Purposes: 'the advancement of the arts, heritage, culture or science'

What the charity does: Cowal Choral Club is an inclusive chorus of singers and musical theatre performers based in Dunoon, Argyll, Scotland. We have entertained our community since 1942, and we rehearse every week. A vital part of what we do as a club is to help our members to develop and improve their singing and acting performance skills, their personal confidence, and their wellbeing. We also want to deliver positive and inclusive performance experiences for a diverse membership community. Our members come from a variety of backgrounds. we want to foster professional performances with an integrated and inclusive chorus community. We want to entertain groups, communities, and members of the public, in Cowal and throughout Scotland, by delivering music concerts musical theatre performances which add positivity, wellness, and improve the public's mental health. Typically the Club puts on two performances each year - a concert at Christmas, and a musical theatre performance in late Spring.

Beneficiaries: 'No specific group, or for the benefit of the community'

Objectives: The aims and objects of the Club shall be the study and performance of Choral and Operatic music.
