Trustees' Report 2024

Objectives

In 2024, the Joseph Conrad Society UK conducted its business as usual, with due regard to the Charity Commission's public benefit guidance as set out in document PB1, and in accordance with the objects identified in Society's Constitution as 'to advance the education of students, scholars and the general public in the life and work of Joseph Conrad'.

Activities

We hosted our AGM in February and held a further Committee Meeting in November. To facilitate the attendance at the AGM of the Society's international membership it was decided that this meeting be held on Zoom.

In early July we held our 51st Annual Conference at the Polish Cultural Centre (POSK), Hammersmith, London, and The University Women's Club, Mayfair, London. In accordance with our mission, the Society assisted in making this a truly international gathering of Conrad scholars by assisting with travel grants to younger scholars and subsidizing their meals at the conference. In keeping with the spirit of the bequest made to the Society by the McLauchlan Estate in the late 1990s, the travel grants are made in the name of our former Chair, Juliet McLauchlan. The annual Juliet McLauchlan Essay Prize was not awarded in 2024 due to a lack of submissions.

As usual, during 2024 we published two issues of our journal, The Conradian, one of which was a 'special issue' devoted to essays on Conrad and World Literature.

2024 marked the centenary of the death of Joseph Conrad, and the Joseph Conrad Society commemorated this in a number of ways, including subsidizing the licence for screening African Apocalypse at University of Kent (Conrad's 'Heart of Darkness' remains a core literary text in the West's construction of Africa) and renovating the Conrad family graves in Canterbury Cemetery. To observe the event, members of the Committee visited the grave on the day and laid a wreath.

The Society continues its support for The Cambridge Edition of the Works of Joseph Conrad. A contribution towards running costs of this ongoing project (21 volumes of a projected 26 are now in print) is also made by the Joseph Conrad Society of America. This financial assistance is acknowledged in each of the volumes in the edition.

The structure, governance and management of the Society continues to be undertaken by a small but active committee including the Trustees.

Finances

The Treasurer presented an Interim Statement of Accounts at the November 2024 Meeting and the Statement of Accounts at the AGM in February 2025. During 2024, £10,000 was transferred from the Society's current account into one of our investment accounts. The Society now has three investment accounts, at separate institutions: COIF, Scottish Widows and Redwood Bank.
