FOOTPRINTS BABY LOSS TWIN & TRIPLET SUPPORT

CHIEF EXECUTIVE'S REPORT FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31 DECEMBER 2025

2025 has been a year of meaningful growth and reflection for Footprints Baby Loss Twin & Triplet Support. As we have continued to develop our services and reach, we have also learned from the families we support, ensuring that our work remains compassionate, responsive, and centred on their experiences.

As we pass our second anniversary, we are proud of how the charity has continued to develop while remaining firmly rooted in its founding purpose: ensuring that families affected by the loss of a twin, triplet or multiples feel seen, understood and supported.

Demand for our services has continued to grow throughout the year, both within the UK and internationally. Families continue to reach out to Footprints for support, guidance, and connection, reflecting both increased awareness of our work and the ongoing gap in specialist support for twin and triplet loss. In response, we have expanded our services carefully and compassionately, ensuring that care, sensitivity and lived experience remain at the heart of everything we do.

Supporting families

In 2025, Footprints directly supported over 450 families through a range of peer-led services. Our one-to-one befriending service remained central to our offer, with 55 new befriending matches created during the year and more than 100 families receiving ongoing befriending support. These relationships, built on shared lived experience, continue to provide reassurance, understanding and connection during some of the most isolating moments of grief.

Alongside befriending, our online support groups brought families together regularly in spaces designed to reflect the different experiences of twin and triplet loss. These included groups for loss of both twins or all triplets, groups for surviving twins or triplets, dads, termination for medical reasons and pregnancy after loss. Our private online community and WhatsApp groups further strengthened this network of support, offering immediate connection and a safe and moderated place for families to talk openly about their babies.

We also continued to develop practical resources to support families within healthcare settings. Our personalised stickers for red books (Children's Health Record) and maternity notes reached over 130 families this year, with additional sets shared with hospital trusts. These resources help ensure that parents' experiences are recognised and that care is delivered with sensitivity and awareness.

Volunteers and staff

Footprints remains a volunteer-orientated organisation, and our work would not be possible without the dedication of our volunteers. 40 volunteers contributed over 300 hours of support in 2025, offering befriending, facilitating groups, moderating online spaces, fundraising and representing the charity at events. Volunteer wellbeing and supervision remain a priority, supported by structured training, reflective practice and ongoing guidance.

A key milestone this year was the appointment of our first two part-time staff members. This has strengthened our capacity, improved continuity of support for families and volunteers, and enabled the charity to respond more effectively to increasing demand while maintaining strong governance and safeguarding.

Partnerships, research and influence

Raising awareness and improving understanding of twin and triplet bereavement remains a core aim of Footprints. In 2025, we expanded our partnerships with healthcare professionals, researchers, charities and national organisations. We contributed to a wide range of training sessions, conferences and events, helping to improve standards of care and ensure that the voices of bereaved multiple-loss families are represented.

We were honoured to welcome Donna Ockenden as our first ambassador, reflecting growing recognition of the importance of specialist support for multiple pregnancy loss. Our peer support work was also strengthened through the publication and dissemination of our position paper, shared nationally and internationally.

Fundraising and financial support

We are deeply grateful to everyone who has supported Footprints financially throughout the year. Our charity-led and community-led fundraising events have been held in memory of much-loved babies and reflect the generosity, commitment and compassion of our community. We also thank our grant funders for enabling us to deliver support events, develop resources and invest in the foundations needed for sustainable growth. Ben Nevis was such a great accomplishment for the charity and everyone involved, raising £37,000.

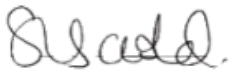

Looking ahead

Looking to 2026, our focus is to continue raising awareness of the unique needs of families affected by twin and triplet loss. Our priorities include expanding the distribution of resources to hospitals, developing new materials for surviving twins, triplets and siblings, furthering research, and continuing to deliver high-quality training for healthcare professionals and volunteers. Throughout this, our commitment remains unchanged: to provide compassionate, specialist, peer-led support for families experiencing the loss of a twin, triplet or higher order multiples.

We would like to thank every family who has trusted Footprints during the hardest moments of their lives, every volunteer who has given their time and care, and every supporter and partner who has helped make this work possible.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Financial position

The attached financial statements are for the year ended 31 December 2025 (2024 - period 19 December 2023 to 31 December 2024). The financial statements show a surplus for the year of £39,993 (2024 - £37,099) and the charity has net assets of £77,092 at 31 December 2025 (2024 - £37,099).

Reserves policy

The trustees consider that an ideal level of unrestricted reserves should be kept at a level of six to twelve months of projected running costs. Footprints' purpose is to sustainably provide bereavement support services and this reserves policy allows the charity to react to unforeseen circumstances and fluctuations in donations and maintain sufficient flexibility to operate on a day-to-day basis in providing continued ongoing support to bereaved families.

As a relatively new charity, our trustee board took the decision to maintain a prudent level of reserves to ensure organisational stability while our income patterns are still emerging and not yet fully predictable. This approach reflects responsible financial management and supports the long-term sustainability of the charity, by ensuring the charity commences with services and employment contracts when there is reasonable certainty the charity can continue to meet its responsibilities and support our bereaved community.

PLANS FOR FUTURE PERIODS

The charity intends to extend its employed staffing structure during 2026 in line with the growth of the charity and its service offering, dependent on available funding and its sustainable service offering focus.

Footprints continues to develop its offering of literature and seeking out opportunities to collaborate with relevant health care professionals, related charities and organisations to sustainably aid its charitable objectives.

The Co-Founders of the charity have been invited to contribute their expertise at a number of external events, podcasts and webinars, reflecting the growing recognition of the charity's specialist knowledge in multiple birth loss. They have also been asked to review and provide input into a range of multiple birth-specific resources and training materials planned for 2026.

These opportunities not only raise awareness of the unique experiences of families affected by twin and higher order loss, but also support the development of informed, compassionate practice across the sector.

Volunteer recruitment and training, together with fundraising efforts and enhancement of the charity's profile remain at the forefront of Footprints plans and integral to achieving the aims of the charity.

Risk management

The trustees consider the significant risks which the charity is exposed to and establish processes to address these, in particular those related to the operations and finances of the charity and are satisfied that systems, procedures and insurances are in place to mitigate exposures to major risks.

Funding income remains a significant risk for Footprints, as it is reliant solely on generous donations, grants and gifts, the future receipt of which is not guaranteed. Accordingly, the trustees have maintained the above reserves policy to mitigate this risk.
