Chair's introduction

I am delighted to introduce the Annual Report of the Trustees for the financial year to 5 April 2025. It is exciting to report that the Foundation has made grant awards and social investments this year of almost £140 million, a record figure.

Since we started 67 years ago, we have doubled our donations every five to six years, a growth trajectory we are proud of. This year's grant awards take the Foundation's total to nearly £1.7 billion since it was established by my grandfather in 1958.

We are steadfastly here for the long-term, supported as we are by our permanent endowment which is largely comprised of our 46% indirect shareholding in Associated British Foods plc. We strongly hold the view that the model of business ownership that underpins our endowment is a force for good, though we appreciate there are other excellent models that are different to ours.

This model of business ownership established by our grandfather was very deliberate in its intention to build for the long-term and it was created with a strong sense of personal responsibility and community, which we still value. We believe he would have been pleased with how his vision has developed since, and we aim to continue his values and objectives in the work we do today.

We respect the skill and hard work of the businesses that generated the Foundation's record cash income in the year of over £155 million, in the same way that we admire and respect the talented people across the country in the charitable sector. Our aim is to enable those with the best understanding of society's needs to tell us their plans and objectives so that we can listen and work with them in a flexible way.

We don't believe in imposing our point of view on others but rather in being responsive to those with excellent ideas and plans. This deliberate and pragmatic strategy enables us to be agile and to ensure that our income is spent on good work and not on supporting a cumbersome infrastructure.

Our job as Trustees and stewards is to remain engaged and up to date, to ensure the Foundation continues to support good work and people, and to scan the horizon to ensure we can respond and adapt to changes in society's needs. With this context, I am proud to note that this year we made a not-for-profit social investment of £10 million in addition to our grant awards, a step to respond to charities' demand for affordable loan financing.

I'd like to thank our knowledgeable and dedicated staff and especially Flora Craig, who stepped into the role of Interim Director. We welcome Clare Gough who joined us as Director in May 2025.

We are also thankful for the thousands of charities we have the privilege to work with and we greatly appreciate what they do.

Sir Guy H Weston
Chair of the Trustees

Trustees' report

Accounting policies

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the accounting policies set out in the notes to the accounts and comply with the charity's governing document, the Charities Act 2011 and Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland published on 16 July 2014 (FRS102).

Structure, governance and management

Structure

The operation of the Foundation is governed by a Trust Deed dated 10 October 1958.

Under the terms of the Trust Deed, the investment in the Wittington Investments Limited group of companies forms the permanent capital endowment of the Foundation and the Trustees may not dispose of that investment in whole or in part except by a unanimous vote of all the Trustees.

At 5 April 2025, the Foundation owned 79.2% of Wittington Investments Limited, a company registered in England. Wittington Investments Ltd is the ultimate holding company of Associated British Foods plc ('ABF'), which is listed on the London Stock Exchange. Via its shareholding in Wittington Investments Limited, the Foundation owns 46.0% of ABF; as required by UK Listing Rules, this shareholding is subject to a Relationship Agreement entered into by the Trustees of the Foundation, Wittington and ABF. Other subsidiaries of Wittington Investments Limited include Fortnum and Mason plc and Heal's plc.

Governance and management

In accordance with the Trust Deed, after the death of Mr W Garfield Weston and his wife, their descendants became Trustees. The number of Trustees is limited to ten but must be at least five. If the number of Trustees drops below five, new Trustees fall to be appointed from among the lineal descendants of W Garfield Weston.

Being family members, incoming Trustees are aware of the aims and objectives of the Foundation and the manner in which the Trustees carry out their responsibilities. Nearly all of the Trustees are on the board of other charitable entities either in the UK, the United States or Canada. The Foundation is a member of the Foundations Forum and the Association of Charitable Foundations and the Trustees receive charity sector updates from both their Secretary, a practising lawyer with expertise in the charity sector, and from their auditors UHY Hacker Young LLP. This ensures that the Trustees are well placed to keep up to date with developments in charity practice and regulations.

The Trustees are directly responsible for the management of the Foundation and hold regular meetings in order to consider grant applications for £100,000 or more and to ratify smaller grants which have been awarded since their previous meeting. Additional meetings are scheduled as required to deal with any time-sensitive funding requests. The initial processing of grant applications is dealt with by an experienced team and every funding decision is made by at least one of the Trustees. The Trustees also actively participate in meetings with, and visits to, applicants. The Trustees hold an annual meeting in order to review and approve the Annual Report and Accounts and to carry out a formal annual review of performance against the Foundation's aims, objectives and policies as well as the performance of its investments over the year.

Key management personnel, in charge of directing and controlling the Foundation and in charge of operating the Foundation on a day-to-day basis, comprise the board of Trustees and the Director respectively.

All Trustees give of their time freely and no trustee remuneration was paid in the year. Details of Trustee expenses and related party transactions are disclosed in note 5 and 7. In accordance with the Trust's policy, Trustees are required to disclose all relevant interests and register them with the Company Secretary and to withdraw from decisions where a conflict of interest arises.

The Director's remuneration is reviewed annually by the Chair of Trustees and is also benchmarked with grant-making charities of a similar size to ensure that the remuneration set is fair and not out of line with that of generally similar roles.

Risk management and policies

The Trustees are satisfied that appropriate policies, protection, systems and checks remain in place in order to mitigate exposure to major risks and to ensure that the Foundation operates in accordance with ethical and environmental guidelines and protections. The Director and Secretary regularly review the Foundation's risk register; the risk register is reviewed with the Trustees at their Annual Meeting. The principal risks include: investment performance; breaches of IT security; breaches of financial controls; fraudulent applications; conflicts of interest; and reputational risks relating to the Foundation's relationship with the underlying trading activities of companies held through Wittington Investments Limited. Key controls have been identified for each principal risk area as follows:

Investment performance The Trustees regularly review the performance of the underlying assets and their shareholding in the Wittington Investments Limited group and receive reports directly from those who are managing the businesses. The non-Wittington investments are also managed in accordance with an investment policy which seeks to achieve an appropriate balance of risk and return.

Breaches of IT security The IT system and security measures, including authorised signatories, are regularly updated and reviewed and all grant applicants are screened by a skilled grants administration team.

Breaches of financial controls Bank mandates specifying authorised signatories, segregation of duties and financial limits are regularly reviewed and maintained.

Fraudulent applications Registered charity status, financial statements and bank statements are independently validated for all grants awarded prior to any transfer of funds.

Conflicts of interest The Trustees maintain a documented Conflict of Interest policy which encompasses both their grant-making decisions and (where relevant) their roles as directors of Wittington group companies.

Reputation Members of the Trustee board are directors of Wittington group companies, enabling them to be fully apprised of events which might give rise to reputational risk.

Ethical and environment The Trustees have oversight of the ethical and environmental practices of the Wittington group companies as well as those of their independent investment managers. In relation to its staff secondees, the Foundation adheres to the policies of Wittington Investments Limited and Associated British Foods with respect to the Modern Slavery Act and corporate responsibility. For more details see www.wittington-investments.co.uk/wp-content/uploads/ModernSlaveryHumanTraffickingStatement2023.pdf www.abf.co.uk/responsibility

Equity, Diversity and Inclusion Addressing disadvantages and 'levelling the playing field' for all has been a central theme of the Foundation for over six decades as the Foundation values diversity in its widest sense. The Foundation aims to be accessible, transparent and straightforward in its approach to grant-making and actively supports charities which in turn support diverse groups and communities, including those suffering discrimination in all its forms.

Safeguarding The Trustees have a safeguarding policy which is aimed at protecting their own staff secondees as well as vulnerable beneficiaries. The Trustees also require grant applicants to confirm that they have appropriate safeguarding policies in place to protect their staff, volunteers and beneficiaries.

Income and grant-making aims and objectives

The Trust Deed contains broad charitable objects which allow the Trustees, at their discretion, to pay or apply the income and (subject to certain restrictions) the expendable capital of the Trust Fund to, or for, the benefit of any charitable bodies, trusts, associations, institutions or organisations.

Despite continuing challenges to the global economy total cash income for the year rose to just over £155 million (2024: £110 million). The Trustees have once again been able to draw on this increase in income to make total grants and social investments of just under £140 million in support of 2,967 appeals (2024: £101 million in support of 1,797 appeals). The total outstanding forward commitments at the end of the financial year were £84 million as compared with just over £63 million in 2024. Commitments consist of future payments of £32 million (2024: £27 million) due to charities under existing multi-year grant arrangements, and pledges of just under £33 million (2024: £36 million) that require charities to fulfil specific prerequisite obligations.

The Trustees were pleased to be able to make some substantial pledges including £5 million for the restoration of Birmingham's Botanical Gardens, and grants including £1 million over three years to the Parkinson's UK, to deliver specialist care through their Parkinson's nurse programme, and £300,000 to the Bournemouth Symphony Orchestra towards their Participate programme. The Trustees were pleased to continue to support charities' core costs, which can be challenging for them to raise, and to support vital frontline charities that are supporting communities across the UK. In addition, the Trustees were pleased to make a not-for-profit social investment of £10 million in addition to grant expenditure, a step by the Foundation to respond to charities' demand for affordable loan financing. See full list of grants made for more details.

Grant-making policy

The Foundation continues to accept only applications from UK registered charities. No applications from individuals are considered and the Trustees do not typically fund projects outside the UK, nor do they fund animal welfare charities, unless for the purpose of supporting a specific environmental project or where to do so assists with other charitable purposes, such as providing assistance for those with disabilities.

The Trustees' aim is to keep the application process as simple and streamlined as possible. Step-by-step guidelines as to how to make a grant application (more than 98% of which are now submitted online), together with helpful details of the criteria which are taken into consideration when assessing applications and the information which should be submitted with an application, are available on the Foundation's website www.garfieldweston.org

These guidelines are also published in Welsh (although applications from Welsh charities must still be made in English). All applications are considered on an individual basis; the Trustees do not consider funding requests made within a minimum of 12 months of the outcome of a previous application but, in relation to funding for core and project costs, they will consider providing funds to be spread over a period of years. Whenever possible, visits and/or meetings are made by Trustees and/or the Director or one of the other members of the Foundation's grants team in order to gain a better understanding of applicants' requirements. Regular contact is maintained with recipients of grants for monitoring purposes, while also taking care to minimise the reporting burden on the recipient charities.

In order to provide further transparency in the grant-making process, the Foundation publishes its grants through 360Giving. It also commissions independent reviews of grant-giving initiatives in order to assess their effectiveness and to improve the experience for both successful and unsuccessful applicants. These findings are published and shared openly and made accessible on the website.

Public benefit

The Trustees have complied with section 2(1)(b) of the Charities Act 2011, having due regard to the Charity Commission's guidance on public benefit when reviewing the Foundation's aims and objectives, when setting the grant-making policy and in making awards.

Achievements and performance

Despite the current economic uncertainty, Wittington Investments Limited has managed to increase its dividend payments to the Foundation so that the Foundation has been able to provide grant funding of nearly £130 million across a broad range of charitable purposes at a time when the sector, and those whom it supports, continue to be in need.

Some of the valuable charities and projects which have been funded by the Foundation are described in more detail in the case studies from page 13.

Investment performance

The Trustees are satisfied with the performance of the Foundation's financial investments.

The Trustees are satisfied that the investment structure represented by the Wittington group of companies (which was contributed by Garfield W Weston to the Foundation in 1958) remains a sustainable long-term model, particularly in terms of providing a regular and reliable income stream to enable the Foundation to fulfil its charitable purposes.

The value of the Wittington group of companies (which is heavily influenced by the share price of Associated British Foods) continues to fluctuate in line with equity markets generally, but the Trustees remain confident that any such fluctuations will not have a lasting effect on the Foundation's ability to provide support to grant applicants.

As at 5 April 2025, the Rathbone portfolio was valued at over £73.2 million (2024: £76.8 million). The five year annualised returns (net of fees) of 7.0% per annum were below the portfolio return target of RPI plus 4% (10.5%), but the Trustees recognise the challenges posed by this target in the current period of inflation.

Moreover, the portfolio performed in line with the ARC (Asset Risk Consultants) Charity Steady Growth Index which returned 6.9% per annum over the same period. The annual income distributions to the Foundation from the Rathbone portfolio totalled £1.6 million (2024: £1.7 million).

The Oxford University Endowment Management (OUem) fund offers an alternative form of investment in a broad range of asset classes, focusing on real returns in excess of inflation and therefore fits well with the Trustees' target return for financial investments. As at 5 April 2025, the Foundation's investment in the fund was valued at £27.1 million (2024: £25.7 million). The five-year annualised return for the fund to 31 March 2025 was 9.4% per annum – also below the portfolio return target of RPI plus 4% (10.5%).

The value of the Foundation's investment in the Savills' Charities Property Fund was £5.78 million as at 5 April 2025 (2024: £5.65 million), with an income yield of 4%.

The Trustees are satisfied with the performance of the Foundation's social impact investments. As at 5 April 2025, its investment in Social and Sustainable Capital Trust was valued at £20 million (2024: £nil), with 7,000 vulnerable tenants housed to date in 607 properties purchased by 20 borrower charities.

Further analysis of the financial and social impact investment assets can be found in Note 9 to the Financial Statements.

A copy of Wittington Investments Limited's accounts for the year to 14 September 2024 can be obtained from Companies House.

Financial review

In accordance with the required accounting policy, grants are recognised in the statement of financial activities when approved by the Trustees and communicated to the recipients, irrespective of the future period over which payments are to be made, and the obligations outstanding at the year-end are recognised as creditors.

The Foundation does not currently actively fundraise and so the requirements of section 13 of the Charities (Protection and Social Investment) Act 2016, which requires that the Trustees provide a statement on specific areas of their fundraising, do not apply.

Costs

These continue to be very low in relation to the levels of income and grants made and are kept under review by the Director and Trustees to ensure they remain lean as a proportion of grant expenditure.

Reserves

The Trustees' policy is to maintain reserves of approximately 50% of the Foundation's annual income bearing in mind the general timing of income receipts, their general pattern of giving and the current economic climate. At £70.1 million (2024: £32.1 million), total income reserves at the end of the year represented 42% of the Foundation's income in the year – below the Trustees' 50% policy – and this will be taken into account when assessing levels of grant-making for the following financial year.

Investment objectives

The Trustees' investment objectives in relation to their non-Wittington group assets as set out in the policy statement are to preserve the 'real' (i.e. inflation-adjusted) value of its financial investments. This involves adopting a relatively conservative investment strategy, investing in a balanced portfolio without geographical, currency or sector restriction, subject to the terms of a Charity Commission Order dated 19 September 2001. The primary benchmark for investment performance remains at RPI plus 4% over a rolling three-year period, although comparison is also made on an annual basis with the ARC (Asset Risk Consultants) Charity Steady Growth Index for Rathbone and, in the case of OUem, the MSCI All Country World Index.

The Trustees are satisfied that the two investment managers have suitable policies in place regarding their stock selection to ensure that this complies with the latest ESG practices and they continue to keep this under review. The Trustees' principal financial investment, namely Associated British Foods plc, is a highly diversified global company with an extensive and practical approach to responsible business.

The Trustees have a direct line of sight into this business, making the Foundation's approach to responsible investment more transparent and with a higher degree of clarity than other models might afford.
The Trustees' financial objectives in relation to their social impact investments are to preserve their 'nominal' (i.e. non inflation-adjusted) value in order to allow the capital to be redeployed once the social impact is achieved. This involves a strategy of investing alongside foundations with similar financial objectives; of selecting investments which have direct line of sight to social impact; and of mitigating the transfer of risk to borrowers by ensuring that the investments are secured against tangible assets.

Plans for future periods

Rising levels of inflation continue to have a significant impact on all areas of the sector, but with particular significance for charities which support the most vulnerable in our society as well as for those undertaking capital projects. The Foundation will continue to do its best to react to the changing needs of the charitable sector and to provide support where it is most needed and can be utilised most effectively to make a difference.

The Trustees will continue to maintain their ability to respond promptly and effectively to the requests in support of a broad range of charitable causes, relying upon the consistent performance of the Foundation's endowment and upon prudent management of its income reserves.

Trustees' responsibilities for the financial statements

The Trustees are responsible for preparing the Trustees' Annual Report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

The law applicable to charities in England and Wales requires the Trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial year which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charity and of the incoming resources and application of resources of the charity for that period. In preparing these financial statements, the Trustees are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently
- observe the methods and principles in the Charities SORP
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent
- state whether applicable accounting standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements
- prepare the accounts on a going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charity will continue in business

The Trustees are responsible for maintaining sufficient accounting records which disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charity and which enable them to ensure that the accounts comply with the Charities Act 2011, the Charity (Accounts and Reports) Regulations 2008 and the provisions of the Trust Deed. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charity and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

Director's report

In 2024–2025, the Garfield Weston Foundation delivered a record level of funding to charities, with over £129 million awarded to almost 3,000 organisations across the country, in addition to £10 million in social investments to strengthen the sector in other ways. I joined the Foundation after the end of this financial year, in May 2025, so these impressive figures are down to the hard work of my valued colleagues. They reflect the success of the Foundation's endowment model of business ownership in generating increased returns for the Foundation to distribute. The grants awarded respond to the substantial need faced by the charitable sector, as well as the quality of the projects charities are leading.

The Foundation admires the dedication and commitment of our charity partners to make such a positive difference within their communities. We are particularly conscious of the extra challenges that charities are facing today with pressures both from abroad and at home and an increasingly difficult financial landscape. We could not do our work without them and thank them for their hard work and resilience in these challenging times. Within this context, the Foundation is pleased to be able to remain steadfast in our support for the sector, building on our history of 67 years of grant-making. We remain very much 'open for business' and keen to support charities the length and breadth of the UK, from the small, grassroots charities to the large, national organisations, and across a wide variety of projects, from the tried and tested to innovative new approaches.

With over 2,900 grants made during the year, we can only highlight a small selection in this report. This year, we have picked out examples that we hope give a taste of the breadth of initiatives we support, across a full spectrum of sectors up and down the country. However, each grant represents the work of a dedicated team and we are delighted to list – as we do each year – every charity to whom we have made a grant.

In addition to our charity partners, I would like to thank the team at the Foundation who have worked so hard to deliver this impact – the Trustees who bring great experience and insight to each decision, and the small, professional team of staff who apply real care to all applicants. In particular I would like to thank Flora Craig, who has led the team as Interim Director throughout the year.

I am delighted to join the Foundation team and look forward to working with our charity partners to deliver even greater impact in the year to come – a year in which we can see that the need remains acute.

Director (joined 19 May 2025)

In2ScienceUK

In2scienceUK

In2scienceUK is a social mobility charity dedicated to helping young people from low socioeconomic and underrepresented backgrounds to access education and careers in science, technology, engineering and maths (STEM). The charity aims to improve access to better-paid jobs and boost inclusion within the UK STEM sector – 80% of its participants are the first in their families to pursue higher education and 65% are female. The charity's programmes include in-person work placements, mentoring, skills training and research placements, and careers support for young professionals from disadvantaged backgrounds transitioning into STEM.

> The Garfield Weston Foundation's generous grant towards In2scienceUK's core costs has been pivotal in helping us continue to deliver transformative STEM opportunities for young people from the UK's lowest income households. By funding the vital backbone of our organisation, the Foundation has ensured that we have the capacity to deliver life-changing STEM experiences.
> Stephen Hancock, CEO

The charity has developed strong relationships with university and industry partners and could demonstrate a broad range of funding sources. The Trustees were delighted to award a core cost grant of £150,000 over two years to help In2ScienceUK increase its reach.

O Ddrws i Ddrws

O Ddrws i Ddrws (From Door to Door) is one of the thousands of local organisations providing vital support to local people that the Trustees value. O Ddrws i Ddrws is a community transport charity that operates on the Llyn peninsula, a remote area in Wales far from services such as hospitals, GPs and even shops. Many people cannot afford their own vehicle or are unable to access the limited public transport due to age, illness or disability; without O Ddrws i Ddrws, which also organises social activities and events, many people would be isolated.

> We've made it work for the past 20-plus years with immense gratitude to the Garfield Weston Foundation for its indispensable help to deliver a vital service that's experiencing ever-increasing demand.
> Wil Parry, Project Manager

Last year, O Ddrws i Ddrws and its volunteer drivers provided over 4,200 journeys for almost 7,700 passengers.

The organisation provided compelling case studies that demonstrated the impact of its work and a good range of income sources including earned income, local donations and grants from trusts and public sources. The Trustees were happy to make a grant of £20,000 to support the charity's core costs.

Streetbikes

Streetbikes delivers inclusive and accessible cycling activities in Kirklees, West Yorkshire. Its twice-weekly sessions take place with a large range of adapted bikes so that anyone can attend regardless of age or ability, supported by the charity's volunteers. Streetbikes works in partnership with schools, care providers and local charities to ensure they are reaching people who would otherwise face barriers to participating due to health issues, disability or poverty, reaching over 5,000 people last year. Streetbikes also refurbishes donated bikes and sells them to the community at an affordable price which generates a vital source of income and enables the charity to give bikes as gifts to local children each Christmas.

Streetbikes included a case study from a local Dementia support group that demonstrates how the sessions enabled many of its users to cycle for the first time in 40 years with multiple mental, physical and social benefits. It also included details of an impact report conducted by a university partner that shows that Streetbikes' work is unparalleled in the UK in terms of its ability to provide regular and inclusive cycling opportunities for people of all abilities. The Trustees were delighted to make a core cost grant of £20,000 over two years to this local, high impact charity.

Bright Green Nature

Bright Green Nature

The Foundation supports a wide range of environmental charities working on differing scales, from a global to hyperlocal focus. Bright Green Nature is an example of a small, mainly volunteer run local nature restoration charity in the Scottish Borders. Big Green Nature was gifted Selkirk Deer Park, a biodiverse habitat which the charity is restoring. It is also a base for its research and education work, connecting people of all ages with hands-on ecological restoration, practical conservation skills, and confidence building activities.

Its microgrant programme helps people to restore nature where they live, including the creation of wildflower gardens, improvements to tree orchards, hedgerows, wildlife ponds and school grounds. The Trustees appreciated the practical nature of the charity's work and what it achieves on a relatively lean budget, and were happy to make a core cost grant of £8,000.

> The support of Garfield Weston has enabled us to expand our community rewilding programmes, restore threatened habitats, and inspire young people to lead nature recovering in their own communities. Our grant is helping us to build a powerful, grassroots rewilding movement across the Scottish Boarders.

Bournemouth Symphony Orchestra

Bournemouth Symphony Orchestra (BSO) is the largest cultural organisation in the South West, based at the Lighthouse, Poole. Last year, over 144,000 people experienced its performances, either in person in the region's towns, cities and isolated costal communities, or online via their digital concerts. A further 47,000 engaged with BSO Participate, the orchestra's award winning outreach programme that takes pioneering music projects into schools, community groups, care homes and healthcare settings in over 200 locations across the region.

The Trustees appreciated the breadth of the orchestra's outreach work and its efforts to diversify its income in anticipation of reduced statutory funding. The Trustees were delighted to make a grant of £300,000 over three years to support BSO Participate, enabling the orchestra to plan with confidence for following years.

Hull Minster

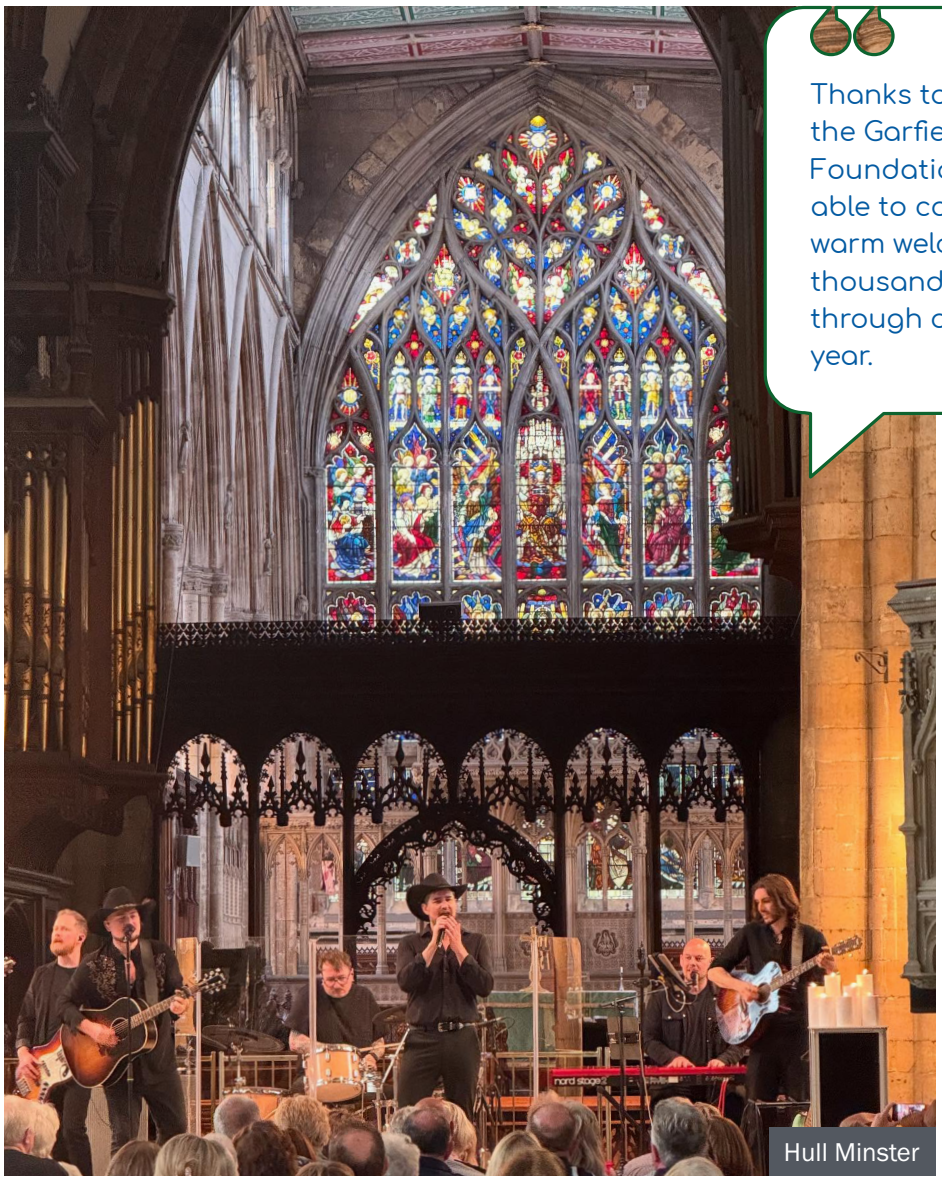

Hull Minster has been a place of Christian worship and hospitality for over 700 years. The Minster is not only a church but provides a wide range of community activities and events aimed at low-income families, and a range of volunteering opportunities. Its café provides support and meals to up to 200 people each week, its choral and music programme provides music workshops to over 1,000 young people from local schools in deprived communities, and its outreach programme supports over 2,000 children, young people and adults. In total, the Minster welcomes over 100,000 visitors each year.

The Trustees appreciated the wide range of local partnerships the Minster has developed to ensure it is reaching those most in need and its clear fundraising plan to meet the costs of its outreach work, giving them confidence to make a grant of £50,000 over two years.

> The Foundation's grant will supercharge our learning, participation and creative-health programme for three years: from schools' concerts and mentoring for our young musicians, to a growing network of recovery and wellbeing orchestras. I'm especially delighted that, with the Foundation's help, we can expand our work in hospitals into new counties, taking the healing power of music to the people who need it most.

Empire Fighting Chance

Empire Fighting Chance (EFC) uses the power of non-contact boxing to fight the impact of social disadvantage and inequality for young people in over 40 locations across the UK. In total, EFC works with 10,000 young people each year who are experiencing poor mental health and those who engage in destructive behaviours including violence and self-harm and who feel excluded from many mainstream services.

Despite considerable growth over the past few years, the charity was hampered by its physical base. To address this, EFC applied to the Foundation for its capital project to build a two-storey extension to its Bristol base. The charity had planning permission in place and had raised over 50% of the total project cost when it applied, and could demonstrate how the charity would absorb the additional running costs of its expanded footprint. The Trustees were happy to make a major grant of £250,000 to help EFC with this capital project.

> Our grant from Garfield Weston enabled us to transform our boxing gym. Expanding The Mill's footprint is going to be game changing for us. We'll be able to work with hundreds more young people each year, improve the quality of our psychologically charged boxing programmes and create a vital community hub in inner city Bristol.

Bangladesh Youth Movement

Bangladesh Youth Movement (BYM) was established in 1976 to support young people from Bangladeshi communities and, over the years, has expanded to support people of all ages from any ethnically diverse community. Tower Hamlets is characterised by extreme deprivation, high levels of child poverty and is an area where 54% of residents are from ethnically diverse communities. The charity delivers a wide range of support including a drop-in advice service, a targeted debt support project, a weekly youth club, a Saturday school, and a women and girls project.

Bangladesh Youth Movement

BYM partners with a wide range of local organisations including Job Centres, GPs, family centres and tenants associations and could demonstrate the impact of its work as a result of its monitoring and evaluation. The charity provided a clear breakdown of its anticipated expenditure and its income broken down by source including statutory funding, earned income, community fundraising and trusts. The Trustees appreciated the practical support the charity provides and how it has adapted to respond to local need, and were happy to make a core cost grant of £30,000 over two years.

Without grant funding, people who are excluded from community services on an ongoing basis would quite simply have no-one to turn to, losing their health, money and homes; BYM is a sanctuary in the most deprived of areas, thanks to the Garfield Weston Foundation.

Parkinson's UK

The Foundation's generous grant is transforming access to specialist care for people with Parkinson's across the UK. By funding, training and supporting new Parkinson's nurses and allied health professionals, the Foundation is helping to ensure thousands more people receive the life-changing support they need to live well with the condition. Together, we're creating a future where no one faces Parkinson's alone.

Paul Jackson-Clark, Director of Fundraising and Experience

Parkinson's UK

Parkinson's UK is the leading charity dedicated to supporting and empowering the 166,000 people living with Parkinson's in the UK, ensuring access to high-quality care, and driving the search for better treatments and a cure. The charity identified that 20% of people with the disease still have no or limited access to specialist nursing and, with the number of people affected by this neurological condition projected to increase by 20% in the next five years, launched a £12 million appeal to seed fund at least 20 nurses and 30 allied health professionals over four years.

When Parkinson's UK applied to the Foundation, it had secured over £5 million and could clearly show what grants of varying levels would achieve; every £100,000 would deliver around 3,000 hours of vital specialist care. The Trustees were delighted to make a grant of £1 million over three years to help the charity achieve its target.

Dacorum Heritage Trust

Dacorum Heritage Trust is an accredited museum and archive for the Borough of Dacorum, Hertfordshire. It cares for over 131,000 items from prehistoric hand axes and Roman paw prints preserved in roof tiles, to 20th century artwork, and provides access to its collection via creative engagement opportunities within the local community, such as pop-up exhibitions and handling sessions. When Garfield Weston established the Foundation in 1958, he endowed it with shares in the family business, Wittington Investments. Today, Wittington Investments' largest investment is in Associated British Foods (ABF) which makes some of the best-known food brands in the UK, including Ovaltine. In 2022, ABF transferred the ownership of the Ovaltine Collection, over 10,000 items relating to the history of the production of Ovaltine at its former factory in nearby Kings Langley, to Dacorum Heritage Trust, making it one of the largest archives owned by the trust.

Dacorum Heritage Trust had plans to conserve fragile artwork and to digitise damaged advertising film, to record the memories of former Ovaltine employees and to develop a public engagement programme. Dacorum Heritage Trust presented a very clear proposal with detailed timescales, budgets and anticipated outcomes and the Trustees were delighted to make a project grant of £90,000 to help conserve a part of local Herfordshire – and ABF's – heritage.

> As we work more on the Ovaltine Collection, we realise how important an employer and supportive of the community the Ovaltine factory was to the area. The continued support of the Garfield Weston Foundation means that we can continue to care for and share the wonderful artwork of the Ovaltine brand.

Thanks to the Garfield Weston Foundation's support, we're reaching more professionals and communities with the tools they need to prevent, intervene and respond effectively to DA. Together, we're making sure every adult and child affected by abuse gets the right help, at the right time – no matter how they are or where they live. Your support helps us to find what works and help it happen, and we're grateful for your belief in this mission.

SafeLives

SafeLives

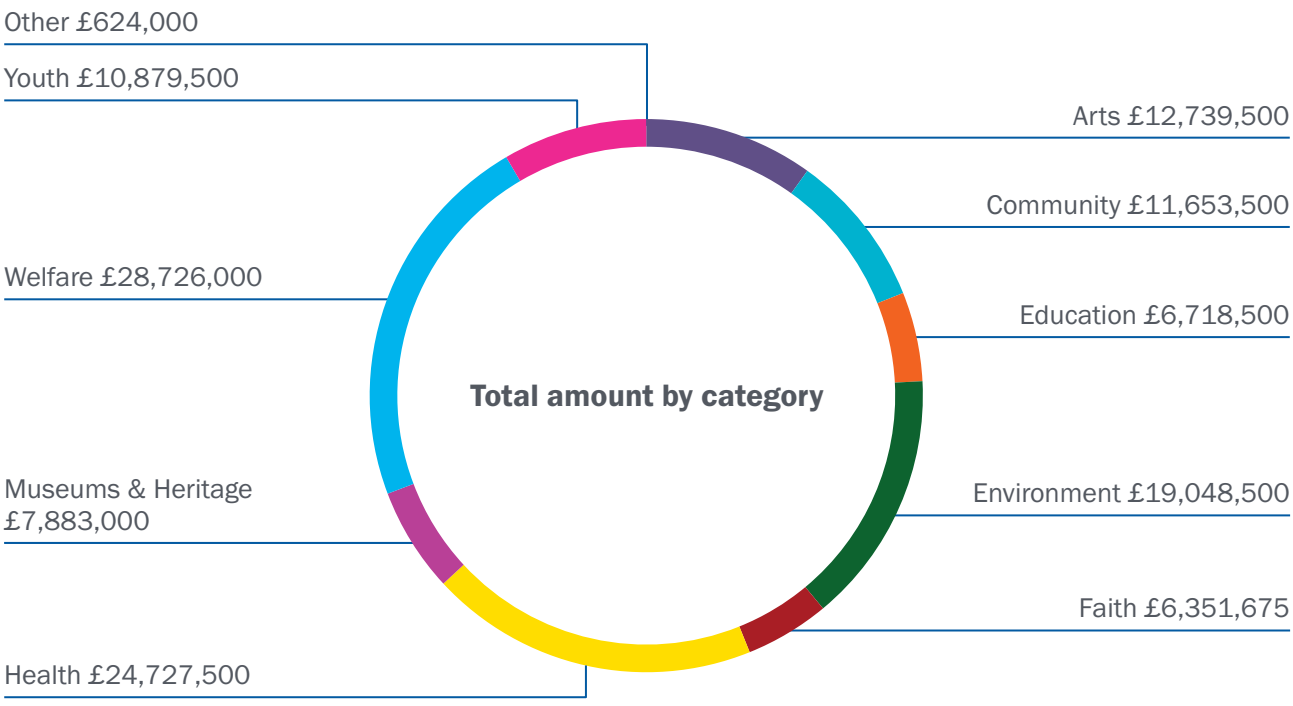

SafeLives is the UK-wide charity working to end domestic abuse, for everyone, for good. It works with government and organisations across the UK to transform the response to domestic abuse (DA), a pervasive and complex issue that over 2 million people in the UK experience each year. SafeLives has a track record for innovating and placing victims of abuse at the heart of its approach, holds the largest dataset on DA in the UK and is the largest single provider of specialised DA training.

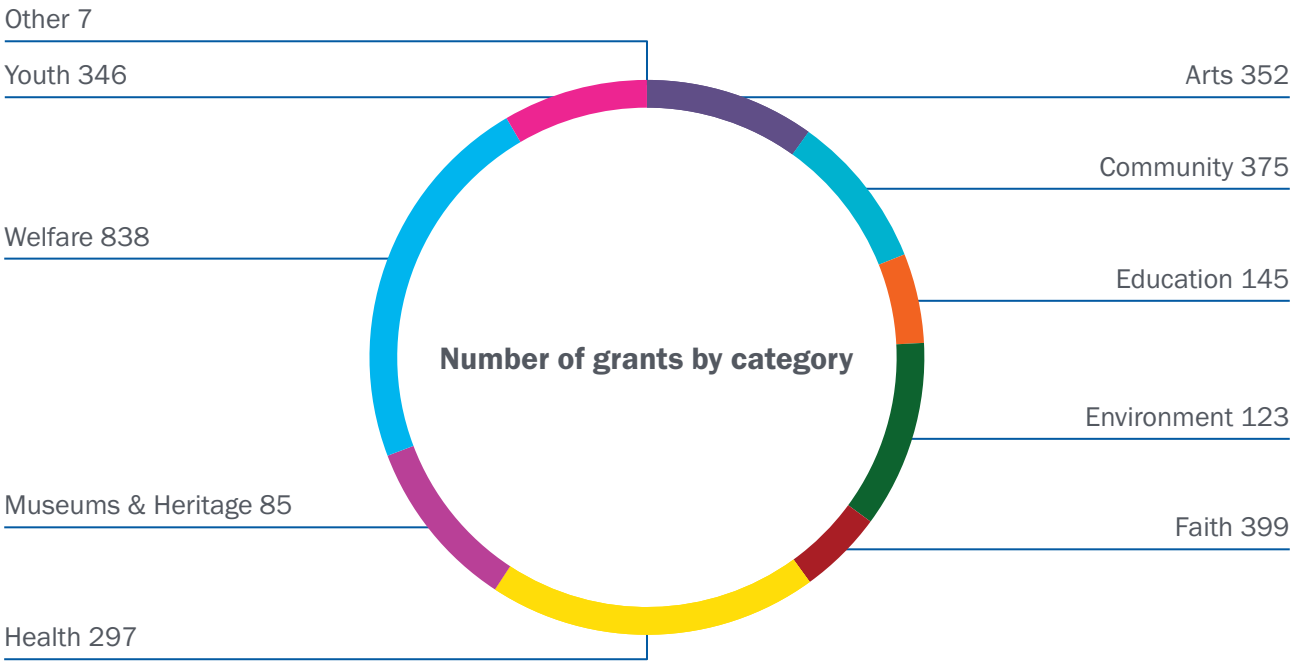

SafeLives aims to continue to influence large-scale systemic change and clearly communicated their priority areas in their application. The charity has a varied range of income sources, however, similar to most charities, requires unrestricted funding in order to adapt to need. SafeLives was clear about its future strategy and the Trustees were happy to make a three-year grant of £450,000 to support the charity's important work.

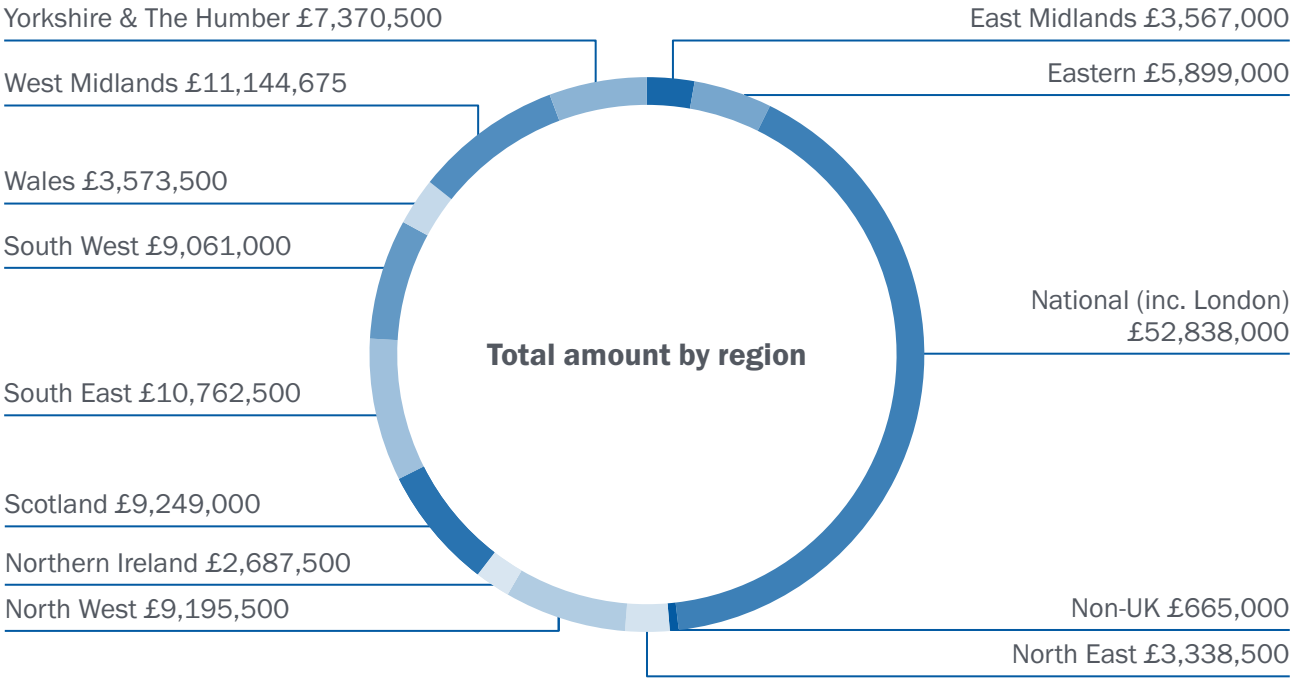

In addition to the systems-wide work that SafeLives undertakes, the Foundation made 79 grants in the last financial year to local organisations working to support victims of DA as well as to deliver preventative education programmes and train professionals in how to work in a trauma-informed way. The Trustees continue to value these vital, local support services in the knowledge of the lifeline they provide to many vulnerable people. Grant recipients span the UK and include Perthshire Women's Aid, Cornwall Refuge Trust, Crossroads Derbyshire, Birmingham Crisis Centre, Women's Aid Armagh Down and Phoenix Domestic Abuse Services in Wales.

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Garfield Weston Foundation (the charity) for the year ended 5 April 2025 which comprise the Statement of Financial Activities, the Balance Sheet, the Cashflow Statement and notes to the financial statements, including significant accounting policies. The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards, including FRS 102 The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

In our opinion the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the state of the charity's affairs as at 5 April 2025 and of its incoming resources and application of resources for the year then ended
- have been properly prepared in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice
- have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Charities Act 2011

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK) (ISA (UK)) and applicable law. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the charity in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in the UK, including the FRC's Ethical Standard, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Conclusions relating to going concern

In auditing the financial statements, we have concluded that the Trustees' use of the going concern basis of accounting in the preparation of the financial statement is appropriate.

Based on the work we have performed, we have not identified any material uncertainties relating to events or conditions that, individually or collectively, may cast significant doubt on the charity's ability to continue as a going concern for a period of at least twelve months from when the financial statements are authorised for issue.

Our responsibilities and the responsibilities of the Trustees with respect to going concern are described in the relevant sections of this report.

Other information

The other information comprises the information included in the annual report other than the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. The Trustees are responsible for the other information contained within the financial statements. Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and, except to the extent otherwise explicitly stated in our report, we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

Our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the course of the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify such material inconsistencies or apparent material misstatements, we are required to determine whether there is a material misstatement in the financial statements or a material misstatement of the other information. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Matters on which we are required to report by exception

In the light of the knowledge and understanding of the charity and its environment obtained in the course of the audit, we have not identified material misstatements in the Trustees' report. We have nothing to report in respect of the following matters where the Charities Act 2011 requires us to report to you if, in our opinion:

- adequate accounting records have not been kept, or returns adequate for our audit have not been received from branches not visited by us
- the financial statements are not in agreement with the accounting records and returns
- certain disclosures of Trustees' remuneration specified by law are not made
- we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit

Responsibilities of Trustees

As explained more fully in the Trustees' responsibilities statement set out on page 10, the Trustees are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view, and for such internal control as the Trustees determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the Trustees are responsible for assessing the charity's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Trustees either intend to liquidate the charity or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditors' responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

We have been appointed as auditor under section 151 of the Charities Act 2011 and report in accordance with the Act and relevant regulations made or having effect thereunder.

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (UK) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

Details of the extent to which the audit was considered capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud and non-compliance with laws and regulations are set out below.

A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements is located on the Financial Reporting Council's website at: www.frc.org.uk/auditorsresponsibilities This description forms part of our auditor's report.

Extent to which the audit was considered capable of detecting irregularities including fraud

Irregularities, including fraud, are instances of non-compliance with laws and regulations. We design procedures in line with our responsibilities, outlined above, to detect material misstatements in respect of irregularities, including fraud. The extent to which our procedures are capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud is detailed below.

Based on our understanding of the charity and the industry in which it operates, we identified that the principal risks of non-compliance with laws and regulations related to the acts by the charity, which were contrary to applicable laws and regulations including fraud, and we considered the extent to which non-compliance might have a material effect on the financial statements. We also considered those laws and regulations that have a direct impact on the preparation of the financial statements such as the Charities Act 2011.

We evaluated management's incentives and opportunities for manipulation of the financial statements (including the risk of override of controls), and determined that the principal risk related to the valuation of the unquoted investment in Wittington Investments Limited ('Wittington') of which the Foundation owns 683,073 50p ordinary shares (79.2%).

The valuation of Wittington requires significant estimation as it is an unquoted company and there is no readily identifiable market price for its shares. Accordingly, the value of the Foundation's investment has been assessed by the Trustees on the basis of the share of the value of the underling net assets of Wittington attributable to the Foundation's holding as at 5 April 2025. As Wittington's financial statements are audited as at 14 September 2024, there is a varying degree of estimation required to assess the net asset value as at 5 April 2025 and therefore there is more potential for misstatement in this area.

We assessed Management's valuation methodology and considered whether it was in accordance with the accounting policies of the Foundation, applicable accounting standards and industry practice. Wittington's principal asset is a majority holding (58.1%) in Associated British Foods plc. Therefore, the value of the Foundation's investment in Wittington is driven predominantly by the Associated British Foods plc share price as at 5 April 2025. As the shares are listed on the London Stock Exchange, the value of this holding can be determined easily.

Other audit procedures performed included: review of the financial statement disclosures to underlying supporting documentation to assess compliance with relevant laws and regulations, review of minutes of meetings held by those charged with governance, enquiries of management and testing of journals and evaluating whether there was evidence of bias by the Trustees that represented a risk of material misstatement due to fraud.

There are inherent limitations in the audit procedures described above and the further removed non-compliance with laws and regulations is from the events and transactions reflected in the financial statements, the less likely we would become aware of it. Also, the risk of not detecting a material misstatement due to fraud is higher than the risk of not detecting one resulting from error, as fraud may involve deliberate concealment by, for example, forgery or intentional misrepresentations, or through collusion.

Use of our report

This report is made solely to the charity's Trustees, as a body, in accordance with Chapter 3 of Part 8 of the Charities Act 2011 and regulations made under section 154 of that Act. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the charity's Trustees those matters we are required to state to them in an auditor's report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the charity and the charity's Trustees as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.

Notes to the financial statements for the year ended 5 April 2025

1 Accounting policies

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with applicable UK accounting standards (UK Generally Accepted Accounting Practice), including Financial Reporting Standard FRS 102 'The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the United Kingdom and the Republic of Ireland' ("FRS 102"). In particular, they comply with the Charities Act 2011 and the Statement of Recommended Practice 'Accounting and Reporting by Charities (the "SORP").

The financial statements have been prepared to give a 'true and fair' view and have departed from the Charities (Accounts and Report) Regulations 2008 only to the extent required to provide a 'true and fair' view. This departure has involved following the Charities SORP (FRS 102).

Garfield Weston Foundation ('the Foundation') constitutes a public benefit entity as defined by FRS 102. The financial statements are prepared on the historical cost basis except that certain financial instruments are stated at fair value.

The financial statements have been prepared in sterling, which is the functional currency of the Foundation. Monetary amounts in these financial statements are rounded to £'000s.

The particular accounting policies adopted by the Trustees are described below:

a Going concern

After making enquiries, the Trustees have a reasonable expectation that the Foundation has adequate resources to continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future. For this reason they continue to adopt the going concern basis in preparing the consolidated financial statements.

Having reviewed the best estimate of future cash flows to October 2026, and having applied reverse stress tests, the possibility that the financial headroom could be exhausted is considered to be extremely remote. The Trustees understand the risks, sensitivities and judgements included in the cash flow forecast and have a high degree of confidence in these cash flows. There is substantial financial headroom between this cash flow forecast and the cash on hand and funding available to the Foundation over the period.

b Fund structure

Permanent endowment
The permanent endowment funds comprise the original capital fund, and gains thereto, established to provide income for grant payments in accordance with the objectives of the Foundation. The capital may not be converted into income. The funds are represented by the unquoted investments included in fixed assets. Unrealised gains on revaluation of these investments are credited to the funds.

Unrestricted expendable capital
In accordance with the authority given to the Trustees under an Order of the Charity Commission dated 19 September 2001, £65,747,000 was transferred to an expendable capital fund in relation to which income and capital are distributable at the discretion of the Trustees. £5 million was invested in 2001/02 in the Charities Property Fund and £60 million was invested in 2002/03 with investment managers in balanced portfolios on a discretionary total return basis. Income and investment gains and losses are taken to this fund and the amount allocated to income by the Trustees, £1,873,047 (2024: £2,142,625), is shown as a transfer to the income fund.

Unrestricted income funds
The income of the Foundation is expendable at the discretion of the Trustees in furtherance of the objects of the Foundation. Gains on investments held in the income funds are credited to these funds.

c Critical accounting estimates and judgements

In the application of the Foundation's accounting policies, the Trustees are required to make judgements, estimates and assumptions about the carrying amount of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and other factors that are considered relevant. Actual results may differ from these estimates.The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised where the revision affects only that period, or in the period of the revision and future periods where the revision affects both current and future periods.The estimates and assumptions which have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amount of assets and liabilities are outlined below:

Investment valuation
The Foundation's financial investments are stated at market value. Financial investments comprise both quoted and unquoted investments and are initially measured at transaction price, excluding transaction costs, and are subsequently measured at fair value at each reporting date. Changes in fair value are recognised in net income/(expenditure) for the year. Transaction costs are expensed as incurred. Valuations are obtained from investment managers. The Trustees do not believe that there is any inherent uncertainty in the presentation of these amounts, and that in their judgement, market value and fair value may be regarded as identical for the purposes of these accounts.

Social investments are investments made directly in pursuit of the Foundation's charitable purposes and are stated at the amount invested less impairment.

d Incoming resources

Dividends are included when received. Interest receivable on fixed interest securities and bank deposits is included on an accruals basis. All incoming resources are recognised once the Charity has entitlement to the resources, it is probable that the resources will be received, and the monetary value of incoming resources can be measured with sufficient reliability.

e Resources expended and irrecoverable VAT

Liabilities are recognised as resources expended as soon as there is a legal or constructive obligation committing the Charity to the expenditure. All expenditure is accounted for on an accruals basis and has been classified under headings that aggregate all costs related to the category.

Grants awarded are charged in the year when formally awarded by the Trustees and communicated to the recipient irrespective of the period covered by the donation as they are regarded by the Trustees as financial obligations.

Irrecoverable VAT is charged against the category of resources expended, for which it was incurred.

f Allocation of overhead and support costs

Overhead and support costs are allocated first between charitable activity and governance. Overhead and support costs relating to charitable activities have been apportioned based on the value of individual grant awards made as it is considered that more is spent awarding, monitoring and assessing grants of greater value. The allocation of overhead and support costs is analysed in note 5.

g Costs of generating funds

The costs of generating funds consist of investment management fees and commissions.

h Charitable activities

Costs of charitable activities include grants made and an apportionment of overhead and support costs as shown in notes 3, 4 and 5.

i Governance costs

Governance costs comprise all costs involving the public accountability of the Charity and its compliance with regulation and good practice. These costs include costs related to statutory audit and legal fees together with an apportionment of overhead and support costs.

j Interest in Wittington Investments Limited

At 5 April 2025 the Foundation owned 79.2% (2024: 79.2%) of Wittington Investments Limited ('Wittington'), a company registered in England. Wittington is the ultimate holding company of Associated British Foods plc ('ABF'), and a wide range of investments including Fortnum & Mason plc and Heal's plc, one hotel, a real estate portfolio and significant financial investments. ABF is listed on the London Stock Exchange. The Foundation receives its income from Wittington Investments Limited by way of dividends and records its investment in that company at the Trustees' valuation.

As the activities of Wittington and its subsidiaries are fundamentally different from the activities of the Foundation, consolidated accounts have not been prepared as the Trustees are of the opinion that the adopted policy gives a true and fair view of the Foundation's assets and sources of income. Details of the value of the Foundation's interest in Wittington and its subsidiaries are shown in note 9 to these accounts. The Trustees have agreed this policy of not consolidating the assets and liabilities of Wittington and its subsidiaries with the Charity Commission.

k Investments

Non-current and current financial investments are stated at market value as at the balance sheet date and include cash held for future investment. The statement of financial activities includes the net gains and losses arising on revaluation and disposals throughout the year. Certain bonds are classified as current investments as they are expected to be realised within 12 months of the reporting date.

Social investments are investments made directly in pursuit of the Foundation's charitable purposes and are stated at the amount invested less impairment.

l Realised gains and losses

All gains and losses are taken to the statement of financial activities as they arise. Realised gains and losses on investments are calculated as the difference between sales proceeds and opening market value. Unrealised gains and losses are calculated as the difference between the market value at the year end and opening market value. Realised and unrealised gains are not separated in the Statement of Financial Activities.

m Fund accounting

Details of the nature and purpose of each fund are set out in note 12.

n Financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are shown in note 8 to these accounts and are recognised when the Foundation becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

Financial assets which qualify as basic financial instruments, including trade and other receivables and cash, are subsequently valued at amortised cost and assessed for impairment at the end of each reporting period.

Other financial assets, including investments, are subsequently valued at fair value.

Financial liabilities are classified according to the substance of the contractual arrangements entered into. All financial assets and liabilities are initially measured at transaction price including transaction costs, except for those financial assets classified as at fair value through profit or loss, which are initially measured at fair value. If an arrangement constitutes a financing transaction, the financial asset or financial liability is measured at the present value of the future payments discounted at a market rate of interest for a similar debt instrument.

Financial assets are derecognised only when either the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire or are settled or all of the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset are substantially transferred to another party.

Financial liabilities are derecognised only when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged, cancelled or expires.

Financial investments are stated at market value at the balance sheet date. The market values of the managed portfolios are advised by the portfolio managers. The statement of financial activities includes the net gains and losses arising in revaluation and disposals through the year.

- Quoted investments comprise publicly quoted, listed securities including shares, bonds and units. Quoted investments are stated at fair value at the balance sheet date.
- Unquoted investments are valued at the Trustees' best estimate of fair value as explained in note 9.

Social investments are investments made directly in pursuit of the Foundation's charitable purposes and are stated at the amount invested less impairment.

4 Analysis of charitable expenditure

The Charity undertook no direct charitable activities but awarded grants to a number of institutions in furtherance of its charitable activities. As a consequence of supporting charitable organisations, the Foundation achieves public benefit. The Foundation's grant policy is to accept only appeals from UK registered charities. Registration provides an element of assurance of public benefit, although for charities registered before the implementation of the Charities Act 2006 the public benefit was a presumption.

Unlisted investments

The unlisted investments comprise 683,073 50p ordinary shares (79.2%) of Wittington Investments Limited, an unquoted company, see note 1 (j).

The business of Wittington is the management of investments in a wide range of assets. As it is an unquoted company there is no readily identifiable market price for its shares. Accordingly, the value of the Foundation's investments has been assessed by the Trustees on the basis of the share of the value of the underlying net assets of Wittington attributable to the Foundation's holding.

At 5 April 2025, Wittington's principal asset is a holding of 58.1% (2024: 56.2%) of the issued ordinary capital of ABF which is listed on The London Stock Exchange. In assessing the value of the underlying net assets of Wittington, the value of its investment in ABF has been based on the closing price as at 5 April 2025.

In addition, Wittington holds a wide range of other assets managed in three different business segments:

- Retail: comprising the 100% ownership of Fortnum & Mason and Heal's, two long established retailers.
- Real estate: investing in high-quality investment properties in the retail, office, distribution and hotel sectors across the UK. Wittington also takes strategic positions in selective development opportunities, alongside local partners or sector specialists.
- Financial investments: investing both directly and via externally managed funds in private equity, private debt and fixed income markets. Other investments are principally composed of liquid investments in short-dated investment grade bonds and listed equities

The most recent financial year end for Wittington was 14 September 2024. As such, aside from the investment in ABF, Wittington's remaining investments have been valued using net asset values in the 31 March 2025 management accounts, which are considered to be their fair values. At 5 April 2025, the fair value of Wittington including ABF is considered to be £10.88 billion and the Foundation's share of this (79.2%) is £8.62 billion.

The Trustees have no current intention of disposing of the interest in Wittington.

Permanent endowment

The permanent endowment funds comprise the original capital fund, and gains thereto, established to provide income for grant payments in accordance with the objectives of the Foundation. The capital may not be converted into income. The funds are represented by the unquoted investments included in fixed assets. Unrealised gains on revaluation of these investments are credited to the funds.

Unrestricted expendable capital

In accordance with the authority given to the Trustees under an Order of the Charity Commission dated 19 September 2001, £65,747,000 was transferred to an expendable capital fund in relation to which income and capital are distributable at the discretion of the Trustees. £5 million was invested in 2001/02 in the Charities Property Fund and £60 million was invested in 2002/03 with investment managers in balanced portfolios on a discretionary total return basis. Income and investment gains and losses are taken to this fund and the amount allocated to income by the Trustees, £1,873,047 (2024: £2,142,625), is shown as a transfer to the income fund.

Unrestricted income funds

The income of the Foundation is expendable at the discretion of the Trustees in furtherance of the objects of the Foundation. Gains on investments held in the income funds are credited to these funds.

Chair's introduction

I am delighted to introduce the Annual Report of the Trustees for the financial year to 5 April 2024.

It is exciting to report that the Foundation has made donations this year of over £100 million, a record figure that takes the Foundation's total donations to £1.5 billion since it was established by my grandfather in 1958.

While we are constantly scanning the horizon to ensure we can respond and adapt to changes in society's needs, this year's result has also caused us to reflect and consider the elements of our model and approach that have enabled us to grow our giving in the way we have. In fact, since we started 66 years ago, we have doubled our donations every five to six years, a growth trajectory we are proud of.

We are steadfastly here for the long-term and strongly hold the view that the model of direct business ownership that underpins our endowment is a force for good, though we appreciate there are other excellent models that are different to ours. The straightforward structure established by our grandfather was very deliberate in its intention to build for the long-term and it was created with a strong sense of personal responsibility and community, which we still value. We believe he would have been pleased with how his foresight has developed since, though he was not a person known for handing out praise!

We respect the skill and hard work of the businesses that generate the Foundation's income, in the same way we admire and respect the talented people across the country in the charitable sector. Our aim is to enable those with the best understanding of society's needs to tell us their plans and objectives so that we can listen and work with them in a flexible way. We don't believe in imposing our point of view on others but in being responsive to those with excellent ideas and plans. This deliberate and pragmatic strategy enables us to be agile and to ensure that our income is spent on good work and not on supporting a cumbersome infrastructure.

Our job as Trustees and stewards is to remain engaged and up to date, and to ensure the Foundation continues to support good work and people, recognises excellence and can meet the evolving needs of our society. I'd like to thank our knowledgeable and dedicated staff and especially Philippa Charles, who has stepped down as Director after 16 years during which time we have donated over £1 billion. We are also thankful for the thousands of charities we have the privilege to work with and we greatly appreciate what they do.

Sir Guy H Weston
Chair of the Trustees

Trustees' report

Accounting policies

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the accounting policies set out in the notes to the accounts and comply with the charity's governing document, the Charities Act 2011 and Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland published on 16 July 2014 (FRS102).

Structure, governance and management

Structure

The operation of the Foundation is governed by a Trust Deed dated 10 October 1958.

At 5 April 2024, the Foundation owned 79.2% of Wittington Investments Limited, a company registered in England. Wittington Investments is the ultimate holding company of Associated British Foods plc, which is listed on the London Stock Exchange; other subsidiaries include Fortnum and Mason plc and Heal's plc. Under the terms of the Trust Deed, the investment in the Wittington Investments Limited group of companies forms the permanent capital endowment of the Foundation and the Trustees may not dispose of that investment except by a unanimous vote of all the Trustees.

Governance and management

In accordance with the Trust Deed, after the death of Mr W Garfield Weston and his wife, their descendants became Trustees. The number of Trustees is limited to ten but must be at least five. If the number of Trustees drops below five, new Trustees fall to be appointed from among the lineal descendants of W Garfield Weston.

Being family members, incoming Trustees are aware of the aims and objectives of the Foundation and the manner in which the Trustees carry out their responsibilities. Nearly all of the Trustees are on the board of other charitable entities either in the UK, the United States or Canada. The Foundation is a member of the Foundations Forum and the Association of Charitable Foundations and the Trustees receive charity sector updates from both their Secretary, a practising lawyer with expertise in the charity sector, and from their auditors UHY Hacker Young LLP. This ensures that the Trustees are well placed to keep up to date with developments in charity practice and regulations.

The Trustees are directly responsible for the management of the Foundation and hold regular meetings in order to consider grant applications for £100,000 or more and to ratify smaller grants which have been awarded since their previous meeting. Additional meetings are scheduled as required to deal with any time-sensitive funding requests. The initial processing of grant applications is dealt with by an experienced team and every funding decision is made by at least one of the Trustees. The Trustees also actively participate in meetings with, and visits to, applicants. The Trustees hold an annual meeting in order to review and approve the Annual Report and Accounts and to carry out a formal annual review of performance against the Foundation's aims, objectives and policies as well as the performance of its investments over the year.

Risk management and policies

The Trustees are satisfied that appropriate policies, protection, systems and checks remain in place in order to mitigate exposure to major risks and to ensure that the Foundation operates in accordance with ethical and environmental guidelines and protections. The Director and Secretary regularly review the Foundation's risk register; the risk register is reviewed with the Trustees at their Annual Meeting.

The principal risks include: investment performance; breaches of IT security; breaches of financial controls; fraudulent applications; conflicts of interest; and reputational risks relating to the Foundation's relationship with the underlying trading activities of companies held through Wittington Investments Limited. Key controls have been identified for each principal risk area as follows:

Investment performance: The Trustees regularly review the performance of the underlying assets and their shareholding in the Wittington Investments Limited group and receive reports directly from those who are managing the businesses. The non-Wittington investments are also managed in accordance with an investment policy which seeks to achieve an appropriate balance of risk and return.

Breaches of IT security: The IT system and security measures, including authorised signatories, are regularly updated and reviewed and all grant applicants are screened by a skilled grants administration team.

Breaches of financial controls: Bank mandates specifying authorised signatories, segregation of duties and financial limits are regularly reviewed and maintained.

Fraudulent applications: Registered charity status, financial statements and bank statements are independently validated for all grants awarded prior to any transfer of funds.

Conflicts of interest: The Trustees maintain a documented Conflict of Interest policy which encompasses both their grant-making decisions and (where relevant) their roles as directors of Wittington group companies.

Reputation: Members of the Trustee board are directors of Wittington group companies, enabling them to be fully appraised of events which might give rise to reputational risk.

Ethical and environment: The Trustees have oversight of the ethical and environmental practices of the Wittington group companies as well as those of their independent investment managers. In relation to its staff secondees, the Foundation adheres to the policies of Wittington Investments Limited and Associated British Foods with respect to the Modern Slavery Act and corporate responsibility. For more details see www.wittington-investments.co.uk/wp-content/uploads/ModernSlaveryHumanTraffickingStatement2023.pdf www.abf.co.uk/responsibility

Equity, Diversity and Inclusion: Addressing disadvantages and 'levelling the playing field' for all has been a central theme of the Foundation for over six decades as the Foundation values diversity in its widest sense. The Foundation aims to be accessible, transparent and straightforward in its approach to grant-making and actively supports charities which in turn support diverse groups and communities, including those suffering discrimination in all its forms.

Safeguarding: The Trustees have a safeguarding policy which is aimed at protecting their own staff secondees as well as vulnerable beneficiaries. The Trustees also require grant applicants to confirm that they have appropriate safeguarding policies in place to protect their staff, volunteers and beneficiaries.

Income and grant-making aims and objectives

The Trust Deed contains broad charitable objects which allow the Trustees, at their discretion, to pay or apply the income and (subject to certain restrictions) the expendable capital of the Trust Fund to, or for, the benefit of any charitable bodies, trusts, associations, institutions or organisations.

Despite continuing challenges to the global economy, total income for the year rose to just over £110 million (2023: £90 million). The Trustees have once again been able to draw on this increase in income to make total grants of just under £101 million in support of 1,797 appeals (2023: £91 million in support of 2,147 appeals).

The total outstanding forward commitments at the end of the financial year were just over £63.1 million as compared with just over £52.5 million in 2023. Commitments consist of future payments of £26.8 million (2023: £18 million) due to charities under existing multi-year grant arrangements, and pledges of just under £36 million (2023: £20 million) that require charities to fulfil specific prerequisite obligations.

The Trustees have seen a reinstatement of capital projects following delays resulting from the Covid-19 pandemic and were pleased to be able to make some substantial pledges including £10 million to the Eden Trust for its new project in Morecambe, £5 million to the British Library for its Leeds Library and £3 million to the Tate for Tate Liverpool. The Trustees were pleased to continue to support charities' core costs which can be challenging for them to raise, and to support vital frontline charities that are supporting communities across the UK. See the Director's Report and full list of grants made for more details.

Grant-making policy

The Foundation continues to only accept applications from UK registered charities. No applications from individuals are considered and the Trustees do not typically fund projects outside the UK, nor do they fund animal welfare charities, unless for the purpose of supporting a specific environmental project or where to do so assists with other charitable purposes, such as providing assistance for those with disabilities.

The Trustees' aim is to keep the application process as simple and streamlined as possible. Step-by-step guidelines as to how to make a grant application (more than 98% of which are now submitted online), together with helpful details of the criteria which are taken into consideration when assessing applications and the information which should be submitted with an application, are available on the Foundation's website www.garfieldweston.org.

These guidelines are also published in Welsh (although applications from Welsh charities must still be made in English).

All applications are considered on an individual basis; the Trustees do not consider funding requests made within a minimum of 12 months of the outcome of a previous application but, in relation to funding for core and project costs, they will consider providing funds to be spread over a period of years. Whenever possible, visits and/or meetings are made by Trustees and/or the Director or one of the other members of the Foundation's grants team in order to gain a better understanding of applicants' requirements. Regular contact is maintained with recipients of grants for monitoring purposes, while also taking care to minimise the reporting burden on the recipient charities.

In order to provide further transparency in the grant-making process, the Foundation publishes its grants through 360Giving. It also commissions independent reviews of grant-giving initiatives in order to assess their effectiveness and to improve the experience for both successful and unsuccessful applicants. These findings are published and shared openly and made accessible on the website.

Public benefit

The Trustees have complied with section 2(1)(b) of the Charities Act 2011, having due regard to the Charity Commission's guidance on public benefit when reviewing the Foundation's aims and objectives, when setting the grant-making policy and in making awards.

Achievements and performance

Despite the current economic uncertainty, Wittington Investments Limited has managed to increase its dividend payments to the Foundation so that the Foundation has been able to provide funding of over £100 million across a broad range of charitable purposes at a time when the sector, and those whom it supports, continue to be in need.

Some of the valuable charities and projects which have been funded by the Foundation are described in more detail in the Director's Report from page 12.

Investment performance

The Trustees are satisfied that the investment structure (represented by the Wittington group of companies) which was contributed by Garfield W Weston to the Foundation in 1958 remains a sustainable long-term model, particularly in terms of providing a regular and reliable income stream to enable the Foundation to fulfil its charitable purposes. The value of the group of companies (which is heavily influenced by the share price of Associated British Foods) continues to fluctuate in line with equity markets generally, but the Trustees remain confident that any such fluctuations will not have a lasting effect on the Foundation's ability to provide support to grant applicants.

As at 5 April 2024 the Investec portfolio was valued at over £76.8 million (2023: £72.4 million). At 4.5% per annum, 5 year annualised returns net of fees was below the portfolio return target of RPI plus 4% (10%), but the Trustees recognise the challenges posed by this target in the current period of inflation.

Moreover, the portfolio outperformed the ARC (Asset Risk Consultants) Charity Steady Growth Index (the average volatility of which is similar to that of the portfolio) over the same period, with a 5 year annualised return of 4.5% per annum as compared with a return of 4.2% for the Index. The annual income distributions to the Foundation from the Investec portfolio totalled £1.7 million (2023: £2.0 million).

The Oxford University Endowment Management (OUem) fund offers an alternative form of investment in a broad range of asset classes, focusing on real returns in excess of inflation and therefore fits well with the Trustees' target return for investments. As at 5 April 2024 the Foundation's investment in the fund was valued at £25.7 million (2023: £23.8 million). The five-year annualised return for the fund to 31 March 2024 was 7.3% per annum – also below the portfolio return target of RPI plus 4% (10%).

The value of the Foundation's investment in the Savills' Charities Property Fund was £5.65 million as at 5 April 2024 (2023: £5.99 million), with an income yield of 4%.

Further analysis of the investment assets can be found in Note 9 to the Financial Statements. A copy of Wittington Investments Limited's accounts for the year to 16 September 2023 can be obtained from Companies House.

Financial review

In accordance with the required accounting policy, grants are recognised in the statement of financial activities when approved by the Trustees and communicated to the recipients, irrespective of the future period over which payments are to be made, and the obligations outstanding at the year end are recognised as creditors.

Costs

These continue to be very low in relation to the levels of income and donations made and are kept under review by the Director and Trustees to ensure they remain lean as a proportion of grant expenditure.

Reserves

The Trustees' policy is to maintain reserves of approximately 50% of the Foundation's annual income bearing in mind the general timing of income receipts, their general pattern of giving and the current economic climate. At £32.1 million (2023: £22.0 million) total income reserves at the end of the year represented 29% of the Foundation's income in the year – well below the Trustees' 50% policy – and this will be taken into account when assessing levels of grant-making for the following financial year.

Investment objectives

The Trustees' investment objectives in relation to their non-Wittington group assets as set out in the policy statement are to preserve the 'real' (i.e. inflation-adjusted) value of its investments.

This involves adopting a relatively conservative investment strategy, investing in a balanced portfolio without geographical, currency or sector restriction, subject to the terms of a Charity Commission Order dated 19 September 2001. The primary benchmark for investment performance remains at RPI plus 4% over a rolling three year period, although comparison is also made on an annual basis with the ARC (Asset Risk Consultants) Charity Steady Growth Index for Investec and, in the case of OUem, the MSCI All Country World Index.

The Trustees are satisfied that the two investment managers have suitable policies in place regarding their stock selection to ensure that this complies with the latest ESG practices and they continue to keep this under review. The Trustees' principal investment, namely Associated British Foods plc, is a highly diversified global company with an extensive and practical approach to responsible business. The Trustees have a direct line of sight into this business, making the Foundation's approach to responsible investment more transparent and with a higher degree of clarity than other models might afford.

Plans for future periods

Rising levels of inflation continue to have a significant impact on all areas of the sector, but with particular significance for charities which support the most vulnerable in our society as well as for those undertaking capital projects. The Foundation will continue to do its best to react to the changing needs of the charitable sector and to provide support where it is most needed and can be utilised most effectively to make a difference.

The Trustees will continue to maintain their ability to respond promptly and effectively to the requests in support of a broad range of charitable causes, relying upon the consistent performance of the Foundation's endowment and upon prudent management of its income reserves.

Trustees' responsibilities for the financial statements

The Trustees are responsible for preparing the Trustees' Annual Report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

The law applicable to charities in England and Wales requires the Trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial year which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charity and of the incoming resources and application of resources of the charity for that period. In preparing these financial statements, the Trustees are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently
- observe the methods and principles in the Charities SORP
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent
- state whether applicable accounting standards and statements of recommended practice have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charity will continue in operation

The Trustees are responsible for keeping proper records which disclose with reasonable accuracy the financial position of the charity and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Charities Act 2011, the Charity (Accounts and Reports) Regulations 2008 and the provisions of the Trust Deed. They are also responsible for safeguarding the charity's assets and hence taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and breaches of law and regulations.

The Trustees are responsible for the maintenance and integrity of the charity and financial information included on the charity's website. Legislation in the United Kingdom governing the preparation and dissemination of financial statements may differ from legislation in other jurisdictions.

Director's report

In my final annual report for the Foundation, I am thrilled to say we have completed yet another record year, with over £100 million in donations to nearly 1,800 charities across the country; demonstrating both the extent of the need and the amount of great work taking place. It is truly exciting for us to break the £100 million milestone and to partner with so many charities, large and small, some of which we have known for a long time and others which are new relationships – both are equally welcome and valued.

This report pays tribute to the extraordinary and skilled work taking place by volunteers in charities across the country. The case studies on the following pages showcase volunteering as this year's key theme. We have chosen to use these examples to highlight the role of the volunteer in this year's report precisely because there are so many challenges in society currently and the news is often hard to hear; and yet we have much to be grateful for. We are therefore celebrating the dedication of volunteers who give so much to help others, and who typically report that doing so gives them enjoyment, fresh skills and a valuable sense of community and purpose.

In highlighting volunteers, it is also important to note the skill of employed staff who recruit, train, support and inspire others to give their time and talents for the benefit of others. We speak to, and meet with, volunteers doing important work every single day and it is abundantly clear that the giving of time and expertise is a wonderful part of our society, embedded into so much of our lives, but which is often less visible and under-recognised. From the person who helps us navigate the maze of hospital corridors while visiting a loved-one, the expert who passionately brings a museum or gallery visit to life, boards of Trustees navigating many challenges and those supporting young people and the vulnerable, amongst many others; we are very fortunate that so many people give their time and skills with such commitment.

For us, there is no such thing as an 'average' grant, though we are often asked this question. This is because every grant reflects the scale and scope of each charity, or the focus of work it is applying for. Our Trustees look at every charitable organisation and application on its individual merits, and they take great care to be as generous as possible while being mindful that creating dependence is not healthy, and nor is it efficient or effective to duplicate work already taking place. This approach enables the Foundation to support organisations of all sizes in a flexible way and not to restrict applications only to those that meet limited criteria.

In marking a record year for donations, I also wish to say how grateful I am to the small but dedicated team at the Foundation who are so focused on supporting the charitable sector and ensuring the donations made by our Trustees are managed smoothly, and that clear, straightforward advice and support is offered to those who get in touch with us. In many ways, our objective as a team is clear and simple – to enable great charities to have a fair chance to apply for the funding the Foundation has available, and to support the Trustees in their decision making. Inevitably, there is much work behind this apparent simplicity but, nonetheless, keeping things simple is something we continually challenge ourselves to maintain and improve.

I conclude with thanks, not only to our experienced Trustees and knowledgeable team, but especially to our partner charities who remain focused and upbeat in the face of myriad challenges. It is their positive attitude, skill and dedication that inspires us every day.

Whether it's mentoring disadvantaged children, providing sanctuary for the homeless, fundraising for local welfare charities or visiting an isolated elderly person, volunteering has the power to transform the lives of individuals, of our communities and our society. Volunteering is the backbone of the charity sector; without people giving generously of their time, many of our country's vital charities, and especially the smaller ones, would find it a challenge to maintain the breadth of their work.

Volunteering was at the forefront of the response to the Covid-19 pandemic, however this level of volunteering has not been maintained; many charities are currently struggling to recruit and retain volunteers. The 2023 Voluntary Community and Social Enterprise Sector Barometer[1] found that four in 10 charities cite that a lack of volunteers over the previous year had stopped them from meeting key objectives.

1 www.ntu.ac.uk/research/groups-and-centres/projects/vcse-data-and-insights-national-observatory/vcse-barometer-survey

In addition to decreased levels of volunteering, the voluntary sector is struggling with reduced income and an increase in demand for services. Yet research shows that the more than 14 million people in the UK who are volunteering experience a significant range of positive impacts from improved mental and physical health, reduced isolation, and improved employability.

We recognise on a daily basis the enormous value that volunteering has for our charity partners and their beneficiaries. We hope you enjoy reading about the different ways a small selection of our charity partners work with volunteers to deliver their vital work and to transform the lives of other people.

volunteers from local choirs who sing with over 1,000 prisoners each year are at the heart of this process.

How do volunteers help?

Many of the prisoners the charity work with are estranged from their family and friends and volunteers not only sing with inmates, but help them to read lyrics, listen to them, provide comfort and vital moments of humanity. Upon release from prison, many ex-prisoners join their local community choirs to access a familiar supportive group and by returning to prison as volunteer singers, they have successfully transformed their lives and are powerful role models to others.

Outcomes

- Liberty Choir's model is proven to work, with less than 3% of Liberty Choir graduates re-offending upon release (compared to the national average of around 25%). Without the dedication and compassion of Liberty Choir volunteers, this simply would not be possible.

Hope Into Action

www.hopeintoaction.org.uk/

Hope Into Action (HIA) provides more than just a house. It provides homes, support and stability for hundreds of vulnerable and disadvantaged people across the UK. In 2010, the charity's founder used his own money to buy one house in Peterborough for people who were homeless. Since then, the charity has grown to a network of over 115 houses in over 35 towns and cities across the UK, all partnered with a local church.

HIA has a simple and scalable model; it works alongside individuals to invest their finances to buy a property, which is then leased to the charity. HIA houses people affected by homelessness and provides professional support to tenants through its empowerment workers, which is all supported by partner churches and volunteer Friendship and Support (F&S) groups.

How do volunteers help?

Partnering churches provide the volunteer F&S teams, without whom HIA's reach would not be possible. These volunteers are a vital part of HIA by supporting people throughout their journey with HIA. By devoting their time, the volunteers make a positive impact on the tenants' lives through listening, caring and accepting tenants for who they are and where they have come from, all without judgement. Together with its church partners and volunteers, HIA provides loving homes for over 400 tenants every night; those who have been rough sleeping, sofa surfers, fleeing domestic violence, victims of trafficking, ex-prisoners, refugees and those seeking to overcome addiction.

Outcomes

- Last year, 93% of tenants retained their tenancy and 92% of ex-offender tenants did not reoffend.
- To date, the charity has worked mainly in the South and Midlands and has ambitions to extend into the North of England, Scotland and Northern Ireland.

Home-Start Exeter, East & Mid-Devon

homestarteemd.org.uk/

Home-Start is a local community network of trained volunteers who visit families with young children in their own homes, helping them through challenging times. These families are struggling with a range of challenges including depression, isolation, and mental and physical health problems. Home-Start Exeter, East & Mid-Devon operates in a region characterised by low wages, high levels of part-time working and pockets of deprivation, particularly in isolated rural communities; low-income households represent 80% of referrals the charity receives.

How do volunteers help?

Volunteering is central to the Home-Start model. Home-Start Exeter, East & Mid-Devon say that volunteers are the backbone of their service. Across the UK, via 180 local, independent Home-Starts, thousands of trained home-visiting volunteers support over 43,600 families. Volunteers are usually parents themselves and bring with them personal experience, parenting skills, and knowledge of the resources available within their local area. They are friendly and approachable and can be relied on and trusted by parents to listen without being judgemental, and to respect the needs of each individual family.

Outcomes

- Last year, Home-Start Exeter, East & Mid-Devon supported over 100 families, 100% of which would recommend the charity to other families. This reach and quality is thanks to the commitment of the charity's 39 trained volunteers who, with the support of the charity, were able to donate over 5,000 hours of time.

> Thank you Garfield Weston Foundation for enabling us to make such a difference to so many families' lives by supporting our core costs. Our trained and supported volunteers build a relationship with the family and help them to achieve small steps, such as getting out to the park with three under-fives or playing confidently with their child.

- In addition to the significant value volunteers add to families' lives, they enjoy a range of benefits personally. For some, it is a way of returning to education, for others, it is a way of keeping active after retirement, and for many their volunteering experience increases their skills and helps them move into paid employment.

Keep Britain Tidy

www.keepbritaintidy.org/

For 70 years, Keep Britain Tidy has worked to create a clean and healthy environment, rich in wildlife and valued by people who love where they live. It tackles the big global environmental challenges of climate change, loss of biodiversity and environmental degradation through small, local actions delivered by thousands of volunteers via the charity's numerous volunteer programmes in communities across England. It works with businesses, government and communities to help people understand what's good for the environment and the daily actions we can all take towards this.

Keep Britain Tidy is perhaps best known for its work against litter. Littering is the most widespread form of anti-social activity in Britain and over 2 million pieces of litter are

Keep Britain Tidy has a range of litter reduction programmes including its annual 'Great British Spring Clean' campaign and its structured volunteer programme, #LitterHeroes.

#LitterHeroes inspires and empowers thousands of volunteers to remove litter from their local environment and to become environmental changemakers in their communities. The charity is committed to expanding this groundswell movement of local environmental volunteers and encourages us all to take part in improving the environment on our own doorsteps.

Outcomes

- Over 6,500 people make up the powerful network of local environmental activists.
- #LitterHeroes collectively removed over 75,000 bags of litter across nine English regions last year.

Bookmark Reading

www.bookmarkreading.org/

Bookmark Reading was established in 2018, with the mission to give children in school years 1-5 the reading skills and confidence they need for a fair chance in life. Currently, at least one in four children are leaving primary school unable to read well, something that disproportionately impacts children from disadvantaged backgrounds. Only 10% of these children go on to pass English and Maths GCSE, which can have significant impact on their life chances; people with poor literacy skills are more likely to be unemployed, have low incomes, poor health and lower life expectancy[1].

Bookmark Reading's approach is based in research that shows that reading for pleasure helps to tackle this literacy gap and helps children to make progress at school not just in reading, but across the curriculum.

How do volunteers help?

Volunteers are a crucial part of Bookmark Reading's model. The charity carefully recruits and trains volunteers before matching them to a child who needs additional support with their reading. Together, they complete a reading programme over six weeks, helping the child to enjoy reading and become a better, more confident reader. The charity's model focuses on online engagement which enables volunteers to give their time during their busy work days. They also donate their time to work with several of the charity's partner schools to create inspiring reading spaces and libraries so that children have the books, resources and environment that they need to succeed.

Bookmark Reading is keen to address the sector-wide challenge of a shortage of volunteers, is conducting a review of its volunteer attraction, recruitment and onboarding processes and is trialling new initiatives to give greater flexibility to corporate volunteers and to attract sixth form students as volunteer readers.

Bookmark Reading

Outcomes

- Last year, the charity's volunteers delivered more than 20,000 hours of one-to-one reading support to children nationwide.
- Volunteers helped to deliver Bookmark Reading's free Story Corner magazine, designed for the one in five children aged 5–10 who do not have a book of their own at home, and packed 1,500 Story Starter bags ready for children starting school in September last year.

Circles South East

circlessoutheast.org.uk/

Established in 2002, Circles South East deliver a highly successful programme that reduces reoffending by creating supportive circles to help people who have committed sexual offences to safely reintegrate back into the community. The charity provides a range of interventions to support both survivors and perpetrators in their recovery, rehabilitation and reintegration, recognising that each person has a unique set of personal circumstances that need a tailored response to be successful.

How do volunteers help?

Volunteers are key to Circles South East's successful approach. Its volunteers come from all walks of life but share a common passion to end sexual harm and sexual violence, and a belief that, to do so, solutions must go beyond the initial removal from society and the shaming of perpetrators. Its volunteers receive comprehensive vetting and training before engaging with service users and are provided with supervision, support and ongoing training. The volunteers report that participating in the successful rehabilitation and reintegration of an individual who poses a risk back into the community is an incredibly rewarding process, but the impact of volunteering with the charity goes further. They frequently follow a path from volunteering to careers in criminal justice and say that their time with Circles helped them find employment.

Outcomes

- Circles South East service users benefit greatly from the input of volunteers, and frequently report how grateful they are that volunteers share their time with them. The impact of representatives of the local community being willing to listen is the vital ingredient behind why the charity's approach is so effective.
- Over the last 12 months, 240 service users were able to access support services, of whom 115 received specialist support and intervention from the Community Hub, receiving counselling and participating in protective adult groupwork programmes.

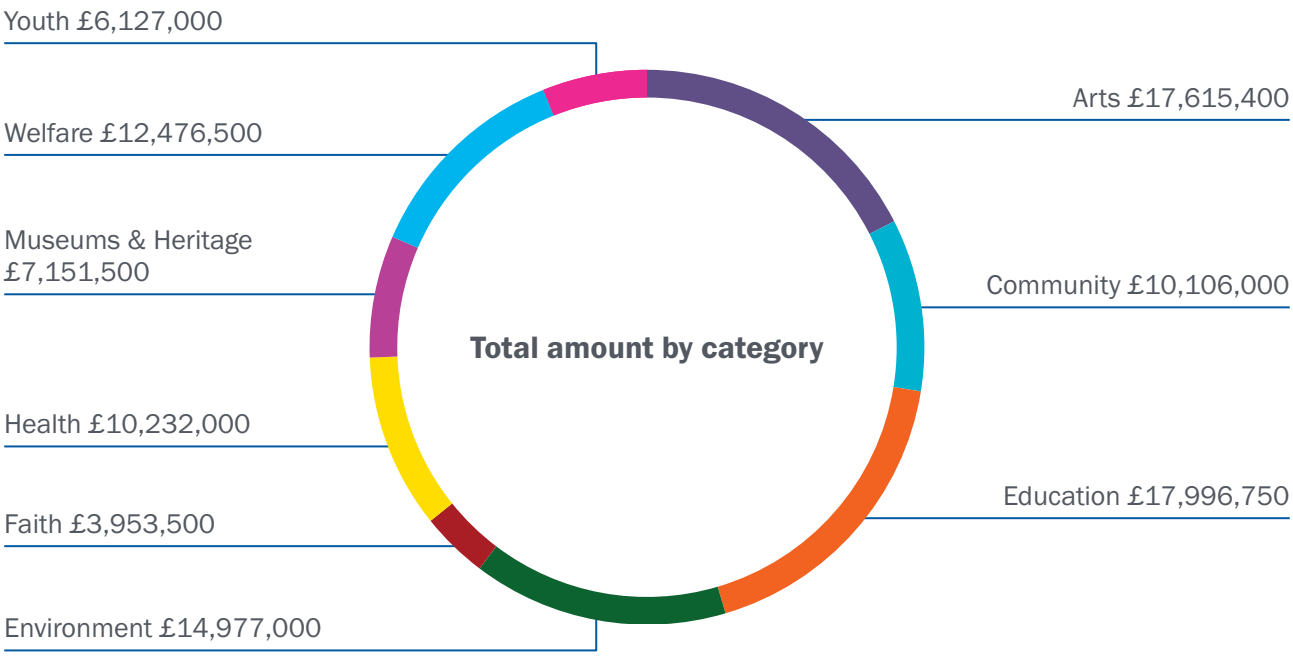

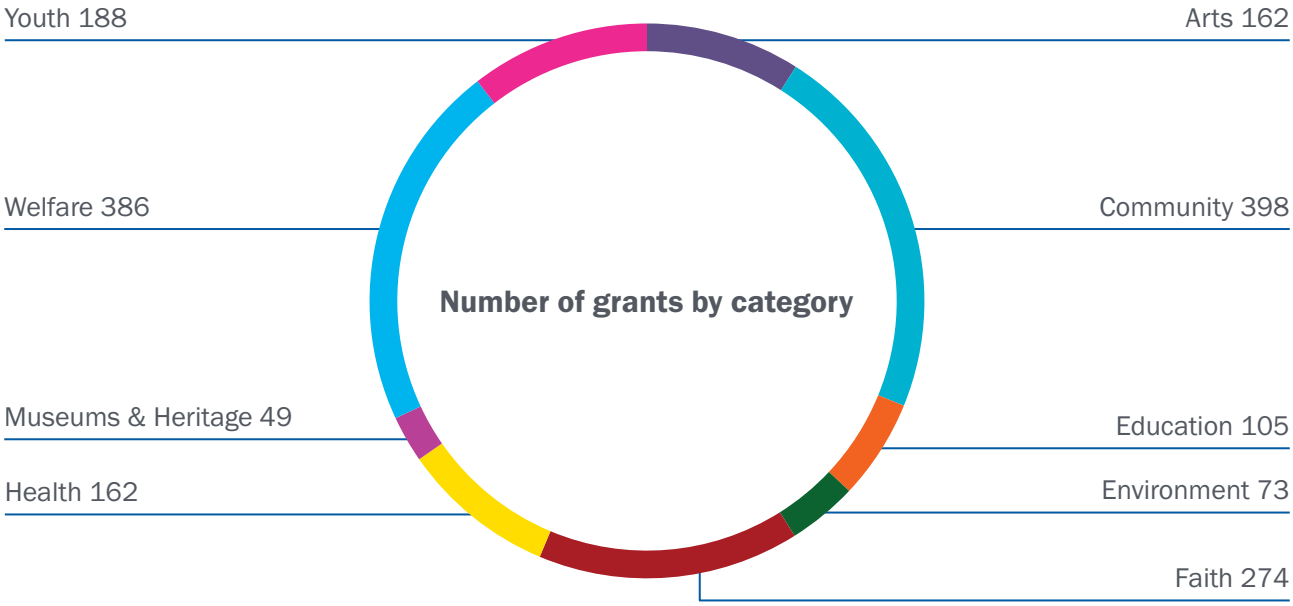

Circles South East

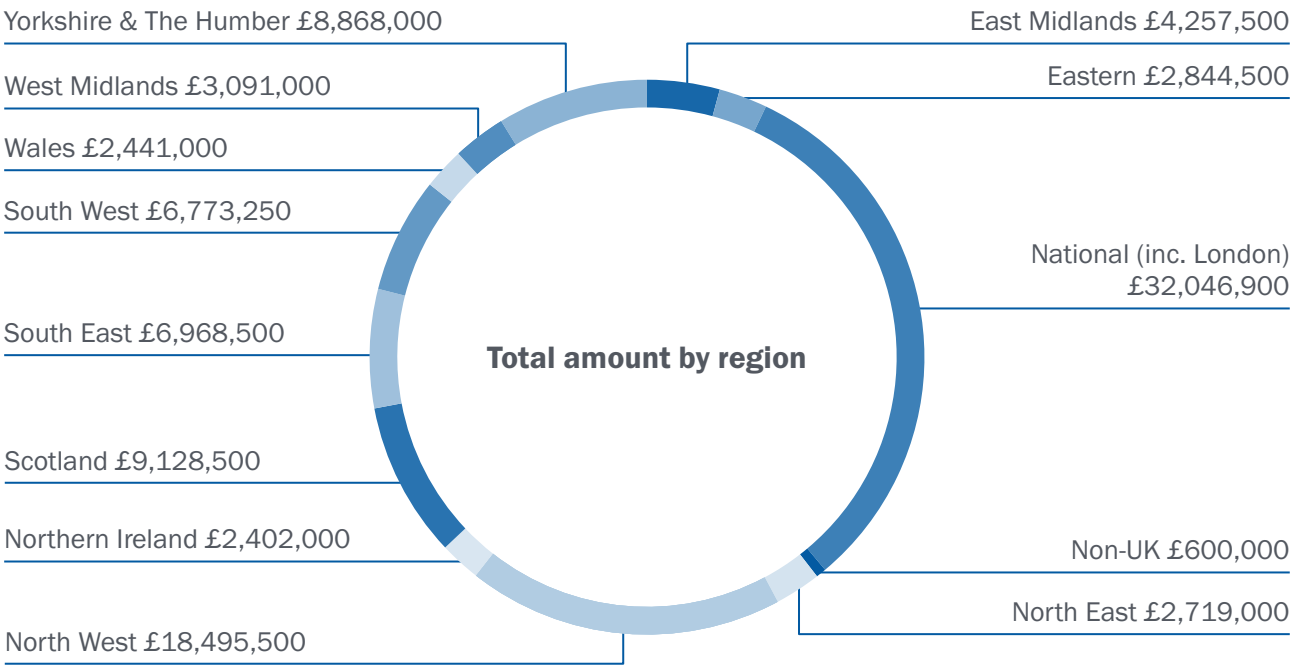

> Our primary purpose is to provide a comprehensive package of support to all whose lives have been impacted by sexual harm and sexual violence. We support people affected by sexual abuse in their recovery and work to reduce the instances of sexual abuse. Through the continued support from Garfield Weston Foundation, we currently have over 500 community volunteers providing support across the region; volunteers continue to be at the heart of everything that we do. Their enthusiasm and dedication are crucial to the success of the charity.

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Garfield Weston Foundation (the charity) for the year ended 5 April 2024 which comprise the Statement of Financial Activities, the Balance Sheet, the Cashflow Statement and notes to the financial statements, including significant accounting policies. The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards, including FRS 102 The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

In our opinion the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the state of the charity's affairs as at 5 April 2024 and of its incoming resources and application of resources for the year then ended
- have been properly prepared in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice
- have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Charities Act 2011

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK) (ISA (UK)) and applicable law. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the charity in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in the UK, including the FRC's Ethical Standard, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Conclusions relating to going concern

In auditing the financial statements, we have concluded that the Trustees' use of the going concern basis of accounting in the preparation of the financial statement is appropriate.

Based on the work we have performed, we have not identified any material uncertainties relating to events or conditions that, individually or collectively, may cast significant doubt on the charity's ability to continue as a going concern for a period of at least twelve months from when the financial statements are authorised for issue.

Our responsibilities and the responsibilities of the Trustees with respect to going concern are described in the relevant sections of this report.

Other information

The other information comprises the information included in the annual report other than the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. The Trustees are responsible for the other information contained within the financial statements. Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and, except to the extent otherwise explicitly stated in our report, we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

Our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the course of the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify such material inconsistencies or apparent material misstatements, we are required to determine whether there is a material misstatement in the financial statements or a material misstatement of the other information. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Matters on which we are required to report by exception

In the light of the knowledge and understanding of the charity and its environment obtained in the course of the audit, we have not identified material misstatements in the Trustees' report. We have nothing to report in respect of the following matters where the Charities Act 2011 requires us to report to you if, in our opinion:

- adequate accounting records have not been kept, or returns adequate for our audit have not been received from branches not visited by us
- the financial statements are not in agreement with the accounting records and returns
- certain disclosures of Trustees' remuneration specified by law are not made
- we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit

Responsibilities of Trustees

As explained more fully in the Trustees' responsibilities statement set out on page 9, the Trustees are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view, and for such internal control as the Trustees determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the Trustees are responsible for assessing the charity's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Trustees either intend to liquidate the charity or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditors' responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

We have been appointed as auditor under section 151 of the Charities Act 2011 and report in accordance with the Act and relevant regulations made or having effect thereunder.

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (UK) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

Details of the extent to which the audit was considered capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud and non-compliance with laws and regulations are set out below.

A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements is located on the Financial Reporting Council's website at: www.frc.org.uk/auditorsresponsibilities This description forms part of our auditor's report.

Extent to which the audit was considered capable of detecting irregularities including fraud

Irregularities, including fraud, are instances of non-compliance with laws and regulations. We design procedures in line with our responsibilities, outlined above, to detect material misstatements in respect of irregularities, including fraud. The extent to which our procedures are capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud is detailed below

Based on our understanding of the charity and the industry in which it operates, we identified that the principal risks of non-compliance with laws and regulations related to the acts by the charity, which were contrary to applicable laws and regulations including fraud, and we considered the extent to which non-compliance might have a material effect on the financial statements. We also considered those laws and regulations that have a direct impact on the preparation of the financial statements such as the Charities Act 2011.

We evaluated management's incentives and opportunities for manipulation of the financial statements (including the risk of override of controls), and determined that the principal risk related to the valuation of the unquoted investment in Wittington Investments Limited ('Wittington') of which the Foundation owns 683,073 50p ordinary shares (79.2%).

The valuation of Wittington requires significant estimation as it is an unquoted company and there is no readily identifiable market price for its shares. Accordingly, the value of the Foundation's investment has been assessed by the Trustees on the basis of the share of the value of the underling net assets of Wittington attributable to the Foundation's holding as at 5 April 2024. As Whittington's financial statements are audited as at 16 September 2023, there is a varying degree of estimation required to assess the net asset value as at 5 April 2024 and therefore there is more potential for misstatement in this area.

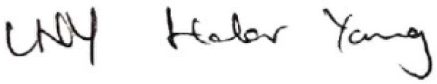

We assessed Management's valuation methodology and considered whether it was in accordance with the accounting policies of the Foundation, applicable accounting standards and industry practice. Wittington's principal asset is a majority holding (56.2%) in Associated British Foods plc. Therefore, the value of the Foundation's investment in Wittington is driven predominantly by the Associated British Foods plc share price as at 5 April 2024. As the shares are listed on the London Stock Exchange, the value of this holding can be determined easily.

Other audit procedures performed included: review of the financial statement disclosures to underlying supporting documentation to assess compliance with relevant laws and regulations, review of minutes of meetings held by those charged with governance, enquiries of management and testing of journals and evaluating whether there was evidence of bias by the Trustees that represented a risk of material misstatement due to fraud.

There are inherent limitations in the audit procedures described above and the further removed non-compliance with laws and regulations is from the events and transactions reflected in the financial statements, the less likely we would become aware of it. Also, the risk of not detecting a material misstatement due to fraud is higher than the risk of not detecting one resulting from error, as fraud may involve deliberate concealment by, for example, forgery or intentional misrepresentations, or through collusion.

Use of our report

This report is made solely to the charity's Trustees, as a body, in accordance with Chapter 3 of Part 8 of the Charities Act 2011 and regulations made under section 154 of that Act. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the charity's Trustees those matters we are required to state to them in an auditor's report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the charity and the charity's Trustees as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.

Notes to the financial statements for the year ended 5 April 2024

1 Accounting policies

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with applicable UK accounting standards (UK Generally Accepted Accounting Practice), including Financial Reporting Standard FRS 102 'The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the United Kingdom and the Republic of Ireland' ("FRS 102"). In particular, they comply with the Charities Act 2011 and the Statement of Recommended Practice 'Accounting and Reporting by Charities (the "SORP").

The financial statements have been prepared to give a 'true and fair' view and have departed from the Charities (Accounts and Report) Regulations 2008 only to the extent required to provide a 'true and fair' view. This departure has involved following the Charities SORP (FRS 102).

Garfield Weston Foundation ('the Foundation') constitutes a public benefit entity as defined by FRS 102. The financial statements are prepared on the historical cost basis except that certain financial instruments are stated at fair value.

The financial statements have been prepared in sterling, which is the functional currency of the Foundation. Monetary amounts in these financial statements are rounded to £'000s.

The particular accounting policies adopted by the Trustees are described below:

a Going concern

After making enquiries, the Trustees have a reasonable expectation that the Foundation has adequate resources to continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future. For this reason they continue to adopt the going concern basis in preparing the consolidated financial statements.

Having reviewed the best estimate of future cash flows to October 2025, and having applied reverse stress tests, the possibility that the financial headroom could be exhausted is considered to be extremely remote. The Trustees understand the risks, sensitivities and judgements included in the cash flow forecast and have a high degree of confidence in these cash flows. There is substantial financial headroom between this cash flow forecast and the cash on hand and funding available to the Foundation over the period.

b Incoming resources

Dividends are included when received. Interest receivable on fixed interest securities and bank deposits is included on an accruals basis. All incoming resources are recognised once the Charity has entitlement to the resources, it is probable that the resources will be received, and the monetary value of incoming resources can be measured with sufficient reliability.

c Resources expended and irrecoverable VAT

Liabilities are recognised as resources expended as soon as there is a legal or constructive obligation committing the Charity to the expenditure. All expenditure is accounted for on an accruals basis and has been classified under headings that aggregate all costs related to the category.

Grants awarded are charged in the year when formally awarded by the Trustees and communicated to the recipient irrespective of the period covered by the donation as they are regarded by the Trustees as financial obligations.

Irrecoverable VAT is charged against the category of resources expended, for which it was incurred.

d Allocation of overhead and support costs

Overhead and support costs are allocated first between charitable activity and governance. Overhead and support costs relating to charitable activities have been apportioned based on the value of individual grant awards made as it is considered that more is spent awarding, monitoring and assessing grants of greater value. The allocation of overhead and support costs is analysed in note 5.

e Costs of generating funds

The costs of generating funds consist of investment management fees and commissions.

f Charitable activities

Costs of charitable activities include grants made and an apportionment of overhead and support costs as shown in notes 3 and 4.

g Governance costs

Governance costs comprise all costs involving the public accountability of the Charity and its compliance with regulation and good practice. These costs include costs related to statutory audit and legal fees together with an apportionment of overhead and support costs.

h Interest in Wittington Investments Limited

At 5 April 2024 the Foundation owned 79.2% (2023: 79.2%) of Wittington Investments Limited ('Wittington'), a company registered in England. Wittington is the ultimate holding company of Associated British Foods plc ('ABF'), and a wide range of investments including Fortnum & Mason plc and Heal's plc, one hotel, a real estate portfolio and significant financial investments. ABF is listed on the London Stock Exchange. The Foundation receives its income from Wittington Investments Limited by way of dividends and records its investment in that company at the Trustees' valuation.

As the activities of Wittington and its subsidiaries are fundamentally different from the activities of the Foundation, consolidated accounts have not been prepared as the Trustees are of the opinion that the adopted policy gives a true and fair view of the Foundation's assets and sources of income. Details of the consolidated accounts of Wittington are shown in note 9 to these accounts. The Trustees have agreed this policy with the Charity Commission.

i Investments

Non-current and current investments are stated at market value as at the balance sheet date. The statement of financial activities includes the net gains and losses arising on revaluation and disposals throughout the year. Certain bonds are classified as current investments as they are expected to be realised within 12 months of the reporting date.

j Realised gains and losses

All gains and losses are taken to the statement of financial activities as they arise. Realised gains and losses on investments are calculated as the difference between sales proceeds and opening market value. Unrealised gains and losses are calculated as the difference between the market value at the year end and opening market value. Realised and unrealised gains are not separated in the Statement of financial activities.

k Fund accounting

Details of the nature and purpose of each fund are set out in note 12.

l Financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are shown in note 8 to these accounts and are recognised when the Foundation becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

Financial assets which qualify as basic financial instruments, including trade and other receivables and cash, are subsequently valued at amortised cost and assessed for impairment at the end of each reporting period.

Other financial assets, including investments, are subsequently valued at fair value.

Financial liabilities are classified according to the substance of the contractual arrangements entered into. All financial assets and liabilities are initially measured at transaction price including transaction costs, except for those financial assets classified as at fair value through profit or loss, which are initially measured at fair value. If an arrangement constitutes a financing transaction, the financial asset or financial liability is measured at the present value of the future payments discounted at a market rate of interest for a similar debt instrument.

Financial assets are derecognised only when either the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire or are settled or all of the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset are substantially transferred to another party.

Financial liabilities are derecognised only when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged, cancelled or expires.

Investments are stated at market value at the balance sheet date. The market values of the managed portfolios are advised by the portfolio managers. The statement of financial activities includes the net gains and losses arising in revaluation and disposals through the year.

- Quoted investments comprise publicly quoted, listed securities including shares, bonds and units. Quoted investments are stated at fair value at the balance sheet date.
- Unquoted investments are valued at the Trustees' best estimate of fair value as explained in note 9.

4 Analysis of charitable expenditure

The Charity undertook no direct charitable activities but awarded grants to a number of institutions in furtherance of its charitable activities. As a consequence of supporting charitable organisations, the Foundation achieves public benefit. The Foundation's grant policy is to accept only appeals from UK registered charities. Registration provides an element of assurance of public benefit, although for charities registered before the implementation of the Charities Act 2006 the public benefit was a presumption.

Unlisted investments

The unlisted investments comprise 683,073 50p ordinary shares (79.2%) of Wittington Investments Limited, an unquoted company, see note 1 (h).

The business of Wittington is the management of investments in a wide range of assets. As it is an unquoted company there is no readily identifiable market price for its shares. Accordingly, the value of the Foundation's investments has been assessed by the Trustees on the basis of the share of the value of the underlying net assets of Wittington attributable to the Foundation's holding.

At 5 April 2024, Wittington's principal asset is a holding of 56.2% (2023: 56.1%) of the issued ordinary capital of ABF which is listed on The London Stock Exchange. In assessing the value of the underlying net assets of Wittington, the value of its investment in ABF has been based on the closing price as at 5 April 2024.

In addition, Wittington holds a wide range of other assets managed in four different business segments:

- Luxury Retail: comprising the 100% ownership of Fortnum & Mason and Heal's, two long established retailers.
- Real Estate: investing in high-quality investment properties in the retail, office and distribution sectors across the UK. Wittington also takes strategic positions in selective development opportunities, alongside local partners or sector specialists. The portfolio is held at cost less provision for impairment within the financial statements. The third-party valuations prepared at 16 September 2023 were considerably higher than this carrying value when considering the portfolio in total. The Trustees do not expect material movement in the market value of the properties compared to the valuation as at 16 September 2023.
- Hotel: as an extension of its Real Estate strategy, Wittington owns the Richmond Hill Hotel.
- Private Markets & Other Investments: Wittington invests both directly and via externally managed funds in private equity, private debt and fixed income markets. Other investments are principally composed of liquid investments in short-dated investment grade bonds and listed equities.

The most recent financial year end for Wittington was 16 September 2023. As such, aside from the investment in ABF, Wittington's remaining investments have been valued using net asset values in the 31 March 2024 management accounts, which are considered to be their fair values. At 5 April 2024, the fair value of Wittington including ABF is considered to be £12.6 billion and the Foundation's share of this (79.2%) is £9.98 billion.

The Trustees have no current intention of disposing of the interest in Wittington.

Permanent endowment

The permanent endowment funds comprise the original capital fund, and gains thereto, established to provide income for grant payments in accordance with the objectives of the Foundation. The capital may not be converted into income. The funds are represented by the investments included in fixed assets. Unrealised gains on revaluation of these investments are credited to the funds.

Unrestricted expendable capital

In accordance with the authority given to the Trustees under an Order of the Charity Commission dated 19 September 2001, £65,747,000 was transferred to an expendable capital fund in relation to which income and capital are distributable at the discretion of the Trustees. £5 million was invested in 2001/02 in the Charities Property Fund and £60 million was invested in 2002/03 with investment managers in balanced portfolios on a discretionary total return basis. Income and investment gains and losses are taken to this fund and the amount allocated to income by the Trustees, £2,142,625 (2023: £2,250,643), is shown as a transfer to the income fund.

Unrestricted income funds

The income of the Foundation is expendable at the discretion of the Trustees in furtherance of the objects of the Foundation. Gains on investments held in the income funds are credited to these funds.

Chair's introduction

As the Chair of the Foundation, I am pleased to introduce the Annual Report of the Trustees for the year to 5 April 2023.

The Foundation is a family founded grant-maker, endowed by my grandfather in 1958. In accordance with his wishes the Foundation's Trustees are his descendants, and we are proud to be stewards of the commitment which he made to the charity sector in the UK, and which has enabled us to grow donations each year to charities across the country. We believe strongly in the power of philanthropic institutions that can take a long-term time horizon as we know that many charities value funding from organisations like the Foundation to deliver their vital work across the UK and that this support can be challenging to secure.

We build long-term and thoughtful relationships with our grantees, working closely with them through good times and more difficult times. We have a clearly articulated grant-making philosophy which focuses on our core values of respect, humility and trust. We work in a straightforward and transparent way. For example, we seek to make our application process as straightforward as possible, allowing charities to devote more time to their work, not fundraising. We ask for simple annual grant reports that focus on key outcomes so we can learn from them, rather than overburdening charities with complex and bespoke reporting. We are flexible – we can fund a specific project, but equally we can and do make grants for core costs, recognising that our grantees know best how to help their beneficiaries and communities, not us. We do not predetermine funds by geography or sector; instead responding to what grantees tell us they need.

We continue to have ambitious plans for the coming year as we seek to increase our grants and I am excited to see the continued difference which the Foundation can make to our grantees.

I and my fellow Trustees once again extend our sincere thanks to the Director and her team for their hard work over the previous year and their forward-thinking, flexible and sensitive approach as we move forward with our exciting plans.

Sir Guy H Weston
Chair of the Trustees

Trustees' report

Accounting policies

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the accounting policies set out in the notes to the accounts and comply with the charity's governing document, the Charities Act 2011 and Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland published on 16 July 2014 (FRS102).

Structure, governance and management

Structure

The operation of the Foundation is governed by a Trust Deed dated 10 October 1958.

At 5 April 2023, the Foundation owned 79.2% of Wittington Investments Limited, a company registered in England. Wittington Investments is the ultimate holding company of Associated British Foods plc, which is listed on the London Stock Exchange, Fortnum and Mason plc and Heal's plc. Under the terms of the Trust Deed, the investment in the Wittington Investments Limited group of companies forms the permanent capital endowment of the Foundation and the Trustees may not dispose of that investment except by a unanimous vote of all the Trustees.

Governance and management

In accordance with the Trust Deed, after the death of Mr W Garfield Weston and his wife, their descendants became Trustees. The number of Trustees is limited to ten but must be at least five. If the number of Trustees drops below five, new Trustees fall to be appointed from among the lineal descendants of W Garfield Weston.

Being family members, incoming Trustees are aware of the aims and objectives of the Foundation and the manner in which the Trustees carry out their responsibilities. Nearly all of the Trustees are on the board of other charitable entities either in the UK, the United States or Canada. The Foundation is a member of the Foundations Forum and the Association of Charitable Foundations and also receives the main charities' journals. This ensures that the Trustees are well placed to keep up to date with developments in charity practice and regulations. In addition, the Trustees receive direct information in relation to important areas from both their Secretary, who attends monthly meetings and is a practising lawyer with expertise in the charity sector, and from their auditors UHY Hacker Young LLP.

The Trustees are directly responsible for the management of the Foundation and hold regular meetings in order to consider grant applications for £100,000 or more and to ratify smaller grants which have been made since their previous meeting. Additional meetings are included as required to deal with any time-sensitive funding requests. The initial processing of grant applications is dealt with by an experienced team of staff, but every application is seen by at least one of the Trustees who also actively participate in meetings with, and visits to, applicants. The Trustees also hold an annual meeting in order to adopt the Annual Report and Accounts and to carry out a formal review of the fulfilment of the Foundation's aims and objectives, policies and the investment performance over the year.

Risk management and policies

The Trustees are satisfied that appropriate policies, protection, systems and checks remain in place in order to mitigate exposure to major risks and to ensure that the Foundation operates in accordance with ethical and environmental guidelines and protections. The Director and Secretary review operational risks and policies on an ongoing basis and these are formally considered by the Trustees at their Annual Meeting.

The principal risks relate to investment performance, and operational risks in terms of grant-making arising from system malfunctions or fraudulent applications. There is also a reputational risk for the Foundation in terms of its relationship with the underlying trading activities of companies held through Wittington Investments Limited.

Operational: the computer system and internal procedures, including authorised signatories, are regularly updated and reviewed and all grant applicants are screened by a skilled grants administration team. During the course of the year the arrangements whereby staff are seconded to the Foundation from Wittington Investments Limited have been reviewed and updated to ensure that they comply with all statutory and ethical requirements, including, but not limited to, those under the Data Protection Act 2018 and the Modern Slavery Act 2015, to address EDI-related issues and to provide safeguarding for staff and applicants.

Investments: the Trustees regularly review the performance of the underlying assets and their shareholding in the Wittington Investments Limited group and receive reports directly from those who are managing the businesses. The non-Wittington investments are also managed in accordance with a policy which balances risk with investment returns (see below).

Reputation: the direct involvement of members of the Trustee board in the activities of the Wittington group also enables them to be fully appraised of events which might give rise to unwelcome media attention and hence reputational risks.

Conflicts of interest: the Trustees have in place a detailed policy regarding conflicts of interest, both in terms of their grant-making decisions, and also in terms of the fact that some of them are directors of Wittington group companies; this potential for conflict is carefully managed with proper procedures (including as regards the exercise of the Trustees' voting powers at the Wittington Investments Limited AGM and any other shareholder meetings) and the taking of independent advice where necessary.

Ethical and environment: as well as implementing their own policies to protect the environment (for example, nearly all applications are made online and the Trustees receive meeting papers electronically, thus reducing the need for paper and printing and facilitating remote working), the Trustees also keep under scrutiny the ethical and environmental practices as carried out by the underlying businesses in the Wittington group and their independent investment managers. In relation to its staff secondees, the Foundation adheres to the practices laid down by Wittington Investments Limited and Associated British Foods in connection with the Modern Slavery Act and corporate responsibility – for more details see www.wittington-investments.co.uk/wp-content/uploads/ModernSlaveryHumanTraffickingStatement2023.pdf www.abf.co.uk/responsibility

Equity, Diversity and Inclusion: the Trustees are committed to inclusion in our society; addressing disadvantage and 'levelling the playing field' for all has been a central theme of the Foundation for over six decades as the Foundation values diversity in its widest sense. The Foundation aims to be accessible, transparent and straightforward in its approach to grant-making and actively supports charities which in turn support diverse groups and communities, including those suffering discrimination in all its forms. The Trustees and staff are committed to inclusion and discussion on EDI is continuous to ensure our commitment is embedded on a daily basis. The Trustees continue to monitor the diversity of the Foundation's staff team and the Foundation has a EDI champion who has knowledge and lived experience of EDI issues.

Safeguarding: the Trustees have a safeguarding policy which is aimed at protecting their own staff as well as vulnerable beneficiaries. The Trustees also require grant applicants to confirm that they have appropriate safeguarding policies in place to protect their staff, volunteers and beneficiaries.

Income and grant-making aims and objectives

The Trust Deed contains broad charitable objects which allow the Trustees, at their discretion, to pay or apply the income and, subject to certain restrictions, the capital of the Trust Fund to or for the benefit of any charitable bodies, trusts, associations, institutions or organisations.

Despite the continuing challenges and fluctuations in share prices and dividend levels, total income receipts for the year rose to just over £90 million (2022: £84 million). The Trustees have once again been able to draw on prudent levels of income reserves to make total grants of over £91.14 million in support of 2,147 appeals (2022: £89.88 million in support of 1,988 appeals).

The total outstanding forward commitments at the end of the financial year were just over £52.5 million as compared with just over £48 million in 2022. Commitments consist of future payments of £18 million (2022: £22 million) due to charities under existing multi-year grant arrangements, and pledges of just over £20 million (2022: £26.1 million) that require charities to fulfil specific prerequisite obligations. The increase in future payments reflects a concerted effort on the part of the Trustees over the past year to make longer-term grant commitments given the pressures of inflation. The Trustees' aim is that pledges should not exceed 20% of their annual projected expenditure, but the current figure includes an outstanding significant pledge of £8 million to Moorfields Eye Hospital for a new centre for advancing eye health (which the Trustees felt was important to support at an early stage in order to encourage support from other donors), so the balance is comfortably within the Trustees' target.

While the Trustees were pleased to be able to make some substantial grants for key capital projects, including £2 million to Addenbrooke's Charitable Trust for the new Cambridge Children's Hospital and grants exceeding £1 million for a number of medical, educational and environmental projects, charities remain comparatively cautious in terms of undertaking capital projects and, where these were in contemplation prior to the pandemic, the overall costs of completing the same have risen considerably. The Trustees have therefore done their best to assist with shortfalls and enable such projects finally to move towards completion. The Trustees have also continued to provide support for the core costs of charities which are still suffering from the effects of the Covid-19 pandemic, as well as the rising costs of inflation. See the Director's Report and full list of grants made for more details.

Grant-making policy

The Foundation continues to accept only appeals from UK registered charities. No applications from individuals are considered and the Trustees do not typically fund projects outside the UK, nor do they fund animal charities, unless for the purpose of supporting a specific environmental project or where the main beneficiary is people, such as providing assistance for those with disabilties.

The Trustees' aim is to keep the application process as simple and streamlined as possible. Step-by-step guidelines as to how to make a grant application (more than 95% of which are now submitted online), together with helpful details of the criteria which are taken into consideration when assessing applications and the information which should be submitted with an application, are available on the Foundation's website www.garfieldweston.org

These guidelines are also published in Welsh (although applications from Welsh charities must still be made in English).

All applications are considered on an individual basis; the Trustees do not consider funding requests made within 12 months of the outcome of a previous application, but, in relation to funding for core costs, they will consider providing funds to be spread over a period of years. Whenever possible, visits are made by Trustees and/or the Director or one of the other members of the Foundation's grants team in order to gain a better understanding of applicants' requirements. Regular contact is maintained with recipients of grants for monitoring purposes, while also taking care to minimise the burden on the recipient charities.

In order to provide further transparency in the grant-making process, the Foundation publishes its grants through 360Giving. It also commissions independent reviews of grant-giving initiatives in order to assess their effectiveness and to improve the experience for both successful and unsuccessful applicants. These findings are published and shared openly and made accessible on the website; the most recent report from nfpResearch was published in July 2023.

Public benefit

The Trustees have complied with section 2(1)(b) of the Charities Act 2011, having due regard to the Charity Commission's guidance on public benefit when reviewing the Foundation's aims and objectives, when setting the grant-making policy and in making awards.

Achievements and performance

Despite the current economic uncertainty, Wittington Investments Limited has managed to increase its dividend payments to the Foundation so that the Foundation has been able to continue to provide funding of just over £91.14 million across a broad range of charitable purposes at a time when the sector, and those whom it supports, continue to be in need.

Some of the valuable charities and projects which have been funded by the Foundation are described in more detail in the Director's Report at page 12.

Investment performance

The Trustees are satisfied that the investment structure (represented by the Wittington group of companies) which was contributed by our grandfather to the Foundation remains a sustainable long-term model, particularly in terms of providing a regular and reliable income stream to enable the Foundation to fulfil its charitable purposes. The value of the group of companies (which is directly attributable to the share price of Associated British Foods) continues to fluctuate in line with equity markets generally, but the Trustees remain confident that any such fluctuations will not have a lasting effect on their ability to provide support to grant applicants.

It should be noted that in each financial year for the Foundation there is not a direct correlation between the amounts which Wittington pays by way of dividends and the amounts which are received by the Trustees by reference to their percentage shareholding; this is owing to the fact that the two entities have different accounting year ends.

As at 5 April 2023, the Investec portfolio was valued at over £72.4 million (2022: £77.7 million). Performance net of fees at -4.5% was below the benchmark of RPI plus 4% (+17.9%), but the Trustees recognise the challenges posed by this benchmark in the current period of inflation.

Moreover the portfolio outperformed the ARC (Asset Risk Consultants) Charity Steady Growth Index (the average volatility of which is similar to that of the portfolio), over the year to 5 April 2023 with a loss (net of fees) of 4.5% as compared with a loss of +4.8% for the Index. The annual income distributions to the Foundation from the Investec portfolio totalled £2 milion.

The Oxford University Endowment Management (OUem) fund offers an alternative form of investment in a broad range of asset classes, focusing on real returns in excess of inflation and therefore fits well within the Trustees' benchmark of RPI plus 4%. The three year annualised return to 31 March 2023 for the fund as a whole was 11.1% and was well above the fund's objective of CPI+5%. The distribution policy of OUem is to pay an annual distribution of 4.25% of the fund's NAV over the past 20 quarters which is estimated to yield just over £1 million per annum for the Foundation.

The capital value of the Savills' Charities Property Fund was £5.99 million as at 5 April 2023 (2022: £6.93m), with an income yield of 4%.

Further analysis of the investment assets can be found in Note 9 to the Financial Statements. A copy of Wittington Investments Limited's accounts for the year to 17 September 2023 can be obtained from Companies House.

Financial review

In accordance with required accounting policy, grants are recognised in the statement of financial activities when approved by the Trustees and communicated to the recipients, irrespective of the future period over which payments are to be made, and the obligations outstanding at the year end are recognised as creditors.

Costs

These continue to be very low in relation to the levels of income and donations made and are kept under review by the Director and Trustees to ensure they remain lean as a proportion of grant expenditure.

Reserves

The Trustees' policy is to maintain reserves of approximately 50% of the Foundation's annual income bearing in mind the general timing of income receipts, their general pattern of giving and the current economic climate. Total income reserves at the end of the year were £24.1 million and this will be taken into account when assessing levels of grant-making for the following financial year.

Investment objectives

The Trustees' investment objectives in relation to their non-Wittington group assets as set out in the policy statement are to preserve the absolute value of the capital, whilst maintaining its 'real' value.

This involves adopting a relatively conservative investment strategy, investing in a balanced portfolio without geographical, currency or sector restriction, subject to the terms of a Charity Commission Order dated 19 September 2001. The primary benchmark for investment performance remains at RPI plus 4% over a rolling three year period, although comparison is also made on an annual basis with the ARC (Asset Risk Consultants) Charity Steady Growth Index for Investec and, in the case of OUem, the MSCI All Country World Index.

The Trustees are satisfied that the two investment managers have suitable policies in place regarding their stock selection to ensure that this complies with the latest ESG practices and they continue to keep this under review. The Trustees' principal investment, namely Associated British Foods plc, is a highly diversified global company with an extensive and practical approach to responsible business. The Trustees have a direct line of sight into this business, making the Foundation's approach to responsible investment more transparent and with a higher degree of clarity than other models might afford.

Plans for future periods

Rising levels of inflation continue to have a significant impact on all areas of the sector, but with particular significance for charities which support the poorest and most vulnerable in our society as well as for those undertaking capital projects. The Foundation will continue to do its best to react to the changing needs of the charitable sector and to provide support where it is most needed and can most effectively be utilised to make a difference.

The Trustees will continue to maintain our ability to respond promptly and effectively to the requests in support of a broad range of charitable causes, relying upon the consistent performance of the Foundation's investment endowment and prudent income reserves.

Trustees' responsibilities for the financial statements

The Trustees are responsible for preparing the Trustees' Annual Report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

The law applicable to charities in England and Wales requires the Trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial year which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charity and of the incoming resources and application of resources of the charity for that period. In preparing these financial statements, the Trustees are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently
- observe the methods and principles in the Charities SORP
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent
- state whether applicable accounting standards and statements of recommended practice have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charity will continue in operation

The Trustees are responsible for keeping proper records which disclose with reasonable accuracy the financial position of the charity and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Charities Act 2011, the Charity (Accounts and Reports) Regulations 2008 and the provisions of the Trust Deed. They are also responsible for safeguarding the charity's assets and hence taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and breaches of law and regulations.

The Trustees are responsible for the maintenance and integrity of the charity and financial information included on the charity's website. Legislation in the United Kingdom governing the preparation and dissemination of financial statements may differ from legislation in other jurisdictions.

Director's report

It's been another exciting year at the Foundation with donations increasing on last year and a record number of grants made across the country. With flexibility and responsiveness being at the heart of our strategy, the Trustees made an increased level of core costs grants, reflecting the challenging circumstances for many charities as they wrestle with growing demand and rising costs, while fundraising is squeezed by inflationary issues.

The Trustees' grants this year placed particular emphasis on smaller, grassroots charities and our community-oriented grants totalled £9.5 million, an increase of almost 40% on the previous year. Examples of grassroots charities include Together Dementia Support which provides vital help to people living with dementia and their family carers in the Manchester area, and The Matthew Project social enterprise programme which gives beneficiaries in Norwich opportunities to change their lives and to generate income for the charity. We were pleased that 37% of applicants in the Community category applied to us for the first time, which reflected the work we have been doing to be as accessible and visible as possible to those who may not know us already. We plan to continue this activity vigorously and make continued use of webinars and technology to reach those who need us.

Alongside core costs grants and donations for key projects and activities, the Trustees also continued to invest in the future by supporting a range of capital projects, consciously balancing immediate need with longer-term investments. Post-pandemic, there has been an increase in capital projects in the Health sector in particular and the Trustees made a number of major grants in this area. These included £2 million to Addenbrooke's Charitable Trust for the new Cambridge Children's Hospital, the first dedicated children's hospital in the east of England; £300,000 to Alder Hey Children's Charity for its Surgical Neonatal Appeal; and £250,000 to the University of Sheffield for its Gene Therapy Innovation and Manufacturing Centre.

Health and wellbeing are increasingly in the spotlight as the effects emerge of recent uncertainties. The work of mental health charities has never been more in demand and, reflecting that, the Trustees made grants of more than £2.7 million in this area during 2022/23, an increase of 50% on the previous year. From local organisations such as Youth Talk in St Albans, to those with national reach such as Place2Be and the national network of Minds, all are providing practical support when people need it most. The innovative approach of Mental Health Innovation's Shout project, using text messaging to provide practical 24/7 mental health support, particularly impressed the Trustees. Other grants in the health and wellbeing area included Tenovus Cancer Care, to fund its mobile chemotherapy units; Changing Faces for its life-changing support for people with a scar, mark or condition that makes them look different; and Refuge, the UK's largest domestic abuse charity.

Another record was in our Environment category, reflecting the ever more pressing need to protect our natural world, and the Trustees were delighted to grant £12.2 million this year. The Foundation continued its long-term partnerships with several organisations such as Oceana, with a grant of £1 million over 5 years towards its work protecting and restoring the waters around the UK; and a major investment of £5 million to the Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew continuing our support for the Garfield Weston Global Tree Seed Bank, a project with global significance.

In addition to larger organisations, the Trustees were keen to make grants to smaller projects that involve local communities in caring for their environment. The Open University's 'Living Lab' in Milton Keynes is involving people in conservation to create nature-based recovery solutions, and University of Surrey's 'Space4Nature' project combines satellite and AI technology alongside 'citizen science' to provide robust habitat data. In Wales, the Trustees granted £150,000 towards Keep Wales Tidy's important project to address waste and fly-tipping in the areas most affected.

Alongside our grant-making, we also undertook several strategic projects to ensure we continually improve the way we work. We completely revamped the foundation's website which, already praised for its clarity and straightforward approach, is now even better with every section being either AA or AAA rated for accessibility. The new website supports our long-standing work to be transparent and clear and to help charities make their best case for support. The refreshed website is also a crucial step in transitioning to a new database behind the scenes, which we will be implementing in the coming year, aiming to deliver improved reporting capabilities while maintaining good records.

Towards the end of the financial year, we also commissioned an independent and extensive survey of applicants to understand their experience better, to inform where we can make improvements and to ensure we continue doing the things that applicants need and want. The findings from over 1,300 responses were made public in July, and we look forward to working on the ideas and suggestions the feedback elicited.

We are proud of our partnerships with great charities and have highlighted a small selection of our partners on the following pages to offer a flavour of what we have been doing, we hope you enjoy reading about them. We are also keen to encourage new charities to apply so please do spread this message as we know that word of mouth is a powerful way for people to find out about us.

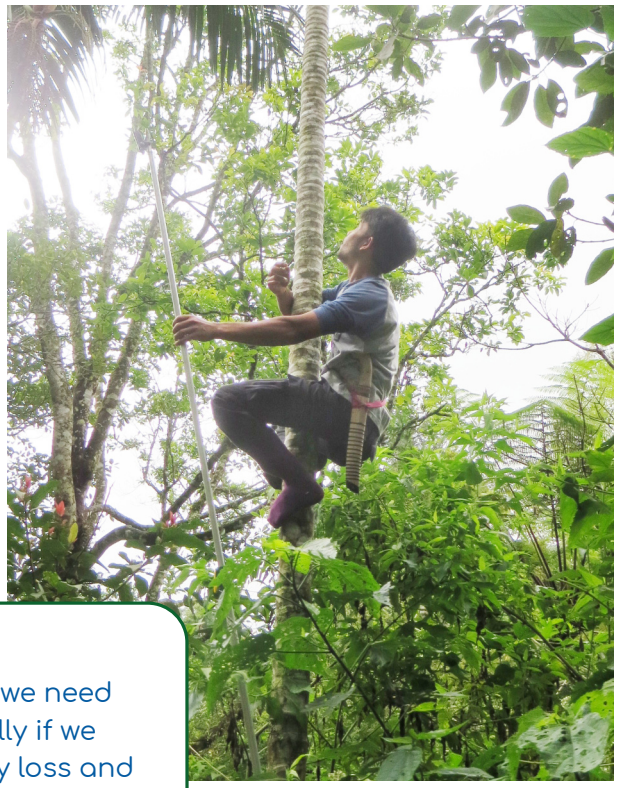

I'd like to finish by thanking the small but very dedicated team of staff at the Foundation for their hard work, skill and care and also the Trustees for their insight, thoughtful approach and passion for supporting our amazing charity partners. Now we turn our attention to the year ahead as there is still much to do and we relish the opportunity to strengthen existing partnerships and forge new ones.

The Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew

Project grant, Environment
The Global Tree Seed Bank at Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew was established in 2014 with the aim to conserve the world's most important tree species, which are increasingly under threat from deforestation, over exploitation, climate change, pests and diseases. The Foundation has a long-standing relationship and the Garfield Weston Global Tree Seed Bank has conserved 5,000 woody species from 40 countries, a range of research projects have been carried out, as well as conservation skills building programmes with the project's global partners.

The next phase of the project will use the resources held in the Seed Bank to significantly enhance conservation efforts in countries around the world. In this phase the project will restore forests in six countries facing significant deforestation threats; conserve at least a further 500 of the rarest, most endangered or most vital tree species; deliver cutting edge research into the climate resilience of threatened trees that has the potential to save trees on the brink of extinction; and build in-country tree conservation capacity by boosting the supply of native tree seeds, training native conservationists and improving in-country seed banking facilities. The Trustees were delighted to grant £5 million to fund phase three of this essential work.

> The urgency of the task in front of us is clear, we need to accelerate the pace of conservation globally if we are to meet the twin challenges of biodiversity loss and climate change. Investment such as this from the Garfield Weston Foundation is transformational. Already it has allowed us to build a globally unique asset which will safeguard many of the world's rarest and most threatened trees for decades, if not centuries, to come.

Project grant, Environment

Surrey has one of the fastest-declining wildlife populations of any county in England. Over 620 species have already become extinct in Surrey and a further 972 species are in decline. Currently there is no system in place to gather, verify and publish good habitat data which means that many organisations and sectors develop individual approaches which lack cohesion. Space4Nature is a pioneering project, led by the University of Surrey in partnership with Surrey Wildlife Trust, Buglife and the Painshill Park Trust, to revolutionise how habitats are monitored. The project combines satellite imagery and artificial intelligence to develop and automate detailed remote habitat mapping software, providing robust data to inform conservation programmes. Alongside this technology, Surrey Wildlife Trust and Buglife will train volunteers to become citizen scientists including school children who will help assess the accuracy of the technology on the ground. Their observational data will be incorporated into highly detailed habitat maps, which will be made publicly available for free. If successful, this innovative approach has the potential to be scaled and used globally to map habitat data. The Foundation's grant of £200,000 will help map, protect and restore wildlife and diversity across Surrey and hopes to provide a high-quality basis for expanding across regions and countries.

> The support we have received from Garfield Weston Foundation for our Space4Nature project allows us to use innovative technology – Earth Observation satellites and artificial intelligence - to demonstrate how we can protect and restore key habitats in the UK. Garfield Weston's support will mean we can boost biodiversity in wetland areas, which are particularly sensitive to climate change, and urban and peri-urban areas, where habitats are often encroached by roads and buildings.

Tenovus Cancer Care

Core costs grant, Health
Tenovus has an 80-year history of supporting local healthcare facilities and medical research in Wales, and has grown to become Wales's leading cancer charity. It provides essential services to cancer patients and their families including a telephone service manned by cancer nurses, welfare advice for families, and community choirs that help patients and families to find purpose and joy.

Tenovus also operate the world's largest mobile chemotherapy units, that provide chemotherapy and immunotherapy treatments for patients in remote, rural areas with poor access to facilities. In the last 12 months, the three pioneering mobile support units administered over 3,500 treatments, cutting down on patient travel time and helping to take the pressure off overstretched NHS cancer centres.
Similar to many charities during the pandemic, Tenovus's income from its charity shops and community fundraising decreased, while demand for its mobile units increased; a situation that has continued during the cost-of-living crisis. The charity is focusing its resources to generate income, and the Trustees were pleased to make a core costs grant of £90,000 over two years to support its work.

> Tenovus Cancer Care exists to transform the lives of people affected by cancer. Since launching our first Mobile Support Unit in 2009, the Garfield Weston Foundation has been a game-changing funder, supporting the Units' development, then the protection of the service through Covid and into the current complex environment. We simply couldn't have achieved this without them.

Mental Health Innovations

Core costs grant, Health
Mental Health Innovations (MHI) was founded in 2017 with a mission to develop innovative digital tools to support people struggling with their mental health. In 2019 MHI launched Shout in partnership with leading mental health organisations. Shout is the UK's first and only free, confidential, 24/7 text messaging support service for anyone who is struggling to cope. Each texter is connected to one of the charity's 2,400 trained Crisis Volunteers who supports the individual through a moment of intense need and crisis to one of calm. In addition to being a standalone service, Shout provides 24/7 mental health support to over 80 organisations across the UK which otherwise could not afford to offer around the clock care.

Shout has held conversations with more than 1.7 million people and, over the last three years, demand for its services has tripled. The impact of the pandemic and increasing financial pressures from the cost-of-living crisis have had significant negative effects on people's mental health, especially younger people, and around half of all contacts are now under the age of 18. The Trustees were delighted to build on their earlier support of the service in 2020 with a major grant of £300,000 over three years to expand Shout's reach and to ensure everyone can access mental health support when they need it.

> Garfield Weston Foundation's generous funding has been crucial as Shout has expanded across the UK, helping hundreds of thousands of children and young people with their mental health. Looking ahead, the Foundation's funding will enable us to increase our support to vulnerable teenagers who contact Shout with issues such as suicidal ideation, depression, anxiety, relationships, bullying, grief and self-harm. We couldn't be more grateful for this long term support for our work.

Changing Faces

Project grant, Health

Changing Faces is the UK's leading charity for everyone with a scar, mark or condition on their face or body that makes them look different. It provides advice, support and psychosocial services to people with a visible difference, and aim to influence policy makers, people and the media to drive cultural, social and policy change that benefits those who look different.

> Thanks to the generous support of the Garfield Weston Foundation, Changing Faces can provide essential support, information and advice to anyone with a mark, scar or condition that makes them look different helping to build self-esteem, develop coping strategies and build resilience. The support of GWF means we can be there to help anyone who needs us, whenever they need us.
> Heather Blake, CEO

Being perceived as different by others can lead to a loss of confidence, emotional or mental health issues, bullying and marginalisation. Changing Faces' wellbeing services offer a wide range of practical resources, including a support and information line, facilitated peer support programme, psychoeducation workshops, self-help guides and an online community forum. One-to-one counselling support is provided for those most severely affected by the consequences of being different. Last year over 1,000 children and adults were supported and over the past 18 months the charity's wellbeing team has expanded from six to nine people to meet growing demand.

In the next few years, Changing Faces expects to help 3,700 children, young people and adults via its wellbeing services and an additional 60,000 people each year via their online resources. The Trustees' grant of £300,000 over three years will support the further development of their life-changing services.

One Small Thing

Project grant, Welfare
Over 80% of women sent to prison are sentenced for non-violent, low-level offences, and over 60% of them are mothers. The consequences for their children can be life-changing, with many going into care and losing their family home. One Small Thing's purpose built residential hub, Hope Street, provides a community-based alternative to short custodial sentences for women who have committed a low-level, non-violent offence.

Hope Street is the first such centre in the UK and will pilot a new approach to working with women in the justice system. The women will be able to meet the requirements of a community sentence while accessing comprehensive wrap-around support and retaining care of their children. In addition to the 124 women and children that Hope Street can accommodate each year, a further 500 women in the community will be helped in a network of move-on homes across Hampshire with a range of training, accreditation and support programmes.

> One Small Thing aims to create a blueprint for change that can be replicated across the country, achieving better outcomes for women, their children and society.

Together Dementia Support

Core costs grant, Welfare
Together Dementia Support helps people across Manchester and North Trafford to live positively with dementia. It offers a wide range of services for people living with dementia, and for their carers.

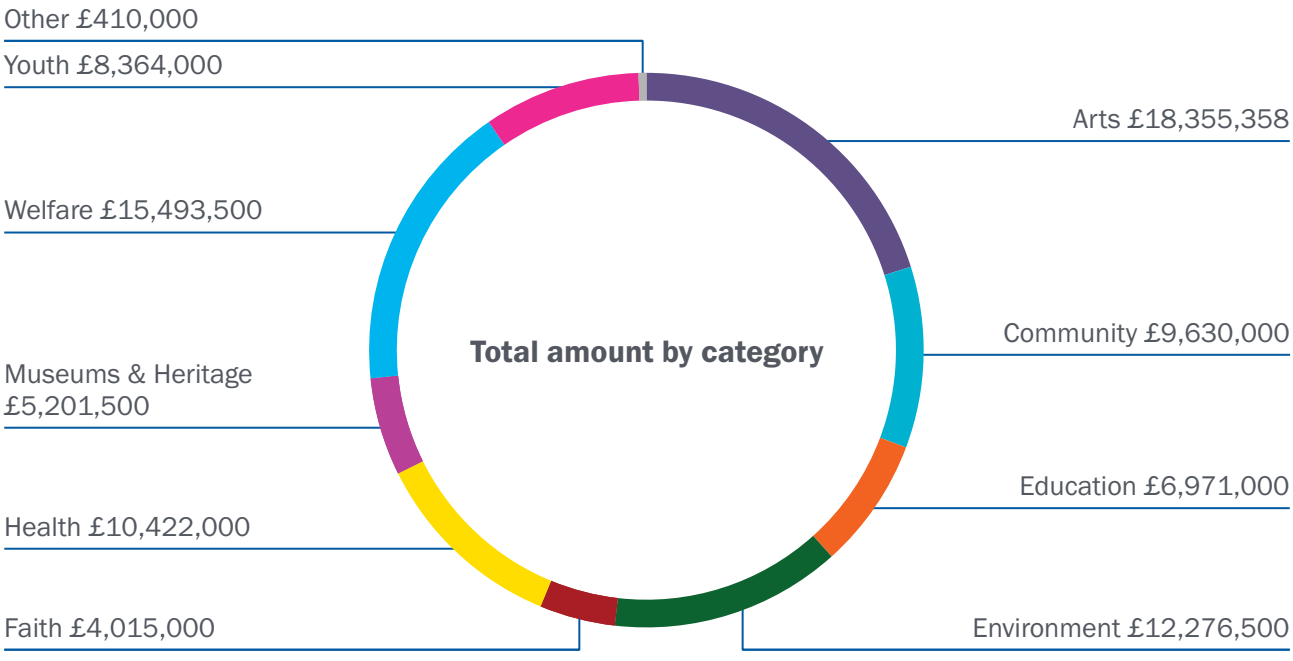

The Friendship and Activity groups offer a fun, social and relaxed place for people with dementia to make new friends while the Dementia Cafés are a great opportunity for their carers to socialise and share their experiences. Pyaari Yaadein is a bespoke project developed to work with people from a South Asian background, with sessions run by trained professionals. Other services include welfare checks, training and support for carers, advocacy and peer support.

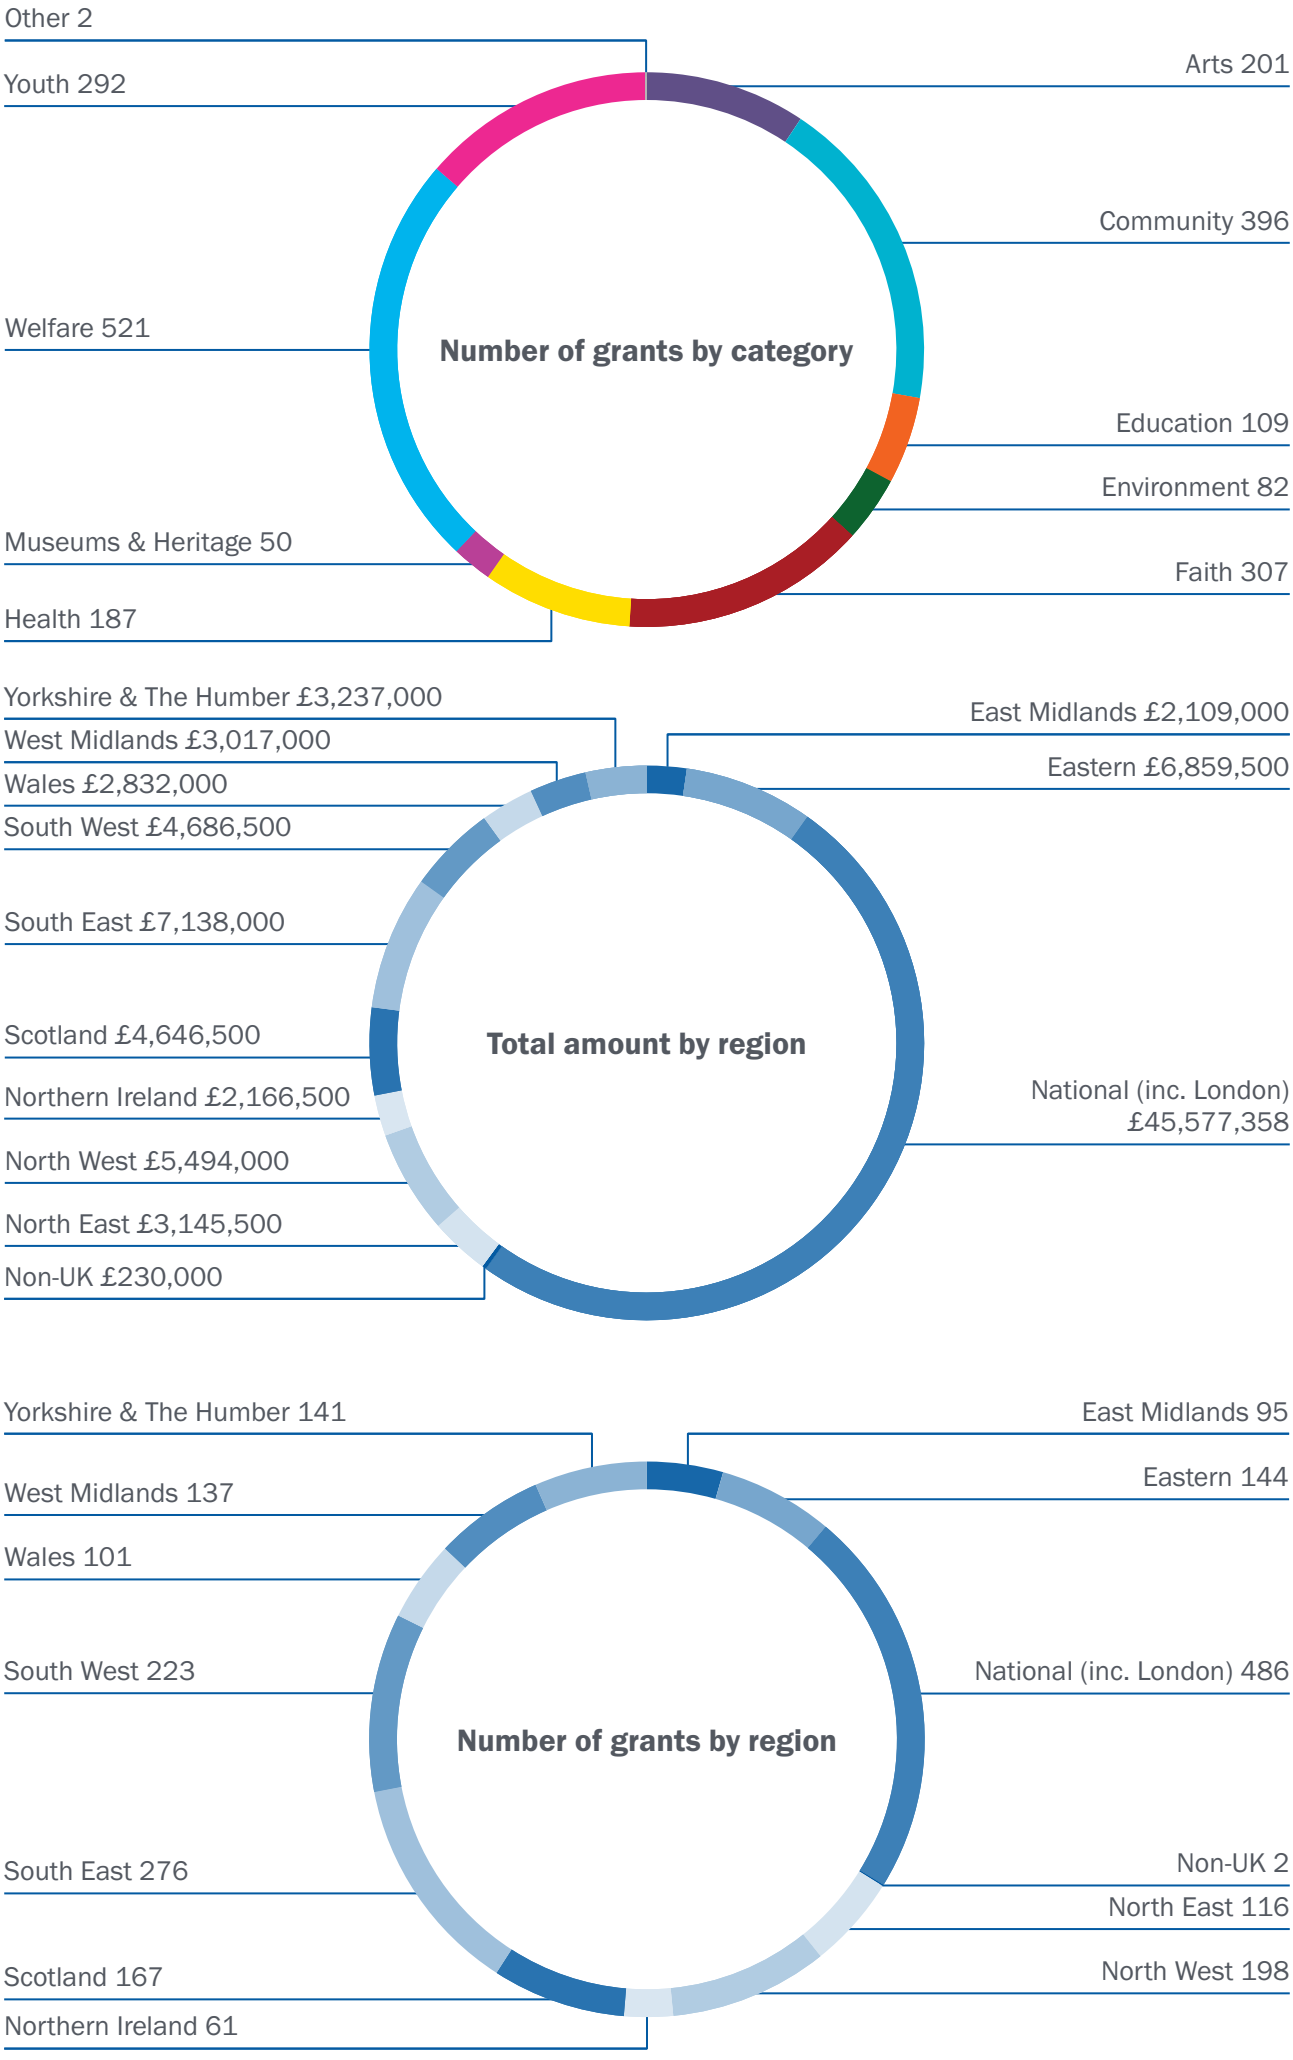

Demand for services has risen by 150% in the last year, at the same time as the cost of providing services has increased.

> The grant from the Garfield Weston Foundation has enabled Together Dementia Support to run Friendship and Activity Groups for our members with dementia and support for their families. The groups bring such joy and purpose to people who would otherwise be isolated and inactive at home. Support for the family carers lightens their burden. "I feel I can breathe again!" said one exhausted daughter after being taken out for a walk.

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Garfield Weston Foundation (the charity) for the year ended 5 April 2023 which comprise the Statement of Financial Activities, the Balance Sheet, the Cashflow Statement and notes to the financial statements, including significant accounting policies. The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards, including FRS 102 The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

In our opinion the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the state of the charity's affairs as at 5 April 2023 and of its incoming resources and application of resources for the year then ended
- have been properly prepared in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice and
- have been prepared in accordance with the Charities Act 2011

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK) (ISA (UK)) and applicable law. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the charity in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in the UK, including the FRC's Ethical Standard, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Conclusions relating to going concern

In auditing the financial statements, we have concluded that the Trustees' use of the going concern basis of accounting in the preparation of the financial statement is appropriate.

Based on the work we have performed, we have not identified any material uncertainties relating to events or conditions that, individually or collectively, may cast significant doubt on the charity's ability to continue as a going concern for a period of at least twelve months from when the financial statements are authorised for issue.

Our responsibilities and the responsibilities of the Trustees with respect to going concern are described in the relevant sections of this report.

Other information

The other information comprises the information included in the annual report other than the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. The Trustees are responsible for the other information contained within the financial statements. Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and, except to the extent otherwise explicitly stated in our report, we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

Our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the course of the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify such material inconsistencies or apparent material misstatements, we are required to determine whether there is a material misstatement in the financial statements or a material misstatement of the other information. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Matters on which we are required to report by exception

In the light of the knowledge and understanding of the charity and its environment obtained in the course of the audit, we have not identified material misstatements in the Trustees' report. We have nothing to report in respect of the following matters where the Charities Act 2011 requires us to report to you if, in our opinion:

- adequate accounting records have not been kept, or returns adequate for our audit have not been received from branches not visited by us
- the financial statements are not in agreement with the accounting records and returns
- certain disclosures of Trustees' remuneration specified by law are not made
- we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit

Responsibilities of Trustees

As explained more fully in the Trustees' responsibilities statement set out on page 11, the Trustees are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view, and for such internal control as the Trustees determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the Trustees are responsible for assessing the charity's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Trustees either intend to liquidate the charity or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditors' responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

We have been appointed as auditor under section 151 of the Charities Act 2011 and report in accordance with the Act and relevant regulations made or having effect thereunder.

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (UK) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

Details of the extent to which the audit was considered capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud and non-compliance with laws and regulations are set out below.
A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements is located on the Financial Reporting Council's website at: www.frc.org.uk/auditorsresponsibilities This description forms part of our auditor's report.

Extent to which the audit was considered capable of detecting irregularities including fraud

Irregularities, including fraud, are instances of non-compliance with laws and regulations. We design procedures in line with our responsibilities, outlined above, to detect material misstatements in respect of irregularities, including fraud. The extent to which our procedures are capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud is detailed below.

Based on our understanding of the charity and the industry in which it operates, we identified that the principal risks of non-compliance with laws and regulations related to the acts by the charity, which were contrary to applicable laws and regulations including fraud, and we considered the extent to which non-compliance might have a material effect on the financial statements. We also considered those laws and regulations that have a direct impact on the preparation of the financial statements such as the Charities Act 2011.

We evaluated management's incentives and opportunities for manipulation of the financial statements (including the risk of override of controls), and determined that the principal risk related to the valuation of the unquoted investment in Wittington Investments Limited ('Wittington') of which the Foundation owns 683,073 50p ordinary shares (79.2%).

The valuation of Wittington requires significant estimation as it is an unquoted company and there is no readily identifiable market price for its shares. Accordingly, the value of the Foundation's investment has been assessed by the Trustees on the basis of the share of the value of the underlyng net assets of Wittington attributable to the Foundation's holding as at 5 April 2023. As Wittington's financial statements are audited as at 18 September 2022 , there is a varying degree of estimation required to assess the net asset value as at 5 April 2023 and therefore there is more potential for misstatement in this area.

We assessed Management's valuation methodology and considered whether it was in accordance with the accounting policies of the Foundation, applicable accounting standards and industry practice. Wittington's principal asset is a majority holding (54.5%) in Associated British Foods plc. Therefore, the value of the Foundation's investment in Wittington is driven predominantly by the Associated British Foods plc share price as at 5 April 2023. As the shares are listed on the London Stock Exchange, the value of this holding can be determined easily.

Other audit procedures performed included: review of the financial statement disclosures to underlying supporting documentation to assess compliance with relevant laws and regulations, review of correspondence with legal advisors, review of minutes of meetings held by those charged with governance, enquiries of management and testing of journals and evaluating whether there was evidence of bias by the Trustees that represented a risk of material misstatement due to fraud.

There are inherent limitations in the audit procedures described above and the further removed non-compliance with laws and regulations is from the events and transactions reflected in the financial statements, the less likely we would become aware of it. Also, the risk of not detecting a material misstatement due to fraud is higher than the risk of not detecting one resulting from error, as fraud may involve deliberate concealment by, for example, forgery or intentional misrepresentations, or through collusion.

Use of our report

This report is made solely to the charity's Trustees, as a body, in accordance with Chapter 3 of Part 8 of the Charities Act 2011 and regulations made under section 154 of that Act. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the charity's Trustees those matters we are required to state to them in an auditor's report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the charity and the charity's Trustees as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.

Notes to the financial statements for the year ended 5 April 2023

1 Accounting policies

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with applicable UK accounting standards (UK Generally Accepted Accounting Practice), including Financial Reporting Standard FRS 102 'The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the United Kingdom and the Republic of Ireland' ("FRS 102"). In particular, they comply with the Charities Act 2011 and the Statement of Recommended Practice 'Accounting and Reporting by Charities (the "SORP").

The financial statements have been prepared to give a 'true and fair' view and have departed from the Charities (Accounts and Report) Regulations 2008 only to the extent required to provide a 'true and fair' view. This departure has involved following the Charities SORP (FRS 102).

The Foundation constitutes a public benefit entity as defined by FRS 102. The financial statements are prepared on the historical cost basis except that certain financial instruments are stated at fair value.

The financial statements have been prepared in sterling, which is the functional currency of the Foundation. Monetary amounts in these financial statements are rounded to £'000s.

The particular accounting policies adopted by the Trustees are described below:

a Going concern

After making enquiries, the Trustees have a reasonable expectation that the Foundation has adequate resources to continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future. For this reason they continue to adopt the going concern basis in preparing the consolidated financial statements.

Having reviewed the best estimate of future cash flows to September 2024, and having applied reverse stress tests, the possibility that the financial headroom could be exhausted is considered to be extremely remote. The Trustees understand the risks, sensitivities and judgements included in the cash flow forecast and have a high degree of confidence in these cash flows. There is substantial financial headroom between this cash flow forecast and the cash on hand and funding available to the Foundation over the period.

b Incoming resources

Dividends are included when received. Interest receivable on fixed interest securities and bank deposits is included on an accruals basis. All incoming resources are recognised once the Charity has entitlement to the resources, it is probable that the resources will be received, and the monetary value of incoming resources can be measured with sufficient reliability.

c Resources expended and irrecoverable VAT

Liabilities are recognised as resources expended as soon as there is a legal or constructive obligation committing the Charity to the expenditure. All expenditure is accounted for on an accruals basis and has been classified under headings that aggregate all costs related to the category.

Grants awarded are charged in the year when formally awarded by the Trustees and communicated to the recipient irrespective of the period covered by the donation as they are regarded by the Trustees as financial obligations.

Irrecoverable VAT is charged against the category of resources expended, for which it was incurred.

d Allocation of overhead and support costs

Overhead and support costs are allocated first between charitable activity and governance. Overhead and support costs relating to charitable activities have been apportioned based on the value of individual grant awards made as it is considered that more is spent awarding, monitoring and assessing grants of greater value. The allocation of overhead and support costs is analysed in note 5.

e Costs of generating funds

The costs of generating funds consist of investment management fees and commissions.

f Charitable activities

Costs of charitable activities include grants made and an apportionment of overhead and support costs as shown in notes 3 and 4.

g Governance costs

Governance costs comprise all costs involving the public accountability of the Charity and its compliance with regulation and good practice. These costs include costs related to statutory audit and legal fees together with an apportionment of overhead and support costs.

h Interest in Wittington Investments Limited

At 5 April 2023 the Foundation owned 79.2% (2022: 79.2%) of Wittington Investments Limited, a company registered in England. Wittington Investments Limited is the ultimate holding company of Associated British Foods plc, and a wide range of investments including Fortnum & Mason plc and Heal's plc, one hotel, a real estate portfolio and significant financial investments. Associated British Foods plc is listed on the London Stock Exchange. The Foundation receives its income from Wittington Investments Limited by way of dividends and records its investment in that company at the Trustees' valuation.

As the activities of Wittington Investments Limited and its subsidiaries are fundamentally different from the activities of the Foundation, consolidated accounts have not been prepared as the Trustees are of the opinion that the adopted policy gives a true and fair view of the Foundation's assets and sources of income. Details of the consolidated accounts of Wittington Investments Limited are shown in note 9 to these accounts. The Trustees have agreed this policy with the Charity Commission.

i Fixed assets investments

Investments are stated at market value as at the balance sheet date. The statement of financial activities includes the net gains and losses arising on revaluation and disposals throughout the year.

j Realised gains and losses

All gains and losses are taken to the statement of financial activities as they arise. Realised gains and losses on investments are calculated as the difference between sales proceeds and opening market value. Unrealised gains and losses are calculated as the difference between the market value at the year end and opening market value. Realised and unrealised gains are not separated in the Statement of Financial Activities.

k Fund accounting

Details of the nature and purpose of each fund are set out in note 13.

l Financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are shown in note 8 to these accounts and are recognised when the Foundation becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

Financial assets which qualify as basic financial instruments, including trade and other receivables and cash, are subsequently valued at amortised cost and assessed for impairment at the end of each reporting period.

Other financial assets, including investments, are subsequently valued at fair value. Financial liabilities are classified according to the substance of the contractual arrangements entered into. All financial assets and liabilities are initially measured at transaction price including transaction costs, except for those financial assets classified as at fair value through profit or loss, which are initially measured at fair value. If an arrangement constitutes a financing transaction, the financial asset or financial liability is measured at the present value of the future payments discounted at a market rate of interest for a similar debt instrument.

Financial assets are derecognised only when either the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire or are settled or all of the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset are substantially transferred to another party.

Financial liabilities are derecognised only when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged, cancelled or expires.

Investments are stated at market value at the balance sheet date. The market values of the managed portfolios are advised by the portfolio managers. The statement of financial activities includes the net gains and losses arising in revaluation and disposals through the year.

- Quoted investments comprise publicly quoted, listed securities including shares, bonds and units. Quoted investments are stated at fair value at the balance sheet date.
- Unquoted investments are valued at the Trustees' best estimate of fair value as explained in note 9.

4 Analysis of charitable expenditure

The Charity undertook no direct charitable activities but awarded grants to a number of institutions in furtherance of its charitable activities. As a consequence of supporting charitable organisations, the Foundation achieves public benefit. The Foundation's grant policy is to accept only appeals from UK registered charities. Registration provides an element of assurance of public benefit, although for charities registered before the implementation of the Charities Act 2006 the public benefit was a presumption.

Unlisted investments

The unlisted investments comprise 683,073 50p ordinary shares (79.2%) of Wittington Investments Limited, an unquoted company, see note 1 (h).

The business of Wittington Investments Limited is the management of investments in a wide range of assets. As it is an unquoted company there is no readily identifiable market price for its shares. Accordingly, the value of the Foundation's investments has been assessed by the Trustees on the basis of the share of the value of the underlying net assets of Wittington attributable to the Foundation's holding.

Wittington's principal asset is a holding of 56.1% of the issued ordinary capital of Associated British Foods plc ('ABF') which is listed on The London Stock Exchange. In assessing the value of the underlying net assets of Wittington, the value of its investment in ABF has been based on the closing price as at 5 April 2023.

In addition, Wittington holds a wide range of other assets managed in four different business segments:

- Luxury Retail: comprising the 100% ownership of Fortnum & Mason and Heal's, two long established retailers.
- Real Estate: investing in high-quality investment properties in the retail, office and distribution sectors across the UK. Wittington also takes strategic positions in selective development opportunities, alongside local partners or sector specialists. The portfolio is held at cost less provision for impairment within the financial statements. The third-party valuations prepared at 17 September 2022 were considerably higher than this carrying value when considering the portfolio in total. The trustees do not expect material movement in the market value of the properties compared to the valuation as at 17 September 2022.
- Hotels: as an extension of its Real Estate strategy, Wittington owns the Richmond Hill Hotel. The sale of the Grand Hotel, Brighton completed on 2 May 2023.
- Private Markets & Other Investments: Wittington invests both directly and via externally managed funds in private equity, private debt and fixed income markets. Other investments are principally composed of liquid investments in short-dated investment grade bonds and listed equities.

The most recent financial year end for Wittington was 17 September 2022. As such, aside from the investment in ABF, Wittington's remaining investments have been valued using net asset values in the 31 March 2023 management accounts, which are considered to be their fair values. At 5 April, the fair value of Wittington including Associated British Foods Plc is considered to be £10.34 billion and the Foundation's share of this (79.24%) is £8.19 billion.

The Trustees have no current intention of disposing of the interest in Wittington.

Chairman's report

As the Chairman of the Foundation, I have pleasure in introducing the Annual Report of the Trustees for the year to 5 April 2022.

As this report goes to print, we are saddened to learn of the death of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II who was a dedicated patron to so many wonderful charities, we express our profound appreciation for her life's work, service and dedication.

Accounting policies

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the accounting policies set out in the notes to the accounts and comply with the charity's governing document, the Charities Act 2011 and Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland published on 16 July 2014 (FRS102).

Structure, governance and management

Structure

The operation of the Foundation is governed by a Trust Deed dated 10 October 1958.

At 5 April 2022, the Foundation owned 79.2% of Wittington Investments Limited, a company registered in England. Wittington Investments is the ultimate holding company of Associated British Foods plc, which is listed on the London Stock Exchange, Fortnum and Mason plc and Heal's plc. Under the terms of the Trust Deed, the investment in the Wittington Investments Limited group of companies forms the permanent capital endowment of the Foundation and the Trustees may not dispose of that investment except by a unanimous vote of all the Trustees.

Governance and management

In accordance with the Trust Deed, after the death of Mr W Garfield Weston and his wife, their descendants became Trustees. The number of Trustees is limited to ten but must be at least five. If the number of Trustees drops below five, new Trustees fall to be appointed from among the lineal descendants of W Garfield Weston.

Being family members, incoming Trustees are aware of the aims and objectives of the Foundation and the manner in which the Trustees carry out their responsibilities. Nearly all of the Trustees are on the board of other charitable entities either in the UK, the United States or Canada. The Foundation is a member of the Foundations Forum and the Association of Charitable Foundations and also receives the main charities' journals. This ensures that the Trustees are well placed to keep up to date with developments in charity practice and regulations. In addition, the Trustees receive direct information in relation to important areas from both their Secretary, who attends monthly meetings and is a practising lawyer with expertise in the charity sector, and from their auditors UHY Hacker Young LLP.

The Trustees are directly responsible for the management of the Foundation and hold regular meetings in order to consider grant applications for £100,000 or more and to ratify smaller grants which have been made since their previous meeting. Additional meetings are included as required to deal with any time-sensitive funding requests. The initial processing of grant applications is dealt with by an experienced team of staff, but every application is seen by at least one of the Trustees who also actively participate in meetings with, and visits to, applicants. The Trustees also hold an annual meeting in order to adopt the Annual Report and Accounts and to carry out a formal review of the fulfilment of the Charity's aims and objectives, policies and the investment performance over the year.

Risk management and policies

The Trustees are satisfied that appropriate policies, protection, systems and checks remain in place in order to mitigate exposure to major risks and to ensure that the Foundation operates in accordance with ethical and environmental guidelines and protections. The Director and Secretary review operational risks and policies on an ongoing basis and these are formally considered by the Trustees at their Annual Meeting.

The principal risks relate to investment performance, and operational risks in terms of grant-making arising from system malfunctions or fraudulent applications. There is also a reputational risk for the charity in terms of its relationship with the underlying trading activities of companies held through Wittington Investments Limited.

Operational: the computer system and internal procedures, including authorised signatories, are regularly updated and reviewed and all grant applicants are screened by a skilled grants administration team. During the course of the year the arrangements whereby staff are seconded to the Foundation from Wittington Investments Limited have been reviewed and updated to ensure that they comply with all statutory and ethical requirements, including, but not limited to, those under the Data Protection Act 2018 and the Modern Slavery Act 2015, to address DEI-related issues and to provide safeguarding for staff and applicants.

Investments: the Trustees regularly review the performance of the underlying assets and their shareholding in the Wittington Investments Limited group and receive reports directly from those who are managing the businesses. The non-Wittington investments are also managed in accordance with a policy which balances risk with investment returns (see below).

Reputation: the direct involvement of members of the Trustee board in the activities of the Wittington group also enables them to be fully appraised of events which might give rise to unwelcome media attention and hence reputational risks.

Conflicts of interest: the Trustees have in place a detailed policy regarding conflicts of interest, both in terms of their grant-making decisions, and also in terms of the fact that some of them are directors of Wittington group companies; this potential for conflict is carefully managed with proper procedures (including as regards the exercise of the Trustees' voting powers at the Wittington Investments Limited AGM and any other shareholder meetings) and the taking of independent advice where necessary.

Ethical and environment: as well as implementing their own policies to protect the environment (for example, nearly all applications are made online and the Trustees receive meeting papers electronically, thus reducing the need for paper and printing and facilitating remote working), the Trustees also keep under scrutiny the ethical and environmental practices as carried out by the underlying businesses in the Wittington group and their independent investment managers. In relation to its staff secondees, the Foundation adheres to the practices laid down by Wittington Investments Limited and Associated British Foods in connection with the Modern Slavery Act and corporate responsibility – for more details see www.wittington-investments.co.uk/wp-content/uploads/ModernSlaveryHumanTraffickingStatement2020.pdf www.abf.co.uk/responsibility

Equity, Diversity and Inclusion: the Trustees are committed to inclusion in our society; addressing disadvantage and 'levelling the playing field' for all has been a central theme of the Foundation for over six decades as we value diversity in its widest sense. We aim to be accessible, transparent and straightforward in our approach to grant-making and we actively support charities which in turn support diverse groups and communities, including those suffering discrimination in all its forms. The Trustees and our staff are committed to inclusion and discussion on EDI is continuous to ensure our commitment is embedded on a daily basis. We continue to monitor the diversity of our staff team and we have appointed a EDI champion who has knowledge and live experience of EDI issues.

Safeguarding: the Trustees have a safeguarding policy which is aimed at protecting their own staff as well as vulnerable beneficiaries. The Trustees also require grant applicants to confirm that they have appropriate safeguarding policies in place to protect their staff, volunteers and beneficiaries.

Income and grant-making aims and objectives

The Trust Deed contains broad charitable objects which allow the Trustees, at their discretion, to pay or apply the income and, subject to the restrictions set out below, the capital of the Trust Fund to or for the benefit of any charitable bodies, trusts, associations, institutions or organisations.

Despite the continuing challenges and fluctuations in share prices and dividend levels resulting from the economic impact of the Covid-19 pandemic and the war in Ukraine, total income receipts for the year rose slightly to just over £84 million (2021: £83.96 million). The Trustees have once again been able to draw on prudent levels of income reserves to make total grants of over £89.88 million in support of 1,988 appeals. This is reduced from the figure for 2021 (£98.32 million in support of 2,129 appeals) owing to the fact that in the 2020/2021 financial year the Trustees provided much-needed extra support to charities which were struggling to fund their operations during the pandemic, but are now conscious of the need to maintain income reserves at an acceptable level in order to be able to provide ongoing support when required should the current difficult economic climate continue.

The total outstanding forward commitments at the end of the financial year were just over £48 million as compared with just over £38 million in 2021. Commitments consist of future payments of £22 million (2021: £6 million) due to charities under existing multi-year grant arrangements, and pledges of just over £26.1 million (2021: £32 million) that require charities to fulfil specific prerequisite obligations. The increase in future payments reflects a concerted effort on the part of the Trustees over the past year to make longer-term grant commitments given the pressures of inflation as well as the need to recover from the pandemic. The Trustees' aim is that pledges should not exceed 20% of their annual projected expenditure, but the current figure includes an outstanding significant pledge of £10 million to Moorfields Eye Hospital for a new centre for advancing eye health (which the Trustees felt was important to support at an early stage in order to encourage support from other donors), so the balance is comfortably within the Trustees' target. Moorfields has been asked to give three months' notice for any release of funds so that the Trustees can effectively manage cash flow.

While the Trustees were pleased to be able to make some substantial grants for key capital projects, including £5 million for the new Museum of London at Smithfield, £3 million for the V&A new Storehouse project, £3 million to build new Onside Youth centres and grants exceeding £1 million for a number of medical, educational and environmental projects, charities remain comparatively cautious in terms of undertaking capital projects and, where these were in contemplation prior to the pandemic, the overall costs of completing the same have risen considerably. The Trustees have therefore done their best to assist with shortfalls and enable such projects finally to move towards completion. The Trustees have also continued to provide support for the core costs of charities which are still suffering from the effects of the Covid-19 pandemic.
See the Director's Report and full list of grants made for more details.

Grant-making policy

The Foundation continues to accept only appeals from UK registered charities. No applications from individuals are considered and the Trustees do not typically fund projects outside the UK, nor do they fund animal welfare charities, unless for the purpose of supporting a specific environmental project or where to do so assists with other charitable purposes, such as providing assistance for those with disabilities.

The Trustees' aim is to keep the application process as simple and streamlined as possible. Step-by-step guidelines as to how to make a grant application (more than 95% of which are now submitted on-line), together with helpful details of the criteria which are taken into consideration when assessing applications and the information which should be submitted with an application, are available on the Foundation's website www.garfieldweston.org.

These guidelines are also published in Welsh (although applications from Welsh charities must still be made in English).

All applications are considered on an individual basis; the Trustees do not consider funding requests made within 12 months of the outcome of a previous application, but, in relation to funding for core costs, they will consider providing funds to be spread over a period of years. Whenever possible, visits are made by Trustees and/or the Director or one of the other members of the Foundation's grants team in order to gain a better understanding of applicants' requirements. Regular contact is maintained with recipients of grants for monitoring purposes, while also taking care to minimise the burden on the recipient charities.

In order to provide further transparency in the grant-making process, the Foundation publishes its grants through 360Giving. It also commissions independent reviews of grant-giving initiatives, such as the Weston Anniversary Awards in 2018 and the Weston Culture Fund in 2021, in order to assess their effectiveness and to improve the experience for both successful and unsuccessful applicants. These findings are published and shared openly and made accessible on the website.

Public benefit

The Trustees have complied with section 2(1)(b) of the Charities Act 2011, having due regard to the Charity Commission's guidance on public benefit when reviewing the Foundation's aims and objectives, when setting the grant-making policy and in making awards.

Achievements and performance

Despite the current economic uncertainty, I am pleased to be able to report that Wittington Investments Limited has managed to slightly increase its dividend payments to the Foundation so that we have been able to continue to provide funding of nearly £90 million across a broad range of charitable purposes at a time when the sector, and those whom it supports, have been most in need.

I and my fellow Trustees once again extend our sincere thanks to the Director and her team for their forward-thinking, flexible and sensitive approach to the funding needs arising out of the Covid-19 pandemic and its aftermath.

Investment performance

The Trustees are satisfied that the investment structure (represented by the Wittington group of companies) which was contributed by my grandfather to the Foundation remains a sustainable long-term model, particularly in terms of providing a regular and reliable income stream to enable the Foundation to fulfil its charitable purposes. The value of the group of companies (which is directly attributable to the share price of Associated British Foods) continues to fluctuate in line with equity markets generally, but the Trustees remain confident that any such fluctuations will not have a lasting effect on their ability to provide support to grant applicants.

It should be noted that in each financial year for the Foundation there is not a direct correlation between the amounts which Wittington pays by way of dividends and the amounts which are received by the Trustees by reference to their percentage shareholding; this is owing to the fact that the two entities have different accounting year ends.

In terms of non-Wittington investments, the Trustees took the decision in November 2021 to liquidate their investment in the Goldman Sachs Asset Management Global Multi-Manager Alternatives Portfolio. Of these funds, £25 million were invested into the Oxford University Endowment Management (OUem) fund and the balance of just over £9.9 million was added to the Trustees' existing portfolio with Investec.

As at 5 April 2022, the Investec portfolio was valued at over £77.7 million (2021: £64.5m excluding the £9.9 m addition). Performance net of fees at +6.2% was below the benchmark of RPI plus 4% over a rolling three year period (+8.4%), but the Trustees recognise the challenges posed by this benchmark in the current period of inflation. Moreover the portfolio outperformed the ARC (Asset Risk Consultants) Charity Steady Growth Index (the average volatility of which is similar to that of the portfolio), over the year to 31 March 2022 with a positive return (net of fees) of 7.4% as compared with +5.8% for the Index. The annual income distributions to the Foundation from the Goldmans Sachs and Investec portfolios totalled £2.8 million.

The OUem offers an alternative form of investment in a broad range of asset classes, focusing on real returns in excess of inflation and therefore fits well within the Trustees' benchmark of RPI plus 4%. The three year annualised return to 31 March 2022 for the fund as a whole was 13.9% and was well above the fund's objective of CPI+5%. The distribution policy of OUem is to pay an annual distribution of 4.25% of the fund's NAV over the past 20 quarters which is estimated to yield just over £1million per annum for the Foundation.

The capital value of the Savills' Charities Property Fund was £6.93 million as at 5 April 2022 (2021: £5.967m), with an income yield of 3.5%.

Further analysis of the investment assets can be found in Note 9 to the Financial Statements. A copy of Wittington Investments Limited's accounts for the year to 18 September 2021 can be obtained from Companies House.

Financial review

In accordance with required accounting policy, grants are recognised in the statement of financial activities when approved by the Trustees and communicated to the recipients, irrespective of the future period over which payments are to be made, and the obligations outstanding at the year end are recognised as creditors.

Costs

These continue to be very low in relation to the levels of income and donations made and are kept under review by the Director and Trustees to ensure they remain lean as a proportion of grant expenditure.

Reserves

The Trustees' policy is to maintain reserves of approximately 50% of the Foundation's annual income bearing in mind the general timing of income receipts, their general pattern of giving and the current economic climate. As a result of the record level of grants awarded last year, total income reserves at the end of the year had reduced to £24.1 million and this will be taken into account when assessing levels of grant-making for the following financial year.

Investment objectives

The Trustees' investment objectives in relation to their non-Wittington group assets as set out in the policy statement are to preserve the absolute value of the capital, whilst maintaining its 'real' value.

This involves adopting a relatively conservative investment strategy, investing in a balanced portfolio without geographical, currency or sector restriction, subject to the terms of a Charity Commission Order dated 19 September 2001. The primary benchmark for investment performance remains at RPI plus 4% over a rolling three year period, although comparison is also made on an annual basis with the ARC (Asset Risk Consultants) Charity Steady Growth Index for Investec and, in the case of OUem, the MSCI All Country World Index.

The Trustees are satisfied that the two investment managers have suitable policies in place regarding their stock selection to ensure that this complies with the latest ESG practices and they continue to keep this under review. The Trustees' principal investment, namely Associated British Foods plc, is a highly diversified global company with an extensive and practical approach to responsible business. The Trustees have a direct line of sight into this business, making the Foundation's approach to responsible investment more transparent and with a higher degree of clarity than other models might afford.

Trustees' responsibilities for the financial statements

The Trustees are responsible for preparing the Trustees' Annual Report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

The law applicable to charities in England and Wales requires the Trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial year which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charity and of the incoming resources and application of resources of the charity for that period. In preparing these financial statements, the Trustees are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently
- observe the methods and principles in the Charities SORP
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent
- state whether applicable accounting standards and statements of recommended practice have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charity will continue in operation

The Trustees are responsible for keeping proper records which disclose with reasonable accuracy the financial position of the charity and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Charities Act 2011, the Charity (Accounts and Reports) Regulations 2008 and the provisions of the Trust Deed. They are also responsible for safeguarding the charity's assets and hence taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and breaches of law and regulations.

The Trustees are responsible for the maintenance and integrity of the charity and financial information included on the charity's website. Legislation in the United Kingdom governing the preparation and dissemination of financial statements may differ from legislation in other jurisdictions.

Plans for future periods

The challenges experienced by all charities during the Covid-19 pandemic, on which I reported last year, are still having a significant impact on the sector and this is likely to be further aggravated by the rising levels of inflation, which will be felt in all areas, but will have particular significance for charities which support the poorest and most vulnerable in our society as well as for those undertaking capital projects. We as Trustees will continue to do our best to react to the changing needs of the charitable sector and to provide support where it is most needed and can most effectively be utilised to make a difference.

As predicted in last year's report, the levels of grants this year are closer to 2020 levels. However, the Trustees will continue to maintain our ability to respond promptly and effectively to the requests in support of a broad range of charitable causes, relying upon the consistent performance of the Foundation's investment endowment and prudent income reserves.

Sir Guy H Weston
Chairman of the Trustees 17 October 2022

Director's report

Once again it has been a busy year for the Trustees and staff of the Foundation, following last year's exceptional expenditure to meet the demands of the pandemic. This year we are pleased that our expenditure has matched pre-pandemic levels with donations of almost £90 million.

The pandemic, global conflict, climate crisis and rise in inflation all contributed to a backdrop of continuous change which creates a range of ongoing challenges across the voluntary sector. As charities continue to adapt, the Trustees have maintained their commitment to openness and flexibility, supporting a wide range of charities with a breadth of funding including unrestricted and multi-year grants that help organisations plan for the future. It is perhaps no surprise that our largest areas of donations this year included Health, Welfare, Youth and Environment, all reflecting urgent need and our focus on the most vulnerable in our society.

The 2021 United Nations Climate Change Conference, more commonly referred to as COP26, was held in Glasgow and sharpened society's focus on the environmental crisis. The Trustees extended their commitment to supporting organisations tackling these issues and we are delighted to report that we achieved a record level of funding across the environment sector this year, with grants exceeding £7.4 million. The Trustees were pleased to see the first cohort of environmental charities engaging in our Weston Communicating Climate (WCC) programme. Initiated by the Foundation following extensive research, and developed in partnership with the Media Trust, the WCC programme supported 30 charities to extend the reach, power and impact of their communications to influence the public and the media's understanding of climate change and the need to take to take action. The following section details more of this exciting initiative and the impact it has had on the charity participants. We are especially pleased that the programme will extend into a second year with additional partnership funding from commercial media consultancy MG OMD. Other significant grants made to the sector included the Rivers Trust, to build capacity across its member trusts; to Bristol Zoo for its new home and conservation programmes; and to the John Innes Centre to create a world-leading research facility supporting global food security in the face of the climate crisis.

Given the challenges of the past few years, the Trustees were delighted that the Foundation's proactive focus on Youth charities this year was successful, resulting in a record year of donations of £18.6 million. Over half of all grants to Youth organisations were multi-year commitments, made after listening carefully to the sector which battles the challenges of a reduced workforce alongside the increasingly complex needs of young people. The Trustees combined core cost grants to grassroots charities with infrastructure support for larger organisations, thereby balancing long-term investment for the future with more immediate need. By working in partnership with charities and sector bodies, we were able to reach deeper into the sector and support a record number of first-time grantees. We know from previous experience that working in partnership with others enables us to reach more of those in need and we aim to develop this approach further in coming years.

In relation to Health, many charities in this sector have been forced to pause or scale back research and capital projects, as staff have been deployed to frontline Covid response work and social distancing requirements have impacted activities and events. This year saw major projects restarting and the Trustees granted over £11.4 million across the Health category; including major investments of £1 million to Cancer Research UK to support the Francis Crick Institute's digital infrastructure, vital for data management by scientists working to tackle human diseases, and a grant of £1 million to the Thrombosis Research Institute for its research work.

We are committed to continuously improving and, just as we adapt and learn from each of our partnerships, we remain engaged with our charity partners and stakeholders to understand the opportunities for improvement and where we can build on existing strengths. Our approach aims to be clear, transparent and straightforward for our charity partners to access and apply to. We measure ourselves by the speed and responsiveness of our communications, the impact and effectiveness of our grants, the feedback of those who apply to us and by evaluating and by learning from our activities. We hope you enjoy reading about some examples of the great work our charity partners have been undertaking with our support.

Supporting young people

This year, the Foundation set a new record for donations to the Youth sector with grants totalling £18.6 million. This was achieved through our proactive work in strengthening existing partnerships, developing new ones, and as a result of consistent communications work, highlighting the Trustees' commitment to supporting youth organisations.

With Covid-19 widening the opportunity, education and attainment gaps for young people from marginalised and disadvantaged backgrounds, the Trustees made a series of strategic grants to help youth charities plan for the future with confidence. We combined multi-year donations to support impactful programming that improves young people's life chances with investment in capital infrastructure and facilities to ensure that young people continue to have safe places to go. The largest capital infrastructure grant the Trustees made was to OnSide Youth Zones, a charity focused on creating a UK-wide network of state of-the-art youth facilities in deprived areas. There are currently 13 Youth Zones that collectively reach around 52,000 young people a year, who attend the facilities seven days a week for a range of diversionary and development activities, mentoring and support. OnSide has an ambitious goal to create 20 new Youth Zones over the next five years, more than doubling its reach to 120,000 young people making 1 million visits a year. The Trustees pledged £3 million to underpin this growth and to encourage other funders to support OnSide's goal.

Well over half of Youth grants in 2021/22 were committed over multi-year periods to help charities gain financial stability as they emerged from Covid and to ensure their vital work with marginalised young people could continue. Two such grants were to the Construction Youth Trust and the Prince's Trust.

The Construction Youth Trust supports young people to achieve their potential by creating opportunities within the construction industry.

> The generous support of the Garfield Weston Foundation will enable us to provide long-term intensive support to 1,000 at-risk young people across our hub areas over the next three years. We can't wait to begin working with young people to build on their individual strengths and interests, develop their soft skills, and help them access training, employment, and career opportunities within the construction industry after they finish school or college.

> Thanks to the generous grant from Garfield Weston, Sported will be able to grow our support of the passionate, dedicated local community sports groups across Northern Ireland.
> Tom Burstow, Acting CEO, Sported

Social mobility is at the heart of the Trust's approach, focusing on young people from low-income backgrounds, under-represented groups and those facing significant barriers to employment. Last year the Trust worked with over 16,000 young people from low-income backgrounds. Transitions Coaching is the charity's intensive programme that supports high-risk 14-18-year-olds through their transition from education, to ensure they avoid a cycle of unemployment and poverty. The year-long structured programme combines one-to-one coaching, hands-on practical activities, work experience, training and ongoing support to ensure progression is sustained. The Trustees granted £150,000 over three years to support up to 1,000 vulnerable young people through Transitions Coaching.

A similar investment was made in the Prince's Trust for its Explore programme, the charity's most intensive intervention, which helps young people gain the life skills they need to stabilise their lives and move into education, employment, training, or volunteering. The programme includes one-to-one support, a confidence and skills building residential course and up to six months of mentoring from one of the Trust's 5,800 trained volunteers. Explore was forced to scale back during the pandemic, but the Trust is poised to expand the programme to reach over 10,000 young people over the next three to five years from its centres in London, Birmingham, Stoke, Manchester, Liverpool, Newcastle, Cardiff, Glasgow, Dundee and Belfast. The Trustees' grant of £1.5 million over three years will help to sustain Explore in its early relaunch, directly supporting over 5,000 young people.

Each year the Trustees support hundreds of local charities across the UK to work with their local youth communities. However, given the immense challenges that the pandemic presented not only to young people, but also to the youth sector, in 2021/22 the Trustees wanted to ensure their funding was as far-reaching as possible and, crucially, reached organisations that had not been supported by the Foundation before. By working with the national youth infrastructure bodies across England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland, we were delighted that almost 40% of youth charities supported in the year were new to the Foundation, an increase of 15 percentage points on the previous year. Three of the 145 new grantees were the Nottingham School of Boxing, Cymru Children & Youth Sports Foundation, and the Corpus Christi Youth Centre in Northern Ireland. All three organisations had seen a large increase in the level and complexity of need from young people and the Trustees were delighted to support their important work with funding over two years.

In addition to supporting frontline organisations working with young people, the Trustees also supported a number of youth charities to build capacity and capability. Two such organisations are Girlguiding and Sported.

With the help of over 80,000 volunteers across 25,000 units across the UK, Girlguiding helps 240,000 girls aged 4-18 to develop their confidence, life skills and to make a positive difference in their communities. Despite this volume, the charity is aware that it has a weak presence among many marginalised communities and has launched a new strategy to co-create a Girlguiding offer with underrepresented community groups. A new team will work with local volunteers and community partners to implement targeted pilots in communities across Northern Ireland, Scotland and Wales. The pilot is designed to be a short-term, intensive capacity-building intervention that can be phased away once the new infrastructure and relationships are established and handed over to the local guiding movement. The Trustees were happy to support this 18 month pilot in the hope that increased opportunities for girls will be developed and sustained by local groups, supported by the national Girlguiding infrastructure.

Sported is the UK's largest network of community groups, all of which use sport and physical activity to address education and employability, health and wellbeing, crime and anti-social behaviour, community cohesion and inequality in sports participation. Sported supports these community groups to become stronger and more sustainable and its 2,600 members are currently supporting half a million young people to overcome barriers to reach their full potential. Almost 70% of Sported's groups in Northern Ireland are entirely volunteer-led and find it hard to access grants, which are typically far smaller than those available in the other UK nations, yet sport is one of the few activities that crosses divides and unites young people in the country. Sported aims to increase the strength of small community groups in the country but historically has struggled to secure investment in its Northern Ireland operations. Having previously supported the charity's work in Wales, the Trustees were delighted to grant £100,000 over two years to build capacity in Northern Ireland.

The impact of the pandemic on our young people has been profound. The rise in youth unemployment has seen an increase in youth homelessness and the Trustees donated to many organisations working in this space, the largest being Depaul UK. Depaul UK supports around 3,000 young people a year experiencing or at risk of homelessness. Nightstop is Depaul's homeless prevention model that provides emergency accommodation in the homes of trained volunteers who offer their spare rooms to young people in crisis. Communities and charities run Nightstop services in over 30 locations around the UK which Depaul oversees, in addition to delivering the service itself in eight regions. The pandemic presented major challenges to the Nightstop model: demand for emergency housing increased significantly with thousands of young people facing homelessness due to family breakdown, abuse and youth unemployment, while host volunteers withdrew from the scheme due to their age and their need to shield at home. Remobilising and recruiting volunteer hosts is a key priority to enable Depaul to expand Nightstop and the Trustees made a grant of £450,000 across three years to underpin this growth across England, Scotland and Wales.

In recognition of the scale and complexity of challenges facing our environment and climate, the Trustees remain committed to supporting a broad range of charities and issues from landscape preservation, species conservation and food systems to vital research and social action.
Over the past few years, the Foundation has proactively encouraged applications from organisations striving to protect and preserve our natural world and has developed a range of partnerships and initiatives to drive this forward. We were delighted, therefore, that in 2021/22 we exceeded our previous record for grant-making to the Environment sector with total donations reaching £7.4 million. Weston Communicating Climate (WCC), our partnership with The Media Trust, saw the first cohort of 30 environment and climate charities graduate from a six-month intensive communications skills training programme and a further 420 charities participated in communications workshops with the support of 480 corporate volunteers. We initiated WCC following research the Foundation commissioned in 2020 that identified the critical challenges environment charities face in communicating the importance and urgency of their work to policy makers and the general public that the sector is facing.

> The climate framing workshop completely changed the way I communicate about climate change.
> Carys Evans, Communications and Campaigns Officer, Wildlife Trusts Wales

Having completed the programme, 97% of WCC's first cohort said they expect to reach wider audiences, 92% are now collaborating with other environmental organisations and 77% agree that they know how to use communications to amplify the voices of underrepresented communities. The Trustees are delighted with the success of WCC. The programme has also leveraged additional investment from media company MG OMD which enables the programme to run for a second year. In addition to funding WCC, the Trustees also made an additional unrestricted grant to the Media Trust to support their core work in engaging experts from the media and creative industries to volunteer to build skills and capability of charity partners.

As well as grants supporting frontline activities, the Trustees made a series of strategic investments that will have a global impact, including the John Innes Centre and the Zoological Society London (ZSL). The John Innes Centre is an international centre of excellence in microbial science. The charity is collaborating with The Sainsbury Laboratory (a world leading plant science research centre) to tackle the complex challenge of feeding the growing global human population while also combatting climate change. Together the charities are developing HP3 – Healthy Plants, Healthy People, Healthy Planet – new cutting-edge and future proofed research facilities that will supercharge the institutions' abilities to translate scientific knowledge into practical solutions to help ensure global food security. The Trustees were delighted to pledge £1 million towards HP3's Crop Improvement Centre, a key component of the new facility.

ZSL is perhaps best known for operating London and Whipsnade Zoos, however the organisation is also an international conservation science charity. Its breeding programmes contribute to global efforts to conserve healthy and genetically diverse populations for re-wilding, and its scientific research in areas such as animal behaviour, nutrition, and reproduction, ensures healthy futures for many species. ZSL is also working hard to protect the UK's biodiversity and convenes specialist organisations across the UK, providing scientific vigour to complement conservation action on the ground and to enable it to be evaluated. While the pandemic has presented a challenge to all charities' finances, zoo visitors provide two-thirds of ZSL's income, which was depleted significantly during Covid-19. The Trustees were delighted to grant £1.5 million over three years to support ZSL and to ensure its vital work to relieve threats to the UK's biodiversity can continue.

The Trustees' grant to the National Trust (NT) in 2021/22 was for a significant landscape conservation project that has community engagement at its core. Divis and the Black Mountain rest in the heart of the Belfast Hills and

> At Media Trust, we simply couldn't do the transformational work we do without the support of our key funders like the Garfield Weston Foundation. The Rivers Trust is really grateful for the strategic funding from Garfield Weston to provide practical support to individual Rivers Trusts and to generate greater regional collaboration and project funding from public and private sectors. provide free green space to some of the most marginalised communities in the UK. Despite the positive impact that being connected to nature has on our lives, the NT's research shows that almost 200,000 local people currently do not use the mountain. The NT is therefore embarking on a major project to restore and protect the mountain's at-risk peatland and wildlife, interpret its 9,000-year history of human involvement and engage local communities, with a particular focus on young people experiencing barriers to education and employment, people living with a disability, those living in poverty and people across sectarian boundaries. The Trustees were happy to grant £300,000 to help local people connect to this important at-risk landscape to ensure its long-term sustainability.

Beyond money, the Trustees' grants help to build the voluntary sector's capability, capacity and confidence. These '3 Cs' define the Foundation's partnerships that develop skills and opportunities with expert organisations. Weston Communicating Climate with the Media Trust is one such partnership and another was the Trustees' grant to the Rivers Trust (RT), the umbrella organisation for 60 member Rivers Trusts in the UK and Ireland. It works with its members to protect rivers, conserve wetlands, restore soils, plant trees and build urban drainage schemes: projects that create more space for nature, greater public facilities, reduce flood risk and pollution and absorb carbon from the atmosphere. The RT has an ambitious goal to quadruple the size and environmental impact of the network over the next five years and the charity's team of Regional Development Managers is pivotal to this goal. In addition to building capacity and capability in local Rivers Trusts to deliver conservation projects, this team has helped secure millions in funding for the network and influenced policy makers. The team is vital to the ongoing growth and strength of the Rivers network and the Trustees were happy to grant £300,000 over three years to ensure the team's continuation.

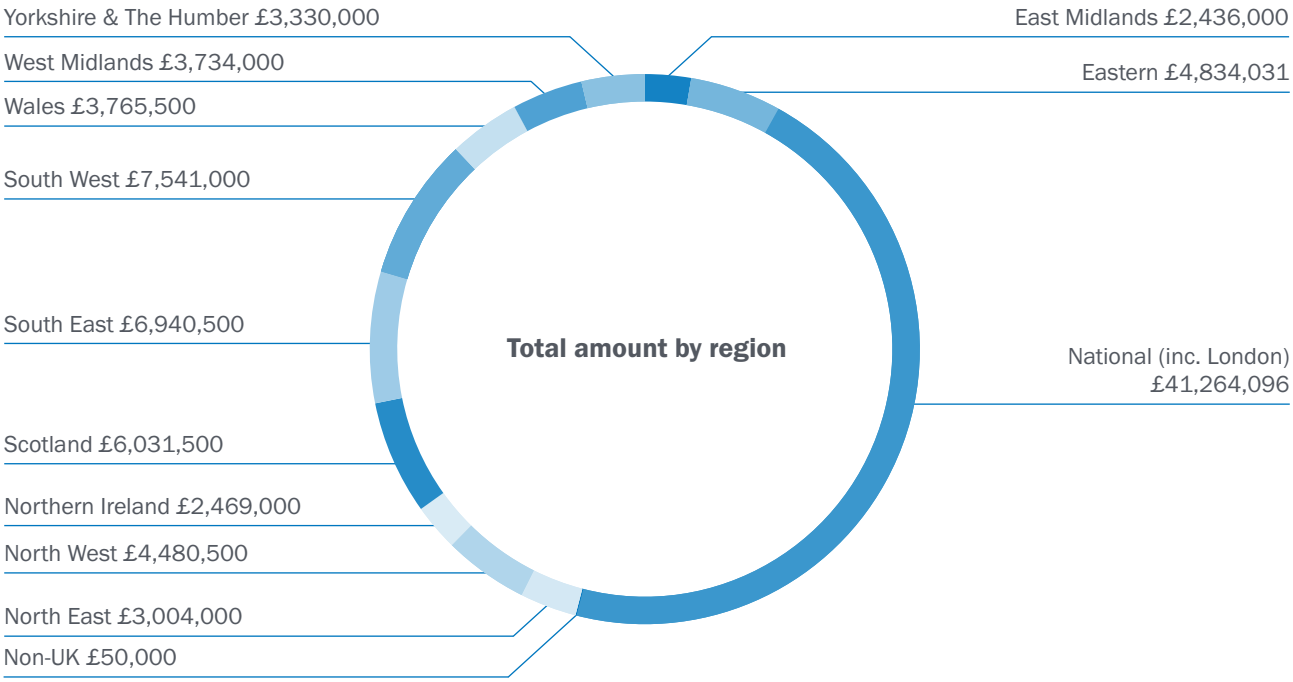

Action needs to be taken now to fight climate change and the Trustees invite charities working in this vital sector to partner with the Foundation.

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Garfield Weston Foundation (the charity) for the year ended 5 April 2022 which comprise the Statement of Financial Activities, the Balance Sheet, the Cashflow Statement and notes to the financial statements, including significant accounting policies. The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards, including FRS 102 The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

In our opinion the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the state of the charity's affairs as at 5 April 2022 and of its incoming resources and application of resources for the year then ended
- have been properly prepared in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice and
- have been prepared in accordance with the Charities Act 2011

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK) (ISA (UK)) and applicable law. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the charity in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in the UK, including the FRC's Ethical Standard, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Conclusions relating to going concern

In auditing the financial statements, we have concluded that the Trustees' use of the going concern basis of accounting in the preparation of the financial statement is appropriate.

Based on the work we have performed, we have not identified any material uncertainties relating to events or conditions that, individually or collectively, may cast significant doubt on the charity's ability to continue as a going concern for a period of at least twelve months from when the financial statements are authorised for issue.

Our responsibilities and the responsibilities of the Trustees with respect to going concern are described in the relevant sections of this report.

Other information

The other information comprises the information included in the annual report other than the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. The Trustees are responsible for the other information contained within the financial statements. Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and, except to the extent otherwise explicitly stated in our report, we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

Our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the course of the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify such material inconsistencies or apparent material misstatements, we are required to determine whether there is a material misstatement in the financial statements or a material misstatement of the other information. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Matters on which we are required to report by exception

In the light of the knowledge and understanding of the charity and its environment obtained in the course of the audit, we have not identified material misstatements in the Trustees' report. We have nothing to report in respect of the following matters where the Charities Act 2011 requires us to report to you if, in our opinion:

- adequate accounting records have not been kept, or returns adequate for our audit have not been received from branches not visited by us
- the financial statements are not in agreement with the accounting records and returns
- certain disclosures of Trustees' remuneration specified by law are not made
- we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit

Responsibilities of Trustees

As explained more fully in the Trustees' responsibilities statement set out on page 8, the Trustees are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view, and for such internal control as the Trustees determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the Trustees are responsible for assessing the charity's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Trustees either intend to liquidate the charity or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditors' responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

We have been appointed as auditor under section 151 of the Charities Act 2011 and report in accordance with the Act and relevant regulations made or having effect thereunder.

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (UK) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

Details of the extent to which the audit was considered capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud and non-compliance with laws and regulations are set out below.

A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements is located on the Financial Reporting Council's website at: www.frc.org.uk/auditorsresponsibilities This description forms part of our auditor's report.

Extent to which the audit was considered capable of detecting irregularities including fraud

Irregularities, including fraud, are instances of non-compliance with laws and regulations. We design procedures in line with our responsibilities, outlined above, to detect material misstatements in respect of irregularities, including fraud. The extent to which our procedures are capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud is detailed below.

Based on our understanding of the charity and the industry in which it operates, we identified that the principal risks of non-compliance with laws and regulations related to the acts by the charity, which were contrary to applicable laws and regulations including fraud, and we considered the extent to which non-compliance might have a material effect on the financial statements. We also considered those laws and regulations that have a direct impact on the preparation of the financial statements such as the Charities Act 2011.

We evaluated management's incentives and opportunities for manipulation of the financial statements (including the risk of override of controls), and determined that the principal risk related to the valuation of the unquoted investment in Wittington Investments Limited ('Wittington') of which the Foundation owns 683,073 50p ordinary shares (79.2%).

The valuation of Wittington requires significant estimation as it is an unquoted company and there is no readily identifiable market price for its shares. Accordingly, the value of the Foundation's investment has been assessed by the Trustees on the basis of the share of the value of the underlyng net assets of Wittington attributable to the Foundation's holding as at 5 April 2022. As Wittington's financial statements are audited as at 18 September 2021, there is a varying degree of estimation required to assess the net asset value as at 5 April 2022 and therefore there is more potential for misstatement in this area.

We assessed Management's valuation methodology and considered whether it was in accordance with the accounting policies of the Foundation, applicable accounting standards and industry practice. Wittington's principal asset is a majority holding (54.5%) in Associated British Foods plc. Therefore, the value of the Foundation's investment in Wittington is driven predominantly by the Associated British Foods plc share price as at 5 April 2022. As the shares are listed on the London Stock Exchange, the value of this holding can be determined easily.

Other audit procedures performed included: review of the financial statement disclosures to underlying supporting documentation to assess compliance with relevant laws and regulations, review of correspondence with legal advisors, review of minutes of meetings held by those charged with governance, enquiries of management and testing of journals and evaluating whether there was evidence of bias by the Trustees that represented a risk of material misstatement due to fraud.

There are inherent limitations in the audit procedures described above and the further removed non-compliance with laws and regulations is from the events and transactions reflected in the financial statements, the less likely we would become aware of it. Also, the risk of not detecting a material misstatement due to fraud is higher than the risk of not detecting one resulting from error, as fraud may involve deliberate concealment by, for example, forgery or intentional misrepresentations, or through collusion.

1 Accounting policies

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with applicable UK accounting standards (UK Generally Accepted Accounting Practice), including Financial Reporting Standard FRS 102 'The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the United Kingdom and the Republic of Ireland' ("FRS 102"). In particular, they comply with the Charities Act 2011 and the Statement of Recommended Practice 'Accounting and Reporting by Charities (the "SORP").

The financial statements have been prepared to give a 'true and fair' view and have departed from the Charities (Accounts and Report) Regulations 2008 only to the extent required to provide a 'true and fair' view. This departure has involved following the Charities SORP (FRS 102).

The Foundation constitutes a public benefit entity as defined by FRS 102. The financial statements are prepared on the historical cost basis except that certain financial instruments are stated at fair value.

The financial statements have been prepared in sterling, which is the functional currency of the Foundation. Monetary amounts in these financial statements are rounded to £'000s.

The particular accounting policies adopted by the Trustees are described below:

a Going concern

After making enquiries, the Trustees have a reasonable expectation that the Foundation has adequate resources to continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future. For this reason they continue to adopt the going concern basis in preparing the consolidated financial statements.

Having reviewed the best estimate of future cash flow to September 2023, and having applied reverse stress tests, the possibility that the financial headroom could be exhausted is considered to be extremely remote. The Trustees understand the risks, sensitivities and judgements included in the cash flow forecast and have a high degree of confidence in these cash flows. There is substantial financial headroom between this cash flow forecast and the cash on hand and funding available to the Foundation over the period.

b Incoming resources

Dividends are included when received. Interest receivable on fixed interest securities and bank deposits is included on an accruals basis. All incoming resources are recognised once the Charity has entitlement to the resources, it is probable that the resources will be received and the monetary value of incoming resources can be measured with sufficient reliability.

c Resources expended and irrecoverable VAT

Liabilities are recognised as resources expended as soon as there is a legal or constructive obligation committing the Charity to the expenditure. All expenditure is accounted for on an accruals basis and has been classified under headings that aggregate all costs related to the category.

Grants awarded are charged in the year when formally awarded by the Trustees and communicated to the recipient irrespective of the period covered by the donation as they are regarded by the Trustees as financial obligations.

Irrecoverable VAT is charged against the category of resources expended for which it was incurred.

d Allocation of overhead and support costs

Overhead and support costs are allocated first between charitable activity and governance. Overhead and support costs relating to charitable activities have been apportioned based on the value of individual grant awards made as it is considered that more is spent awarding, monitoring and assessing grants of greater value. The allocation of overhead and support costs is analysed in note 5.

e Costs of generating funds

The costs of generating funds consist of investment management fees and commissions.

f Charitable activities

Costs of charitable activities include grants made and an apportionment of overhead and support costs as shown in notes 3 and 4.

g Governance costs

Governance costs comprise all costs involving the public accountability of the Charity and its compliance with regulation and good practice. These costs include costs related to statutory audit and legal fees together with an apportionment of overhead and support costs.

h Interest in Wittington Investments Limited

At 5 April 2022 the Foundation owned 79.2% (2021: 79.2%) of Wittington Investments Limited, a company registered in England. Wittington Investments Limited is the ultimate holding company of Associated British Foods plc, and a wide range of investments including Fortnum & Mason plc and Heal's plc, two hotels, a real estate portfolio and significant financial investments. Associated British Foods plc is listed on the London Stock Exchange. The Foundation receives its income from Wittington Investments Limited by way of dividends and records its investment in that company at Trustees' valuation.

As the activities of Wittington Investments Limited and its subsidiaries are fundamentally different from the activities of the Foundation, consolidated accounts have not been prepared as the Trustees are of the opinion that the adopted policy gives a true and fair view of the Foundation's assets and sources of income. Details of the consolidated accounts of Wittington Investments Limited are shown in note 9 to these accounts. The Trustees have agreed this policy with the Charity Commission.

i Fixed assets investments

Investments are stated at market value as at the balance sheet date. The statement of financial activities includes the net gains and losses arising on revaluation and disposals throughout the year.

j Realised gains and losses

All gains and losses are taken to the statement of financial activities as they arise. Realised gains and losses on investments are calculated as the difference between sales proceeds and opening market value. Unrealised gains and losses are calculated as the difference between the market value at the year end and opening market value. Realised and unrealised gains are not separated in the Statement of Financial Activities.

k Fund accounting

Details of the nature and purpose of each fund are set out in note 13.

l Financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are shown in note 8 to these accounts and are recognised when the Foundation becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

Financial assets which qualify as basic financial instruments, including trade and other receivables and cash, are subsequently valued at amortised cost and assessed for impairment at the end of each reporting period.

Other financial assets, including investments, are subsequently valued at fair value.

Financial liabilities are classified according to the substance of the contractual arrangements entered into. All financial assets and liabilities are initially measured at transaction price including transaction costs, except for those financial assets classified as at fair value through profit or loss, which are initially measured at fair value. If an arrangement constitutes a financing transaction, the financial asset or financial liability is measured at the present value of the future payments discounted at a market rate of interest for a similar debt instrument.

Financial assets are derecognised only when either the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire or are settled or all of the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset are substantially transferred to another party.

Financial liabilities are derecognised only when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged, cancelled or expires.

Investments are stated at market value at the balance sheet date. The market values of the managed portfolios are advised by the portfolio managers. The statement of financial activities includes the net gains and losses arising in revaluation and disposals through the year.

- Quoted investments comprise publicly quoted, listed securities including shares, bonds and units. Quoted investments are stated at fair value at the balance sheet date.
- Unquoted investments are valued at the Trustees' best estimate of fair value as explained in note 9.

4 Analysis of charitable expenditure

The Charity undertook no direct charitable activities but awarded grants to a number of institutions in furtherance of its charitable activities. As a consequence of supporting charitable organisations, the Foundation achieves public benefit. The Foundation's grant policy is to accept only appeals from UK registered charities. Registration provides an element of assurance of public benefit, although for charities registered before the implementation of the Charities Act 2006 the public benefit was a presumption.

Unlisted investments

The unlisted investments comprise 683,073 50p ordinary shares (79.2%) of Wittington Investments Limited, an unquoted company, see note 1 (h).

The business of Wittington Investments Limited is the management of investments in a wide range of assets. As it is an unquoted company there is no readily identifiable market price for its shares. Accordingly, the value of the Foundation's investments has been assessed by the Trustees on the basis of the share of the value of the underlying net assets of Wittington attributable to the Foundation's holding.

Wittington's principal asset is a holding of 54.5% of the issued ordinary capital of Associated British Foods plc ('ABF') which is listed on The London Stock Exchange. In assessing the value of the underlying net assets of Wittington the value of its investment in ABF has been based on the closing share price as at 5 April 2022.

In addition, Wittington holds a wide range of other assets managed in four different business segments:

- Luxury Retail: comprising the 100% ownership of Fortnum & Mason and Heal's, two long established retailers.
- Real Estate: investing in high-quality investment properties in the retail, office and distribution sectors across the UK. Wittington also takes strategic positions in selective development opportunities, alongside local partners or sector specialists.
- Hotels: as an extension of its Real Estate strategy, Wittington invests in hotels with high-quality real estate backing and with a broad mix of customers from corporate, event and leisure markets. Wittington currently owns The Grand Hotel, Brighton and the Richmond Hill Hotel.
- Private Markets & Other Investments: Wittington invests both directly and via externally managed funds in private equity and private debt markets. Other investments are principally composed of liquid investments in short-dated investment grade bonds and listed equities.

The most recent financial year end for Wittington was 18 September 2021. As such, aside from the investment in ABF, Wittington's remaining investments have been valued using net asset values in the 31 March 2022 management accounts, which are considered to be their fair values. At 5 April 2022 the fair value of Wittington including Associated British Foods Plc is considered to be £8.91bn and the Foundation's share of this (79.24%) is £7.06bn.

At the date of this report, restrictions relating to the Covid-19 pandemic have completely eased domestically. The situation is still uncertain and new variants of concern and their resistance to vaccines could still lead to Governments and authorities imposing restrictions on an international, national, regional and local level. The reintroduction of such restrictions would fundamentally affect the trading outlook for all of the Wittington Group's business segments. As economies around the world have reopened, all our businesses are experiencing logistic challenges, Covid-related labour absences and significant inflationary pressures in raw materials, supply chains and energy. Against this backdrop, the Wittington group of businesses have performed resiliently, with profits and cash balances restored to pre-Covid levels. Despite this, the closing price of shares in Associated British Foods plc at 5th April was 33% lower on the prior year.

The Wittington group owns two hotels and a portfolio of investment properties. The portfolio is held at cost less provision for impairment within the financial statements. The third-party valuations prepared at 18 September 2021 were considerably higher than this carrying value when considering the portfolio in total. The trustees do not expect material movement in the market value of the properties compared to the valuation as at 18 September 2021.

The Trustees have no current intention of disposing of the interest in Wittington.

Permanent endowment

The permanent endowment funds comprise the original capital fund, and gains thereto, established to provide income for grant payments in accordance with the objectives of the Foundation. The capital may not be converted into income. The funds are represented by the investments included in fixed assets. Unrealised gains on revaluation of these investments are credited to the funds.

Unrestricted expendable capital

In accordance with the authority given to the Trustees under an Order of the Charity Commission dated 19 September 2001, £65,747,000 was transferred to an expendable capital fund in relation to which income and capital are distributable at the discretion of the Trustees. £5 million was invested in 2001/02 in the Charities Property Fund and £60 million was invested in 2002/03 with investment managers in balanced portfolios on a discretionary total return basis. Income and investment gains and losses are taken to this fund and the amount allocated to income by the Trustees, £3,045,313 (2021: £3,832,000), is shown as a transfer to the income fund.

Unrestricted income funds

The income of the Foundation is expendable at the discretion of the Trustees in furtherance of the objects of the Foundation. Gains on investments held in the income funds are credited to these funds.

Chairman's report

As the Chairman of the Foundation, I have pleasure in introducing the Annual Report of the Trustees for the year to 5 April 2021.

Accounting policies

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the accounting policies set out in the notes to the accounts and comply with the charity's governing document, the Charities Act 2011 and Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland published on 16 July 2014 (FRS102).

Structure, governance and management

Structure

The operation of the Foundation is governed by a Trust Deed dated 10 October 1958.

At 5 April 2021, the Foundation owned 79.2% of Wittington Investments Limited, a company registered in England. Wittington Investments is the ultimate holding company of Associated British Foods plc, which is listed on the London Stock Exchange, Fortnum and Mason plc and Heal's plc. Under the terms of the Trust Deed, the investment in the Wittington Investments Limited group of companies forms the permanent capital endowment of the Foundation and the Trustees may not dispose of those investments except by a unanimous vote of all the Trustees.

Governance and management

In accordance with the Trust Deed, after the death of Mr W Garfield Weston and his wife, their descendants became Trustees. The number of Trustees is limited to ten but must be at least five. If the number of Trustees drops below five, new Trustees fall to be appointed from among the lineal descendants of W Garfield Weston.

Being family members, incoming Trustees are aware of the aims and objectives of the Foundation and the manner in which the Trustees carry out their responsibilities. Nearly all of the Trustees are on the board of other charitable entities either in the UK, the United States or Canada. The Foundation is a member of the Foundations Forum and the Association of Charitable Foundations and also receives the main charities' journals. This ensures that the Trustees are well placed to keep up to date with developments in charity practice and regulations. In addition, the Trustees receive direct information in relation to important areas from both their Secretary, who attends monthly meetings and is a practising lawyer with expertise in the charities' field, and from their auditors UHY Hacker Young LLP.

The Trustees are directly responsible for the management of the Foundation and hold regular meetings in order to consider grant applications for £100,000 or more and to ratify smaller grants which have been made since their previous meeting. Additional meetings are included as required to deal with any time-sensitive funding requests. The initial processing of grant applications is dealt with by an experienced team of staff, though every eligible application is seen by at least one of the Trustees who also actively participate in meetings with, and visits to, applicants. The Trustees also hold an annual meeting in order to adopt the Annual Report and Accounts and to carry out a formal review of the fulfilment of the Charity's aims and objectives, policies and the investment performance over the year.

Risk management and policies

The Trustees are satisfied that appropriate policies, protection, systems and checks remain in place in order to mitigate exposure to major risks and to ensure that the Foundation operates in accordance with ethical and environmental guidelines and protections. The Director and Secretary review operational risks and policies on an ongoing basis and these are also formally considered by the Trustees at their Annual Meeting.

The principal risks relate to investment performance, and operational risks in terms of grant-making arising from system malfunctions or fraudulent applications. There is also a reputational risk for the charity in terms of its relationship with the underlying trading activities of companies held through Wittington Investments Limited.

Operational: the computer system and internal procedures are regularly updated and reviewed and all grant applicants are screened by a skilled grants management team. Appropriate processes, guidelines and staff training are also in place to ensure compliance with various statutory and ethical requirements, including, but not limited to, those under the Data Protection Act 2018 and the Modern Slavery Act 2015, to address DEI-related issues and to provide safeguarding for staff and applicants. The systems and processes which are in place to enable staff to work remotely from the office have proved to be effective and robust during the Covid-19 lockdown periods.

Investments: the Trustees regularly review the performance of the underlying assets and their shareholding in the Wittington Investments Limited group and receive reports directly from those who are managing the businesses. The non-Wittington investments are also managed in accordance with a policy which balances risk with investment returns (see below).

Reputation: the direct involvement of members of the Trustee board in the activities of the Wittington group also enables them to be fully appraised of events which might give rise to unwelcome media attention and hence reputational risks.

Conflicts of interest: the Trustees have in place a detailed policy regarding conflicts of interest, both in terms of their grant-making decisions, and also in terms of the fact that some of them are directors of Wittington group companies; this potential for conflict is carefully managed with proper procedures (including as regards the exercise of the Trustees' voting powers at the Wittington Investments Limited AGM and any other shareholder meetings) and the taking of independent advice where necessary.

Ethical and environment: as well as implementing their own approaches to protect the environment (for example, nearly all applications are made on-line and the Trustees receive meeting papers electronically, thus reducing the need for paper printing and facilitating remote working), the Trustees also keep under scrutiny the ethical and environmental practices as carried out by the underlying businesses in the Wittington group and their independent investment managers. The Foundation does not employ its own staff but, in relation to its secondees, adheres to the practices laid down by Wittington and Associated British Foods in connection with the Modern Slavery Act and corporate responsibility — for more details see:
www.wittington-investments.co.uk/wp-content/uploads/ModernSlaveryHumanTraffickingStatement2020.pdf
www.abf.co.uk/responsibility

Diversity, Equity and Inclusion: the Trustees are committed to inclusion in our society; addressing disadvantage has been a central theme of the Foundation for over six decades as we value diversity in its widest sense. We aim to be accessible, transparent and straightforward in our approach to grant-giving and actively support charities which in turn support diverse groups and communities, including those suffering discrimination in all its forms. The Trustees and our staff are committed to inclusion and discussion on DEI is continuous to ensure our commitment is embedded into our work on a daily basis. We continue to monitor the diversity of our staff team, we have improved our applicant monitoring and have a DEI champion with knowledge and lived experience of DEI issues.

Safeguarding: the Trustees have a safeguarding policy which is aimed at protecting their own staff as well as vulnerable beneficiaries supported by our charity partners. The Trustees also require grant applicants to confirm that they have appropriate safeguarding policies in place to protect their staff, volunteers and beneficiaries.

Income and grant-making aims and objectives

The Trust Deed contains broad charitable objects which allow the Trustees, in their discretion, to pay or apply the income and, subject to the restrictions set out below, the capital of the Trust Fund to or for the benefit of any charitable bodies, trusts, associations, institutions or organisations.

Despite the general reduction in corporate dividends in UK markets resulting from the economic impact of the Covid-19 pandemic, total income receipts for the year were £83.9 million (2020: £84.7 million). This, combined with the ability to draw on prudent levels of income reserves, has enabled the Trustees to provide total grants at a record level of over £98.3 million in support of 2129 appeals (2020: £88.1 million in support of 2121 appeals). The total outstanding forward commitments at the end of the financial year were just over £38 million, as compared with £33.1 million in 2020; this figure is inflated by outstanding significant pledges to the National Portrait Gallery (£5m) for a capital building project and Moorfields Eye Hospital (£10m) for a new National Centre for Advancing Eye Health which the Trustees felt was important to support at an early stage to encourage support from other donors. These organisations have been asked to give three months' notice of any request for release of funds so that the Trustees can effectively manage cashflow. This year has also seen a general increase in the number of pledges as opposed to outright grants in order to support charities to create positive momentum with fundraising in the current uncertain economic environment; however, aside from the £15 million referred to above, the figures are within the Trustees' aim that the total forward commitments should not exceed 20% of their annual projected expenditure.

Requests for grants for capital projects have reduced over the past year in line with reduced confidence across the sector in launching major new capital campaigns. However, the Trustees have continued to provide for these as well as providing funding specifically to support the core costs of charities whose existence has been threatened by the economic consequences of the Covid-19 pandemic, and also assisting charities whose resources have been stretched to the brink in terms of providing much needed social and health care, including assisting the ability to provide such services remotely. The Trustees have also made substantial contributions to Social and Sustainable Capital (£5m) and the Charity Bank (£1m) which can in turn be used to provide loans to support charities in carrying out their objectives.

The number and quality of applications received for the Weston Culture Fund was significant, with requests totalling £128 million; the Trustees made grants of over £30.2 million as compared with the original target of £25 million. See the Director's Report and full list of grants made for more details on the Weston Culture Fund and the Foundation's overall response to the Covid-19 pandemic.

Grant-making policy

The Foundation continues to accept only appeals from UK registered charities. No applications from individuals are considered and the Trustees do not typically fund projects outside the UK, nor do they fund animal welfare charities, unless for the purpose of supporting a specific environmental project, as was the case, for example, with grants to WWF UK and RSPB Scotland.

The Trustees' aim is to keep the application process as simple and streamlined as possible. Step-by-step guidelines as to how to make a grant application (more than 95% of which are now submitted on-line), together with clear details of the criteria which are taken into consideration when assessing applications and the information which should be submitted with an application are available on the Foundation's website (www.garfieldweston.org). These guidelines are also published in Welsh (although applications from Welsh charities must still be made in English).

All applications are considered on an individual basis; the Trustees do not consider any funding request made within 12 months of the outcome of a previous application but, in relation to funding for core costs, they will consider providing funds to be spread over a period of years. Where desirable and possible, visits are made by Trustees and/or the Director or a member of the Foundation's grants team to gain a better understanding of an applicant's requirements. Regular contact is maintained with recipients of grants for monitoring purposes, while also taking care to minimise the burden on the recipient charities.

To provide further transparency in the grant-making process, the Foundation publishes its grants through 360Giving. It also commissions independent reviews of grant-giving initiatives, such as the Weston Anniversary Awards in 2018 and the Weston Culture Fund this year, to assess their effectiveness and to continually improve the experience for applicants. These findings are published and shared openly, made accessible on the website and highlighted in social media.

Public benefit

The Trustees have complied with section 2(1)(b) of the Charities Act 2011, having due regard to the Charity Commission's guidance on public benefit when reviewing the Foundation's aims and objectives, when setting the grant-making policy and in making awards.

Achievements and performance

I am delighted to be able to report that Wittington Investments Limited broadly maintained its dividend payments to the Foundation so that we have been able to provide record amounts of funding at a time when the sector, and those whom it supports, has been most in need.

I and my fellow Trustees once again extend our sincere thanks to the Director and her team for their forward-thinking, flexible and sensitive approach to the funding needs arising out of the Covid-19 pandemic, especially in relation to the additional work generated by the Weston Culture Fund initiative and a more intensive timetable of Trustee meetings throughout the year so swift decisions could be made.

Investment performance

The Trustees are satisfied that the investment structure (represented by the Wittington group of companies) which was contributed by my grandfather to the Foundation remains a sustainable long-term model, particularly in terms of providing a regular and reliable income stream to enable the Foundation to fulfil its charitable purposes. The value of the group of companies (which is directly attributable to the share price of Associated British Foods) has recovered in line with equity markets generally and the Trustees remain confident that any fluctuations in value of the shares in Associated British Foods and of the non-Wittington Investments, and any reduction in the ability of those entities to pay dividends in the short term, will not have a lasting effect on their ability to provide support to grant applicants.

It should be noted that in each financial year for the Foundation there is not a direct correlation between the amounts which Wittington pays by way of dividends and the amounts which are received by the Trustees by reference to their percentage shareholding; this is owing to the fact that the two entities have different accounting year ends.

In terms of non-Wittington investments, as at 5 April 2021 the Trustees' portfolio with Investec was valued at over £64.5 million (2020: £51.3m), having recovered in line with equity markets generally from the fall during the last two months of the 2020 financial year caused by the outbreak of Covid-19 and associated lockdown measures. The portfolio is also once again nearly 3% ahead of the benchmark of RPI plus 4% over a rolling three year period. As against the ARC (Asset Risk Consultants) Charity Steady Growth Index (the average volatility of which is similar to that of the portfolio), which provides results to 30 March each year, net of fees the portfolio returned +22.7% over a three year period as compared to +21.6% for the Index. In line with a decrease in dividend payments by UK companies generally, the portfolio's distributable income for the year has reduced from £1.8 million to just under £1.4 million, but this has not affected the level of quarterly distributions to the Foundation.

The investment in the Goldman Sachs Asset Management Global Multi-Manager Alternatives Portfolio which is aimed at providing a complementary investment strategy for the Investec portfolio in order to balance a reasonable return against protection from downside risk, was valued at £35.1 million as at 5 April 2021 (2020: £31.7m) after annual withdrawals of £1.6 million, with the performance +2% above that of the HFRX Hedge Fund Index. The fund provided downside protection in the first quarter of 2020, being down -8% as against the MSCI World index low of -20%, but the Trustees continue to keep the investment under review.

The capital value of the Savills' Charities Property Fund was £5.967 million as at 5 April 2021 (2020: £6.057m), with an income yield of 3.8%.

Further analysis of the investment assets can be found in Note 9 to the Financial Statements. A copy of Wittington Investments Limited's accounts for the year to 12 September 2020 can be obtained from Companies House.

Financial review

In accordance with required accounting policies, grants are recognised in the statement of financial activities when approved by the Trustees and communicated to the recipients, irrespective of the future period over which payments are to be made, and the obligations outstanding at the year end are recognised as creditors.

Costs

These continue to be very low in relation to the levels of income and donations made and are kept under review by the Director and Trustees to ensure they remain lean as a proportion of grant expenditure.

Reserves

The Trustees' policy is to maintain reserves of approximately 50% of the Foundation's annual income bearing in mind the general timing of income receipts, their general pattern of giving and the current economic climate. As a result of the record level of grants awarded, total income reserves at the end of the year had reduced to £29.6 million and this will be taken into account when assessing levels of grant-making for the following financial year.

Investment objectives

The Trustees' investment objectives in relation to their non-Wittington group assets as set out in the policy statement are to preserve the absolute value of the capital, whilst maintaining its 'real' value. The managers are instructed to adopt a relatively conservative investment strategy investing in a balanced portfolio without geographical, currency or sector restriction, subject to the terms of a Charity Commission Order dated 19 September 2001. The primary benchmark for investment performance remains at RPI plus 4% over a rolling three year period, although comparison is also made on an annual basis with the ARC (Asset Risk Consultants) Charity Steady Growth Index and, in the case of the Goldman Sachs portfolio, the HFRX Hedge Fund Index.

The Trustees are satisfied that the two investment managers have suitable policies in place regarding their stock selection to ensure that these comply with the latest ESG practices. The Trustees' principal investment, namely Associated British Foods plc, is a highly diversified global company with an extensive and practical approach to responsible business. The Trustees have a direct line of sight into this business, making the Foundation's approach to responsible investment more transparent and with a higher degree of clarity than other models might afford.

Trustees' responsibilities for the financial statements

The Trustees are responsible for preparing the Trustees' Annual Report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice). The law applicable to charities in England and Wales requires the Trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial year which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charity and of the incoming resources and application of resources of the charity for that period. In preparing these financial statements, the Trustees are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently
- observe the methods and principles in the Charities SORP
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent
- state whether applicable accounting standards and statements of recommended practice have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charity will continue in operation

The Trustees are responsible for keeping proper records which disclose with reasonable accuracy the financial position of the charity and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Charities Act 2011, the Charity (Accounts and Reports) Regulations 2008 and the provisions of the Trust Deed. They are also responsible for safeguarding the charity's assets and hence taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and breaches of law and regulations.

The Trustees are responsible for the maintenance and integrity of the charity and financial information included on the charity's website. Legislation in the United Kingdom governing the preparation and dissemination of financial statements may differ from legislation in other jurisdictions.

Plans for future periods

Despite the hope for economic and social recovery provided by the Covid-19 vaccination programme, some of the challenges experienced over the past year by charities and their beneficiaries are likely to continue for some time into the future. We have all had to adapt to a new environment and ways of working and the Trustees will continue in their aim to respond to the changing needs of the charity sector.

The record value of grants this year, made in these unique circumstances, has been exceptional and it is expected that the level of grants next year will return to 2020 levels. However, the Trustees will continue to work to provide funding where it is most needed and can most effectively be utilised to make a difference. We will also maintain our ability to respond promptly and effectively to a crisis, relying upon the consistent performance of the Foundation's investment endowment and prudent income reserves.

Sir Guy H Weston
Chairman of the Trustees 18 October 2021

Director's Report

I hope that this report finds you and your loved ones in good health. A year ago, it would have been unthinkable that we would be producing a second annual report with the coronavirus pandemic continuing to impact our daily lives.

'Extraordinary' is perhaps the word many of us associate with 2020, and all of us at the Foundation have been consistently humbled by the amazing work of our nation's charities. Over the past year our charity partners have been exceptional: while vulnerable people were forced into greater isolation and need, the vital charities that support them found innovative ways to adapt and deliver their services while battling financial instability, sickness, volunteer shortages, staff on furlough and, at home, coping with home-schooling, bereavement and myriad pressures.

The Foundation's Trustees and staff have been inspired by the sector and have worked incredibly hard to ensure that the Foundation was able to grant a record-breaking sum of over £98 million to over 2,000 organisations across the UK. My grateful thanks go to our passionate and determined team who worked tirelessly under challenging circumstances. For further insight please see our brief, separate document entitled 'A Covid-19 Experience' which is available on our website as a tribute to the sector and which summarises our response to the pandemic.

Throughout the year the Trustees convened a range of extraordinary Board meetings alongside their usual timetable, to consider swiftly the many funding requests from organisations supporting vulnerable people. Examples include grants to charities such as SafeLives that speedily developed and disseminated guidance to over 2,000 frontline practitioners and first responders tackling domestic abuse and violence; to St Mungo's which gave one-to-one support to 1,600 homeless people to reduce their chances of returning to the streets after lockdown; to FareShare that distributed food to charities supporting vulnerable families across the UK; and to many organisations supporting our nation's young people including The Mix, Place2Be, Onside, Greenhouse Sports and the Scout Association to name just a few.

However, 2020 was not entirely defined by emergency funding. The Trustees also made a range of strategic grants for innovations to support the voluntary sector and its resilience into the future. These included an investment in Charity Bank and a grant to Social and Sustainable Capital (SASC). Charity Bank takes a unique approach to repayable finance within the voluntary sector and is committed to supporting organisations that facilitate positive social change – while many mainstream lenders scaled back their loans during the pandemic, Charity Bank increased its loan programme and the Trustees were delighted to commit £1 million in the knowledge it would be leveraged into loans of around £8 million across the sector. Similarly, SASC also provides financial support to charities that meet social need, and the organisation shares the Foundation's view that specialist charities and local people are best suited to find solutions for their communities, rather than advocating a 'one size fits all' model. SASC developed its Social and Sustainable Housing fund to address the significant and unmet need for safe, quality housing for charities working to prevent homelessness. Through this fund SASC makes loans to enable charities to purchase housing stock directly so their vulnerable clients are not subject to the uncertainties of private rental. The Trustees were pleased to make a grant of £5 million to SASC's housing fund.

This last year has also demonstrated a greater appetite for working in partnership across the sector. At times this has been driven by financial necessity, but also by a passion and commitment to supporting the most vulnerable in our communities. We have seen a range of collaborations, from locally based organisations coming together to support their shared communities, to national organisations working together to tackle major challenges such as homelessness, elderly isolation, and mental health. Funders too have come together to ensure that decisions are made swiftly, information is shared and funds are deployed to where they are most urgently needed. We donated funds alongside other funders to the National Emergencies Trust and The Fore and joined working groups including the Operations Working Group at the Department of Culture Media and Sport (DCMS) and the Arts Funders Forum to ensure we remained well connected with changes as they evolved.

We have also strengthened our existing partnerships, with an example being our ongoing collaboration with Pilotlight, with which we run the Weston Charity Awards. These awards offer structured mentoring and business coaching to frontline charities working in the fields of Youth, Community and Welfare. Established in 2014 the Awards now extend across the North of England, the Midlands and Wales. In 2020 the Awards supported 20 organisations and since they began the Weston Charity Awards have worked with 130 charities that themselves support over 650,000 people. We are excited to see the Awards continue for their seventh year in 2021.

Another sector that has been especially impacted by the pandemic has been the arts, and particularly organisations that work hard to generate income from activities such as tickets, food and beverage sales and venue hire. To support the sector the Foundation launched the Weston Culture Fund to enable organsiations to restart work, refresh their activities and re-engage with audiences following Covid-19 closures. The scale of need was evident with requests totalling over £128 million for a £25 million fund. The Trustees were impressed by the ingenuity of the sector and were delighted to increase the fund by over 20% to grant more than £30 million in total. The following section highlights some examples of the exceptional organisations that the fund supported.

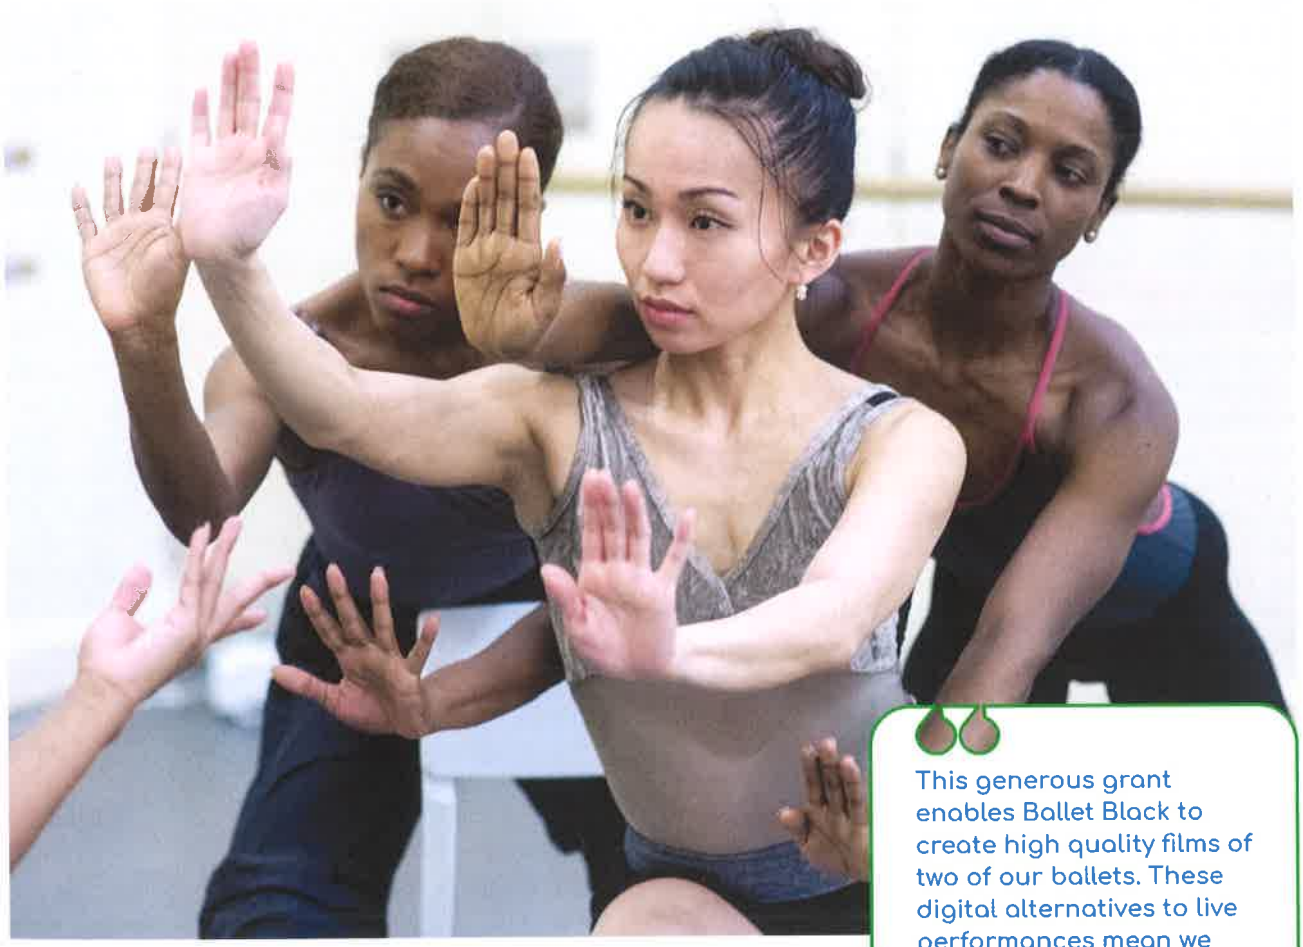

Covid-19 also highlighted many social and health disparities in the UK; the Trustees have always believed in supporting everyone to thrive and participate fully in society, so funding organisations that address these issues continues to be a focus for the Foundation. Grants made during the year included a partnership with The Fore to help small charities working within and led by marginalised communities become more resilient and sustainable; the Brilliant Club to increase the number of pupils from under-represented backgrounds into university and to the Weston Jerwood Creative Bursaries to create paid entry-level roles for young people from diverse backgrounds, not only developing more diverse workforces but transforming the way arts organisations recruit. We also scrutinised every aspect of the Foundation's operations and made changes accordingly. We have further diversified our staff team, had all our communications and processes externally audited from an accessibility perspective, undertook unconscious bias training, and we continue to listen to and learn from our charity partners. While mindful of the workload of applicants, we have also improved the collection of demographic data about their beneficiaries to monitor and inform our work in a pragmatic way and ensure we continue to reach the most disadvantaged.

While Covid-19 impacted our daily lives, our Trustees also remain aware of the climate challenges faced by our planet and they supported more charities working to improve our environment than ever before. During the year we released our research report 'Prioritising our Planet' which highlighted, direct from the sector, the key difficulties the environmental sector faces. We took immediate and direct action and launched the 'Weston Communicating Climate Programme' in partnership with the Media Trust, details of which follow in the next section. The pandemic and its impact are not yet over, however for over 60 years the Foundation has partnered with charities to help them thrive and our Trustees and team remain determined to do our best for those who need us, now more than ever.

Philippa Charles
Director

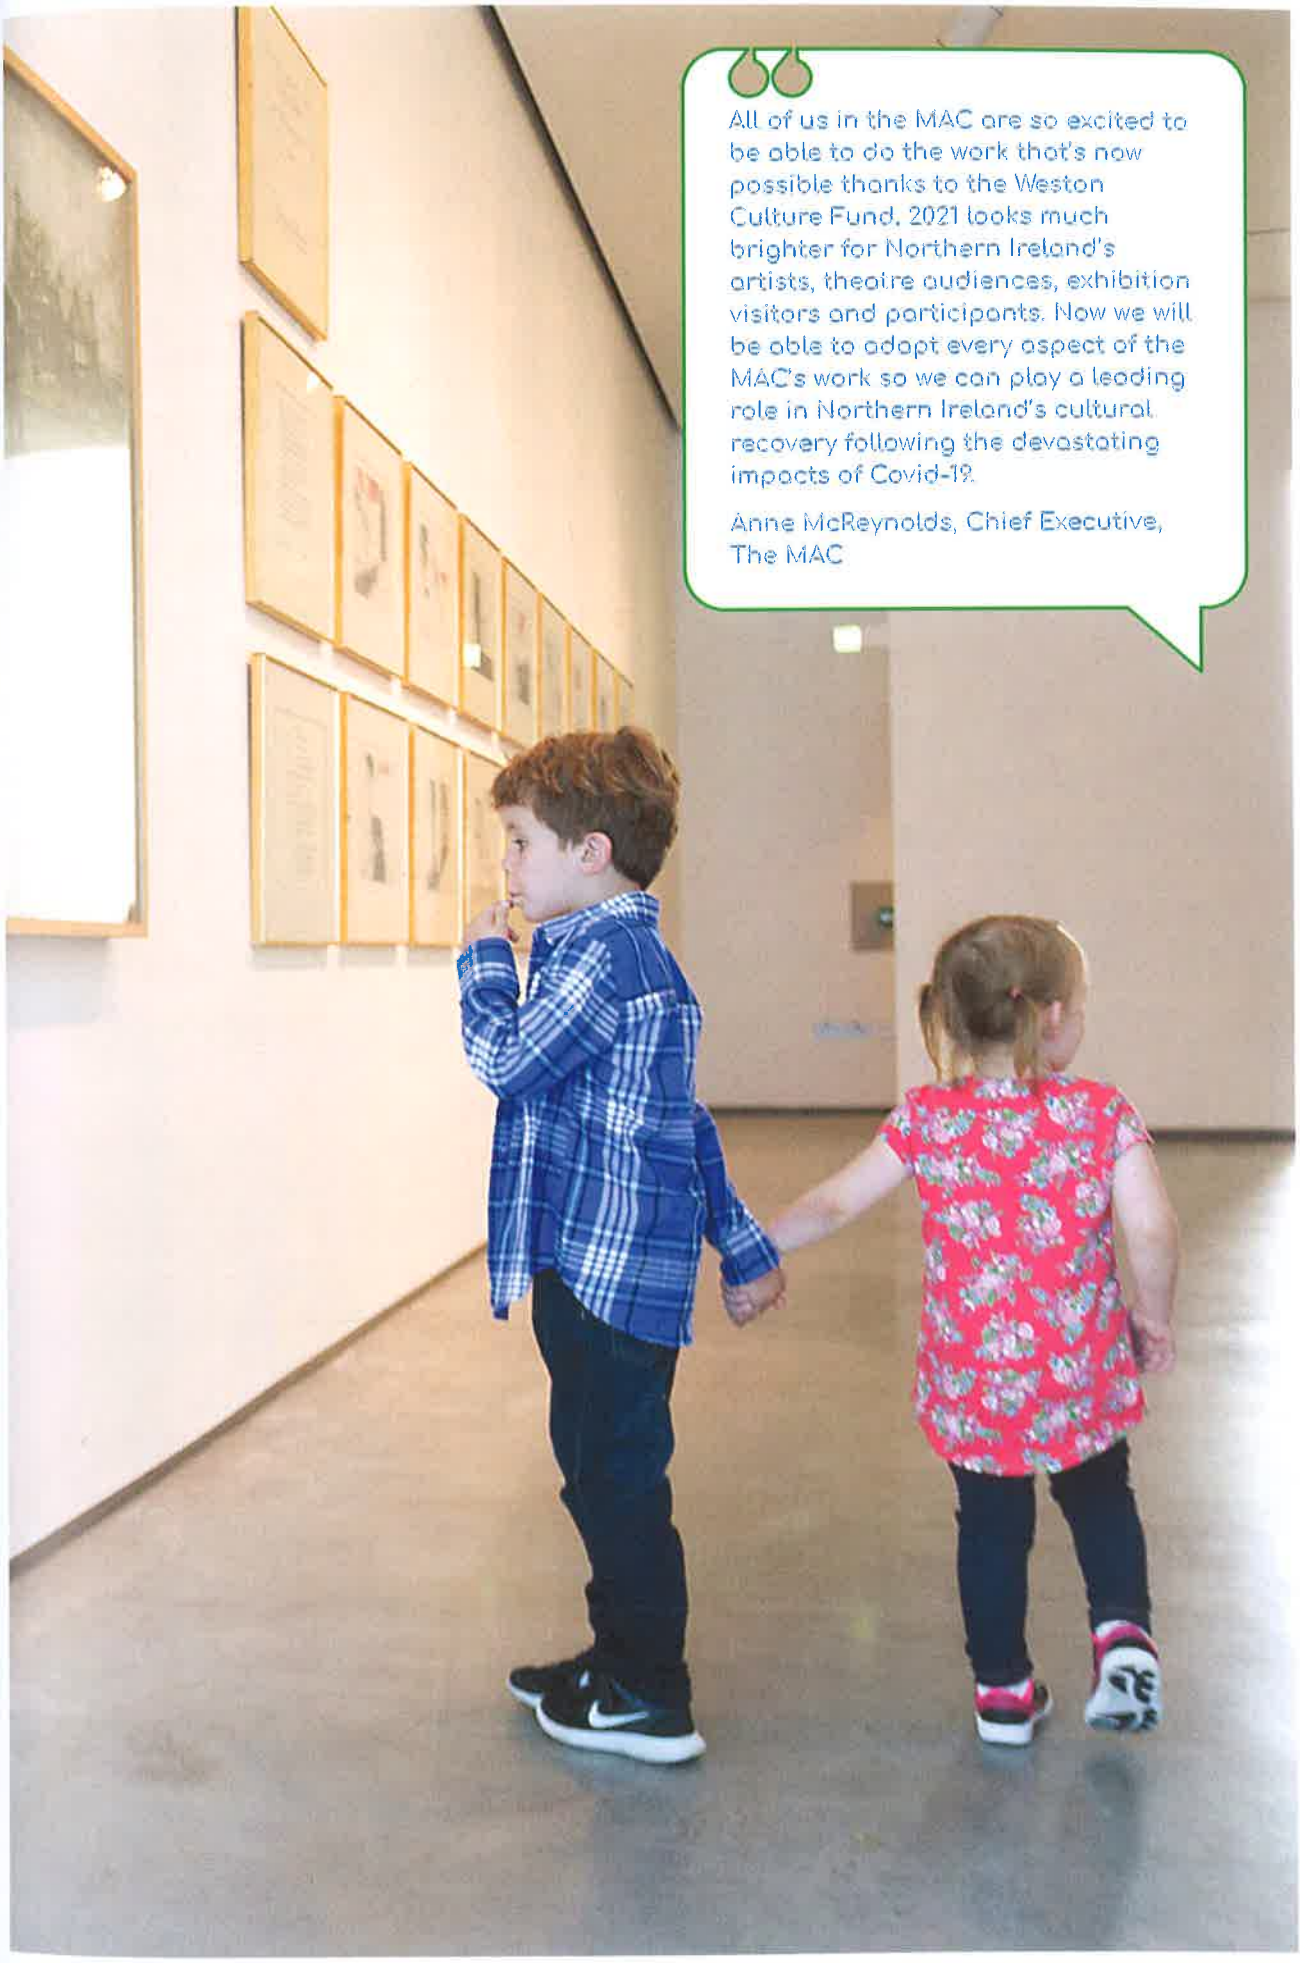

Weston Culture Fund

The UK's cultural sector is among the best in the world and has been hit particularly hard by the pandemic, its ongoing series of lockdowns and uncertainty as to when public places can reopen. This has been especially the case for organisations that work hard to generate significant proportions of their income from activities such as ticket sales, venue hire and food and beverage offerings. Many organisations found themselves relying on reserves and having to furlough staff to preserve resources, while wanting to honour contracts with freelance artists, being determined to maintain contact with their audiences and local communities and to continue programme development. This intense combination of challenges has left some of the UK's cultural institutions in a precarious position. The Foundation acted swiftly to support the arts and created a fund to aid the sustainability of cultural charities in appreciation of the crucial role they play within our local communities; providing employment, volunteering, learning and outreach opportunities which all contribute to our collective wellbeing. The resulting Weston Culture Fund was a national initiative designed to support mid-sized and large-scale cultural organisations to restart important work and refresh their plans to bring audiences back. Applicants were invited to apply for costs associated with three areas: restarting and reopening; making critical adaptations; and for developing programming to reach existing and new audiences. We received applications totalling £128 million: the Trustees held three extraordinary Board meetings in January 2021 to review the Culture Fund applications and awarded a total of £30.2 million in 106 grants ranging from £100,000 to £1.5 million depending on the size of the organisation.

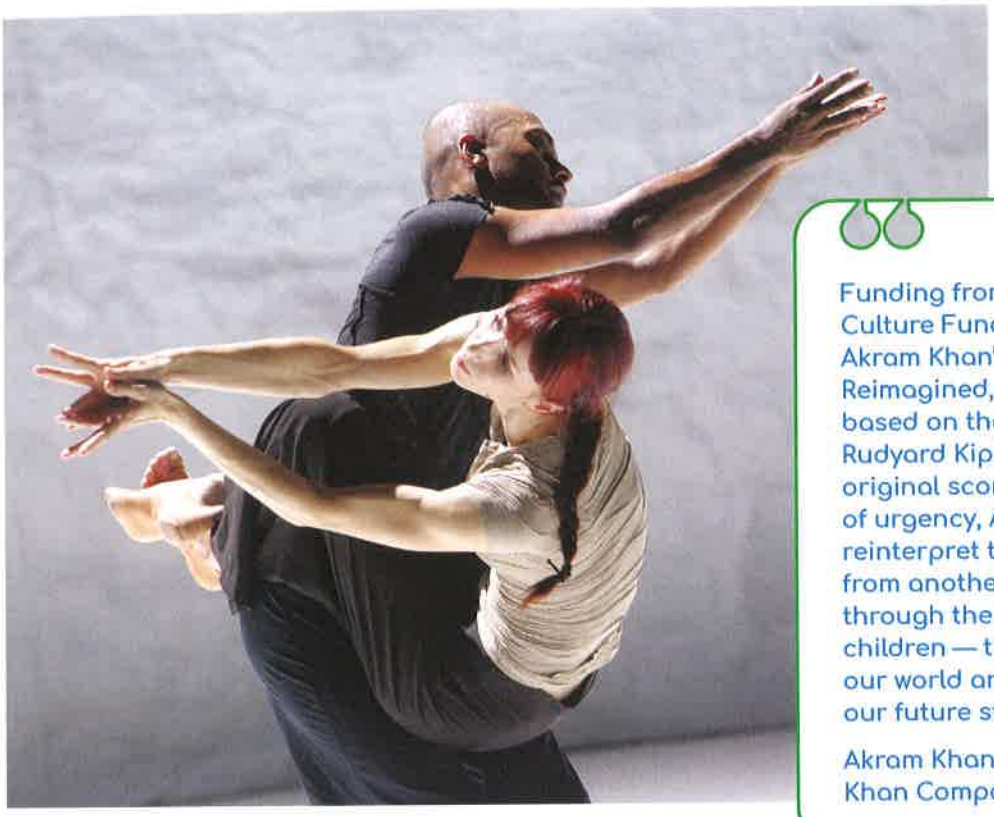

This generous grant enables Ballet Black to create high quality films of two of our ballets. These digital alternatives to live performances mean we can continue to introduce diverse audiences to classical ballet.

> All of us in the MAC are so excited to be able to do the work that's now possible thanks to the Weston Culture Fund. 2021 looks much brighter for Northern Ireland's artists, theatre audiences, exhibition visitors and participants. Now we will be able to adapt every aspect of the MAC's work so we can play a leading role in Northern Ireland's cultural recovery following the devastating impacts of Covid-19.

Funding from the Weston Culture Fund will support Akram Khan's Jungle Book Reimagined, a brand-new work based on the original story by Rudyard Kipling and set to an original score. With a new sense of urgency, Akram will reinterpret this known story from another perspective, through the lens of today's children — those who will inherit our world and who will become our future storytellers.

Thanks to the incredible support from the Weston Culture Fund, we can stay connected with audiences across the UK. We have just launched our brand-new online video on demand platform, giving us much-needed flexibility for the future.

Juliet Tweedie, Head of Development, Centre for the Moving Image

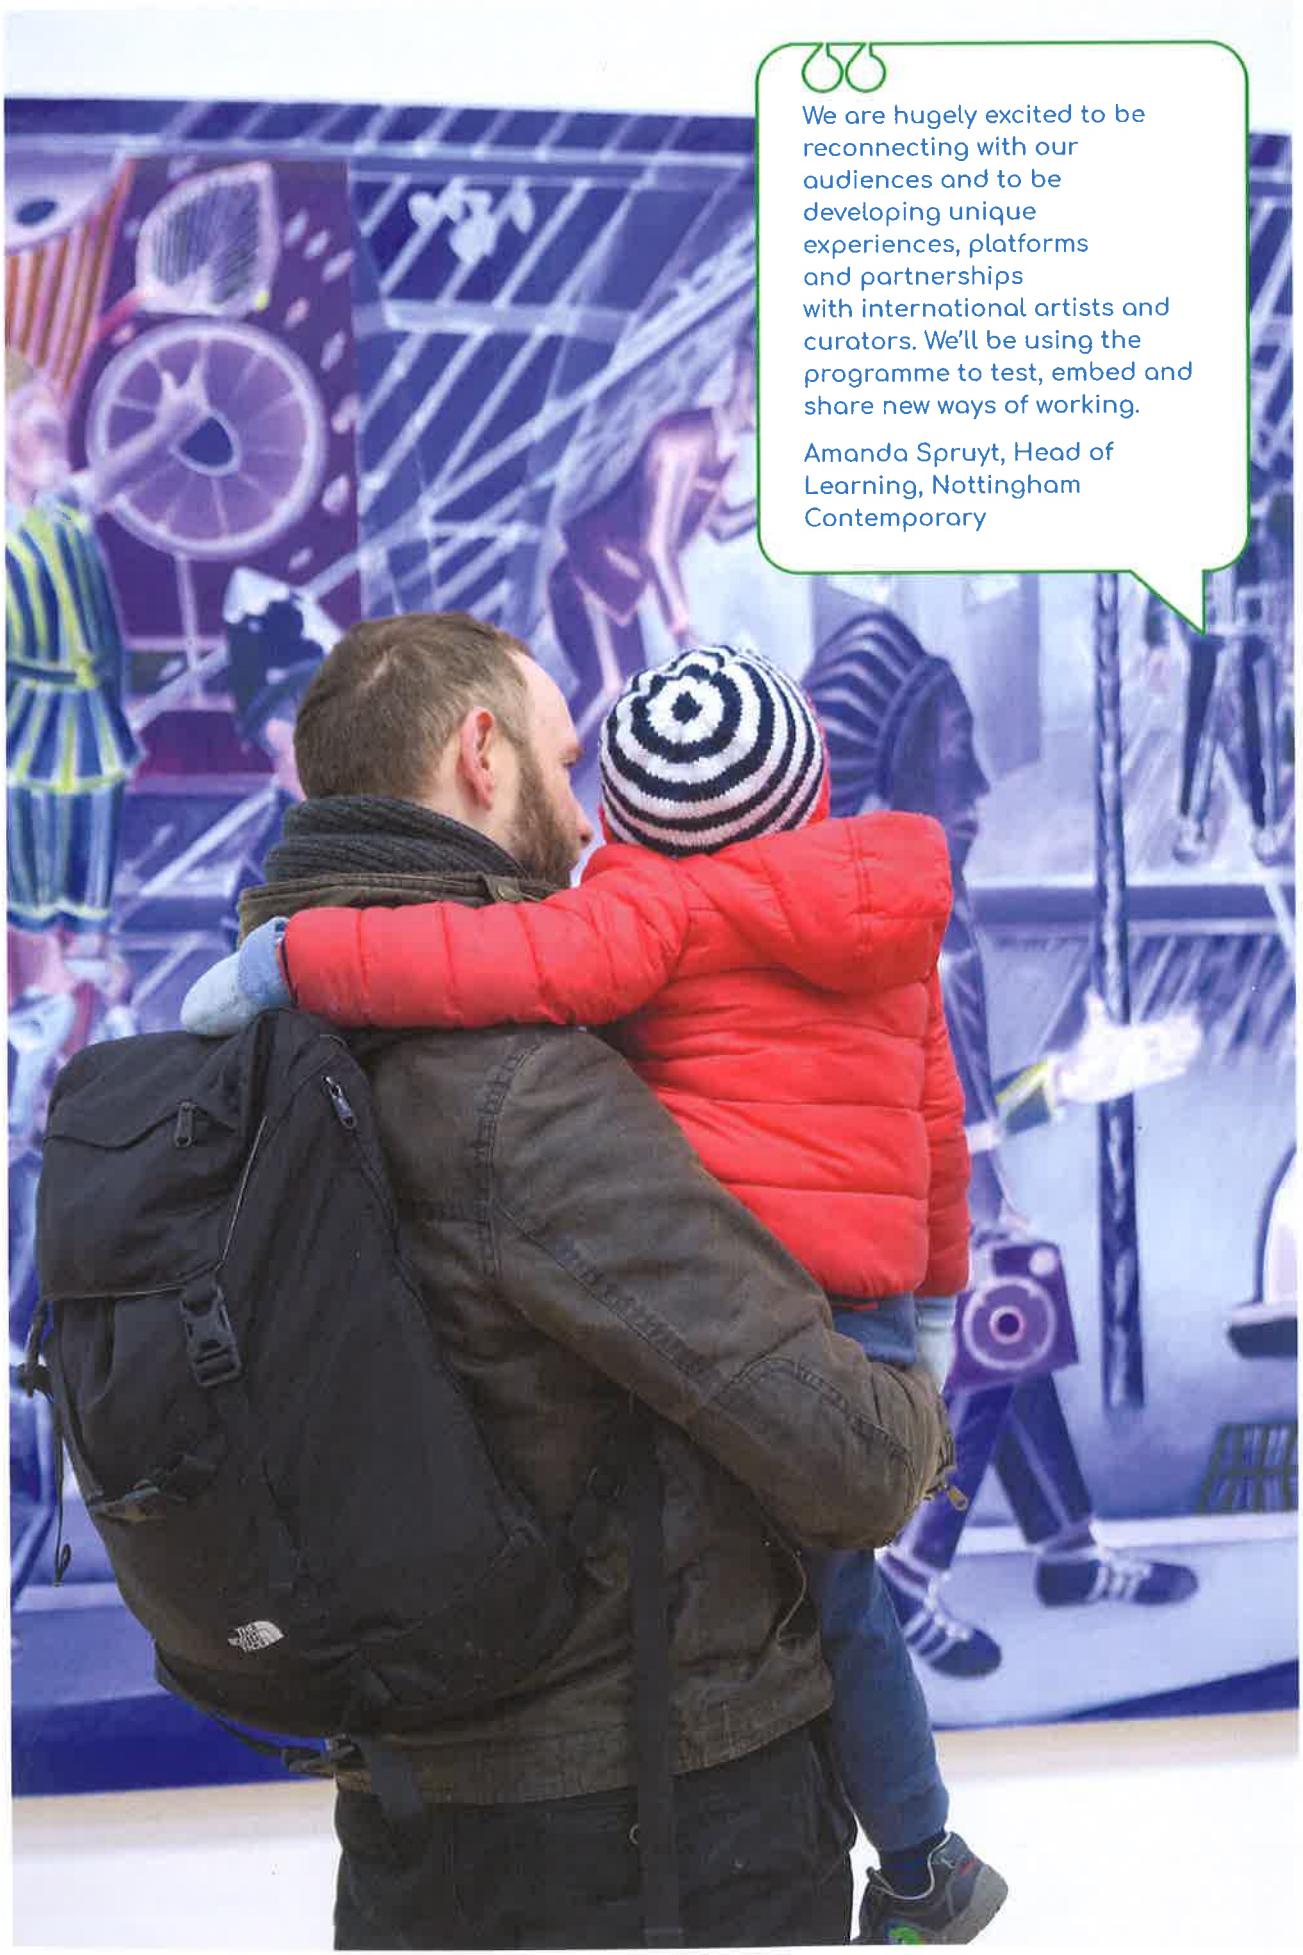

We are delighted that the Weston Culture Fund will enable us to develop our creative and entrepreneurial approaches to adapting programmes and platforms in direct response to the pandemic, using children's literature to help our communities survive and thrive.

Mairi Kidd, Chief Executive, Seven Stories

The Trustees took many factors into account when making decisions. These included ensuring a good geographical spread across the UK with a focus on areas of low arts engagement and high on the indices of deprivation; applications with a clear commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion; a fair spread of art form/cultural activity that reflected the interconnectedness of the cultural sector (e.g. receiving venues need content from touring companies to attract audiences while touring companies need work to survive and continue to engage freelance artists); and organisations that demonstrated ingenuity in their approach. These considerations were also balanced with a view to prudent financial management and business planning, though our Trustees were mindful that planning was very difficult during such uncertainty.

Creating and running the Weston Culture Fund was very informative and we learned a lot from our partners in the arts sector who told us they believed that audience engagement with the arts would alter permanently due to the pandemic. They noted that while this offered opportunities to grow and diversify audiences, it also presented challenges as organisations would be competing for audiences on a much wider basis. Devising new ways to maintain audiences' engagement will be vital to organisations' sustainability and, while apprehensive about the future, many have told us they were excited by the opportunities the pandemic created to experiment and try new things.

Many organisations also commented on the impact of the pandemic on freelance artists and wanted to ensure they could continue to generate high-quality content to keep talented professionals in work and, for touring companies, to ensure that venues were able to reopen with fresh shows to encourage their audiences to return. The level of partnerships and collaborations that emerged as a result of Covid-19 was also very evident, with supportive and practical activities happening across the country, which was heartening and inspiring.

We are hugely excited to be reconnecting with our audiences and to be developing unique experiences, platforms and partnerships with international artists and curators. We'll be using the programme to test, embed and share new ways of working.

Amanda Spruyt, Head of Learning, Nottingham Contemporary

Ongoing learning is important to us and we will continue to monitor the impact of the Culture Fund. We have commissioned Dr Beth Breeze, Director of Centre for Philanthropy, University of Kent, to conduct a longitudinal study on the impact of the Weston Culture Fund and we look forward to sharing the results in future years, while staying in touch with the 106 Weston Culture Fund grantees as they work to emerge from the pandemic.

> The Weston Culture Fund grant has made an immediate difference to our ability to bounce back quickly. It will mean we can offer employment to disabled and non-disabled musicians. The funding will act as a catalyst for creating a new talent development scheme and new technology for increasing access for events for D/deaf audiences.

Valuing our natural world

While Covid-19 has been a dominating theme this year, our Trustees were also mindful that the issues facing our planet and how humans interact with our natural world and consume resources remain critical. This year we launched a report commissioned with IG Advisors to survey and research the UK environment sector. We undertook this important exercise to learn more about the challenges of the sector directly from those working on a wide range of issues connected to the protection and preservation of our natural world. The resulting report, entitled 'Prioritising Our Planet', highlighted that the sector is facing critical challenges when it comes to communicating what their work involves and the need for everyone to act in relation to the urgency of the climate and environment crisis.

In response to the learning from this research, we took decisive action to invite The Media Trust, a specialist communications charity the Foundation has supported over the past decade, to run a skills-building programme for environment charities.

The support from the Weston Culture Fund changes everything. It is the difference between just surviving the next 12 months, to ensuring a creative future post Covid. This support gets us so much closer to welcoming our artists and audiences back to the big top.

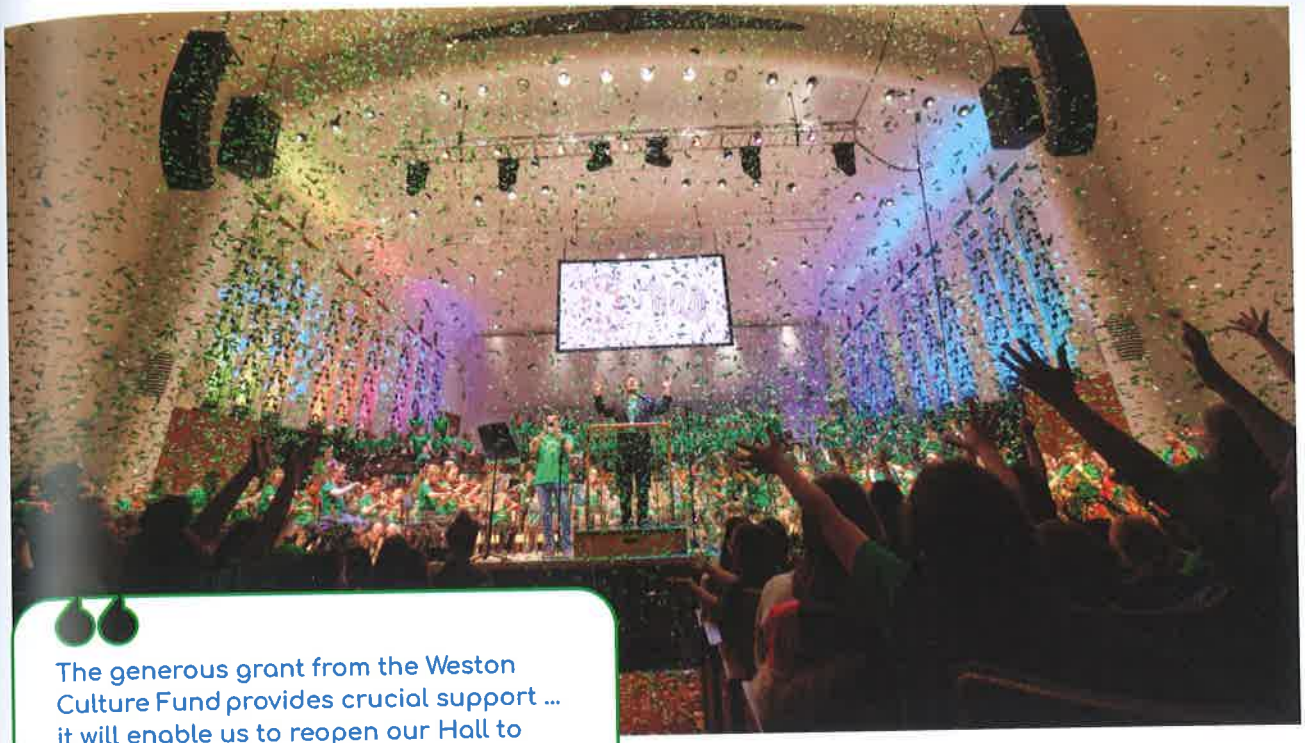

Tom Rack, Artistic Director, NoFit State Circus

We are incredibly grateful for such extraordinary support from the Garfield Weston Foundation. Although the pandemic continues to pose very serious challenges, this transformational gift is a huge vote of confidence in our plans to rebuild our activities, reopen our theatres, and will enable us to reimagine our future as a National Theatre for everyone.

Lisa Burger, Executive Director, National Theatre

> The generous grant from the Weston Culture Fund provides crucial support ... it will enable us to reopen our Hall to present live concerts and continue our On Demand programme throughout the rest of the year. It's a real vote of confidence and trust.
> Michael Eakin, Chief Executive, Royal Liverpool Philharmonic

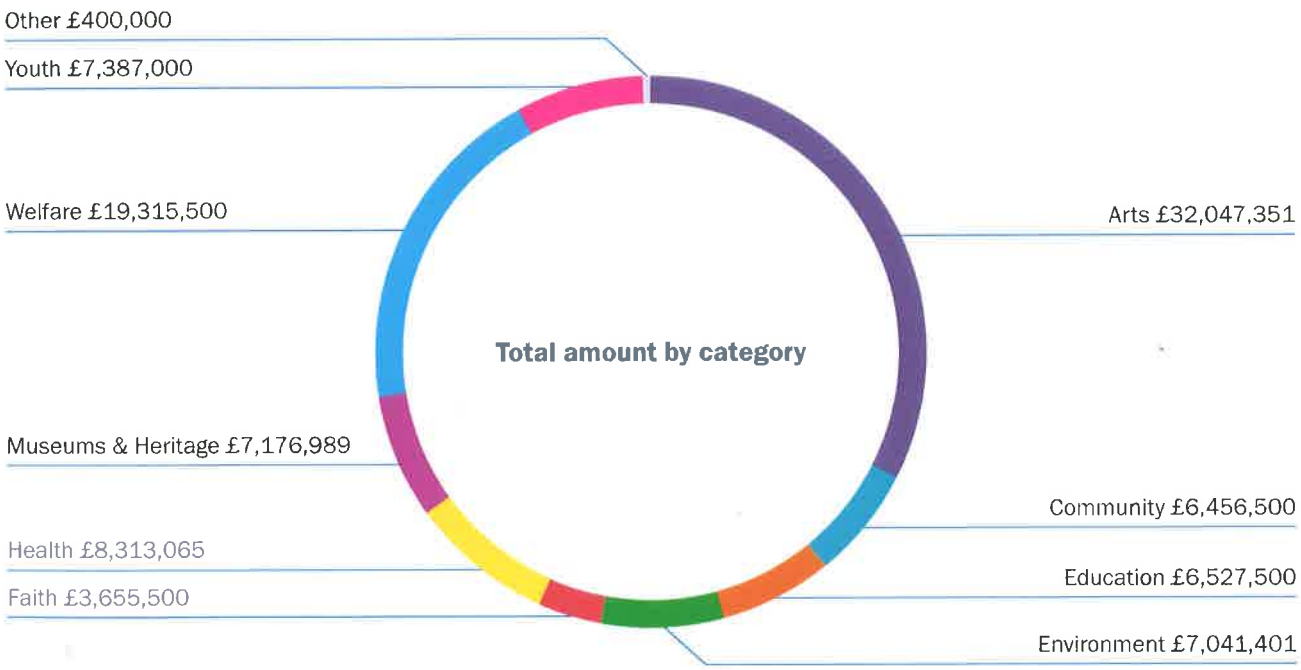

The Media Trust excels in helping charities develop a stronger voice by partnering them with expert media and creative industry professionals. Together we launched 'Weston Communicating Climate', a six-month skills programme to build capability, capacity and confidence with expert-led communications training covering a wide range of activities from clarity of messaging to social media. Over 80 environmental charities applied to the programme and 30 were selected to receive structured communications training, peer networking support, and media interview training. The programme also includes four free sector-wide communications masterclasses to ensure as many organisations as possible can benefit. With the COP26 UN climate summit to be held in the UK in November 2021 and the Covid-19 crisis exposing the need for greater national and global solidarity, there has arguably never been a more important time to help enable more impactful communications.

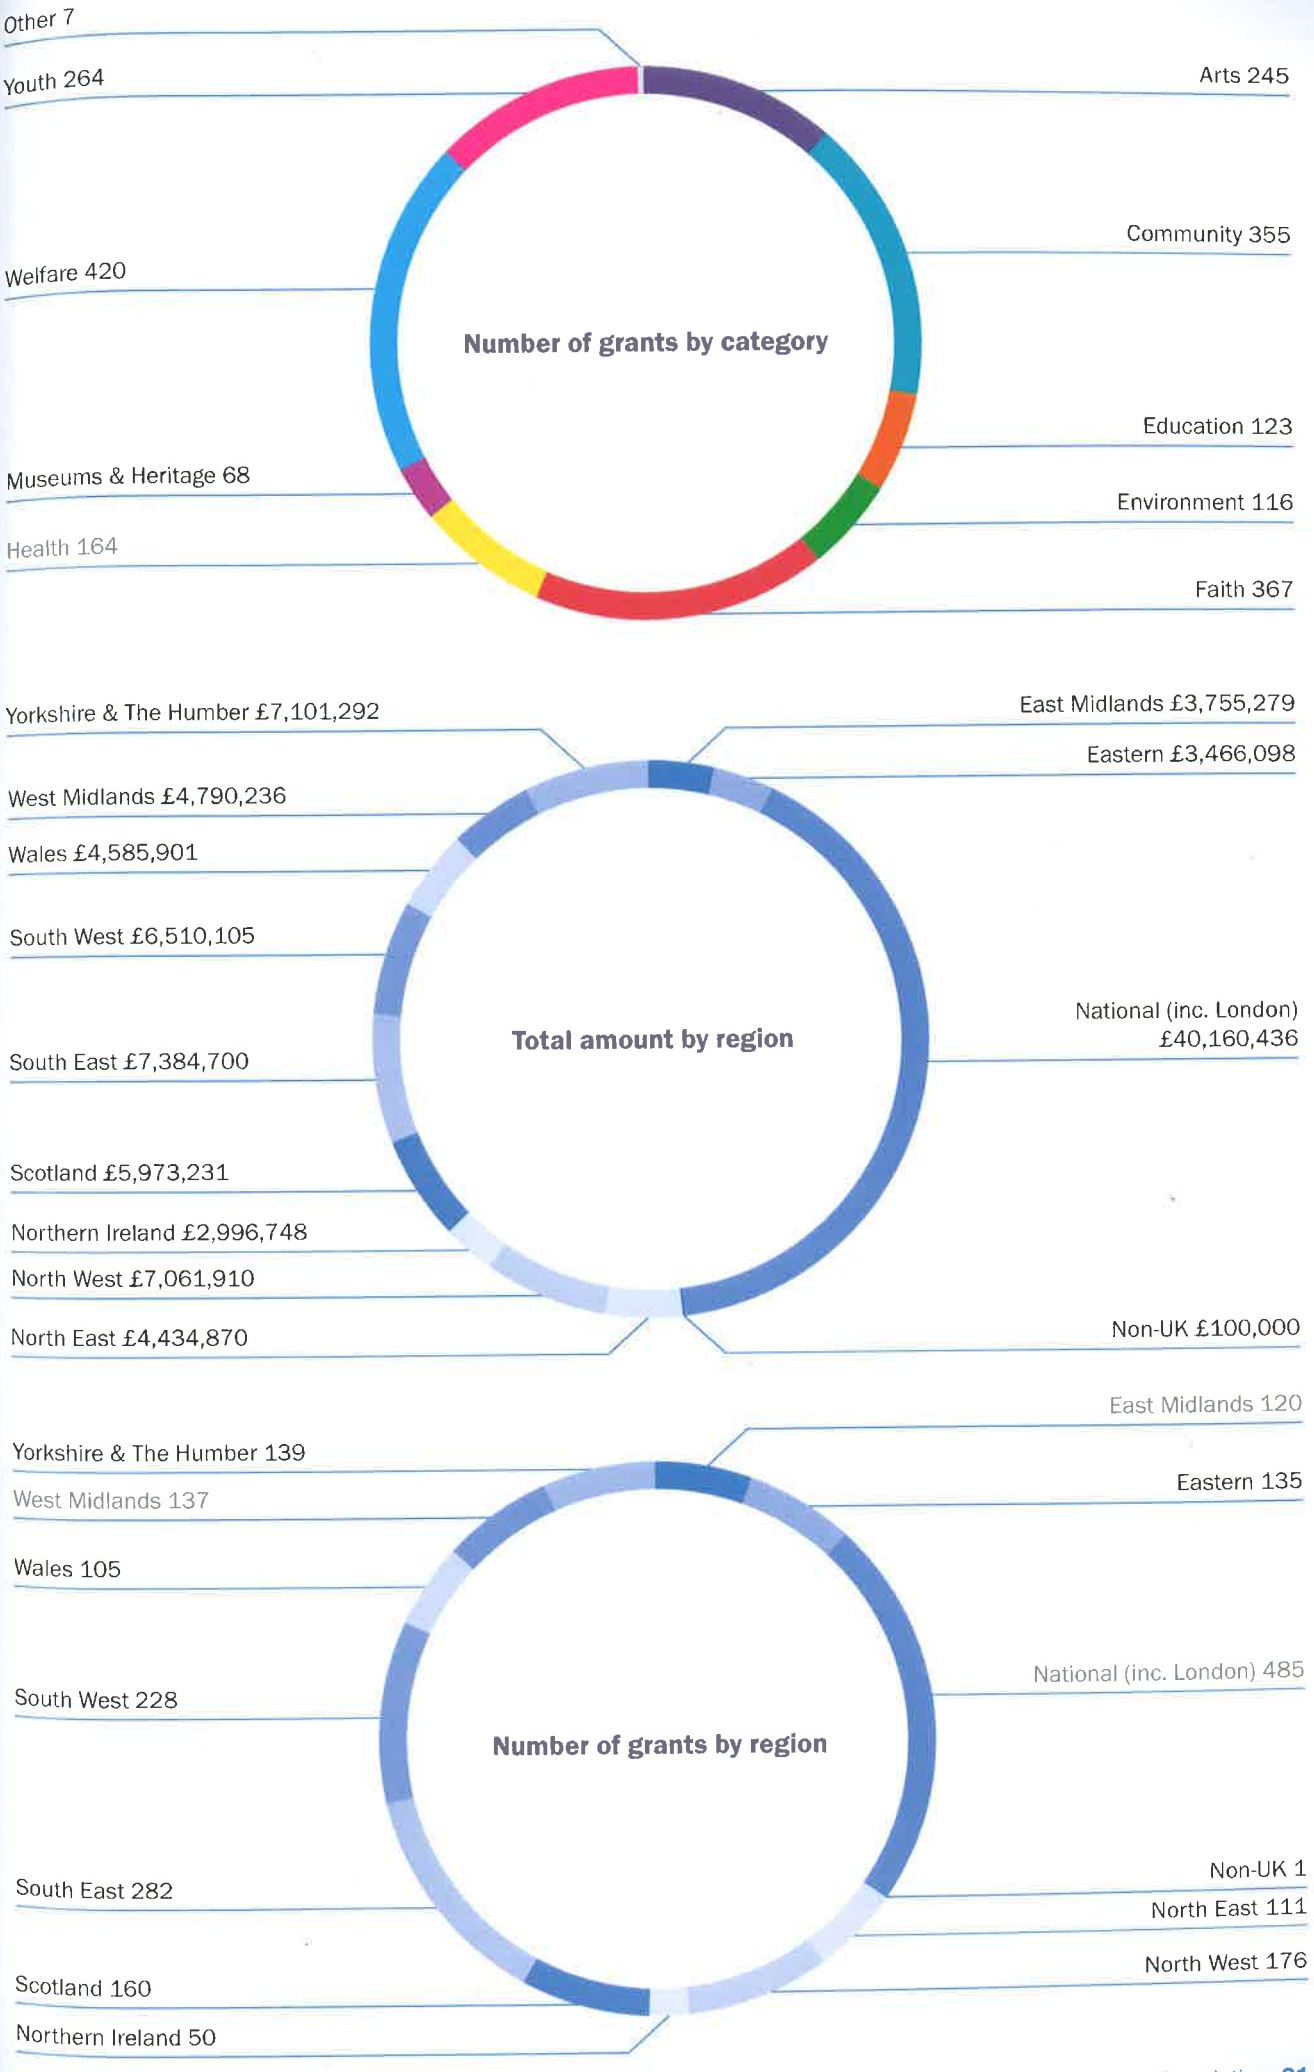

> Weston Culture funding gave the Museum the resources – and confidence – to completely re-design the way we engage people. As we re-open our doors, we now have additional capacity to reach new audiences across Cornwall, the UK and beyond.

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Garfield Weston Foundation (the charity) for the year ended 5 April 2021 which comprise the Statement of Financial Activities, the Balance Sheet, the Cashflow Statement and notes to the financial statements, including significant accounting policies. The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards, including FRS 102 The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

In our opinion the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the state of the charity's affairs as at 5 April 2021 and of its incoming resources and application of resources for the year then ended
- have been properly prepared in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice and
- have been prepared in accordance with the Charities Act 2011

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK) (ISAs (UK)) and applicable law. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the charity in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in the UK, including the FRC's Ethical Standard, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Conclusions relating to going concern

In auditing the financial statements, we have concluded that the Trustees' use of the going concern basis of accounting in the preparation of the financial statement is appropriate.

Based on the work we have performed, we have not identified any material uncertainties relating to events or conditions that, individually or collectively, may cast significant doubt on the charity's ability to continue as a going concern for a period of at least twelve months from when the financial statements are authorised for issue.

Our responsibilities and the responsibilities of the Trustees with respect to going concern are described in the relevant sections of this report.

Other information

The other information comprises the information included in the annual report other than the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. The Trustees are responsible for the other information contained within the financial statements. Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and, except to the extent otherwise explicitly stated in our report, we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

Our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the course of the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify such material inconsistencies or apparent material misstatements, we are required to determine whether there is a material misstatement in the financial statements or a material misstatement of the other information. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Matters on which we are required to report by exception

In the light of the knowledge and understanding of the charity and its environment obtained in the course of the audit, we have not identified material misstatements in the Trustees' report. We have nothing to report in respect of the following matters where the Charities Act 2011 requires us to report to you if, in our opinion:

- adequate accounting records have not been kept, or returns adequate for our audit have not been received from branches not visited by us
- the financial statements are not in agreement with the accounting records and returns
- certain disclosures of Trustees' remuneration specified by law are not made
- we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit

Responsibilities of Trustees

As explained more fully in the Trustees' responsibilities statement set out on page 8, the Trustees are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view, and for such internal control as the Trustees determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the Trustees are responsible for assessing the charity's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Trustees either intend to liquidate the charity or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditors' responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

We have been appointed as auditor under section 151 of the Charities Act 2011 and report in accordance with the Act and relevant regulations made or having effect thereunder.

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (UK) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

Details of the extent to which the audit was considered capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud and non-compliance with laws and regulations are set out below.

A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements is located on the Financial Reporting Council's website at: www.frc.org.uk/auditorsresponsibilities This description forms part of our auditor's report.

Extent to which the audit was considered capable of detecting irregularities including fraud

Irregularities, including fraud, are instances of non-compliance with laws and regulations. We design procedures in line with our responsibilities, outlined above, to detect material misstatements in respect of irregularities, including fraud. The extent to which our procedures are capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud is detailed below.

Based on our understanding of the charity and the industry in which it operates, we identified that the principal risks of non-compliance with laws and regulations related to the acts by the charity, which were contrary to applicable laws and regulations including fraud, and we considered the extent to which non-compliance might have a material effect on the financial statements. We also considered those laws and regulations that have a direct impact on the preparation of the financial statements such as the Charities Act 2011.

We evaluated management's incentives and opportunities for manipulation of the financial statements (including the risk of override of controls), and determined that the principal risk related to the valuation of the unquoted investment in Wittington Investments Limited ('Wittington') of which the Foundation owns 683,073 50p ordinary shares (79.2%).

The valuation of Wittington requires significant estimation as it is an unquoted company and there is no readily identifiable market price for its shares. Accordingly, the value of the Foundation's investment has been assessed by the Trustees on the basis of the share of the value of the underlyng net assets of Wittington attributable to the Foundation's holding as at 5 April 2021. As Wittington's financial statements are audited as at 12 September 2020, there is a varying degree of estimation required to assess the net asset value as at 5 April 2021 and therefore there is more potential for misstatement in this area.

We assessed Management's valuation methodology and considered whether it was in accordance with the accounting policies of the Foundation, applicable accounting standards and industry practice. Wittington's principal asset is a majority holding (54.5%) in Associated British Foods plc. Therefore, the value of the Foundation's investment in Wittington is driven predominantly by the Associated British Foods plc share price as at 5 April 2021. As the shares are listed on the London Stock Exchange, the value of this holding can be determined easily.

Other audit procedures performed included: review of the financial statement disclosures to underlying supporting documentation to assess compliance with relevant laws and regulations, review of correspondence with legal advisors, review of minutes of meetings held by those charged with governance, enquiries of management and testing of journals and evaluating whether there was evidence of bias by the Trustees that represented a risk of material misstatement due to fraud.

There are inherent limitations in the audit procedures described above and the further removed non-compliance with laws and regulations is from the events and transactions reflected in the financial statements, the less likely we would become aware of it. Also, the risk of not detecting a material misstatement due to fraud is higher than the risk of not detecting one resulting from error, as fraud may involve deliberate concealment by, for example, forgery or intentional misrepresentations, or through collusion.

1 Accounting policies

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with applicable UK accounting standards (UK Generally Accepted Accounting Practice), including Financial Reporting Standard FRS 102 'The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the United Kingdom and the Republic of Ireland' ("FRS 102"). In particular, they comply with the Charities Act 2011 and the Statement of Recommended Practice 'Accounting and Reporting by Charities (the "SORP").

The financial statements have been prepared to give a 'true and fair' view and have departed from the Charities (Accounts and Report) Regulations 2008 only to the extent required to provide a 'true and fair' view. This departure has involved following the Charities SORP (FRS 102).

The Foundation constitutes a public benefit entity as defined by FRS 102. The financial statements are prepared on the historical cost basis except that certain financial instruments are stated at fair value.

The financial statements have been prepared in sterling, which is the functional currency of the Foundation. Monetary amounts in these financial statements are rounded to £'000s.

The particular accounting policies adopted by the Trustees are described below:

a Going concern

Whilst the Covid-19 pandemic remains a worldwide crisis and at the date of this report, the commercial situation has improved materially since the date of the prior year report. Specifically, the progressive re-opening of the retail and hospitality sectors in the UK in the months following May 2021 has seen a rapid recovery in the inventory levels, working capital requirements and cash balances of Associated British Foods plc, with the closing price of shares at 5 April 2021 being 41% higher on prior year as a consequence. The valuations of Wittington's investments in UK financial markets also improved year on year, with the FTSE100 index 24% higher year on year; at 0.78% the yield on 10 year UK Treasury bonds was 1.5x prior year yields. In this context, the Trustees consider that there are no material uncertainties about the Foundation's ability to continue as a going concern. There remains some uncertainty as to the levels of dividend income which will be paid by UK companies over the next year as a result of the longer-term financial impact of the Covid-19 pandemic, however the Foundation aims to draw on its income reserves where necessary to maintain grant levels as far as possible.

b Incoming resources

Dividends are included when received. Interest receivable on fixed interest securities and bank deposits is included on an accruals basis. All incoming resources are recognised once the Charity has entitlement to the resources, it is probable that the resources will be received and the monetary value of incoming resources can be measured with sufficient reliability.

c Resources expended and irrecoverable VAT

Liabilities are recognised as resources expended as soon as there is a legal or constructive obligation committing the Charity to the expenditure. All expenditure is accounted for on an accruals basis and has been classified under headings that aggregate all costs related to the category.

Grants awarded are charged in the year when formally awarded by the Trustees and communicated to the recipient irrespective of the period covered by the donation as they are regarded by the Trustees as financial obligations.

Irrecoverable VAT is charged against the category of resources expended for which it was incurred.

d Allocation of overhead and support costs

Overhead and support costs are allocated first between charitable activity and governance. Overhead and support costs relating to charitable activities have been apportioned based on the value of individual grant awards made as it is considered that more is spent awarding, monitoring and assessing grants of greater value. The allocation of overhead and support costs is analysed in note 5.

e Costs of generating funds

The costs of generating funds consist of investment management fees and commissions.

f Charitable activities

Costs of charitable activities include grants made and an apportionment of overhead and support costs as shown in notes 3 and 4.

g Governance costs

Governance costs comprise all costs involving the public accountability of the Charity and its compliance with regulation and good practice. These costs include costs related to statutory audit and legal fees together with an apportionment of overhead and support costs.

h Interest in Wittington Investments Limited

At 5 April 2021 the Foundation owned 79.2% (2020: 79.2%) of Wittington Investments Limited, a company registered in England. Wittington Investments Limited is the ultimate holding company of Associated British Foods plc, and a wide range of investments including Fortnum & Mason plc and Heal's plc, two hotels, a real estate portfolio and significant financial investments. Associated British Foods plc is listed on the London Stock Exchange. The Foundation receives its income from Wittington Investments Limited by way of dividends and records its investment in that company at Trustees' valuation.

As the activities of Wittington Investments Limited and its subsidiaries are fundamentally different from the activities of the Foundation, consolidated accounts have not been prepared as the Trustees are of the opinion that the adopted policy gives a true and fair view of the Foundation's assets and sources of income. Details of the consolidated accounts of Wittington Investments Limited are shown in note 9 to these accounts. The Trustees have agreed this policy with the Charity Commission.

i Fixed assets investments

Investments are stated at market value as at the balance sheet date. The statement of financial activities includes the net gains and losses arising on revaluation and disposals throughout the year.

j Realised gains and losses

All gains and losses are taken to the statement of financial activities as they arise. Realised gains and losses on investments are calculated as the difference between sales proceeds and opening market value. Unrealised gains and losses are calculated as the difference between the market value at the year end and opening market value. Realised and unrealised gains are not separated in the Statement of Financial Activities.

k Fund accounting

Details of the nature and purpose of each fund are set out in note 14.

l Financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are shown in note 8 to these accounts and are recognised when the Foundation becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

Financial assets which qualify as basic financial instruments, including trade and other receivables and cash, are subsequently valued at amortised cost and assessed for impairment at the end of each reporting period.

Other financial assets, including investments, are subsequently valued at fair value.

Financial liabilities are classified according to the substance of the contractual arrangements entered into. All financial assets and liabilities are initially measured at transaction price including transaction costs, except for those financial assets classified as at fair value through profit or loss, which are initially measured at fair value. If an arrangement constitutes a financing transaction, the financial asset or financial liability is measured at the present value of the future payments discounted at a market rate of interest for a similar debt instrument.

Financial assets are derecognised only when either the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire or are settled or all of the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset are substantially transferred to another party.

Financial liabilities are derecognised only when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged, cancelled or expires.

Investments are stated at market value at the balance sheet date. The market values of the managed portfolios are advised by the portfolio managers. The statement of financial activities includes the net gains and losses arising in revaluation and disposals through the year.

- Quoted investments comprise publicly quoted, listed securities including shares, bonds and units. Quoted investments are stated at fair value at the balance sheet date.
- Unquoted investments are valued at the Trustees' best estimate of fair value as explained in note 9.

4 Analysis of charitable expenditure

The Charity undertook no direct charitable activities but awarded grants to a number of institutions in furtherance of its charitable activities. As a consequence of supporting charitable organisations, the Foundation achieves public benefit. The Foundation's grant policy is to accept only appeals from UK registered charities. Registration provides an element of assurance of public benefit, although for charities registered before the implementation of the Charities Act 2006 the public benefit was a presumption.

The business of Wittington Investments Limited is the management of investments in a wide range of assets. As it is an unquoted company there is no readily identifiable market price for its shares. Accordingly, the value of the Foundation's investments has been assessed by the Trustees on the basis of the share of the value of the underlying net assets of Wittington attributable to the Foundation's holding.

Wittington's principal asset is a holding of 54.5% of the issued ordinary capital of Associated British Foods plc ('ABF') which is listed on The London Stock Exchange. In assessing the value of the underlying net assets of Wittington the value of its investment in ABF has been based on the closing price as at 5 April 2021. In arriving at this valuation no regard has been paid to the percentage controlling interest held by the Foundation.

In addition, Wittington holds a wide range of other assets managed in five different business segments:

- Other Retail, comprising the 100% ownership of Fortnum & Mason and Heal's, two long established retailers.
- Real Estate, investing in high-quality investment properties in the retail, office and distribution sectors across the UK. It also takes strategic positions in selective development opportunities, alongside local partners or sector specialists.
- Hotels, Wittington currently owns The Grand Brighton and Richmond Hill Hotel.
- Private Equity, investing both directly and via externally managed funds in private equity.
- Other Investments are principally composed of liquid investments in short-dated investment grade bonds and listed equities.

Whilst the Covid-19 pandemic remains a worldwide crisis at the date of this report, the commercial situation has improved since the date of the prior year report. Specifically, the progressive re-opening of the retail and hospitality sectors in the UK in the months following May 2021 has seen a rapid recovery in the inventory levels, working capital requirements and cash balances of Associated British Foods plc, with the closing price of shares at 5 April 2021 being 41% higher on prior year as a consequence. The valuations of Wittington's investments in UK financial markets also improved year on year, with the FTSE100 index 24% higher year on year; at 0.78% the yield on 10 year UK Treasury bonds was 1.5x prior year yields.

The group owns two hotels and a portfolio of investment properties. The portfolio is held at cost less provision for impairment within the financial statements. The third-party valuations prepared by the third party at 12 September 2020 were considerably higher than this carrying value when considering the portfolio in total. The Trustees do not expect material movement in the market value of the properties compared to the valuation as at 12 September 2020. In terms of cash collection, the portfolio has continued to perform considerably better than the industry average.

The value of these has been based on the Trustees' valuation at 5 April 2021 which takes into account the most recent set of audited financial statements of Wittington Investments Limited summarised below. The Trustees have no current intention of disposing of the interest in Wittington.

Permanent endowment

The permanent endowment funds comprise the original capital fund, and gains thereto, established to provide income for grant payments in accordance with the objectives of the Foundation. The capital may not be converted into income. The funds are represented by the investments included in fixed assets. Unrealised gains on revaluation of these investments are credited to the funds.

Unrestricted expendable capital

In accordance with the authority given to the Trustees under an Order of the Charity Commission dated 19 September 2001, £65,747,000 was transferred to an expendable capital fund in relation to which income and capital are distributable at the discretion of the Trustees. £5 million was invested in 2001/02 in the Charities Property Fund and £60 million was invested in 2002/03 with investment managers in balanced portfolios on a discretionary total return basis. Income and investment gains and losses are taken to this fund and the amount allocated to income by the Trustees, £3,832,000 (2020: £3,753,000), is shown as a transfer to the income fund.

Unrestricted income funds

The income of the Foundation is expendable at the discretion of the Trustees in furtherance of the objects of the Foundation. Gains on investments held in the income funds are credited to these funds.
