The Trustees present their report and the unaudited financial statements for the year ended 31 March 2023.

The reference and administrative information set out on page 1 forms part of this report. The financial statements comply with current statutory requirements, the memorandum and articles of association and the Statement of Recommended Practice – Accounting and Reporting by Charities: SORP applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with FRS 102.

Trustees' annual report

Structure, governance, and management

The Trust was incorporated as a company limited by guarantee without share capital and registered as a Charity in February 1987. The powers and limits of the Trust are set out in the Memorandum and Articles of Association dated 8 October 1986.

By special resolution dated 5 June 2014 and 30 September 2019 the Trustees agreed to amend its articles. Inter alia the amendments permit the Trust to advance any exclusively charitable purpose which the Trustees think fit for the benefit of the public with a particular focus on Waterloo and North Southwark.

No outside body has the right to membership of the Trust. All decisions relating to the work of the Trust are taken by the Trustees.

The Trust became the sole member of Colombo Street Community and Sports Centre (Colombo) on 7 December 2009. It continues to be responsible for determining the membership of the Colombo board and hence Colombo is its subsidiary. Following changes introduced by the Charities Act 2011 (Group Accounts) Regulations 2015 the Trust no longer needs to produce consolidated financial statements and therefore has decided not to do so.

The Trust works closely with Coin Street Community Builders (CSCB), a local social enterprise and development trust. The Trust jointly occupies the Coin Street neighbourhood centre with Coin Street Community Builders.

All Trustees give their time voluntarily. No Trustee received any remuneration or reimbursement of expenses (2022: nil).

Financial review

The Charity had an operating deficit of £43,178 for the year ended 31 March 2023 (2022: £19,117 surplus). The Trust's reserves are held as cash and working capital. The Trust received services in kind from CSCB of £231,465 during the year ended 31 March 2023 (2022: £207,589); there was no further unrestricted donation (2022: £60,000), see Note 6.

The Trust's reserves policy is to hold free reserves equivalent to three months' operating expenditure to maintain a level of programmes in the short term to the local community in the event of an unexpected reduction in fundraised income or services in kind. On 31 March 2023, the Trust's reserves totalled £259,779 (2022: £339,095). Of this reserve the Trustees have designated funds of £209,159 (2022: £259,799) leaving free reserves of £67,446 (2022: £63,066). This is below the target three months but sufficient services in kind have been pledged for 2023/24 and reserves designated to support the ongoing delivery of our community projects and programmes. Trustees will look to rebuild free reserves and review the reserves policy annually.

The Trustees have taken advantage of the provisions of the Companies Act 2006 and the Charities Act 2011 to dispense with an audit and replace it with an independent examination.

Objectives and activities

Purpose and aims

The Trust seeks “to advance any exclusively charitable purpose which the Trustees think fit for the benefit of the public without distinction of sex or of political or religious or other opinions and with a particular focus on Waterloo and North Southwark.”

For the financial year 2022/23 the Trustees set out three overarching objectives to guide the work of the Trust:

1. Best start for children and families
2. Health and wellbeing for everyone
3. Enterprise, creativity, and lifelong learning

These objectives are realised in several ways including via the governance and oversight of the Coin Street family and children's centre; as well as via an established partnership with Coin Street Community Builders to support an extensive range of community programmes* delivered by Coin Street and its partners; and the provision of leisure and recreational facilities and programmes primarily for the residents of Waterloo and North Southwark.

*Please see organisational strategic priority infographic as relates to the above

The Trustees review the aims, objectives, and activities of the Charity each year. This report looks at what the Charity has achieved and the outcomes of its work in the reporting period. The Trustees report the success of each key activity and the benefits the Charity has brought to those groups of people that it is set up to help. The review also helps the Trustees ensure the Charity's aims, objectives and activities remained focused on its stated purposes.

The Trustees have referred to the guidance contained in the Charity Commission's general guidance on public benefit when reviewing the Charity's aims and objectives and in planning its future activities. In particular, the Trustees consider how planned activities will contribute to the aims and objectives that have been set to achieve our intended public benefit.

Best start for children and families

At Coin Street we believe in investing early to give every child the best start in life. We are there for all families, whatever challenges they face.

Our neighbourhood centre is the family and children's centre for our area, serving parents and children across Lambeth and Southwark. Our day nursery and specialist baby unit acts as an essential resource for families in the local area. We provide quality, affordable and inclusive early education and childcare for children aged three months to five years.

Coin Street Centre Trust and Coin Street Community Builders jointly operate our family and children's centre, with the Trust overseeing the day-to-day work of the centre. Through our partnership with 1st Place Children and Parent's Centre, and thanks to the support of Southwark Council, we were able to increase our reach to families not accessing support elsewhere and bring the Council's Keeping Families Strong pledge to life across our neighbourhood.

As children grow up to become young people, Coin Street remains alongside them and their parents' providing opportunities, activities, and support.

The activities we run at the Colombo Centre in partnership with Colombo Street Community and Sports Centre remain popular as one of the few remaining youth clubs operating in the area, amidst widespread cuts and closures of other youth projects.

This year our focus remained squarely on getting the best outcomes for young lives, including in the following ways on pages 8-15.

Our community as a classroom

Our neighbourhood is the most incredible learning environment, packed full of opportunities to broaden the horizons of our children and young people. We are based in one of the most vibrant and culturally interesting places in the UK.

We collaborated with our neighbours at Kings College London to host two engaging science sessions themed around “Body Detectives” for children aged 4 to 8 years old. These sessions explored plants and the human body. Through fun and interactive activities like making jelly brains and hearts, children gained valuable insights into the world of science and research and got to meet some real scientists and learn what they do!

With our nursery children we were able to extend the learning from our core books into the real world.

“The Naughty Bus” book inspired a bus trip, for the children to experience London's vibrant streets from a new perspective and included a visit to the London Transport Museum in Covent Garden. Back at the nursery, they built their own models of tube trains, buses, and taxis.

We built on the learning from “The Fluffy Chick” book with a thrilling trip to a local farm, where the magic of the story came to life. Our children marveled at the wonders of the farm. Witnessing duck and butterfly lifecycles, from eggs to hatchlings and caterpillars to butterflies, deepens children's natural world understanding, vocabulary, and creativity. They also encountered pigs, horses, and llamas. The train journey was an exhilarating experience for the children, adding excitement to the day.

We arranged several opportunities for young people to experience arts, culture and how the world works up close and personal, throughout the year. This included:

- Sitting in on a rehearsal session for the Southbank Sinfonia and discussing the art of performance with them
- An invitation to the Houses of Parliament by Florence Eshalomi MP to discuss young people's futures
- A visit to the immersive Van Gogh exhibition
- Outdoor orientating skills on a hilltop hike around Box Hill
- A trip to see Rambert's performance of Peaky Blinders and a chance to meet the dancers

Our Young Leaders were able to put to work the insights they gained from talking to artists when they organised their own intergenerational art exhibition at the local Bankside Nolia's Gallery. This was a partnership between the Coin Street Over 50's Art Group and the Young Leaders focused on “The Art of Wellbeing” that sought to explore wellbeing through the tactile nature of sculpture and paint.

The process of developing an art exhibition from idea to implementation is the sort of “learning by doing” that Coin Street Centre Trust believes is so important. The partnership between our young people and seniors was cemented in an intergenerational day trip to Margate to visit the Turner Contemporary Gallery to see and discuss the art together (as well as a trip to the beach!).

Our community as a classroom

Providing social and learning opportunities in the crucial early years

Our Stay and Play sessions for under 5s provide the opportunity for families to meet in a relaxed environment where parents, carers and children participate in exploration and play activities with support from experienced staff. Sessions provide a mix of stories, songs, games, messy play, and creative activities.

Through the partnerships we develop, parents and carers of young children were able to access a range of courses and workshops that included

- Speech and language drop-in advice sessions with the Evelina NHS Community Speech and Language Therapy team
- Healthy eating and parenting support from the HENRY (Health, Exercise and Nutrition for the Really Young) programme
- Access to free fresh fruit and vegetables through the Rose Voucher Scheme
- Baby massage courses and school readiness workshops
- Early Communication and literacy development with Early Words Together at Two
- A free book in the post each month with Dolly Parton's Imagination Library
- Mental health clinic from the NHS Community Perinatal Service
- SENSational stay and play sessions for children with additional needs
- Little Green Fingers family gardening and growing workshops

Our health suite played host to antenatal appointments and postnatal checkups from the midwife team at Guy's and St Thomas's Foundation NHS Trust. We hosted more than 1,000 appointments across the year, enabling parents to get the advice they need in a relaxed community setting.

Over 80 families were engaged through various activity sessions over summer. Day trips to destinations like Camber Sands and St. James Park allowed families to enjoy experiences they might afford or organise on their own.

The Family Support team marked various cultural dates with families. From a 70th Platinum Jubilee "street party" for HM Queen Elizabeth II to commemorating Black History Month and Eid.

In December we created Santa's Grotto. Families attending the centre visited Santa, taking family pictures, and receiving gifts. The Christmas Toy Drive received an overwhelming response from staff and parents, with over 100 high-quality toys donated.

Vulnerable families were invited to a Christmas event, complete with a traditional lunch prepared by our nursery chef. This event was an important opportunity for families to connect and enjoy each other's company.

La Leche League GB

At our neighbourhood centre La Leche League provided fortnightly meetings, 25 times a year to 289 attendees with 1,300 appointments offering parents invaluable advice and support covering all aspects of breastfeeding:

- birth and the first feedings,
- positioning baby at the breast
- overcoming difficulties and sharing concerns
- starting solid foods
- nutrition, weaning and toddlers.

Supporting young people as they grow and develop

The Trust aims to get alongside young people to build on their talents, nurture their resilience, and support them to access sports, the arts, enterprise, wellbeing, and social action.

Our weekly homework and tutoring club for 10–18 year-olds continued to grow, adding an additional session to meet demand. We are grateful to our dedicated team of volunteer tutors from across our neighbourhood who supported our cohort of around 30 young students each week and to the Walcot Foundation for their support this year in funding this programme.

I chair the Young Leaders session, where we discuss current issues. We get involved with our local politicians (Florence Eshalomi MP, Vauxhall) and try to change things in our community for the better. During summer, the Good for Girls programme raised funds to host a Christmas lunch for seniors”.

Iman, Young Leader

Every Monday evening our group of Young Leaders convene, giving the opportunity for hands-on experience of running youth-led projects, events and campaigns.

Supporting young people as they grow and develop

As one of the few youth clubs left in this area, Youth Night every Thursday, remained at capacity catering to local 8–16-year-olds with a mix of activities encompassing arts and crafts, multi-sports, and the chance to get to know other young people.

This year we again delivered our popular Easter and Summer Youth Camps. Our usual mix of activities were supplemented by trips out each week and a healthy lunch every day. Throughout our four-week run during August we were able to support 60 young people aged 8-14 to make their summer productive and memorable.

Our weekend football sessions in partnership with the Colombo Centre every Saturday and Sunday evening attracted around 50 young people each week for a mix of coaching, play and skill and confidence building.

Specialist support to help families overcome more complex challenges

We aim to ensure our community is one where everyone can meet their needs and lead a good life.

Our dedicated Children and Family Worker case worker support helped families navigate a range of complex challenges that included domestic violence, parental mental health, family breakdown, and housing and debt problems. We provided intensive one-to-one support for parents and carers as well as access to specialists such as counsellors and health professionals, legal advisors, and employment support.

This year we continued to support over 100 Afghan families forced to leave their homes in Afghanistan due to the crisis there, and who were housed in two local hotels, while awaiting permanent resettlement elsewhere in the UK. We provided a “home from home” for families giving them access to our kitchen and play space so families could come together to prepare, cook, and eat their favourite hot meals together. We organised workshops on topics including safety in the home and out on the roads, managing child behaviour, nutrition, and British culture. Over time we came to know families better, we were able to identify and address unresolved trauma through careful exploration and onward referrals to mental health specialists.

As families were resettled, we helped them to contact support agencies in their new home city and arranged appointments to give them a head start on getting to know their new neighbourhoods.

Our nursery takes an inclusive approach. We know it is in the first few years of life that special educational needs emerge. We are well equipped to support children across the full range of needs and support their parents to make sense of a diagnosis as the following case study shows.

Case Study

A child struggling with sleep, recently joined our baby room but settling in proved to be a challenge. This child was also spontaneously biting other children. Through staff observation and consultation with parents, we discovered that the biting behavior was sensory seeking.

Concerned about the child's well-being, we made a referral for a developmental assessment. Although the developmental assessment request was turned down, we persevered. We collaborated with the parents and implemented changes to the child's daytime sleeping patterns, as recommended by a sleep clinic.

Despite our efforts, the biting behavior persisted. We implemented one-to-one support to focus on nurturing positive behaviours and equipping the child with appropriate interactions with peers.

Our intensive intervention proved fruitful, successfully breaking the link between the impulse to bite and the actual biting behavior.

The child is making better progress against their developmental outcomes, and we are assisting the parents in their child's referral for an Autistic Spectrum Disorder diagnosis.

Health and wellbeing for everyone

Everyday life in a busy city can, at times, be stressful and isolating.

Good health and wellbeing across a lifetime are a priority for the Trust.

We tackle this through opportunities to get active and healthy, connecting people for friendship and laughter, and offering space to think and talk when a bit of expert help is needed.

Getting active, no matter the age

We start young in organising toddler yoga classes and active mover sessions to get families exercising together in the first years of life.

Throughout the pre-teen and teenage years, there are a wide range of options we offer in collaboration with the Colombo Centre. Hip hop dance classes on a Wednesday night, football and basketball coaching on Thursdays, Saturday and Sunday and our Youth Gym sessions on Friday evenings give young people the chance to be guided around the gym by an experienced trainer.

Feel Good Saturday sessions are targeted at keeping our over 50s moving, and our participants include those with severe mobility issues and many in their 80s. At these sessions we encourage participation in a way that feels comfortable, with a mix of movement, exercise, and a social lunch. Options include gym circuits, badminton and table tennis, alongside guided walking football and soothing massages. In response to post-pandemic mobility challenges, we introduced new chair yoga and regular yoga sessions and have offered free gym membership for participants who could not otherwise afford it. As their confidence grows, many attend on their own outside the session.

Getting active, no matter the age

Our long-standing partnership with Rambert dance company provides an accessible and affordable community dance programme for the local area. Local schools benefit from workshops led by professional dancers. We provide free tickets to Rambert's performances at Sadlers Wells Theatre, introducing new audiences to the experience of watching contemporary dance on the big stage. People living in the Coin Street neighbourhood area can access a wide range of free and reduced fee dance classes with something for all ages.

I have been going to the Feel Good Saturday sessions for quite a few years now and have benefited and enjoyed so much from both the social side as much as the exercise and the fantastic staff that make it all worthwhile.”

I love the classes and look forward to them every week – I always leave feeling positive.”

For those who would rather join in from home, Rambert Plus is available to Coin Street residents for free online dance and fitness classes.

Thank you for these wonderful classes! We simply love them, and I know that they are great fun for my daughter.”

Future Movement is a fresh collaboration between Rambert and our partners for young people aged 16-19 who live in South London (Coin Street and beyond). This year the cohort made their very own TV show with the help of top industry professionals.

Aniya's Journey to a Healthy and Vibrant Life

After retirement I had a few health issues. I had not realised that when I retired, I had not only retired from work but also, bit by bit, I had been retiring socially. As I had never even been in a gym before I was not enthusiastic about joining, but needed to get fit, so went along to Colombo Centre.

Engin (our trainer) makes it fun, with a well-planned exercise program tailored to own pace. I have learnt how to use the gym equipment and am fitter and better for it. I particularly like walking football; it is fun and good exercise.”

Aniya, a long-term user of Coin Street coffee morning, annual parties, events, and the Feel Good Saturday session.

Building friendships and connections

We offer diverse ways people can stay connected to each other, to stay well and build a sense of belonging and community.

The Coin Street Community Singers get together every Thursday evening. Advice is provided from trained professionals on vocalisation, performance and more as we look at musical theatre, harmonies, worldly music and have fun singing together. Members of any age or level of experience are welcome to come along.

I've been part of the choir since its conception, and I love singing...I'm the happiest when I sing so this is the highlight of my week – coming to the choir and singing with the community.”

Our Gentle Gardening group meet weekly at Bernie Spain Gardens. Volunteers of all ages meet new people, learn about growing vegetables, herbs and plants, and enjoy trips to local gardens.

I was one of the first members of the group. When I started volunteering it was just me and the gardener. I have a window box at home and love to learn about plants.

Gardening sessions have offered an alternative learning experience to students at London Nautical School who struggle to thrive in mainstream lessons but enjoy working alongside our gardening volunteers.

I used to hate gardening but now I love it. These sessions are the highlight of my week.”

Weekly coffee morning on Thursday provides hot drinks, conversation, and quizzes for senior residents. There is also the chance to take part in wellbeing activities and access the Colombo gym.

Our Coin Street parties, celebrations and social events provide an opportunity to strengthen the glue that binds our community. They remain a highlight of the annual calendar and this year included

- Eid celebration feast for families in May
- Jubilee Senior's Tea Dance in June
- Summer Teenage Treasure Hunt in August
- Urban Harvest Garden Party in September
- Black History Month Dance Party in October
- Coin Street Santa's Grotto, Toy Drive and Family Christmas Lunch in December
- Young at Heart Seniors New Year Party in January

People tell us these events and parties are a time when they catch up with friends and make new memories together.

Enterprise, creativity and lifelong learning

The Trust believes creativity is for everyone, and that learning never stops. We aim to facilitate everyday opportunities for people in our community to get enterprising, be creative and develop new skills and talents.

Case Study

Our fortnightly Art Group is aimed at people over 50 and gives participants a chance to try new ways to express their thoughts and ideas about life, as well as meeting new people.

Gina is a compassionate Franciscan Sister, dedicated to serving others. Despite her desire to explore art, financial constraints made attending formal classes seem impossible until she found the Coin Street Art Group.

With a mix of excitement and trepidation, Gina stepped into the art group, having only dabbled in crafts before. But something magical happened over two terms. Surrounded by supportive peers and equipped with the right materials, Gina's creative spirit blossomed.

"This experience has been a delightful opportunity to discover new gifts in a nurturing and encouraging environment. Delighted. Grateful. Encouraged."

The art group quickly became more than just a creative outlet. It became a sanctuary for Gina, offering precious "me-time" where she could focus on her well-being and find solace in self-expression. Working with clay ignited a spark in her, and she sculpted a remarkable figure of Desmond Tutu.

The pride and joy of seeing her creations displayed in an exhibition were beyond measure. The tutor's encouraging support played a crucial role in Gina's artistic journey, inspiring her to push her boundaries and embrace her talents fully.

Grace's Journey

Grace lives in and has grown up in one of the Coin Street housing cooperatives, next door to our neighbourhood centre. Grace has an Education, Health and Care plan due to her Autistic Spectrum Disorder, which she utilised to embark on volunteering with Coin Street Nursery two days a week.

With support from her Autism Work Coach, Grace applied for a place on the Government Kickstart Scheme, aimed at young people under 25. The six-month scheme, offering 25 hours of work per week, proved to be a transformative experience. With the funding linked to the scheme, Grace enrolled in the NVQ Level 2 in Childcare, building on her successful nursery placement.

Grace secured a role working regular days in the nursery, balancing her job with her ongoing course. Team members provided mentorship and support, guiding Grace in her coursework and personal growth.

Now a full-time member of our team, Grace contributes to the nurturing environment we cultivate in the nursery. The nursery has offered a potential career path to Grace, where she can enrich the lives of the children she cares for.

Enterprise, creativity and lifelong learning

Case Study

Through the London Youth funded Good for Girls project, our Young Leaders group were able to develop a creative vision and work through the steps to make it real. Over the summer, the group were supported to design, create, and manufacture their own mini range of products.

They then developed a plan to get their products in front of customers. They organised two successful market stalls in August, one in Bernie Spain Gardens and another on Lower Marsh as well as hosting two community swop shop and jumble sales at the Colombo Centre.

The range of products they offered displayed their talent and passion, including beautifully designed t-shirts, decorated mugs, tote bags, and badges.

The Young Leaders used the profits they made to fund a heartwarming community meal in December, bringing together the seniors they collaborated on the art project and shared unforgettable memories with on the summer trip to Margate.

Case Study

Local resident Stephanie arrived at Coin Street as a new parent in 2011 and her family has grown up with us ever since.

As her children have grown, Stephanie was keen to pursue her own growth as well as “give back” for the help and support she received. She has become a dedicated and multi-skilled volunteer, whether using her culinary skills to feed hungry mouths or helping to run creative activities in the summer.

We were delighted when she was honoured in September at the Tate Modern for her contribution to Southwark as a Volunteer Champion as part of the Southwark Stars Awards, organised by Community Southwark.

Embracing feedback, to help us better change lives

This year, we have embraced every opportunity to get feedback on what we deliver, so we can achieve quality in all that we do.

It is a loving, kind, and special place where great memories are made. We are fortunate to have Coin Street in our neighbourhood.”

Our day nursery surveyed every parent with a child at Coin Street and of those that participated (80%), 100% of them told us their child was happy at nursery and that they would wholeheartedly recommend Coin Street to others.

We welcome Ofsted back to our nursery in March for their five yearly inspection. The Inspector described it as a “unique” and “special place” and highlighted the exceptional experience and passion of the team and the importance of our eight curricular goals in meticulously preparing children for their school journey.

We were pleased the Inspector noted the “warm, welcoming and happy environment” as well as parents appreciating “the open communication and feedback about their children’s well-being and development.”

We’re delighted with Coin Street Nursery. You manage to retain excellent staff, keep costs competitive, and have a smart approach to learning. I have recommended it to other parents, all of whom seem happy.”

Our focus on inclusion and supporting children with special educational needs and/or disabilities was praised, and our provision was rated good on all counts. The Inspector’s advice about how we further encourage children to learn to develop self-care and information recall skills was warmly received, and we look forward to our next inspection.

Embracing feedback, to help us better change lives

In August we hosted a visit by the Children's Commissioner for England team. They met parents and children and subsequently featured Coin Street as a family hub case study in their Independent Family Review report, reflecting that our Centre replicates the kind of help you get from a family – always there for you, without judgement, and invested in you doing well.

Coin Street parent quoted in the Independent Family Review report

In December, Coin Street Centre Trust was awarded the Gold Quality Mark by London Youth for our work with young people. Coin Street was assessed against a wide range of criteria including aims for young people, safeguarding, diversity and inclusion, health and safety, partnerships, leadership, and management.

It was really great to see how involved the young people are in programme evaluation. It is so important for youth organisations to have a clear evaluation toolkit that is consistent across all the programmes to ensure that the sessions being delivered and beneficial for the young people involved. We loved the girls only gym programme and that this was created because of feedback and understanding of the issues young women face today with their health and wellbeing, especially in a formal gym setting.”

London Youth Quality Mark Assessor

As one of only 10 organisations to be awarded this Gold Quality Mark, we are proud of this achievement.

Looking forward

This year has added the cost-of living crisis to an already serious set of long-term impacts, post-pandemic. Our work with children has revealed to us the developmental delays and impact of lost schooling; and our work with seniors tells us that existing health and social vulnerabilities have accelerated in this period. We have seen more need emerge and more demand for the support we offer.

In the wake of this challenge, we will continue to focus on what matters – bridging the generation gap, taking a whole family approach, and focusing on encouraging ground up action with plenty of opportunities for volunteering and connection.

This year we have put renewed emphasis on our outreach, organising workshops and stalls out in the neighbourhood throughout the year. We have undertaken a fundraising drive to ensure that as needs in our community increase, we have the resources needed to get alongside the most vulnerable. We will build on this progress across the coming year. Partnership continues to be essential, and we will look to strengthen and deepen the partnerships that underpin our projects and programmes.

Following a comprehensive board renewal process last year, we have enhanced our diversity and skills. Our board draws upon a diverse range of expertise, including finance, legal, leisure management, safeguarding, community development, volunteering, careers and education, youth work, and working with older people. The board is continuing to flesh out a 10-year strategy for the Trust, which will combine on the ground responsiveness with a longer-term investment mindset.

In the year ahead we expect further work on the development of the Doon Street leisure centre project.

Our partners, Coin Street Community Builders, have planning permission to create a new mixed development on the Doon Street site, which forms part of the Coin Street estate. These plans include the building of a public swimming pool and leisure centre, the costs of which will be funded by the housing development also included in the scheme. On completion the leisure centre will be leased to the Coin Street Centre Trust at peppercorn rent with the benefit of a substantial endowment to maintain the building.

As well as providing high quality facilities for the community, the Doon Street leisure centre has the potential to generate a reliable income stream to support the Trust's activities into the future.

Further work is expected in the coming year to shape plans for these new community facilities, ahead of construction in the years ahead.

We expect another busy, challenging year ahead of us as we respond to the needs and opportunities of our community, and draw inspiration from a resource of talent, energy and partnerships across our neighbourhood which has proved so critical in our work last year and going forward.

Statement of responsibilities of the Trustees

The Trustees (who are also directors of Coin Street Centre Trust for the purposes of company law) are responsible for preparing the Trustees' annual report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

Company law requires the Trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial year which give a true and fair view of the situation of the charitable company and of the incoming resources and application of resources, including the income and expenditure, of the charitable company for that period. In preparing these financial statements, the Trustees are required to:

- Select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently
- Observe the methods and principles in the Charities SORP
- Make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent
- State whether applicable UK Accounting Standards and statements of recommended practice have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements
- Prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the Charity will continue in operation

They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charitable company and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

The Trustees are responsible for the maintenance and integrity of the corporate and financial information included on the charitable company's website. Legislation in the United Kingdom governing the preparation and dissemination of financial statements may differ from legislation in other jurisdictions.

The opinion of the Trustees is that the company is entitled to the exemptions conferred by section 477 of the Companies Act 2006 relating to small companies.

The Trustees acknowledge the following responsibilities:

- The members have not required the company to obtain an audit of its accounts for the year in question in accordance with section 476

Independent examiner's report

I report to the Trustees on my examination of the accounts of Coin Street Centre Trust for the year ended 31 March 2023.

This report is made solely to the Trustees as a body, in accordance with the Charities Act 2011. My examination has been undertaken so that I might state to the Trustees those matters I am required to state to them in an independent examiner's report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, I do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the Charity and the Trustees as a body, for my examination, for this report, or for the opinions I have formed.

Responsibilities and basis of report

As the Charity Trustees of the Company you are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the requirements of the Charities Act 2011 ('the Act')/Companies Act 2006 ('the 2006 Act').

Having satisfied myself that the accounts of the Company are not required to be audited under Part 16 of the 2006 Act and are eligible for independent examination, I report in respect of my examination of the Company's accounts carried out under section 145 of the 2011 Act and in carrying out my examination I have followed all the applicable Directions given by the Charity Commission under section 145(5)(b) of the Charities Act 2011 ('the 2011 Act').

Since the Charity's gross income exceeded £250,000 your examiner must be a member of a body listed in section 145 of the 2011 Act. I confirm that I am qualified to undertake the examination because I am a member of the Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales, which is one of the listed bodies.

I have completed my examination. I confirm that no material matters have come to my attention in connection with the examination giving me cause to believe that in any material respect:

1. Accounting records were not kept in respect of the Company as required by section 386 of the 2006 Act; or
2. The accounts do not accord with those records; or
3. The accounts do not comply with the accounting requirements of section 396 of the 2006 Act other than any requirement that the accounts give a 'true and fair view' which is not a matter considered as part of an independent examination; or
4. The accounts have not been prepared in accordance with the methods and principles of the Statement of Recommended Practice for accounting and reporting by charities; or

I have no concerns and have come across no other matters in connection with the examination to which attention should be drawn in this report in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.

Notes to the financial statements

For the year ended 31 March 2023

1. Accounting policies

a) Statutory information

Coin Street Centre Trust is a charitable company limited by guarantee and is incorporated in England and Wales.

The registered office address is Coin Street neighbourhood centre, 108 Stamford Street, London, SE1 9NH and its operational address is Columbo Centre, 34-68 Colombo Street, London SE1 8DP.

b) Basis of preparation

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) – (Charities SORP FRS 102), The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) and the Companies Act 2006.

The directors have taken advantage of the small entity exemption as noted in FRS 102 section 1A. The financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis.

c) Public benefit entity

The Charity meets the definition of a public benefit entity under FRS 102.

d) Going concern

The trustees, have considered the impact of prevailing economic challenges and have reforecast and budgeted to March 2024, from this assessment the trustees consider that there are no material uncertainties about the Charity's ability to continue as a going concern.

e) Income

Income is recognised when the Charity has entitlement to the funds, any performance conditions attached to the income have been met, it is probable that the income will be received and that the amount can be measured reliably.

Income from government and other grants, whether 'capital' grants or 'revenue' grants, is recognised when the Charity has entitlement to the funds, any performance conditions attached to the grants have been met, it is probable that the income will be received and the amount can be measured reliably and is not deferred.

For legacies, entitlement is taken as the earlier of the date on which either: the Charity is aware that probate has been granted, the estate has been finalised and notification has been made by the executor(s) to the Charity that a distribution will be made, or when a distribution is received from the estate. Receipt of a legacy, in whole or in part, is only considered probable when the amount can be measured reliably and the Charity has been notified of the executor's intention to make a distribution. Where legacies have been notified to the Charity, or the Charity is aware of the granting of probate, and the criteria for income recognition have not been met, then the legacy is treated as a contingent asset and disclosed if material. Income received in advance of the provision of a specified service is deferred until the criteria for income recognition are met.

f) Donations of gifts, services and facilities

Donated professional services and donated facilities are recognised as income when the Charity has control over the item or received the service, any conditions associated with the donation have been met, the receipt of economic benefit from the use by the Charity of the item is probable and that economic benefit can be measured reliably. In accordance with the Charities SORP (FRS 102). Volunteer time is not recognised so refer to the Trustees' Annual Report for more information about their contribution.

1. Accounting policies (continued)

On receipt, donated gifts, professional services and donated facilities are recognised on the basis of the value of the gift to the Charity which is the amount the Charity would have been willing to pay to obtain services or facilities of equivalent economic benefit on the open market; a corresponding amount is then recognised in expenditure in the period of receipt.

g) Fund accounting

Restricted funds are to be used for specific purposes as laid down by the donor. Expenditure which meets these criteria is charged to the fund.

Unrestricted funds are donations and other incoming resources received or generated for the charitable purposes.

Designated funds are unrestricted funds earmarked by the Trustees for particular purposes.

h) Expenditure and irrecoverable VAT

Expenditure is recognised once there is a legal or constructive obligation to make a payment to a third party, it is probable that settlement will be required and the amount of the obligation can be measured reliably. Expenditure is classified under the following activity headings:

Expenditure on charitable activities includes the costs of community and youth activities undertaken to further the purposes of the Charity and their associated support costs.

Irrecoverable VAT is charged as a cost against the activity for which the expenditure was incurred.

i) Allocation of support costs

Resources expended are allocated to the particular activity where the cost relates directly to that activity. However, the cost of overall direction and administration of each activity, comprising the salary and overhead costs of the central function, is apportioned on the following basis which are an estimate, based on staff time, of the amount attributable to each activity.

Where information about the aims, objectives and projects of the Charity is provided to potential beneficiaries, the costs associated with this publicity are allocated to charitable expenditure.

Support and governance costs are re-allocated to each of the activities based on direct costs.

Governance costs are the costs associated with the governance arrangements of the Charity. These costs are associated with constitutional and statutory requirements and include any costs associated with the strategic management of the Charity's activities.

j) Debtors

Trade and other debtors are recognised at the settlement amount due after any trade discount offered. Prepayments are valued at the amount prepaid net of any trade discounts due.

k) Cash at bank and in hand

Cash at bank and cash in hand includes cash and short term highly liquid investments with a short maturity of three months or less from the date of acquisition or opening of the deposit or similar account.

1. Accounting policies (continued)

l) Creditors and provisions

Creditors and provisions are recognised where the Charity has a present obligation resulting from a past event that will probably result in the transfer of funds to a third party and the amount due to settle the obligation can be measured or estimated reliably. Creditors and provisions are normally recognised at their settlement amount after allowing for any trade discounts due.

m) Financial instruments

The Charity only has financial assets and financial liabilities of a kind that qualify as basic financial instruments. Basic financial instruments are initially recognised at transaction value and subsequently measured at their settlement value with the exception of bank loans which are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.
