Section B Structure, governance and management

Description of the charity's trusts

Type of governing document (eg. trust deed, constitution)	Constitution adopted on 8 June 1981, amended on 6 March 1995
How the charity is constituted (eg. trust, association, company)	Unincorporated Association
Trustee selection methods (eg. appointed by, elected by)	Trustees are appointed or reappointed annually by election of the members at the Annual General Meeting held in November.

Additional governance issues (Optional information)

You may choose to include additional information, where relevant, about:

- policies and procedures adopted for the induction and training of trustees;
- the charity's organisational structure and any wider network with which the charity works;
- relationship with any related parties;
- trustees' consideration of major risks and the system and procedures to manage them.

Membership of the orchestra is open to all adults subject to an informal audition process. The trustees oversee the day-to-day running of the orchestra. The trustees seek the views of members, usually on an annual basis, as to the directing the music to be played and other aspects of the life of the orchestra. All trustees give their time voluntarily and receive no remuneration or other benefits.

Membership numbers vary from time to time and range from around 60 to 70. Extra players (including percussion and harp if required) are brought in for specific concerts as needed.

Section C Objectives and activities

Summary of the objects of the charity set out in its governing document

To educate the public in the arts and sciences, and in particular the art and science of music, by the presentation of concerts and other activities

Summary of the main activities undertaken for the public benefit in relation to these objects (include within this section the statutory declaration that trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit)

The orchestra prepares for and presents concerts of a varied nature in the North London area. Repertoire for the concerts is chosen by the Trustees in discussion with the conductor, and after soliciting views from members. The aim is to choose programmes which are interesting, varied, and challenging to members. Through professionally led rehearsals and concerts, the orchestra seeks to develop players' musical skills, and confidence in orchestral playing, and knowledge of music. Programmes are chosen also to be instructive and entertaining to our public audiences, extending their knowledge of orchestral music repertoire wherever possible. The orchestra seeks to engage a concerto soloist (generally for each programme) who is either an up-and-coming, or established, professional soloist. This gives members an excellent opportunity to develop and practice skills in accompanying soloists in performance at a high level.

The orchestra presents at least three concerts per year, each one preceded by 9 weekly rehearsals.

The orchestra is conducted by a professional conductor, and led by a professional violinist. Full rehearsals are led by a professional conductor, and the sectional rehearsals are led either by the conductor or leader (for strings) and a professional coach or other music professional (for woodwind and brass).

The trustees confirm that they have had regard to the guidance on public benefit issued by the Charity Commission where relevant, when making decisions regarding the above activities, in order to ensure that these activities continue to further the orchestra's objects and provide benefit to the public.

Additional details of objectives and activities (Optional information)

You may choose to include further statements, where relevant, about:

- policy on grantmaking;
- policy programme related investment;
- contribution made by volunteers.

The trustees would like to thank the following who greatly support the orchestra each year:

- Our patrons, many of whom are long-standing, and who give generous financial contributions to the orchestra.
- our supportive audiences, many of whom have been long-time attendees of our concerts.
- The relatives and friends of trustees and members who give of their time freely to assist in the preparations for concerts and volunteer on concert days.
- Volunteers from the venues where we present concerts for their time and assistance on concert days, including our regular venue at St James Church in Muswell Hill.

Section D

Achievements and performance

Section D	Achievements and performance
Summary of the main achievements of the charity during the year	We prepared for and presented three concerts in our regular concert programme: Autumn: The programme featured Nicolai: Merry Wives of Windsor overture; Ibert: Flute Concerto (soloist: Karen Jones) and Tchaikovsky: Symphony no. 6. The concert took place at Palmers Green United Reformed Church. Spring: The programme featured Dvorak: Noon Witch; Bloch: Violin Concerto (Soloist: Hana Mizuta-Spencer) and Mussorgsky arr. Ravel: Pictures at an Exhibition. The concert took place at St James Church, Muswell Hill. Summer: The programme featured Stravinsky: Jeu de Cartes and Beethoven: Symphony no. 9 (Soloists: Ana Balestra, Rachel Roper, Jonah Halton and Joe Chalmers) in which we were joined by members of Highgate Choral Society. The concert took place at St James Church, Muswell Hill. We also presented an informal chamber music concert in May at our rehearsal venue, the Union Church and Community Centre in Crouch End. This concert featured various chamber groups drawn from members of the orchestra. All concerts were well attended and well received, in particular the summer concert which played to a packed St James church. The year included a number of challenging pieces that the orchestra had not performed before including the Ibert, Bloch and Stravinsky. However, these challenges were met with enthusiasm and the Trustees feel that this was a very successful year musically for the orchestra. The Trustees also feel that the quality of orchestral performance has continued to increase over the year. Also, feedback given as part of the annual member survey has shown a high level of satisfaction from members as to the programmes being chosen, and other matters concerning the operation and management of the orchestra. The membership of the orchestra grew substantially this year with all string sections at or near capacity, full woodwind and horn sections and a nearly full brass section. The presence of such a full orchestra helped to enable productive and successful rehearsals, and the increased subscription income from members, coupled with a reduced requirement to bring in extra players for concerts, contributed to a very good outcome financially.

Section E

Financial review

Brief statement of the charity's policy on reserves

The orchestra aims to maintain a reserve of at least £9000 to cover the operating costs of putting on a concert, include rehearsals. Membership subscriptions and ticket prices are reviewed regularly in the light of operating costs to ensure adequate reserves.

Details of any funds materially in deficit

[There are no funds in deficit.]

Further financial review details (Optional information)

You may choose to include additional information, where relevant about:

- the charity's principal sources of funds (including any fundraising);
- how expenditure has supported the key objectives of the charity;
- investment policy and objectives including any ethical investment policy adopted.

In August 2018 the orchestra received a bequest of £15,000 from the will of Dr Vivian Moses, a long-time patron and supporter of the orchestra. During the period of this report, the Trustees continued to develop plans to use the bequest for purposes beneficial to the development of the orchestra and its activities.
