Objectives and activities

The objectives of Edinburgh University Children's Holiday Venture (CHV) remain focused on organising and delivering activities and support for children from Edinburgh's peripheral housing schemes, particularly those living in areas of economic deprivation. These children often face challenges such as neglect, bereavement, isolation, or caring responsibilities. Referrals continue to be made by social workers, schools, and other professionals who think CHV could provide support. CHV aims to create a long-term supportive framework through consistent engagement and a high volunteer-to-child ratio. This approach allows children to develop confidence, social skills, and personal growth while providing a welcome break from their home and school environments. The charity currently supports approximately 150 children across its groups in the Niddrie, Pilton and Sighthill catchment areas. These groups operate on a fortnightly basis, with volunteers providing transportation via CHV's minibuses to ensure accessibility for all participants. Throughout the 2024-2025 financial year, CHV continued in its financial recovery and growth following previous financial constraints the year prior. This progress allowed for the reinstatement of two summer residential camps and the introduction of a new summer programme. As a result, 2024-2025 marked the first year in CHV's history where it operated for 12 consecutive months. Despite this expansion, CHV has remained committed to its core mission of ensuring that all children benefitted from structured, engaging, and supportive experiences. Overall, CHV enjoyed another successful year, laying strong foundations for continued growth and impact for the year ahead.

Achievements and performance

Children's Holiday Venture's primary aim is to support children in Niddrie, Pilton, and Sighthill, to improve their emotional and physical well-being through engaging, social, and confidence-building activities. Alongside this, the charity also works to prioritise its long-term sustainability by fundraising and securing grants to maintain and expand its services.

Following a successful period of grant funding at the end of the 2023-2024 financial year, CHV entered 2024-2025 in a stable financial position, equipped with the capacity to expand. One of the first major achievements was the reinstatement of residential camps, which saw two successful weekends away held in April and June, involving 35 children. The introduction of the summer programme further expanded CHV's reach and enabled the charity to become operational for 12 months of the year for the first time in its history. A thirteenth group was subsequently added following the programme due to high demand for services in our Sighthill catchment area which meant a ten child increase to the number of beneficiaries of CHV. This was a testament to the hard work of the committee and volunteers.

Alongside service expansion, the committee remained focused on CHVs goals of financial sustainability and long term security. Grant activity and fundraising remained active, with successes including the annual ball which sold over 100 tickets - a record number for the event - alongside a ceilidh and several bake sales. The success of these events underlined the vital role fundraising plays in maintaining CHVs financial stability and supporting long term goals such as saving towards the purchase of a new minibus in the coming years. Grants equally continued to provide the security and continuity promised to service users over the course of the year.

Evening activities remained at the heart of CHV's work. Throughout the year, groups took part in a wide range of engaging activities, including cookery school, bowling, trampolining, beach bonfires, the Chocolatarium, Camera Obscura, arts and crafts and swimming. Volunteers worked creatively to ensure activities were high-quality, inclusive, and developmentally beneficial. Day trips were also a priority, with the children getting the opportunity to visit places such as the Edinburgh Zoo, Time Capsule Water Park and M&D's Theme Park.

CHV ended the year in a stable financial position, reflecting the collective effort of the entire committee, volunteers, and supporters. Following our most successful year of grants in recent times, CHV was able to expand existing services and ensure continuity into the next financial year. This was demonstrated through the return of residential camps and the launch of the summer program.

The commitment and resilience of CHV's volunteers were key to the charity's success this year. The committee, group leaders, and volunteers ensured that 150 children continued to receive vital support and engagement, helping them build confidence, make new friendships, and enjoy new experiences. Looking ahead, CHV remains confident in its ability to operate sustainably, supported by strong foundations, secure funding, trusted relationships, and a dedicated volunteer base.

Financial review

The charity needs reserves to protect its current activities in order to allow the members to meet their day-to-day responsibilities and to ensure that it continues to operate on a going concern basis. The members have examined the need, risks and challenges faced by the charity in the both short and medium term and have formulated a policy to meet those needs, which are satisfied by the level of reserves at the balance sheet date.

Members' responsibilities statement

The members are responsible for preparing the Members Annual Report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

The law applicable to charities in Scotland requires the charity members to prepare financial statements for each year which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charity and of the incoming resources and application of resources, of the charity for that period.

In preparing these financial statements, the members are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- observe the methods and principles in the applicable Charities SORP;
- make judgments and accounting estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- state whether applicable UK Accounting Standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements;
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charity will continue in business.

The members are responsible for keeping adequate accounting records that are sufficient to show and explain the charity's transactions and disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charity and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Charities and Trustees Investments (Scotland) Act 2005, the Charity Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006, and the provisions of the Trust Deed. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charity and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

3. Accounting policies

Basis of preparation

The financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis, as modified by the revaluation of certain financial assets and liabilities and investment properties measured at fair value through income or expenditure.

The financial statements are prepared in sterling, which is the functional currency of the entity.

Going concern

There are no material uncertainties about the charity's ability to continue.

Disclosure exemptions

Judgements and key sources of estimation uncertainty

3. Accounting policies (continued)

Fund accounting

Unrestricted funds are those which can be used within the charity's objectives, at the discretion of the members.

Restricted funds are those which can only be used for particular restricted purposes within the charity's objectives. Funds are restricted when their purpose is specified by the donor, by the terms of an appeal or where they are raised for a particular purpose or project.

Incoming resources

All income is included in the statement of financial activities when entitlement has passed to the charity, it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow to the charity and the amount can be reliably measured. The following specific policies are applied to particular categories of income:

- income from donations or grants is recognised when there is evidence of entitlement to the gift, receipt is probable and its amount can be measured reliably.

Resources expended

Resources expended are recognised in the year in which they are incurred and include attributable VAT which cannot be recovered.

Tangible assets

Tangible assets are initially recorded at cost, and subsequently stated at cost less any accumulated depreciation and impairment losses. Any tangible assets carried at revalued amounts are recorded at the fair value at the date of revaluation less any subsequent accumulated depreciation and subsequent accumulated impairment losses.

An increase in the carrying amount of an asset as a result of a revaluation, is recognised in other recognised gains and losses, unless it reverses a charge for impairment that has previously been recognised as expenditure within the statement of financial activities. A decrease in the carrying amount of an asset as a result of revaluation, is recognised in other recognised gains and losses, except to which it offsets any previous revaluation gain, in which case the loss is shown within other recognised gains and losses on the statement of financial activities.

Depreciation

Depreciation is calculated so as to write off the cost or valuation of an asset, less its residual value, over the useful economic life of that asset as follows:

Motor vehicles	- 20% straight line

Edinburgh University Children's Holiday Venture

Year ended 31 August 2025

Impairment of fixed assets

A review for indicators of impairment is carried out at each reporting date, with the recoverable amount being estimated where such indicators exist. Where the carrying value exceeds the recoverable amount, the asset is impaired accordingly. Prior impairments are also reviewed for possible reversal at each reporting date.

Financial instruments

A financial asset or a financial liability is recognised only when the entity becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

Basic financial instruments are initially recognised at the amount receivable or payable including any related transaction costs, unless the arrangement constitutes a financing transaction, where it is recognised at the present value of the future payments discounted at a market rate of interest for a similar debt instrument.

Current assets and current liabilities are subsequently measured at the cash or other consideration expected to be paid or received and not discounted.

Debt instruments are subsequently measured at amortised cost.

Structure, governance and management

The charity is a recognised charity in Scotland (charity registration number SC007496) and is operated under the rules of its constitution. The management of the charity is the responsibility of the committee who are elected under terms of the constitution. The charity is run day to day by the members.

Objectives and activities

The objectives of Edinburgh University Children's Holiday Venture (CHY) remain to organise and provide activities and support for children from Edinburgh's peripheral housing schemes, specifically those living in economically deprived areas. These children often face challenges such as neglect, bereavement, isolation, or caring responsibilities. Referrals continue to come from social workers, schools, and other professionals who think we could help.

CHY aims to create a long-term supportive framework through consistent engagement and a high volunteer-to-child ratio. This allows children to develop confidence, social skills, and personal growth while providing a welcome break from their home and school environments. The charity currently supports around 140 children across its groups in the Niddrie, Pilton and Sighthill catchment areas. These groups operate on a fortnightly basis, with volunteers providing transportation via CHV's minibuses to ensure accessibility for all.

This year, financial challenges meant operating with a reduced budget for the start to the financial year before a full recovery in the summer of 2024. This led to the difficult decision to cut residential camps while prioritising regular activities and day trips. Despite these challenges, CHY remained committed to its core mission, ensuring that children still benefited from structured, engaging, and supportive experiences. CHY itself enjoyed another strong year - setting the foundations for a very successful following year.

Achievements and performance

Children's Holiday Venture's primary aim is to support children in Edinburgh, specifically from Niddrie, Pilton, and Sighthill, to improve their emotional and physical well-being through engaging, social, and confidence-building activities. The charity also works to ensure its long-term sustainability by fundraising and securing grants to maintain and expand its operations.

This financial year presented significant financial challenges. Following the purchase of a new minibus in the previous financial year that required the majority of our savings, coupled with a difficult economic environment and reduced eligibility for several key grants, the charity had to operate on a smaller budget. Unfortunately, this meant making difficult decisions, such as cutting the residential camps; instead prioritising the activity nights and day trips. Despite these constraints, the commitment of volunteers and committee members ensured that CHV still delivered high-quality experiences for the children who it services.

Evening activities remained at the heart of CHV's work. Throughout the year, groups took part in a wide range of engaging activities, including bowling, trampolining, scavenger hunts, bonfires on the beach, arts and crafts, and team-building games. Volunteers worked creatively to develop budget-conscious but high-quality activities, ensuring that each session remained engaging and beneficial for the children. Day trips were also a priority in lieu of the annual camps, with children getting the opportunity to visit places such as the zoo, the beach, and the Time Capsule Water Park.

The Progressions groups, which was introduced in the previous year for older children, expanded. This group aims to foster independence, teamwork, and personal development for children older than 12 through age-appropriate activities. In 2023-24, 20 children regularly participated, benefitting from outings that encouraged responsibility and resilience.

A major focus this year was securing funding to sustain CHV's work. While grants were harder to obtain over the course of our activities from September to June, CHV still benefited from tens of thousands of pounds in funding thanks to the dedicated efforts of the grants officers. Fundraising played an increasingly important role in maintaining financial stability, with volunteers participating in a variety of activities, including bucket collections at the Christmas market, social events, and the CHV Ball. The Annual Ball was a particular success, raising hundreds of pounds through raffle ticket sales alone.

Despite the financial constraints, CHV ended the year in a stable financial position, as a result of the concerted effort of the entire committee and the decision at our 2024 AGM to add a third Grants Officer to the committee. We had our most successful summer of grants in years, resulting in enough funding to continue full operations into the next financial year. Though it was disappointing to have to cut overnight camps, this decision allowed CHV to offer its core services without disruption and we have budgeted for - and committed to - their return in 2025.

The commitment and resilience of CHV's volunteers were key to the charity's success this year. The committee, group leaders, and volunteers ensured that 140 children continued to receive vital support and engagement, helping them build confidence, make new friendships, and enjoy new experiences. Looking back, the resilience that CHV displayed; through its determination and fundraising efforts, showcased our strength and capacity to deliver on our now 64-year old commitment to the children of Edinburgh. Looking ahead, CHV remains steadfastly committed to its mission. We believe we have the funds, foundations, relationships and volunteers necessary to operate long into the future.

COMMITTEE MEMBERS' REMUNERATION AND EXPENSES

The members of the committee did not receive any remuneration or reimbursement of expenses during the year (2023 - £nil).

Financial review

The charity needs reserves to protect its current activities in order to allow the members to meet their day-to-day responsibilities and to ensure that it continues to operate on a going concern basis. The members have examined the need, risks and challenges faced by the charity in the both short and medium term and have formulated a policy to meet those needs, which are satisfied by the level of reserves at the balance sheet date.

Members' responsibilities statement

The members are responsible for preparing the Members Annual Report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

The law applicable to charities in Scotland requires the charity members to prepare financial statements for each year which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charity and of the incoming resources and application of resources, of the charity for that period.

In preparing these financial statements, the members are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- observe the methods and principles in the applicable Charities SORP;
- make judgments and accounting estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- state whether applicable UK Accounting Standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements;
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charity will continue in business.

The members are responsible for keeping adequate accounting records that are sufficient to show and explain the charity's transactions and disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charity and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Charities and Trustees Investments (Scotland) Act 2005, the Charity Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006, and the provisions of the Trust Deed. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charity and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

The charity constitutes a public benefit entity as defined by FRS I 02.

3. Accounting policies

Basis of preparation

The financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis, as modified by the revaluation of certain financial assets and liabilities and investment properties measured at fair value through income or expenditure.

The financial statements are prepared in sterling, which is the functional currency of the entity.

Going concern

There are no material uncertainties about the charity's ability to continue.

Disclosure exemptions

The entity satisfies the criteria of being a qualifying entity as defined in FRS I 02. As such, advantage has been taken of the following disclosure exemptions available under paragraph 1.12 of FRS 102:

- (a) No cash flow statement has been presented for the company.
- (b) Disclosures in respect of financial instruments have not been presented.

Judgements and key sources of estimation uncertainty

3. Accounting policies (continued)

Fund accounting

Unrestricted funds are those which can be used within the charity's objectives, at the discretion of the members.

Restricted funds are those which can only be used for particular restricted purposes within the charity's objectives. Funds are restricted when their purpose is specified by the donor, by the terms of an appeal or where they are raised for a particular purpose or project.

Incoming resources

All income is included in the statement of financial activities when entitlement has passed to the charity, it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow to the charity and the amount can be reliably measured. The following specific policies are applied to particular categories of income:

- income from donations or grants is recognised when there is evidence of entitlement to the gift, receipt is probable and its amount can be measured reliably.

Resources expended

Resources expended are recognised in the year in which they are incurred and include attributable VAT which cannot be recovered.

Tangible assets

Tangible assets are initially recorded at cost, and subsequently stated at cost less any accumulated depreciation and impairment losses. Any tangible assets carried at revalued amounts are recorded at the fair value at the date of revaluation less any subsequent accumulated depreciation and subsequent accumulated impairment losses.

An increase in the carrying amount of an asset as a result of a revaluation, is recognised in other recognised gains and losses, unless it reverses a charge for impairment that has previously been recognised as expenditure within the statement of financial activities. A decrease in the carrying amount of an asset as a result of revaluation, is recognised in other recognised gains and losses, except to which it offsets any previous revaluation gain, in which case the loss is shown within other recognised gains and losses on the statement of financial activities.

Depreciation

Depreciation is calculated so as to write off the cost or valuation of an asset, less its residual value, over the useful economic life of that asset as follows:

Motor vehicles	20% straight line

Edinburgh University Children's Holiday Venture

Impairment of fixed assets

A review for indicators of impairment is carried out at each reporting date, with the recoverable amount being estimated where such indicators exist. Where the carrying value exceeds the recoverable amount, the asset is impaired accordingly. Prior impairments are also reviewed for possible reversal at each reporting date.

Financial instruments

A financial asset or a financial liability is recognised only when the entity becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

Basic financial instruments are initially recognised at the amount receivable or payable including any related transaction costs, unless the arrangement constitutes a financing transaction, where it is recognised at the present value of the future payments discounted at a market rate of interest for a similar debt instrument.

Current assets and current liabilities are subsequently measured at the cash or other consideration expected to be paid or received and not discounted.

Debt instruments are subsequently measured at amortised cost.
