Section C Objectives and activities

Summary of the objects of the charity set out in its governing document

The principal activities of the Society are the research into, preservation and dissemination of Irish Genealogical records. The objectives are realised by the production of newsletters, an annual learned journal and the maintenance of the library. The Society has a branch in Ireland that holds self-financing meetings.

Summary of the main activities undertaken for the public benefit in relation to these objects (include within this section the statutory declaration that trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit)

There has been an increase in the number of people attending online and in-person events with virtual participation continuing to increase with almost 40,000 followers on social media platforms.

Our priorities for the future are to devise a plan to digitise as much of the Library as possible to safeguard and preserve it for future generations and to develop a website that gives members greater access to the Library's unique and valuable resources virtually. However, our biggest challenge is funding the digitisation and conservation of the extensive resources contained within the Library.

Additional details of objectives and activities (Optional information)

You may choose to include further statements, where relevant, about:

- policy on grantmaking;
- policy programme related investment;
- contribution made by volunteers.

Section D

Achievements and performance

Summary of the main achievements of the charity during the year

We continue to face the long-term impact of lockdown which changed the way in which the Society operated. Paid membership declined slightly during the year and analysis showed that approximately one-third of new members only join for one year. However, The work started by the founders of the Society eighty-six years ago is just as important today as it ever was.

We are now mainly using Stripe for our online payments system through the new website, which presented some initial difficulties which we have now resolved. The income for the Society coming via donations, events, subscriptions and digital downloads for 2022 was £29,763 (an increase over the previous year).

There was a significant increase in all our operational costs as a result of inflationary pressures. The printing and distribution costs of The Irish Genealogist remains the largest expected annual expense and in 2022 was £12,400. However, Library storage and document conservation costs continue to increase and are now comparable to the cost of the journal. We expect the costs of the Library to increase as plans to commence work to digitise records, subject to funding being secured, begin in 2023.

Section A

Independent Examiner's Report

Report to the trustees	The Irish Genealogical Research Society
On accounts for the year ended	31 December 2022	Charity no (if any)	235886
Set out on pages

I report to the trustees on my examination of the accounts of the above charity ("the Trust") for the year ended 31/12/2022.

Responsibilities and basis of report

As the charity's trustees, you are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the requirements of the Charities Act 2011 ("the Act").

I report in respect of my examination of the Trust's accounts carried out under section 145 of the 2011 Act and in carrying out my examination, I have followed all the applicable Directions given by the Charity Commission under section 145(5)(b) of the Act.

Independent examiner's statement

I have completed my examination. I confirm that no material matters have come to my attention in connection with the examination (other than that disclosed below *) which gives me cause to believe that in, any material respect:

- the accounting records were not kept in accordance with section 130 of the Charities Act; or
- the accounts did not accord with the accounting records; or
- the accounts did not comply with the applicable requirements concerning the form and content of accounts set out in the Charities (Accounts and Reports) Regulations 2008 other than any requirement that the accounts give a 'true and fair' view which is not a matter considered as part of an independent examination.

I have no concerns and have come across no other matters in connection with the examination to which attention should be drawn in this report in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.
