Activities

Activities: 'It carries out activities or services itself'

Purposes: 'the advancement of environmental protection or improvement'

What the charity does: Preserve the Eriskay Pony breed in a genetically robust manner. The Eriskay Pony is culturally significant to the crofting history of the Western Isles. It is also highly genetically distinct and carries rare genetic markers making it important in the wider equine world. The society encourages and supports breeders to maximise the number of foals born whilst maintaining the genetic integrity of the breed. The society uses sophisticated genetic analysis tools to identify the value of every potential genetic match and this is used to drive the support given to breeders.

Beneficiaries: 'Children or young people'

Objectives: The objects for which the Society is established are to maintain unimpaired the purity of the breed of Eriskay Ponies and to promote the breeding of these Ponies in the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland or elsewhere.
