CROSS-ROAD CHRISTIAN CENTRE TRUST

STATEMENT OF TRUSTEES' RESPONSIBILITIES

Charity Law requires the trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial year, which properly present the charity's receipts and payments for the year and adequately distinguish any material special trust or other restricted fund of the charity. In preparing those financial statements the trustees are required to:

- a. select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- b. make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- c. state whether the policies adopted are in accordance with the appropriate SORP on Accounting by Charities and the Accounting Regulations and with applicable accounting standards, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements.

The trustees are responsible for keeping proper accounting records, which disclose, with reasonable accuracy at any time, the financial position of the charity, and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with applicable Accounting Standards and Statements of Recommended Practice and the regulations of the Charities Act 2011. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charity and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud or other irregularities.

INDEPENDENT EXAMINER'S REPORT TO THE TRUSTEES

This report on the accounts of the Cross-Road Christian Centre Trust for the year ended 30 April 2022 which are set out on pages 1 to 5, is in respect of an examination carried out under the Charities Act 2011.

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner

As the trustees of the Cross-Road Christian Centre Trust you are responsible for the preparation of the accounts; you consider that an audit is not required for this year under section 144(2) of the Charities Act 2011 (the 2011 Act) and that an independent examination is needed.

It is my responsibility to:

- examine the accounts under section 145 of the 2011 Act;
- to follow the procedures laid down in the general Directions given by the Charity Commission under section 145(5)(b) of the 2011 Act; and
- to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of independent examiner's report

My examination was carried out in accordance with the General Directions given by the Charity Commission. That examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the Cross-Road Christian Centre Trust and a comparison of the accounts with those records. It also includes considering any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts and seeking explanations from you as trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently no opinion is given as to whether the accounts present a 'true and fair view' and the report is limited to those matters set out in the statement below.

Independent examiner's statement

In connection with my examination, no matter has come to my attention:

(1) which gives me reasonable cause to believe that in any material respect the requirements

- to keep accounting records in accordance with section 130 of the 2011 Act; and
- to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records and comply with the requirements of the 2011 Act

have not been met; or

(2) to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached

Signed.....
Adrian Harris FCCA

You may choose to include additional information, where relevant, about:

- policies and procedures adopted for the induction and training of trustees;
- the charity's organisational structure and any wider network with which the charity works;
- relationship with any related parties;
- trustees' consideration of major risks and the system and procedures to manage them.

The Trustees currently do not have any induction or training upon appointment, however the need for this is still under review.

Crossroad has a team of Deacons who carry out most of the administrative and practical tasks. There are four Elders, including the Pastor, who oversee the pastoral side of the church.

Crossroad has no official links with any other charities but it is a key member of Christians Together in Seaton and District and has informal links with a number of similar churches in the locality.

The Trustees consider the major risks to be Health and Safety and Child Protection. Health and Safety is kept under constant review by the Trustees and there is a Safeguarding Policy in place. All individuals working with children or vulnerable adults have to undergo a DBS check.

Summary of the objects of the charity set out in its governing document

1. To teach and commend the gospel of Jesus Christ (consistently with the basis of faith set forth in the second schedule of the Declaration of Trust) to people of all ages and outlooks resident in the neighbourhood of Seaton aforesaid particularly people who do not ordinarily go to church; and to do so by holding informal services, discussions and meetings for prayer and Bible study and by providing suitable Christian literature and by other means consistent with a body established exclusively for charitable purposes. (For further details see clause 1 of the Declaration of Trust).
2. To demonstrate the relevance of the Christian faith to modern living by promoting and encouraging, in a Christian spirit, community enterprises appropriate to the different age-groups.
3. To provide a residence for a warden appointed by the Trustees to supervise the Centre and to conduct such activities as aforesaid.

Summary of the main activities undertaken for the public benefit in relation to these objects (include within this section the statutory declaration that trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit)

In planning the charity's activities, the Trustees and Elders have paid due regard to the Charity Commission's guidance on public benefit. These activities are summarised below and expanded upon in section D.

The church meets together for a family service on a Sunday morning. Visitors are very welcome to attend all of our services, regardless of their background.

Home groups operate during the week.

The buildings used by the charity are made available to Age UK Devon, Seaton Foodbank, Seaton Guides, and Seaton Over 50's Group during the week.

The ongoing coronavirus pandemic and subsequent lockdowns have affected the activities that the church can conduct. The changes made by the charity in response to the pandemic are detailed in section D.

Additional details of objectives and activities (Optional information)

You may choose to include further statements, where relevant, about:

- policy on grantmaking;
- policy programme related investment;
- contribution made by volunteers.

As a Christian organisation the church gives gifts to other Christian organisations and individuals at the discretion of the Deacons, Elders and Trustees.

The Trustees acknowledge the contribution of volunteers in running the church. Without their contribution very little would get done. We especially would like to recognise the efforts of those involved with pastoral care and administration.

The Trustees no longer deem it necessary to look to provide a residence for a warden as there is no need for this post. The Centre is looked after by the Deacons and is cleaned weekly by a cleaner.

Summary of the main achievements of the charity during the year

The church leadership carried out a coronavirus risk assessment to ensure that people attending a service at Crossroad were able to do so safely. People were asked to sit in family groups or bubbles, spaced appropriately from other bubbles. Hand sanitizer was made available throughout the building, and doors and windows were opened to ensure adequate ventilation. In addition, following government guidance, only the worship leader sang during the time of worship.

During the year, as government guidance was lifted, congregational singing resumed although people were still encouraged to wear masks whilst in the building. Tables were introduced to our main hall to make the space more welcoming whilst helping to keep people appropriately spaced.

The services were livestreamed to enable those who were shielding, or who did not feel comfortable attending in person, to still be a part of the life of the church.

Due to the coronavirus restrictions we were not able to operate much of our children's and youth work. The exception to this was our Youth Home Group which continued to run over Zoom.

A Zoom home group was organised during the week, and this was attended by a good number of church members, and a Zoom communion service was held on a Sunday evening for much of the year. In the latter portion of the year, in-person home groups were able to resume.

The church has been given the use of a second property in Seaton, known as Number One, by the Trustees of a Brethren chapel. In September 2021 we started a second fellowship at Number One, called The Loft, for those with creative talents but who would struggle to discover Christianity and grow spiritually within the format of a regular church service. Three members of Crossroad were commissioned to start The Loft and it is now attended by around 12 people.

Number One is also home to Seaton Foodbank whose purpose is to give food to those who have fallen into poverty and cannot afford to buy their own food. It distributes food to those in temporary crisis and works with those who are experiencing long-term problems to enable them to get back on their feet financially. Seaton Foodbank is a ministry of Christians Together in Seaton and is run by volunteers from the local churches, including Crossroad.

Following the lifting of coronavirus restrictions, Age UK were able to start using Number One again for a coffee morning on Wednesdays and a Knit and Natter session on Thursdays.

In addition to supporting a number of local and international mission organisations, the church runs a child education sponsorship scheme called ACTS (Agape Children's Trust Sponsorship) in conjunction with Agape Brethren Church, San Nicholas, in the Philippines. Over this year the number of children being sponsored remained constant at around 40 children.

The church is also involved with an initiative called Living Well. This is run by a couple that attend Crossroad, and the church administers the funds for the project. Through an online portal, Living Well provides support and resources for many hundreds of families of those affected by alcoholism.

The church collected Easter eggs which were then distributed to the local GP surgeries and other key workers in order to show our appreciation for their hard work during the pandemic.

Section E Financial review

Brief statement of the charity's policy on reserves

Crossroad does not have any investments but the Trustees have asked the Treasurer to keep enough money in the General account to cover three months of typical expenditure.

Details of any funds materially in deficit

None

Further financial review details (Optional information)

You may choose to include additional information, where relevant about:

- the charity's principal sources of funds (including any fundraising);
- how expenditure has supported the key objectives of the charity;
- investment policy and objectives including any ethical investment policy adopted.

Crossroad Christian Centre relies entirely upon voluntary donations made by its members and the reclamation of tax through the Gift Aid scheme for its funding.

The income is sufficient to employ a Pastor for 40 hours per week and an Administrator for 18 hours per week.
