Annual Report

For the Year: 2024–25

A Word from Our Chairperson

I'm proud to share our very first annual report. Nigehbaan Foundation is still brand new, and this past year has been all about getting the basics right setting up our systems, meeting legal requirements, and planning for the future. To be completely transparent: during the 2024/25 financial year, we had no income. We haven't started fundraising or running projects yet. But we've still made real progress in building a charity that's solid, honest, and ready to make a difference.

Money Matters – A Simple Summary

We opened our charity bank account with an initial deposit of £50 that was all that was needed to get things up and running. For the whole of the 2024/25 financial year, the charity had no income. We didn't receive any donations, grants, or other money. We also had no expenses, because our focus was purely on setting up the charity properly before asking for anyone's support.

What We've Actually Done This Year

Even without any income, we've been busy behind the scenes. Here's what we achieved:

- Got officially registered: We completed the Charity Commission registration process and are now a recognised charity.
- Put the right rules in place: We wrote down key policies on finances, safeguarding, and how we'll operate so we can be accountable from day one.
- Planned our future: We had honest, thoughtful conversations about what we want to stand for and where we want to go.
- Built a roadmap: We identified the areas we want to work in (like education, health, and social welfare) and sketched out how we'll eventually deliver services, raise funds, and work with others.

The Real Challenges We Faced

Being a new charity isn't easy. Here's what held us back this year:

1. No income yet: With just £50 in the bank, we simply couldn't afford to launch any fundraising or run any activities.
2. Getting the groundwork right took time: We chose to focus on building a strong foundation first good governance, clear policies, proper registration. That meant fundraising and projects had to wait.
3. Nobody knows who we are yet: We're a new name, and we haven't had the chance to build trust or recognition in the community. That's something we'll need to work on.

What We Plan to Do Next Year

We're still full of hope and energy. Here's what we want to achieve in the coming year:

1. Start raising money: We'll reach out for grants, donations, and sponsorships so we finally have some income to work with.
2. Launch small pilot projects: We want to start small but meaningful programmes in education, health, or social welfare to show what we can do.
3. Build partnerships: We'll connect with other charities, local businesses, and community groups to learn from them and work together.
4. Get our name out there: We'll use social media, community events, and outreach to introduce Nigehbaan Foundation to the people we want to serve and support.
5. Train ourselves up: We'll make sure our trustees and volunteers get the training they need to run things properly and stay within the rules.

A Final Reflection

This first year wasn't flashy. We didn't raise thousands of pounds or run big projects. But we did something just as important: we built a proper, lawful, and thoughtful foundation for everything that comes next. We had no income this year, but we have a clear plan, a committed team, and a genuine desire to help.

Thank you to everyone who has believed in us during these quiet, behind-the-scenes months. We're looking forward to the year ahead with hope, energy, and a real determination to turn our plans into action.

With gratitude,

Arshad Bhatti

Annual Report

For the Period: Year 2023-24

Chairperson's Statement

I am honoured to present the first annual report for Nigehbaan Foundation, a registered charity dedicated to serving communities in need. This year has primarily been focused on setting up the charity's foundational infrastructure, ensuring legal compliance, and preparing for future service delivery. While we have not yet commenced fundraising or direct service provision, we have made significant progress in laying the groundwork for a successful and impactful organisation.

Financial Summary

To formally establishing the charity's banking facilities, Nigehbaan Foundation deposited an initial amount of £50 into its account. This amount was required to activate the charity's bank account and will serve as the foundation for future financial management and fundraising efforts. At this stage, there have been no other income sources or expenditures, as the focus has been on administrative and structural development.

Activities and Achievements

Over the past year, our primary focus has been on the establishment and governance of the charity to ensure a strong and legally compliant organization. Below are some key activities and achievements:

- Charity Registration and Legal Compliance: Successfully completed the charity registration process with the Charity Commission, securing our status as a recognized charitable organization.

- Governance and Administrative Setup: Developed key governance policies, including financial policies, safeguarding measures, and operational guidelines, to ensure effective management and accountability.
- Strategic Planning: Undertook strategic discussions to outline the charity's mission, vision, and long-term goals, with a focus on community service, empowerment, and support.
- Establishment of Operational Framework: Identified potential areas of intervention and formulated a roadmap for service delivery, fundraising, and stakeholder engagement.

Challenges Faced

As a newly registered charity, Nigehbaan Foundation faced several challenges that impacted our ability to commence fundraising and service delivery. These challenges included:

1. Limited Financial Resources: With only the initial deposit of £50 in our bank account, we were unable to launch fundraising campaigns or initiate any large-scale activities.
2. Focus on Organizational Development: The charity's priority has been to establish a robust governance structure, which required time and effort, delaying the start of fundraising and service provision.
3. Lack of Public Awareness: As a new charity, Nigehbaan Foundation has yet to gain public recognition and community trust, which is essential for successful fundraising and program implementation.

Future Plans and Objectives

Despite the challenges, Nigehbaan Foundation remains committed to its mission and has outlined a clear plan for the coming year. Our key objectives include:

1. Launching Fundraising Campaigns: Actively seeking grants, donations, and sponsorships from individuals, organizations, and funding bodies to secure financial resources for our charitable initiatives.

2. Initiating Community Programs: Implementing pilot projects in key areas such as education, health, and social welfare to demonstrate our commitment and impact.
3. Building Partnerships and Collaborations: Engaging with other charities, businesses, and community organizations to strengthen our network and increase our reach.
4. Enhancing Public Awareness: Utilizing social media, community outreach, and engagement activities to raise awareness about Nigehbaan Foundation and attract support from the community.
5. Strengthening Governance and Capacity Building: Conducting training for trustees and volunteers to enhance operational efficiency and compliance with regulatory requirements.

Conclusion

This year has been foundational for Nigehbaan Foundation, setting the stage for future growth and impact. While we have not yet launched fundraising initiatives or service delivery, our focus on governance, compliance, and strategic planning has prepared us for a strong start in the coming year. We remain dedicated to our mission and are confident that with the right support, partnerships, and resources, we will make a meaningful difference in the lives of those we aim to serve.

We extend our heartfelt gratitude to all those who have supported us during this initial phase. We look forward to the coming year with optimism and determination, eager to transform our plans into action.
