Achievements and Performance

	SORP reference
Summary of the main achievements of the charity, identifying the difference the charity's work has made to the circumstances of its beneficiaries and any wider benefits to society as a whole.	Para 1.20	On 24th September 2024, the Board of Trustees support a proposal to undertake the closure of CSASS. In keeping with the 7 decision-making principles, the rationale for closure was as follows: In April, following the resignation of the long-standing Centre Manager and the appointment of a new Centre Manager, the Charity assessed its mission, remit, and practice, and the question of merger or closure was raised. The Board concluded that there were substantial duplications of CSASS' aims, objectives, and mission in Chester with two larger organisations (Tomorrow's Women, and Rape and Sexual Abuse Support Centre (RSASC) working with survivors and providing similar care, support, and services: counselling, support groups, ISVAs, drop-ins, with a physical presence in the city. In addition, given the uncertain financial landscape, this overlap potentially limited the capacity for these local organisations to secure the necessary funds to continue, operationally, and could put their service at risk. While the possibility of a merger was informally discussed with RSASC, they declined because of CSASS' premises and because they were not able or willing to absorb CSASS staff. They were willing to work with CSASS to support any clients, should CSASS close. In the same period, three core members of staff resigned, which posed a substantial risk to the organisation in the short to medium term.

The Board also noted that CSASS had not been reaching new services users in some aspects of its work. This is likely to be because potential clients were being referred to other organisations, rather than CSASS.

In short, the Board suggested that more could be achieved in addressing the causes and effects of sexual violence, and in supporting the needs of survivors by closing and transferring assets to another organisation.

Between this announcement suggesting the closure in September 2024 until January 2025 the CSASS board undertook the following steps to close the charity responsibly and to follow due process in line with their duties as charity trustees of an incorporated charity:

- formal consultation and subsequent redundancy process;
- reconciled awards with funders;
- secured additional funding to cover the shortfall anticipated by closure costs (redundancy, data retention costs, ongoing staff costs required to oversee the closure, reconciliation of remaining debts and accounts);
- liaised with two local organisations to arrange the transfer of clients to protect the charity's beneficiaries, thereby advancing the charity's objectives right to the end i.e. "to preserve and protect the health and well-being and relieve the distress and trauma of anyone who has experienced or who is experiencing any form of sexual abuse or sexual violence."

In addition, counsellors and volunteers worked with clients to support them and prepare and deliver transition plans for individual clients and outreach groups. This was a key part of the planning and work undertaken to ensure the minimum distress and disruption to our service users and staff.

On 15 October 2024, the Board of Trustees appointed Dr Nicky Shaw of Birchtree Associates, a consultant and specialist in the closure of charities and third sector organisations, to oversee the consultation process and the closure. An insolvency practitioner was not appointed because the decision to close was made at a juncture when there was not enough funds to sustain and secure the charity beyond February 2025, but sufficient funds to ensure staff would receive severance pay, to cover the closures costs, to meet the costs for client transfer and data retention, and to fulfil obligations to funders.

The charity officially ceased providing services on 31 January 2025. On 31st March 2025, in line with Charity Commission guidance (How to close a charity - GOV.UK), CSASS applied to the Commission to remove CSASS from the register of charities. The Commission confirmed receipt of required documents to initiate the dissolution of the CIO and gave the provisional date of removal as 30th June 2025.

On 23rd April 2025, CSASS' Bank accounts were closed.

The CIO received notification of a Employment Tribunal (6012492/2025) claim on Friday 6th June 2025 via email to the Chair's personal address from Thompsons LLP Solicitors with the Notice and Hearing Bundle.

Following a request from Thompsons Solicitors, the Charity Commission informed CSASS on 9th July 2025 that the application to dissolve the CIO had been suspended.

On the 25th November 2025, CSASS was notified that the Employment Tribunal found in favour of the claimant.

At the time of writing (22nd February 2026) the claimant's solicitors (Bruce Henry, Thompsons Solicitors) are seeking financial reimbursement from the Redundancy Payment Services. CSASS have continued to cooperate in all aspects of this process.

The delay to submitting the Annual Return is because on 18th February 2025, in a telephone call between Molly from the Charity Commission and Nicky Shaw (Birchtree Associates, the consultant the charity hired to oversee the charity's closure) CSASS was given the following advice: To close, we have to update returns information. Given that we submitted the latest set of returns in January 2025, that the next submission is not due until January 2026, and that we have closed prior to January, 2026, we do not have to submit any further annual accounting or returns data for the FY

		2024/25 in January, 2026. Due to the unexpected delays to the removal of the CIO from the Register and after correspondence with Irma Narváez, a Charity Commission's Case Officer, we were informed on February 13th 2026 that the TARA was required. We have endeavoured to complete this in good faith and as promptly as possible, given that there are no longer any employed staff nor resources to undertake this work.

Only complete if the examiner needs to highlight matters of concern (see CC32, Independent examination of charity accounts: directions and guidance for examiners).

Give here brief details of any items that the examiner wishes to disclose.

The charity formally closed on 31st March 2025. Prior to closure accounting records (including copies of invoices and other documents) were kept electronically using Xero online accounting software. Evidence of this was seen during the 2023/24 examination. Following closure there were no funds to maintain the online subscription and access was withdrawn. The charity attempted to obtain downloads of all the information held on Xero but were informed that this was not possible. The receipts and payments account has been re-created using bank statements and other available documents such as payroll records, but it has not been possible to verify payments to backing invoices etc. The trustees are happy that restricted funds are correctly accounted for as grant funding was reconciled, and where necessary approved by awarding bodies, prior to closure.

Achievements and Performance

	SORP reference
Summary of the main achievements of the charity, identifying the difference the charity's work has made to the circumstances of its beneficiaries and any wider benefits to society as a whole.	Para 1.20	We work towards four goals, which encompass reaching and supporting survivors, challenging the causes of sexual violence, and ensuring our organization is well run and sustainable. Goal One: Survivors are making progress towards recovery. Our counselling clients this year have told us: "I just want to say I really appreciate (my counsellor's) counselling support. She is a credit to you at CSASS. I didn't think I would be able to trust a health professional again, but (she) is really understanding, kind and caring. I know it's going to be a long, slow road but with (her) support I will get there. I just wanted to say thank you, as an organisation you all do an amazing job supporting people who have been through sexual abuse...." "I was really reluctant to start counselling with CSASS but I'm glad I did because it changed my life. I had spent so long trying to control everything and hating myself and after meeting my counsellor I realised what time I had wasted! She helped me rethink everything I told myself and she did it in such a gentle way... I can't thank her enough!.." Saturday Social: "I feel less alone and isolated. It is a place where I feel accepted and can show up as I am and be myself. It has given me confidence to access more services. It's very relaxing and really interesting to learn new crafts/skills..." "Saturday socials have provided a space for me to be acknowledged and accepted as a survivor with shared experiences without having to discuss what happened to me. There are absolutely no other times in my daily life where this is the case - the power of being acknowledged is incredibly important to me as usually I feel silenced." Journaling groups: "Journaling in a group has had a significant impact on my mental health, wellbeing and ability to feel 'normal'". <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • 100% of clients responding reported improvements after counselling. • 90% of attendees reported a positive impact as a result of groupwork sessions. (73% attendees of the SS and W&T sessions felt their health and wellbeing improved, 60% rated the support as excellent.)

- Wellbeing groups (including our monthly Saturday Social, Walk & Talk, Drop in and Journalling groups) continued to provide activities and strategies for survivors.

Groupwork hours drastically improved – 22 hours of Saturday Socials, 41 hours of Tomorrow’s Women drop ins and 5 hours of journalling sessions.

Support line numbers have dropped but due to us no longer promoting the service and instead making calls out to those who are waiting for counselling and have requested weekly check in’s – feedback from them:

“I’m not having a great week and am so grateful that you have called to check on me. Being able to get some things off my chest have helped”.

“I really appreciate you calling each week to check I am ok. I feel I have been just left by a lot of services and it has left me feeling low and anxious. Knowing that you call and really do care means so much”

Goal 2: Survivors and supporters have the information and confidence to access support.

We use a wide range of approaches to reach survivors with information, and also encourage survivors to feel safe, confident and deserving of support. Some examples this year included:

- A new partnership with Tomorrow’s Women, increasing our visibility, working collaboratively and reaching new clients.

- Progress on reaching economically disadvantaged communities via participation at events at Lache Larder, reaching out within community Facebook groups and focussed trustee recruitment. Target of reaching 75 survivors living in ED to provide service information – managed to reach 180 with 35 attending at least 1 counselling session.

- Working on social media presence with the help of our new Communications Officer. We have significantly increased our reach numbers this year. We have also stepped up the distribution of our Newsletter emails, reaching over 500 people with information about the work that we do.

• Starting a series of sessions at Live! Cheshire, Tomorrow's Women, Here & Now Blacon and On-Line Youth Federation, with learning disabled adults and young people. Engaging 79 people directly in activities.

• Increased presence at Storyhouse Women festival, building awareness of our services amongst the local community. Clients from Saturday Social supported to attend and two CSASS volunteers were speakers and referred to their experience with us.

• New International Women's Day projects, including Climbing Hut Women's lock-in evening and an interview with our new corporate sponsor/partner Women in Industry @ Encirc.

• We continue to work with other organisations to improve their confidence in supporting and signposting survivors, 10 new organisations this year, estimated to have reached over 350 service-users.

Goal 3: The causes of sexual violence are challenged.

Attitudes and behaviours that lead to sexual violence are widely understood and challenged in the area we serve.

• We have continued working with students and staff at Blacon and Queens Park Schools on developing awareness of the causes of sexual violence, building confidence and skills to challenge the causes, and create culture change. Our Outreach Manager is also forging links with other local schools to extend this work.

• We held our annual RECLAIM THE NIGHT march and vigil in November, building on the success of last year. Over 85 people participated in the march, workshops (with Tomorrow's Women, Saturday Social, Live! Cheshire, Queen's Park High School, Blacon High School) were extremely well attended. We managed to reach an estimated 4000 people including passersby's, workshops, social media post engagements and event responses. 71% of respondents said they felt safer in their life following participating in the pre-event workshops, which reached more people than anticipated.

• We built on last year's work through the Purple Leaf program to deliver bystander training via CWVA, to staff and volunteers in the voluntary sector. We have also partnered with a local company, Encirc, to deliver bystander and disclosure training in a workforce of over 1000 (mostly men) getting the message out to a wider local population.

Goal 4 - We have the resources and knowledge we need to be effective, safe, sustainable and accountable.

This includes all the work of staff, volunteers and trustees to run our organisation well. A few highlights included:

- Volunteers carried out a Sponsored Walk to raise unrestricted funds.
- Again, we sent five team members to the Rape Crisis England and Wales annual conference hearing about some inspiring work particularly around arts-based approaches to work with survivors, approaches to work with women with multiple disadvantage and strategies around setting up and running groups.
- Our Centre Manager attends National Director and RCEW Trustee board meetings and Line managers attend specialist national forums.
- RCEW National Service Standards – this process has begun and will run to August 2024.
- We held our first staff away day in November, an invaluable opportunity for the team to have time to think ahead and share ideas.
- The new charity (Chester Sexual Abuse Support Service CIO) Charity number: 1201913 became fully live in September 2023 and the old charity is now closed. The objects for the new CIO are substantively the same, with a small change to widen our remit in our education and prevention work.
- We continue to look for suitable new premises, to improve the experience of the clients attending our office.

A few examples of improvements we have made in key areas.

Health, Safety and Wellbeing

- New higher, more substantial chairs/furniture for the counselling room, to support taller people
- Extreme heat in the office continues to cause issues. Actions have included: purchase of a longer air con extractor tube and window sealer, ordering better quality office thermometers.

Environmental Sustainability

- We are engaged with our landlord, encouraging energy efficiency and a green energy supplier.
- We have upgraded our IT and remote working systems to reduce unnecessary travel.

- Work with the Co-Op for banking/goods buying as their environmental values align with CSASS
- Recycling boxes and bins, lights and heating off when necessary.
- Using public transport when appropriate.

Safeguarding

- Prompted by one of our clinical supervisors, we have reviewed our practice around contacting vulnerable clients who do not attend sessions.
- We have reviewed our suicide policy, to help us identify specialist support needs earlier and worked on developing mutual training with Martin Gallier, a mental health charity, specialising in suicide.
- Formal written policy with Tomorrow's Women after partnership formed around safeguarding and data protection.
- Maintaining a positive and healthy relationship with CAB after a client reported being unpleasantly spoken to by a member of staff.
- Ensuring all staff and volunteers are up to date with safeguarding training and providing support to make sure they're confident in this area.
- We started a new pre-counselling emotional stabilisation service to help survivors manage challenging trauma counselling, and to make informed support choices.

Changes we have made in response to feedback from our clients:

- A new client attending the first session of the journalling group suggesting the theme/focus for the second session
- Friendly lamps to make CAB counselling rooms more welcoming
- Monthly drop-in service at TW in response to feedback from a partner organisation
- Service users at Live! Cheshire asked for more fun/less educational type activities during their social times, which shaped future plans
- Changes to initial assessment questions, to improve gathering access information
- Responded to the needs of an autistic client, moving between face-to-face and online delivery to help manage regulation.
- Providing fidget toys for the counselling room to better support neurodivergent clients
- Feedback from volunteers prompted updating the office lock-up procedure, to improve safety and security
- Reinstating the closed Facebook community group, as requested by survivors

Diversity work has included:

- 65% trustees and workers engaged in EDI learning
- We supported Chester Pride again, with a stall at this year's event.

		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Updating sickness policy to be specific for disabilities, making reasonable adjustments etc. • Successful sessions at Live! Cheshire, with learning disabled adults and young people • New website page on 'Support for all genders' to encourage contact from all survivors plus an EDI training focus have had some positive impact. A trans client attended group work, a regular client felt confident to come out as NB, and appreciation was received from a genderfluid volunteer • Counsellors now have remote phone systems allowing for clients to be contacted remotely, assisting any disabilities, LD, MH etc. • We are working on improving support for neurodivergent clients and workers, attending training and discussing in the service development group. External advice/training has mostly supported our existing practice and person-centred approach. • We vetoed several potential AGM venues due to poor accessibility • CSASS is a committed, feminist, women-led organisation but we aim to be inclusive all. We are proud of the varied age range and the gender diversification of our board of trustees. We were nominated Chester Business Club Charity of the Year 2023 and University of Chester Volunteer Organisation of the Year 2023.
