

DONAGHCLONEY COMMUNITY GARDEN - ANNUAL REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES FOR YEAR ENDED 31 MARCH 2023

CHARITY NUMBER - 108152

The Donaghcloney Community Garden was started in May 2017 at the Royal British Legion with the help of The Conservation Volunteers. Since the beginning the group has grown in numbers, on average 30 per week, and attracts self-employed, pensioners, people with various mental health problems, strokes and the unemployed. The garden meets twice weekly, Monday and Friday mornings, 10.30 – 13.00, not only to promote horticultural aspects but provides educational information by various projects facilitated by The Conservation Volunteers/other organisations. The volunteer ages range from 16 – 80+, including those with disabilities, retired and those still working. The aim of the garden is to provide the opportunity to learn new skills, work with partners to promote health/wellbeing, physical activities and healthy eating programmes. The Community Garden received charity status on 9 December 2019 No 108152.

The garden provides an opportunity for all to keep active and related to their abilities. It has encouraged TCV's Green Gym model approach ensuring there are strong links made between the enhanced green space and health and well-being. It has also made connections with Community Nutrition and Dietetic team and local Nutritionist and Chiefs.

It has developed a community garden with a polytunnel, raised beds, fruit orchard, colourful flower displays and seating areas for relaxation. Recycling of materials, garden kneeler/seats have been made for individual needs, window boxes, an automatic watering system and bug hotels. DGC has made huge efforts to ensure everyone feels welcome, has a role and included in the gardening project, an extremely positive approach has seen the group grow from strength to strength in numbers and skill base.

The Community Garden and its volunteers have gained the confidence/respect of the wider community. This is evidenced by the work now undertaken in the village re planters, raised beds, hanging baskets, litter picks and working in collaboration with TCV to provide community window boxes, all increasing community ownership. The feedback received from the wider community for their regeneration of the village Bell Garden has been amazing, with young families and older people alike describing it as a life-line – being able to access safe green space during lockdown.

The Garden was awarded winner of the TCV Great Britain Green Heroes Outside and Active Award 2021. The Community Garden was one of three finalists in the All Ireland IPB Pride of Place Community Awards 2021 which was held on June 2022.

DCG works closely with the Donaghcloney Royal British Legion, ABC re revenue costs, The Conservation Volunteers, Live Here Love Here, TADA Rural Support Network, DAERA, Co-Operation Ireland, various funders, local Primary School, other garden groups willingly sharing its advice/experiences and welcomes visitors who go away with some of the vegetables, fruits, etc.

Donaghcloney is a growing village with many newcomers, people who are in early retirement and seeking new outlets for their spare time. The garden is meeting this need as well as reducing social isolation. It is a key player in creating and bonding new friendships within and around the area. We are now being asked by youth groups to identify ways the young can learn and participate within the community garden.

Facebook is used to promote the garden and allow those who cannot attend in person to see what is going on.
