months for fundraising, securing a significant grant from the National Lottery Community Fund and building our unrestricted funds through donations from the public and business income. Thanks to these successes, which have been as a result of increased staff capacity and the slight alleviation of the cost of living crisis, we have been able to grow our unrestricted reserves, ending the period with £17,721.04.

During the period improvements were also made to our governance by recruiting two additional trustees in January 2024 and appointing Chair and Treasurer roles. At the time of writing the charity has five trustees, with the most recent appointment in September 2025. Engagement with our services remains strong and our volunteer numbers are sufficient to ensure the safe, consistent delivery of our online groups for men.

On these bases the trustees have resolved that the charity is a going concern at time of this report's approval.

FUTURE PLANS

Looking ahead, the charity's primary focus will be on strengthening its organisational stability and sustainability. Building our unrestricted reserves in line with our Reserves Policy is a key priority, ensuring we are better positioned to financial risk and invest in the long-term development of our services for men.

We also plan to build on the high rates of engagement seen over the past year by expanding our core service offer to consistently deliver multiple online groups each week, and building our marketing activities to engage with more men who are struggling. The charity will also develop our corporate partnership work, strengthening relationships with employers through proactive engagement and delivering a greater number of workshops that support men's mental health and wellbeing.

A further area of focus will be the continued development of our data and impact measurement processes. By embedding stronger data collection and analysis across the organisation, we aim to more clearly demonstrate both the need for our services and the difference they make. This work will support the charity in raising greater awareness of the crisis in men's mental health and help us to further develop our services to support men in the way that is most beneficial to them.

STRUCTURE, GOVERNANCE AND MANAGEMENT

We were delighted to receive a second grant from the National Lottery Community Fund in September 2024, totalling £19,250. This grant enabled us to bring our Founder and Director on board on a contractor basis, supported the ongoing work of our Operations Manager, helped fund vital training for our paid team and volunteers, and supported our digital marketing activities to connect with more service users and volunteers. We also gratefully received grants totalling £5,200 from several other charitable trusts and foundations during the period, including the Ambergate Charitable Trust, the Simon Rivett-Carnac Trust, and the Grace Trust.

Other funds raised during the 15 month period were £16,631.27 in donations from the general public (2023: £563.21), and £3,375 in business income through the delivery of men's mental health workshops to institutions and companies. This included workshops with construction company Severfield PLC and Allianz Insurance. The Caterham Round Table were valued champions of our charity during the period, supporting us with direct donations and helping us to raise public donations at their annual Beer Festival in September 2024.

Still a young organisation, we continue to recognise the importance of effective marketing to connect with potential service users, as well as possible partners and volunteers.

During the period, Men Who Talk increased its focus on digital marketing to raise awareness of its services and drive sign-ups to the men's groups. The charity invested £2,549 in Meta advertising, reaching almost 220,000 unique people, and began posting regularly on Facebook and Instagram to promote upcoming groups. In addition, the charity started to make full use of its $10,000 per month Google Ads grant, directing more targeted traffic towards the Men Who Talk website. Together, these activities led to a significant month-on-month increase in visits to the website and visibility of the charity's offer.

Contribution of volunteers

During the period, the charity's online groups were facilitated by a team of 30 volunteers.

All new volunteers with the charity in the period underwent a Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) check and reference checks. New volunteers also received a 90-minute induction from the Founder and Director, which confirmed their roles and responsibilities and outlined our safeguarding procedure, and all volunteers shadowed at least three online groups before facilitating one themselves. Group facilitator volunteers make a minimum time commitment of one 90 minute online group per month.

We look to recruit volunteers who have a passion for men's mental health, and work to include service users in the organisation through volunteering. One former online group facilitator is now a trustee of the charity. Our Founder and Director, and Operations Manager, both assisted with the running of online groups during the period to maintain best practice, safety and equality.

Team capacity

In August 2024, the charity further enhanced our internal capacity by taking on our Founder and Director on a contractor basis to focus on developing and maintaining relationships with corporations and strategic partners, growing fundraised income, and continuing to recruit and onboard volunteers.

We also reviewed the role of our Administrator and made the decision to amend this role to an Operations Manager position with an increase in monthly hours, to better align with its responsibilities for ensuring the delivery and safety of our core service offer on a more regular basis. This further increased capacity had a significant impact, enabling us to deliver groups more consistently, grow our volunteer base from 4 to 30, and raise funds proactively from a more diverse range of sources.

Financial position

During the period, the charity amended its financial year end from 31 December to 31 March in order to align more effectively with the reporting cycles of partners and funders. As a result, this Annual Report and Accounts covers a 15-month period from 1 January 2024 to 31 March 2025. Future reporting periods will revert to a standard 12 months ending on 31 March. Due to the extended reporting period this year, the figures presented are not directly comparable with those of the previous 12-month period.

The charity's income for the 15 months ending 31st March 2025 was £44,456.27 (2023: £10,480.02).

This income comprised a combination of donations (£16,631.27), a grant from the National Lottery Community Fund (£19,250), grants from other charitable trusts and foundations (£5,200) earned income from workshops and the creation of resources for companies (£3,750).

The charity's expenditure for the 15 months ending 31st March 2025 was £24,007.85 (2023: £4,898.44).

Cash funds at 31 March 2025 were £25,731.19, (2023: £5,282.78), with no debts or responsibilities. Of this amount, £8,010.15 comprised restricted funds from the National Lottery Community Fund. The charity held £17,721.04 (2023: £584.13) in unrestricted funds at the end of the period, none of which were designated funds.

Reserves policy

The charity did not have a reserves policy in the period however the Trustees focussed on building financial stability over the period through donations and grants received and prudent expense management.

Since the period end a Reserves Policy has been put in place and the funding level currently exceeds the minimum desired level with opportunities being sought to invest the surplus.

Going concern

At the time of approval of this report, the trustees have a reasonable expectation that the charity has adequate resources to continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future. Thus the trustees have adopted the going concern basis of accounting in preparing the financial statements and this report.

The charity has had a successful 15 months for fundraising, securing a significant grant from the National Lottery Community Fund and building our unrestricted funds through donations from the public and business income. Thanks to these successes, which have been as a result of increased staff capacity and the slight alleviation of the cost of living crisis, we have been able to grow our unrestricted reserves, ending the period with £17,721.04.

During the period improvements were also made to our governance by recruiting two additional trustees in January 2024 and appointing Chair and Treasurer roles. At the time of writing the charity has five trustees, with the most recent appointment in September 2025. Engagement with our services remains strong and our volunteer numbers are sufficient to ensure the safe, consistent delivery of our online groups for men.

On these bases the trustees have resolved that the charity is a going concern at time of this report's approval.

FUTURE PLANS

Looking ahead, the charity's primary focus will be on strengthening its organisational stability and sustainability. Building our unrestricted reserves in line with our Reserves Policy is a key priority, ensuring we are better positioned to financial risk and invest in the long-term development of our services for men.

We also plan to build on the high rates of engagement seen over the past year by expanding our core service offer to consistently deliver multiple online groups each week, and building our marketing activities to engage with more men who are struggling. The charity will also develop our corporate partnership work, strengthening relationships with employers through proactive engagement and delivering a greater number of workshops that support men's mental health and wellbeing.

A further area of focus will be the continued development of our data and impact measurement processes. By embedding stronger data collection and analysis across the organisation, we aim to more clearly demonstrate both the need for our services and the difference they make. This work will support the charity in raising greater awareness of the crisis in men's mental health and help us to further develop our services to support men in the way that is most beneficial to them.
