

Elysium Music – Trustee Report

Charity Number: 1204687

Over the past year, our charitable activities being somewhat limited due to funding restrictions. Therefore, our accounts have remained static, with no revenue received and no outgoings. Our Elysium Singers were involved in an annual concert with soprano Nadine Benjamin in December 2025, singing alongside children from a local secondary school.

As a team, we have instead spent time planning for our 2026/27, including long term strategic planning, planning potential funding applications, and logistical planning for upcoming projects. We are still committed to our charitable aims of

- advancing performing opportunities for collaborative performances between young professional musicians and young people,
- providing teaching resources and musical workshops for schools, children and other organisations
- providing public performances

With exciting plans in the works for 2026/27, I'm excited to see the charity go from strength to strength over the next year.
