THE SOMALI WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION

Trustees' Report

For the year ended 31 August 2025

Introduction

The Trustees of the Somali Women's Association are pleased to present this report for the financial year ending 31 August 2025 outlining our charitable activities, impact, and financial position. The Somali Women's Association is a grassroots organisation committed to supporting Somali and other ethnic minority women, children, and young people in North Kensington. Through education, advocacy, and empowerment, we work to improve the lives of those facing social and economic barriers.

Objectives and Activities

Our primary objective is to provide educational support to disadvantaged children and young people aged 6-16 years through our supplementary school. Held every Wednesday at the Supplementary School Resource Centre (SSRC), the school delivers Maths, English, and Science lessons, as well as Somali culture and language classes. We also organise educational trips, enrichment activities, and parental workshops to ensure holistic support for our learners.

Beyond education, the Somali Women's Association also provides advice and advocacy for parents struggling to navigate the UK education system and supports women experiencing hardship by connecting them with appropriate services.

Legal structure

The Somali Women's Association is a charity community organisation registered in England and Wales.

Financial statements

The trustees submit their trustees' report and financial statements for the year ended 31 August 2025.

Policies:

Reserve policy:

The trustees are endeavouring to build up its donor base with a view to having reserves equal to 6 months operating expenditure. This equates to £10,000.

Risk(s) review:

The trustees have recently reviewed the major risks faced by the charity organisation. The charity is heavily depending on year on year funding and is at risk of shortage of funding for its future programmes.

Trustees Responsibilities

The trustees are responsible for keeping proper accounting records which disclose at any time the financial position of the charity and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with Charity law.

For the year ended 31 August 2025

The trustees oversee preparation of financial statements, select suitable accounting policies and make judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent to give the true state of affairs of the charity.

Trustees are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charity. They are elected and replaced as set out in the governing constitutional documents.

Achievements and Impact

Our project, 'Open Conversations: Mental Health Without Barriers', is a partnership between Baraka Community Association and the Somali Women's Association (SWA), bringing together two organisations with deep community ties and a shared commitment to improving mental health awareness and access. Baraka has a long history of engaging young people who are often disconnected from support services, while the Somali Women's Association has built trust with families and understands the cultural barriers that prevent them from seeking help. The synergy between these organisations ensures that young people and families receive the right support in a way that feels relevant and accessible. This project will ensure that young people and parents feel comfortable talking about mental health, know where to go for help, and can access services without fear or stigma.

Over the past year, we have supported 38 children and young people through our supplementary school, helping them to develop confidence in core subjects and improve their academic performance. Many of our former students have gone on to study at prestigious universities, demonstrating the long-term success of our interventions.

Our work extends beyond the classroom. We have provided mentoring and role models for Somali youth, addressing issues such as racism, discrimination, and lack of representation in education. By fostering a sense of cultural identity and community belonging, we help young people develop aspirations and resilience.

Through strategic partnerships, we have accessed capacity-building support and training opportunities, strengthening our ability to deliver high-quality, impactful programmes.

Financial Review

The Somali Women's Association has successfully secured funding from Young K&C Foundation, Westway Trust, and member contributions to support our core programmes. These funds have been instrumental in delivering our supplementary school, community advocacy, and women's empowerment initiatives, ensuring that we can provide essential services to those most in need.

We have implemented robust financial policies and controls to ensure the responsible management of funds. Our financial oversight includes regular budget monitoring, transparent reporting, and governance structures that align with charity best practices. These measures help us maintain compliance with regulatory requirements and ensure that all spending is directed towards our charitable objectives.

To safeguard our long-term sustainability, we are committed to building financial reserves that provide stability and allow us to respond to emerging community needs. We continue to seek opportunities to diversify our income streams, including securing additional grant funding, strengthening community contributions, and exploring partnerships that align with our mission.

For the year ended 31 August 2025

By maintaining strong financial governance and careful strategic planning, we are well-positioned to ensure the Somali Women's Association remains financially resilient and able to continue delivering impactful services.

Future Plans

The Somali Women's Association is currently entirely volunteer-led, with no full-time staff members. While this reflects the dedication of our team, we recognise that to strengthen our impact, improve service delivery, and build long-term sustainability, we need to secure dedicated staff capacity.

Our priority is to obtain core funding support that will enable us to recruit a full-time staff member to drive the charity forward. This will provide the stability needed to develop strategic partnerships, expand our funding base, and ensure the efficient coordination of our programmes. Core funding will also allow us to improve governance, enhance organisational capacity, and maintain the high-quality support we provide to the community.

Alongside this, we will continue to strengthen our volunteer network and explore additional funding opportunities to ensure the Somali Women's Association remains resilient and able to meet the growing needs of those we support.

Governance and Structure

The Somali Women's Association is a registered charity 1205499, governed by a dedicated Board of Trustees. The Trustees oversee strategic direction, financial management, and compliance, ensuring the organisation operates in line with its charitable objectives. We are committed to maintaining strong governance, safeguarding policies, and financial accountability to uphold our mission.

Conclusion

The past year has been one of growth, learning, and resilience for the Somali Women's Association. Our work remains crucial in supporting Somali and ethnic minority families in North Kensington, and we are proud of the impact we continue to make. With strong financial planning, committed leadership, and a clear vision, we are well-positioned to build on our successes and deepen our impact in the years ahead.

Independent examiner's report

For the year ended 31 August 2025

I have examined the accounts on pages 5 to 6 which have been prepared on accruals basis.

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner

The trustees of the charity are responsible for the preparation of accounts; we consider that the audit requirement under section 43(2) of the Charities Act 1993 does not apply. It is my responsibility to examine the accounts, without performing an audit, and to report to trustees.

Basis of independent examiner's report

This report is in respect of an examination carried out under section 43 of the Charities Act 1993 and in accordance with the directions given by the charity commissioners under section 43(7)(b). An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity trustees and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes a review of the accounts and making such enquiries as are necessary for the purpose of this report. The procedures undertaken do not constitute an audit.

Independent examiner's statement

Based on my examination, no matter has come to attention which gives me reasonable cause to believe that in any material respect accounting records for the year ended 31 August 2025 have not been in accordance with section 41 of the Charities Act 1993, or that the accounts presented do not accord with those records or comply with the accounting requirements of the Charities Act 1993. No matter has come to my attention in connection with my examination to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn to enable a proper understating of the accounts to be reached.
