Public Benefit Statement

The trustees believe that our purposes satisfy both elements of the public benefit requirement. The direct benefits which flow from purpose one include improving awareness and knowledge of sudden adult death syndrome (SADS) across Northern Ireland so that measures may be put in place to prevent risk of death. Furthermore, we work closely with the general public to ensure public venues in Northern Ireland are suitably equipped to deal with medical emergencies. These benefits are evidenced through feedback from the general public and regular co-operation with local schools and sports venues to ensure they are fully equipped for dealing with unexpected cardiac arrest. In addition, these benefits are evidenced through increased numbers of defibrillators throughout Northern Ireland and interactions with health professionals who advise on which medical devices are required. We have also been in regular contact with research professionals who can advise on the best contribution we can make to cardiac research in Northern Ireland. We believe there is no risk involved with raising awareness of SADS and it can only be of benefit to increase public knowledge of a condition that can affect anyone at any time. There may be side-effects associated with the use of defibrillators; however, without them the chance of death would be a lot higher. We therefore feel that the benefits of these devices outweigh the risks. We also believe there is no risk involved with contributing to research as it will only push us further towards an era of new therapeutic options to prevent risk of death. The beneficiaries of this purpose are people living in Northern Ireland. There is no private benefit flowing from this purpose. The direct benefits which flow from purpose two include increasing morale for young people in Northern Ireland affected by life-limiting heart conditions. Many of these children spend a large proportion of their childhood in hospital and this purpose allows us to provide them with an experience of a lifetime. These benefits are evidenced through interactions with parents of affected children to ensure the experience is individually suited to provide a memorable experience. There may be risk associated with long distance travel in some of these children; however, we will always take the advice of medical professionals before committing. We therefore feel the benefits associated with this purpose outweigh any possible risk. The beneficiaries of this purpose are young people living in Northern Ireland affected by heart conditions. There is no private benefit flowing from this purpose.

Annual return

Independent examiner's report to the Charity Trustees of Danny Mills Heart Foundation

I report on the accounts of the Charity for the year ended 31st March 2024.

Respective responsibilities of Charity Trustees and examiner

As the charity's trustees, you are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the Charities Act (Northern Ireland) 2008.

It is my responsibility to:

- examine the accounts under section 65 of the Charities Act.
- follow the procedures laid down in the general Directions given by the Commission under section 65(9)(b) of the Charities Act.
- state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of independent examiner's report

I have examined your charity accounts as required under section 65 of the Charities Act and my examination was carried out in accordance with the general directions given by the Charity Commission for Northern Ireland under section 65(9)(b) of the Charities Act.

My examination included a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also included consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanations from you as charity Trustees concerning any such matters.

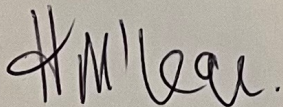

My role is to state whether any material matters have come to my attention giving me cause to believe:

1. That accounting records were not kept in accordance with section 63 of the Charities Act.
2. That the accounts do not accord with those accounting records.
3. That the accounts do not comply with the accounting requirements of the Charities Act.
4. That there is further information needed for a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.

Independent examiner's statement

I have completed my examination and have no concerns in respect of the matters (1) to (4) listed above and, in connection with following the Directions of the Charity Commission for Northern Ireland, I have found no matters that require drawing to your attention.
