6. Risk Management

Key risks:

- Governance vulnerability – addressed through constitutional reform
- Financial sustainability – mitigated by low overheads and founder-led fundraising
- Increased operating costs – managed through careful budgeting

7. Plans for Future Period

Looking ahead, United Action Charity Trust will build on its strong foundation of community advocacy and cultural engagement by:

- Expanding UACT TV – Our newly launched YouTube channel, UACT TV, based in London, will become a platform for sharing community stories, cultural heritage, and educational content, amplifying the voices of refugees, migrants, and displaced persons.
- Cultural programming – Following the successful exhibition of a Ukrainian artist, we will curate further exhibitions and cultural events to promote integration, celebrate diversity, and preserve cultural identity.
- Educational partnerships – We are developing connections with UK universities to create pathways for education, skills development, and research collaboration, supporting both our beneficiaries and volunteers.
- Grant funding growth – We will actively pursue grant opportunities to secure sustainable funding for our programmes, enabling us to expand services and reach more people in need.
- Community events – Continuing to host and support events that foster inclusion, such as reading circles, workshops, and networking opportunities, in line with our mission to unite communities.
- Digital outreach – Leveraging our website and online platforms to provide accessible resources, guidance, and opportunities for engagement to a wider audience.

These plans are rooted in our mission to facilitate integration, preserve cultural heritage, and empower individuals to realise their potential for the benefit of local communities and society as a whole.
