Additional governance issues (Optional information)

You may choose to include additional information, where relevant, about:

- policies and procedures adopted for the induction and training of trustees;
- the charity's organisational structure and any wider network with which the charity works;
- relationship with any related parties;
- trustees' consideration of major risks and the system and procedures to manage them.

The charity has a primary to advance the education, in particular but not exclusively of, student members of colleges and education institutions within the University of London federation by: (i) providing opportunities and support (including financial support) to the ice hockey teams and activities at the University of London including, but not limited to, the London Dragons, (ii) and by ensuring that due attention is given to the physical education to a high standard of the members of said teams and activities. One of the charity's trustees (Michael D'Aprix) is also a trustee of the London Ice Hockey Trust (1206954).

Section C Objectives and activities

Summary of the objects of the charity set out in its governing document

In addition to and to the extent that the charity's assets are not required for its primary purpose described above, the charity has a secondary purpose to advance the amateur sport of ice hockey in the United Kingdom.

Summary of the main activities undertaken for the public benefit in relation to these objects (include within this section the statutory declaration that trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit)

The trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit. During the year, UL Ice Hockey Trust advanced its charitable purposes by providing opportunities for participation in amateur ice hockey for 26 students across 10 universities. This included providing access to ice time and facilities, organising structured practices, and enabling participation in the British Universities Ice Hockey Association season.

In addition, the charity provided participants with support through CV advice and networking opportunities, contributing to their broader personal and educational development. During the year, the trustees also began fundraising efforts to support the continuation and future expansion of these charitable activities.

Additional details of objectives and activities (Optional information)

You may choose to include further statements, where relevant, about:

- policy on grantmaking;
- policy programme related investment;
- contribution made by volunteers.

Summary of the main achievements of the charity during the yearFinancial:

- Supported students with proofreading, editing, and formatting for CVs and provided professional networking.

Section E

Financial review

Brief statement of the charity's policy on reserves

The trustees recognise the importance of maintaining reserves to support the charity's ongoing activities and to provide financial resilience against unexpected costs or interruptions to income. As this was the charity's first reporting period, the trustees had not yet established a significant level of reserves. The trustees intend to review the charity's reserves position as its activities and fundraising develop.

Details of any funds materially in deficit

-£4,054

Further financial review details (Optional information)

You may choose to include additional information, where relevant about:

- the charity's principal sources of funds (including any fundraising);
- how expenditure has supported the key objectives of the charity;
- investment policy and objectives including any ethical investment policy adopted.

The charity's principal sources of funds during the period were charitable income and early fundraising activity. Expenditure during the period was directed towards supporting the charity's objectives through the provision of amateur ice hockey opportunities and related operating costs. The charity did not hold any material investments during the period.

Section F

Other optional information

The trustees note that certain costs were incurred during the period surrounding the charity's creation in order to maintain activities, but these were not formally assumed by the charity as historic liabilities. The charity's reported financial position reflects only its own income, expenditure, assets and liabilities for the reporting period.
