

Annual Report on the Accounts for the Curious Talent Foundation.

During the reporting period the charity was in a state of development. We were recruiting and establishing our board of trustees, establishing our operating rules. We were involved in identifying potential new premises.

None of these activities had financial impact and so we have not developed any annual accounts.

All of these activities have been progressing well that and we will include the impact and financial consequences in next year's report