Section C Objectives and activities

Summary of the objects of the charity set out in its governing document

The charity's objects are to advance education and public understanding of the work and legacy of Roberto Burle Marx, particularly in landscape architecture, environmental conservation and sustainable development; promote research and education in these fields; support young people through educational opportunities; promote conservation of the natural environment; and advance sustainable development for the public benefit.

Summary of the main activities undertaken for the public benefit in relation to these objects (include within this section the statutory declaration that trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit)

During the year the Foundation furthered its charitable purposes by supporting educational, cultural and environmental initiatives aligned with the legacy of Roberto Burle Marx. Activities included sponsoring cultural projects, developing the Foundation's website and public profile, supporting charitable organisations with aligned objectives, and maintaining the governance and administrative framework of the charity. The trustees have had due regard to the Charity Commission's guidance on public benefit when planning and carrying out the charity's activities.

Additional details of objectives and activities (Optional information)

You may choose to include further statements, where relevant, about:

- policy on grantmaking;
- policy programme related investment;
- contribution made by volunteers.

Section D

Achievements and performance

Summary of the main achievements of the charity during the year

During the year the Foundation secured charitable donations to support its objectives, sponsored a Royal Academy exhibition, made charitable donations to organisations whose activities align with its charitable purposes, continued development of its website and public engagement, and maintained the governance structure necessary to support future charitable projects.

During the year the Foundation continued to establish its operations and expand its charitable activities.

Key achievements during the year included:

- Securing charitable donations to support the Foundation's objectives.
- Sponsoring cultural and educational initiatives, including support for an exhibition at the Royal Academy.
- Providing grants and charitable donations to organisations whose activities align with the Foundation's charitable purposes.
- Continuing the development of the Foundation's online presence through its website to improve public engagement and awareness.
- Maintaining the administrative and governance framework required to support future charitable projects.

The trustees consider that these activities have contributed towards advancing education and promoting the appreciation of art, landscape architecture, conservation and sustainable development in accordance with the Foundation's governing document.

Section E Financial review

Brief statement of the charity's policy on reserves

Excess Restricted funds are saved on a charity bank account, ready to be used as and when needed; excess unrestricted funds are also kept on a same business account and primarily are to be used to charity purposes and for admin expenses.

Details of any funds materially in deficit

Further financial review details (Optional information)

You may choose to include additional information, where relevant about:

- the charity's principal sources of funds (including any fundraising);
- how expenditure has supported the key objectives of the charity;
- investment policy and objectives including any ethical investment policy adopted.

The charity's principal source of income during the year was voluntary donations. Expenditure supported the Foundation's charitable objectives through sponsorship of educational and cultural initiatives, charitable donations, website development and administrative costs incurred in operating the charity. The trustees continue to monitor the charity's financial position to ensure sufficient resources are available to deliver future charitable activities.
