Activities

Activities: 'It carries out activities or services itself'

Purposes: 'the advancement of religion'

What the charity does: The Society is an autonomous body which is voluntarily affiliated to the General Assembly of Unitarian and Free Christian Churches and to the Scottish Unitarian Association. The church aims to encourage spiritual growth, promoting Unitarian ideals. It provides services of worship, rites of passage and encourages involvement in like minded groups.

Beneficiaries: 'No specific group, or for the benefit of the community'

Objectives: 2.1.1 We support the principles of freedom, progress and tolerance in religion. 2.1.2 We acknowledge the respect of self and love for others as taught and practised by Jesus together with the insights of other faiths and what is good and true in human experience. 2.1.3 We cherish the whole creation and respect the interdependence of the earth's community. 2.1.4 We seek to make religion relevant to life through public worship, inquiry and service to the community. 2.1.5 We encourage individuals in their personal and spiritual growth and respect their freedom to believe according to reason and conscience. 2.1.6 We ask Members of our Society to share these principles. 2.2 [premises] We seek to maintain, preserve and enhance the church premises, which are provided for the use of our Members and the general public.
