Trustees Annual Report

The trustees present their report with the financial statements of the charity for the year ended 31 March 2025.

Trustee Recruitment and Induction

The charity is administered by a Board of Trustees who meet quarterly.

Trustees are appointed for a term of three years. The trustees have a range of skills, knowledge and experience needed for the effective administration of Cancer in Common.

There must be at least three charity trustees. If the number falls below this minimum, the remaining trustee or trustees may act only to call a meeting of the charity trustees, or appoint a new charity trustee

Cancer in Common benefits from the contribution of volunteers who run events and otherwise provide support and services towards the events. All volunteers must undertake a Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) Check and must comply with the Safeguarding Policy. We are extremely grateful to the invaluable contribution of these individuals.

Objectives and Activities

The charity's objects are "for the public benefit to promote the relief of adults over 18 who have, or who have had, cancer within the UK by the provision of social events to reduce isolation and facilitate peer support."

We do this by providing free, fun and accessible events for people with cancer or in remission to meet, socialise and create support networks in an informal setting.

Public Benefit

The Trustees confirm that they have had regard to the Charity Commission Guidance on public benefit in directing the work of the charity.

Summary of the main achievements

Cancer in Common hosted twelve events across the reporting year, expanding our coverage across the country to Leeds, Guildford, Folkestone, London, Bath, Worcester and Chichester.

As we have expanded this geographic reach, we are delighted to be working alongside a range of fantastic volunteers who have planned and hosted their own events.

Over the year, the desire for the kind of events that Cancer in Common hosts, and the current lack of provision has become clear. The feedback that we have received from attendees has been incredibly positive.

Through online reviews and testimonials, we have been delighted to hear individuals stories about making connections and how this has positively impacted their lives. Testimonials have included:

I was so scared walking in on my own yesterday, big thanks to Anna for buying me a drink and everyone for being so friendly!

Quite extraordinary being in a room full of people who you can talk to so openly about cancer stuff but also just shake it off and have a dance!

What an amazing afternoon!! I felt so seen and supported and got to meet so many wonderful women in real life that I'd met on social media as well as many new friends.

Cancer in Common has quite literally given me my social life back. It's hard enough to plan outings with treatment and symptoms but it's also really difficult doing it with friends who don't really understand.

Cancer in Common is a room full of people who GET IT! Wigs off, menopausal crew getting fresh air outside, pure laughter and joy. And what's more, I walked away with friends who I now see regularly!

Before attending the Cancer in Common event, I was quite nervous. The nerves melted away the minute I walked through the door and was greeted by Chloe's smiley face and a hug. I got to meet so many amazing people and many who I follow on Instagram so meeting them in person was fab. It was such a heart warming event with so many amazing people all in one room. if there is another event in the future, I will be attending.

Inclusion

The ethos of Cancer in Common is that it is open to everyone who has cancer or is in remission. Our experiences this year have shown that there are some demographics who are more proactive at seeking out community events. We want to make sure all our events are welcoming and inclusive to everyone. To achieve this, we have partnered with Future Dreams House to host regular events in central London which are quieter and more laidback. Feedback on this has been extremely positive and we have an ongoing relationship with Future Dreams to host up to 3 events annually at their House.

As our events have been primarily attended by women this year, we have partnered with Cancer Lads which is a small non-profit organisation aimed at young men to support them with their experiences of cancer. We were delighted to co-host our first mens event in March 2025 and we hope to continue this partnership into the next year.

Looking ahead, we are very keen to expand the reach and diversity of attendees to Cancer in Common events by recruiting more volunteers to host events in more towns and cities, and by increasing our marketing capability to target new participants.

Our network of volunteers is critical to the success of Cancer in Common this year. We would not be able to operate without the magnificent volunteers who run our events. A particular thanks to:

- Heather Sawyer
- Michelle Clatworthy
- Dee Swales
- Gemma Duff
- Ashley Smith
- Juliet Fielder
- Georgi Welch
- Jo Knight
- Melissa Golding
- Fiona Carrington
- Sharon McLoughlin

Within our first year of official operation, we have dedicated a significant amount of time to marketing the charity and building its online presence. This has included investing in an official website, creating leaflets and posters, building an online presence on Facebook, TikTok and LinkedIn in addition to our primary presence on Instagram.

Key Risks

The trustees conduct an annual review of the risks to the charity, which agrees actions to mitigate any risks identified, or minimise any potential impact if those risks materialise.

Key risks include:

- insufficient means to meet the costs of the charity, which is mitigated by strong financial management and a robust reserves policy.
- A safeguarding incident at one of our events, which is mitigated volunteers must undertake a Criminal Records Bureau (CRB) Check and must comply with the Safeguarding Policy.

Reserves Policy

Cancer in Common is committed to ensuring its long-term financial sustainability while continuing to achieve its charitable objectives. This Reserves Policy outlines the charity's approach to managing its reserves to provide a buffer against unexpected financial challenges, ensure the continuity of services, and protect against cash flow fluctuations.

The charity aims to maintain a minimum level of unrestricted reserves that is equivalent to 12 months of operating costs. This will allow Cancer in Common to cover day-to-day running costs in the event of a temporary shortfall in income or delay in funding.

The reserve level will be reviewed annually, taking into account the charity's financial situation, potential risks, and future plans. Any decision to adjust the reserves level will be made by the Board of Trustees.

Our Supporters

Cancer in Common has benefitted from generous corporate support in this reporting year. We are very grateful to the ongoing support from Insurance With, notably Fiona Macrae, Head of Client Engagement, who has been generous with her financial support and personal commitment to Cancer in Common.

Sincere thanks to the following companies who have supported our charitable activities and fundraising this reporting year. With thanks to:

- Boho Betty, Celtic Contracts, MCS, Construction Logistics Group, Arcade Tiling Ltd, TMJ Interiors, City Concepts, John F. Hunt, Arena Electrical Services Ltd, KVA Drat Textiles, Design Integration Ltd,

Independent Examiner's Report to the Trustees of Cancer in Common

I report on my examination of the accounts of Cancer in Common (the Charity) for the year ended 31 March 2025.

This report is made solely to the Charity's trustees, as a body, in accordance with the Charities Act 2011. My work has been undertaken so that I might state to the Charity's trustees those matters I am required to state to them in an independent examiner's report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, I do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the Charity's trustees as a body, for any work, for this report, or for the opinions I have formed.

Responsibilities and basis of report

As the Charity's trustees, you are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the requirements of the Charities Act 2011 ("the Act"). You consider that an audit is not required for the year under section 144 (2) of the Act and that an independent examination is needed.

It is my responsibility to:

- examine the accounts under section 145 of the Act;
- follow the procedures laid down in general Directions given by the Charity Commission under section 145(5)(b) of the Act; and
- to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of the independent examiner's report

My examination was carried out in accordance with the general Directions given by the Charity Commission. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the Charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts and seeking explanations from you as trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit and consequently no opinion is given as to whether the accounts present a 'true and fair view' and the report is limited to those matters set out in the statement below.

Independent examiner's statement

In connection with my examination no matter has come to my attention:

1. which gives me reasonable cause to believe that in any material respect the requirements to keep accounting records in accordance with section 130 of the Act; and to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records and comply with the accounting requirements of the Act have not been met, or
2. to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.
