FOREWORD

Dear Friends,

We are proud to present the Trustees' Report for Young Minders, the BAME Home Education Hub. Since beginning our journey in 2019 and registering officially in 2023, we have been dedicated to empowering young people from underrepresented communities, including children with autism. Our mission remains steadfast: to create opportunities that inspire, uplift, and drive meaningful change for families through home education.

Since our journey began in 2019, and official registration in 2023, we have remained steadfast in our mission to empower young people, particularly those from underrepresented communities, including children with autism—by creating opportunities that inspire and uplift.

This past year, we have been humbled by the profound impact of our work, reflected in the lives we've touched and the stories shared by families. Our STEAM Exploration Day was a shining highlight, captivating young minds with hands-on STEM activities, thought-provoking talks, and engaging workshops led by experts. The feedback was overwhelmingly positive. One parent shared:

"This event opened doors to opportunities I didn't even know existed for my child. The workshops were inclusive, inspiring, and gave us a newfound love for learning."

Similarly, our Pumpkin Magic event united over 200 community members, transforming a seasonal celebration into a powerful moment of connection, creativity, and joy. Families expressed how the activities brought both joy and learning to their children, with one attendee stating:

"Pumpkin Magic was more than an event; it was a memory-making experience for my family. The thoughtful organisation focus on inclusion made us feel truly valued."

These testimonials embody the core of our mission at Young Minders: creating environments where families feel supported, children feel inspired, and communities feel connected.

Beyond these events, we have broadened our reach through meaningful partnerships and programmes that address both immediate and long-term community needs. Our collaboration with Croydon Rugby CRFC introduced weekly rugby sessions for home-educated children, fostering physical health, teamwork, and resilience. Meanwhile, our Holistic Support Programme for Thriving Home-Educating Families has offered a safe haven for addressing mental health challenges. Our dedication to STEM education through CREST Awards has also ignited curiosity and nurtured growth in countless young learners.

This year has been a testament to adaptability and innovation. From launching mental health brunches for parents to rethinking outdoor education with forest and Montessori-led sessions, we have worked diligently Looking ahead, we remain steadfast in our commitment to breaking barriers, strengthening community connections, and building a brighter future for the next generation. The heartfelt feedback we have received drives us to continue breaking barriers and building bridges for our community. None of this would have been possible without the hard work of our dedicated team, the generosity of our partners, and the unwavering support of our families.

Thank you for standing with us as we continue to shape a future where education truly has no boundaries.

"Education Has No Boundaries."

ABOUT US

Young Minders – The Home Education Hub is a Croydon-based charitable organisation committed to supporting and empowering young people, with a focus on those from BAME backgrounds but not exclusively, and those with Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND), including autism. Since our founding in 2019, we have been dedicated to fostering a supportive and inclusive environment where young people can flourish.

Despite facing challenges, such as the loss of our physical space in 2020, we remained steadfast in our commitment to serving our community.

Achieving charitable status in 2023 was a pivotal milestone, allowing us to relaunch and expand our programmes with a renewed sense of focus and purpose.

Young Minders is driven by a passionate team of parents with over 20 years of experience in home education. Deeply rooted in the community we serve, we understand the unique challenges faced by home-educated families and SEND youth.

Our work extends beyond education, prioritising mental health, emotional well-being, and social development, ensuring a holistic approach to empowering young people and their families.

OUR VISION

We envision a thriving Forest learning Youth Hub that serves as a safe and inclusive space for home-educated teens, especially those with SEND. Through nature-based education, experiential learning, and mental health support, we aim to foster a sense of community, belonging, and personal well-being. By empowering young people to develop confidence, life skills, and resilience, we prepare them to navigate life as independent, socially engaged individuals.

OUR GOALS

- 1. Education and Mental Health Support: Equip home-educated teens, particularly those with SEND, with the skills and emotional tools they need to thrive socially and academically.
- 2. Community Building: Foster connections between young people, families, and local organisations to reduce isolation and create a strong support network.
- 3. Inclusivity and Accessibility: Ensure all our programmes are welcoming and accessible, catering to diverse needs and abilities.
- 4. Family Support: Provide resources, advice, and guidance to families of SEND teens, helping them navigate the unique
- 5. Nature-Based Learning: Use outdoor, nature-focused education to enhance learning, improve mental health, and promote personal growth.

OUR MISSION

Our mission is to provide accessible, inclusive, and empowering programmes for home-educated youth and their families. We strive to break down barriers to education and mental health support, ensuring that every young person, regardless of ability or background, has the opportunity to thrive. Through regular meet ups, tailored activities, and strong community connections, we help young people enhance their skills, build friendships, and improve their emotional well-being.

PUBLIC BENEFIT

The Trustees have adhered to the Charity Commission's guidance on public benefit to inform the planning of both current and future activities.

In alignment with our mission, we aim to empower and support young home-educated individuals, particularly those with autism, by offering a diverse range of educational, recreational, and developmental opportunities. These recreational opportunities include activities such as sports sessions that promote physical health and teamwork, arts workshops that encourage creativity and self-expression, and hands-on STEM projects that inspire curiosity and critical thinking. By tailoring these experiences to meet the unique needs of our community, we foster environments where young people can grow socially, emotionally, and intellectually, building confidence and resilience for their future.

Our programmes are thoughtfully designed to address the key challenges faced by vulnerable and underrepresented groups. Through workshops, mentoring sessions, and recreational activities, we aim to advance education, improve mental well-being, and foster community inclusion. These initiatives not only meet the Charity Commission's public benefit requirements but also create meaningful, transformative impacts in the lives of those we serve.

Young Minds relies on its dedicated, skilled, and experienced staff team to deliver high-quality services. We prioritise ongoing training and support for our team, with all frontline staff receiving regular supervision. Our staff come from diverse backgrounds, including youth work, counselling, education, and community development, which enriches our ability to serve the community effectively.

STRUCTURE GOVERNANCE AND MANAGEMENT

GOVERNING DOCUMENT

Young Minders is governed by its memorandum and articles of association, originally incorporated on 15th December 2023. The charity is a limited company by guarantee, as defined by the Companies Act 2006. The strategic direction of the charity is overseen by the Board of Trustees.

RECRUITMENT AND APPOINTMENT OF NEW TRUSTEES

Anyone willing to serve as a trustee, and who does not meet the disqualification criteria under Article 27 of the Articles of Association, may be appointed by a decision of the existing trustees. At the annual meeting where the accounts are adopted after three years of the charity's incorporation, one-third of the trustees, generally those who have served the longest, must retire from office. Retiring trustees may be reappointed, but a trustee who has served three consecutive terms must take a break from office. The board of trustees brings diverse expertise, including backgrounds in finance, governance, fundraising, law, policy, and youth development. Trustees maintain up-to-date knowledge through ongoing professional development, reading, training, and discussions during trustee meetings. It is the policy of Youngminders to conduct DBS checks for all trustees.

The trustees meet at least five times per year, with one meeting being an Away Day, where former trustees, staff, and the Leadership Group of young people come together to discuss strategy and values. The Director reports on the operational plan at each meeting, and the Board regularly reviews the Register of Risk, fundraising goals, finances, and safeguarding policies. A Finance Sub-Committee meets monthly with the Director to monitor the charity's financial health. The Board has delegated clear authority to the Director, with the Chair and Director holding separate regular meetings for additional oversight.

RISKS

Young Minders has identified the following key risks and established mitigation strategies:

1. Risk: Harm to young people

Mitigation: Safeguarding is a top priority at Young Minders. The Safeguarding Policy is reviewed annually by the trustees, and all staff receive appropriate training based on their level of contact with young people. This includes policies on sensitive topics such as suicide prevention, radicalisation, and responsible social media use.

2. Risk: Insufficient fundraising capacity

Mitigation: To address this, Young Minders has enhanced its fundraising team, increasing capacity in 2025, and will continue to grow this area as needed. The charity aims to diversify its income sources to ensure long-term sustainability.

3. Risk: Loss of key staff, including the Director/CEO

Mitigation: Young Minders has focused on improving staff retention through competitive terms and conditions. Annual reviews ensure staff compensation is aligned with sector standards. Recent initiatives, such as a holiday bonus for staff with five years of service, aim to further retain talent.

4. Risk: Staff burnout

Mitigation: Young Minders places a strong emphasis on staff well-being. All frontline staff receive regular clinical supervision, which is mandatory for our staff/ tutors. The charity fosters a supportive organisational culture where staff feedback is valued, and initiatives are continuously explored to enhance well-being and work-life balance.

5. Risk: Inadequate infrastructure

Mitigation: With the support of funding partners, Young Minders is addressing IT infrastructure issues and is working towards securing office space that meets the needs of the charity and its growing team.

YOUNG MINDERS IN ACTION

FUTURE PLAN

Young Minders – The Home Education Hub aims to build upon its achievements and address key areas to ensure long-term sustainability, growth, and impact. The following priorities outline our strategic direction for the upcoming year:

1. Income Diversification

To ensure sustainability, we will:

- Expand educational training programmes, offering workshops and community sessions as additional income streams.
- Forge corporate partnerships and sponsorships, especially those aligned with educational and STEAM initiatives.
- Launch targeted fundraising campaigns, engaging local business and community members through events like family days out and public outreach programmes.

2. Programme Expansion

We plan to strengthen our offerings by:

- Developing additional STEAM-based projects to engage underrepresented communities, fostering skills in science, technology, engineering, arts, and mathematics.
- Expanding our partnership with organisations like Croydon Rugby CRFC providing physical education opportunities to older students, with additional needs.
- Increasing the frequency of community mental health and well-being workshops, ensuring broader support for families.

3. Staffing and Volunteer Growth

Recognising the need for operational capacity, we aim to:

- Recruit a dedicated Administrator (volunteer) to manage essential tasks such as email responses, booking systems, and communications, ensuring smooth daily operations.
- Build a team of volunteers and part-time staff to support programme delivery, outreach, and marketing efforts.
- Invest in staff training to enhance skills in CRM systems, project management, and community engagement.

FUTURE PLAN

4. Financial Sustainability

To ensure operational resilience, we will:

- Establish a reserve fund from annual surpluses to offset potential income fluctuations and support essential activities during low-income periods.
- Reassess and optimise administrative costs, particularly in consulting and material expenses, while maintaining quality service delivery.

5. Community Impact and Growth

We will scale our reach and visibility by:

- Enhancing marketing and outreach efforts to attract new families to our programmes.
- Increasing collaborations with local organisations, schools, and councils to broaden our impact.
- Evaluating our programmes' outcomes through annual feedback surveys, ensuring alignment with the needs of the home-educating community.

Sustaining Growth

The foundation of our growth strategy lies in balancing our mission-driven approach with operational efficiency. By diversifying income streams, investing in a skilled team, and expanding programmes, we will strengthen our financial stability and community engagement. These efforts ensure that Young Minders remains a vital resource for families, fostering an inclusive, supportive environment for educational success.

Dear Supporters and Stakeholders,

As Chairman of Young Minders, The BAME Home Education Hub, it is my privilege to reflect on a year of remarkable growth and progress. Thanks to the unwavering dedication of our team, passionate volunteers, and generous donors, we have, together, continued to make a meaningful difference in the lives of home-educated children and their families within our community.

Looking ahead

While we celebrate our achievements, we are equally excited about the opportunities on the horizon. This year, we have started to extend our reach beyond Croydon, supporting more families across wider communities.

Strengthening existing partnerships and building new ones will be central to our growth as we continue to innovate and meet the evolving needs of home-educating families.

As we look towards 2025, we are preparing a diverse range of impactful programmes and events aligned with our mission to support BAME home-educated youth, build stronger community connections, and promote physical and mental well-being. Initiatives such as the Home Ed Business Expo, British Science Week workshops, Forest Phonics, and the launch of our Well-Being Champions Initiative promise to deepen our impact and expand our reach.

Gratitude

On behalf of the Board of Trustees, I extend my heartfelt gratitude to everyone who has contributed to our success—our dedicated team, incredible volunteers, generous donors, and community partners. Your unwavering support has been the foundation of our accomplishments and the driving force behind our shared mission.

As we move forward, we remain committed to empowering the families we serve and fostering a community where every young person can thrive academically, socially, and emotionally. Together, we are building brighter futures, and I am truly grateful to be on this journey with all of you.

Warm regards,

Elizabeth Njenga

Thank you so much for today, what a fantastic initiative 😊 it exceeded all of our expectations! So glad the rain predicted held off for most of the day too. ❤️

A wonderful experience overall. My child enjoyed the slime and aeroplane activities, and I appreciated the variety of hands-on projects. I'd love to know more about similar future events

The event was well-organised, and we felt very welcomed. My children really enjoyed the hands-on activities, especially the slime-making. Thank you for such a wonderful experience

Thank you, Young Minders, for allowing us to have such an amazing experience! My family and I thoroughly enjoyed every moment.

Being part of Young Minders opened doors to opportunities like attending NHS networking events and learning about healthcare innovations—it's been an inspiring and transformative experience.

The activities were excellent and kept my child's attention all day. The setup was very family-friendly, and it was exciting to see my child so curious and interested in science and engineering.
