Structure, Governance, and Management:

Constitution

The Society is a Scottish Charitable Incorporated Organisation (a SCIO). It was registered in its current legal form on 19 November 2015. The charity was previously an unincorporated organisation but changed its legal form to a SCIO. The assets of the unincorporated organisation were transferred to the SCIO by 31 December 2015. It is managed by the Council.

Appointment of Trustees

The members of the Council, which normally meets at least three times a year, are the charity's trustees. Council members are elected at the Annual General Meeting of the Society, which is normally held in October or November. The Constitution provides for four to nine Council members including office-bearers. The programme of meetings is planned by the Events Committee. New Council members receive copies of Accounts and minutes of previous meetings and the Constitution.

Objectives and Activities:

Charitable purpose

The charity's purpose is to advance education by natural history excursions, talks and related activities, including social media.

Activities

Monthly indoor and outdoor meetings are held in the winter, and 20 to 30 field trips are held during the summer. The focus of the Society's activities is on natural history in south-east Scotland. A detailed record of activities is produced in the Society's Journal.

Achievement and Performance

Indoor talks continued in 2024/25. The annual Journal was produced. A full programme of outdoor meetings was held during the year.

Financial Review

The main source of funding is membership subscriptions. Total receipts, including subscriptions were £2,455, and payments totalled £(1,692), so that the Society's funds increased by £763 in the year.

Reserves

The Council's policy continues to be to maintain free reserves at a level that equates to around six months of unrestricted expenditure. i.e. around £1,500. Current free reserves exceed this figure, which should provide sufficient funds to cover all normal charitable and governance costs and meet any future professional fees for services currently provided by members, such as bookkeeping and accounts.

Plans for the future period

The trustees intend to continue current activities and to promote membership.

Independent Examiner's Report to the Trustees of The Edinburgh Natural History Society

I report on the Accounts of the charity, set out above, and on the Trustees' Report.

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner

The charity's trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the terms of the Charities and Trustee Investment (Scotland) Act 2005 and the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006. The charity trustees consider that the audit requirement of Regulation 10(1)(d) of the Accounts Regulations does not apply. It is my responsibility to examine the accounts as required under section 44(1)(c) of the Act and to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of independent examiner's statement

My examination is carried out in accordance with Regulation 11 of the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts and seeks explanations from the trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently I do not express an audit opinion on the view given by the accounts.

Independent examiner's statement

In the course of my examination no matters have come to my attention:

1. which give me reasonable cause to believe that in any material respect the requirements:

- to keep accounting records in accordance with Section 44(1)(a) of the 2005 Act and Regulation 4 of the 2006 Accounts Regulations; and
- to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records and comply with Regulation 9 of the 2006 Regulations

have not been met, or

2. to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.
