Future Plans

As Village Church Belfast continues to grow in both size and maturity, we look ahead to the coming years with anticipation, prayerfulness, and a renewed dependence on God's guidance and provision. This year brings several key transitions within our staff team. Gabs Gray, our children and families worker, will be taking maternity leave, and we are thankful to have secured maternity cover to ensure continued support for our growing families during her absence. We also said farewell to one of our full-time pastors, and while their departure is felt deeply, we are excited about the opportunity to reassess and reimagine the shape of our team going forward.

To help us discern the way ahead, we have engaged Front Porch Partnership-a consultancy that works closely with churches-to help us assess our current leadership structures, identify any team gaps, and consider how our staffing model might evolve to meet the needs of a dynamic and growing congregation. This may involve reshaping some existing roles or bringing new staff into the team in the future.

Alongside personnel considerations, we are seeking to further develop and strengthen our structures for ministry and discipleship. As our congregation grows, we want to ensure our gathering rhythms and leadership systems remain scalable, healthy, and missionally effective. This includes evaluating how we organise community life, small groups, and leadership development pathways.

We also look forward to deepening relationships with new ministry partners in the city. This includes our ongoing support of Young Life Capernaum and a new partnership with Colin Glen Christian Fellowship in West Belfast. We are prayerfully exploring the possibility of bringing on a church planting resident, with a view to launching another congregation in the years ahead.

We remain committed to our vision of seeing the gospel shape every part of life in Belfast and beyond, and we continue to be grateful for God's provision, the generosity of our church family, and the opportunity to serve this city together.
