Public Benefit Statement.

The church's charitable objectives are primarily focused on the advancement of religion, which is recognised as a charitable purpose having public benefit. The public benefit that flows from this is the adoption and maintenance of a moral framework which encourages people to be good citizens.

The provision of this benefit is evidenced by:

- The provision of a place of worship open to all sections of the community.
- Facilities for pre-school children for development of social and educational skills.
An incidental benefit from this is that it provides parents/minders of the attendees with a gathering in which they can share advice and learnings,
- Facilities for people to engage in cultural or recreational activities
- Varied programme of activities both social and religious for women in the Knockbracken/Four Winds area of south east Belfast
- Activities both religious and social for men within both the immediate fellowship and outside.
- Interaction with an accredited counsellor to provide training to other qualified counsellors who wish to work with children and young people across the community who require support.
- Provision of office space for We are Made for More, an organisation that works with the Dept of Education to deliver healthy living workshops to schools.

All activities of the church are provided free of charge and are open to all sections of the community as defined by the Equality Commission.

Activities Report.

We are an independent self-governing church, a member of the Union of Congregational Churches in Ireland and affiliated to the Evangelical Fellowship of Congregational Churches (EFCC) in the U.K. As a fellowship with a sphere of influence with those living in the Newtownbreda, Four Winds and surrounding areas of south Belfast we seek to proclaim and advance the Christian faith as set out in the Bible, which we believe to be the inerrant Word of God.

The fellowship has approximately 25 families connected to it with a regular attendance of c25 -30 for worship on Sunday mornings and c20 in the evening.

The church has a varied programme of activities. Our primary focus is to meet for corporate worship and Bible teaching each Sunday when our pastor faithfully proclaims the gospel and believer's faith is strengthened and encouraged. As reported previously the Sunday School has remained been suspended due to the lack of young children in the fellowship however it is our prayer that in the future we will be able to re-open it. Continuing discussions are taking place with Made for More, an organisation who have expertise in working with children, in order to explore ideas on how we could recommence a work with young people in the community and we plan with their help to perhaps hold some sort of summer scheme for children in 2024.

Our regular Sunday worship services were supplemented with a the midweek Bible Study and Prayer Meeting when each Wednesday our pastor taught from God's word. Our minister regularly visits members of the fellowship who are sick or confined to home or residential care. As a fellowship we have continued with our WhatsApp group which affords members an additional opportunity to keep in contact and to share concerns, scripture verses or songs which have encouraged them in times of difficulty. The church has continued to stream our services each Sunday morning and evening and these are available for anyone to watch online.

Our weekly drop-in coffee morning (Open House), was held each Thursday. This is open to everyone in our community and members of the church. Signs are set out each Thursday inviting people passing by to come in and have a cup of tea or coffee and something to eat whilst having a chat. All the facilities are provided free of charge and are aimed at raising the profile of the fellowship in the area and providing a space where, perhaps, those who are lonely or requiring friendship can come and feel welcome.

During the course of 2023, we suspended the Open House drop in facility in order that, as a church, we could facilitate the running of a course for Hong Kongers who were granted the opportunity by the Government to move from Hong Kong to relocate in the UK. The course was designed to help them settle in to their new communities and as well as teaching them something about the country, its language and culture, it also offered advice on where to go to obtain support regarding schooling, GP services etc.

As a church, we continue to offer an area of our building to an organisation called Made for More which seeks to inspire young people in their communities and schools to educate them with the knowledge required to value who they are and helps them to make positive decisions for a more purposeful future. This group is supported by the Department for Education to run workshops and deliver talks to school children in order to promote healthier living and greater self esteem whilst also supporting young people who are maybe struggling with mental health issues. They also run these workshops with various youth organisations. Having outgrown their previous base, the use of our property has allowed Made for More to expand their activities and this will provide undoubted benefits for young people throughout N Ireland. A member of our fellowship who is an accredited BACP counsellor has been able to offer support to Made for More in their work.

The church, during the year, also allowed the use of its premises to support and facilitate other community activities. One night a week an Irish Dancing class is held for children in the area who wish to attend. In addition we have also permitted the use of the premises to an organisation called Jo Jingles. The class is part of a national network of over 700 centres and offers established, structured fun and learning for babies and pre-school children from the local area.

During the summer of 2023, the church also held two free BBQ evenings and invitations to these events were not just confined to church members, but were also offered to people from the local area.

Two, six week "Spin Classes" were held by the church during the year for those keen on cycling or wishing to improve their fitness. These classes were open to anyone from the local community to attend, and indeed some of the Hong Kong people mentioned earlier, came along.

Our pastor Rev Coulter, during the year, continued to serve on the National Committee of the Evangelical Fellowship of Congregational Churches. In this role he is helping to guide and direct other churches throughout the United Kingdom that are members of this grouping.

Throughout the year the church has continued to support the work of Storehouse Belfast (a registered charity) who provide social care to local families who are in need. The issue of food poverty continues to be a major focus for Storehouse so members of our fellowship collect non-perishable foodstuffs on a regular basis. In addition, at our Harvest service all the foodstuffs brought by members to that service were donated to Storehouse. On a regular basis, the food that has been donated is delivered by one of our church members to the Storehouse depot for onward distribution to people needing support.

The fellowship's financial needs continue to be funded by freewill voluntary contributions from members and adherents with the main outlay being salaries for the pastor and a part time cleaner. The balance of the loan account taken to pay for the building of a church hall is funded by additional contributions from the members and is augmented by occasional small gifts and Gift Aid relief from HMRC.

During the year the members contribute to missionary causes. On a regular basis our midweek meeting will have a talk from a Missionary Society and an opportunity is provided to our members to contribute to the work of that society. In particular the church continues to provide monthly support to David and Rosemary Edwards who are National Directors of Child Evangelism Fellowship in Ireland.

As in previous years at Christmas time, the church, this time under the coordination of our Ladies Fellowship, collected essential hygiene items, small toys, gloves, scarves etc. and filled shoeboxes with them and these were delivered to Blythwood Care, a charity with a mission to provide both practical and spiritual support to those in need at home and abroad.. Blythwood coordinate this annual "Shoebox Appeal" and they distribute the boxes to needy children in Eastern Europe.

During the year the church continued operate a Mothers and Toddlers Group. This attracts upwards of 20 children with their parents or carers. It is open to the entire community and affords an opportunity for people to come with their children, allowing social interaction for the kids and a chance for their carers to have some refreshments and socialise with others.

During 2023 the church again granted the use of its hall to a nationally accredited counsellor to run approved courses for other qualified counsellors who want to be better quipped to support people in the community who find themselves in a situation where they may require help.

Each activity mentioned in this report covering from the youngest to the eldest is open to the entire population of the Four Winds/Newtownbreda area and beyond. However the church's priority remains unchanged, namely preaching the good news of Jesus Christ, the biblical message of personal salvation and living a God-directed life.

INDEPENDENT EXAMINER'S REPORT TO THE TRUSTEES OF KNOCKBRACKEN CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

We report to the trustees on my examination of the accounts of Knockbracken Congregational Church for the year ended 31 December 2023.

Responsibilities and basis of report

As the trustees of the charity you are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the requirements of the Charities Act (Northern Ireland) 2008 (the '2008 Act'). You are satisfied that your charity is not required by charity law to be audited and have chosen instead to have an independent examination.

It is our responsibility to:

- examine the accounts under section 65 of the Charities Act
- follow the procedures laid down in the general Directions given by the Commission under section 65(9)(b) of the Charities Act
- state whether particular matters have come to my attention

Basis of independent examiner's report

We have examined your charity accounts as required under section 65 of the Charities Act and our examination was carried out in accordance with the general Directions given by the Charity Commission for Northern Ireland under section 65(9)(b) of the Charities Act.

Our examination included a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also included consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanations from you as charity trustees concerning any such matters.

Our role is to state whether any material matters have come to our attention giving us cause to believe:

1. That accounting records were not kept in accordance with section 63 of the Charities Act
2. That the accounts do not accord with those accounting records
3. That the accounts do not comply with the accounting requirements of the Charities Act
4. That there is further information needed for a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.

Independent examiner's statement

We have completed our examination and have no concerns in respect of the matters (1) to (4) listed above and, in connection with following the Directions of the Charity Commission for Northern Ireland, we have found no matters that require drawing to your attention.

In addition, our pastor Rev Coulter, during the year led a Discipleship Explored course.(an informal Christian Evangelistic teaching course) This was held in our church hall and an invitation to join the course was extended to anyone who was interested.

Our weekly drop-in coffee morning (Open House), was held each Thursday. This is open to everyone in our community and members of the church. All the facilities are provided free of charge and are aimed at raising the profile of the fellowship in the area and providing a space where, perhaps, those who are lonely or requiring friendship can come and feel welcome. With the support of the PSNI Comunity Team we were able to take two minibuses of those who attend Open Hose on a tour of Parliament Buildings at Stormont and afterwards a cup of tea/coffee and a scone were provided at a local garden centre.

In the summer of 2022, after discussions with a a Group called Made for More, the church took the decision to allow this group to use some of the spare capacity in our building from which to base their activities into schools. This group is supported by the Dept for Education to run workshops and deliver talks to school children in order to promote healthier living and greater self esteem whilst also supporting young people who are maybe struggling with mental health issues. KNOCKBRACKEN CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

We report to the trustees on my examination of the accounts of Knockbracken Congregational Church for the year ended 31 December 2022.

Responsibilities and basis of report

As the trustees of the charity you are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the requirements of the Charities Act (Northern Ireland) 2008 (the '2008 Act'). You are satisfied that your charity is not required by charity law to be audited and have chosen instead to have an independent examination.

It is our responsibility to:

- examine the accounts under section 65 of the Charities Act
- follow the procedures laid down in the general Directions given by the Commission under section 65(9)(b) of the Charities Act
- state whether particular matters have come to my attention

Basis of independent examiner's report

We have examined your charity accounts as required under section 65 of the Charities Act and our examination was carried out in accordance with the general Directions given by the Charity Commission for Northern Ireland under section 65(9)(b) of the Charities Act.

Our examination included a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also included consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanations from you as charity trustees concerning any such matters.

Our role is to state whether any material matters have come to our attention giving us cause to believe:

1. That accounting records were not kept in accordance with section 63 of the Charities Act
2. That the accounts do not accord with those accounting records
3. That the accounts do not comply with the accounting requirements of the Charities Act
4. That there is further information needed for a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.

Independent examiner's statement

We have completed our examination and have no concerns in respect of the matters (1) to (4) listed above and, in connection with following the Directions of the Charity Commission for Northern Ireland, we have found no matters that require drawing to your attention.
