Activities: 'It makes grants, donations, loans, gifts or pensions to individuals','It makes grants, donations or gifts to organisations'

Purposes: 'the prevention or relief of poverty','the advancement of education','the advancement of religion','the advancement of health','the saving of lives','the advancement of the arts, heritage, culture or science','the advancement of environmental protection or improvement','the relief of those in need by reason of age, ill-health, disability, financial hardship or other disadvantage'

What the charity does: The trustees' principal aims are to support the advancement of the arts, heritage, culture and/or science. environmental protection and/or improvement. education and/or health. The trust's only funds are its professionally managed investments and it does not set out to raise additional funds. Other than in exceptional circumstances, it focuses mainly but not necessarily only on smaller Scottish charities run mainly by volunteers, with few if any resources significant enough to mount formal fund-raising campaigns and for capital aspects of projects carried out wholly or mainly in Scotland. The trust conducts its own research into potential beneficiaries and achieves its aims by awarding normally modest project grants to stable, sustainable charitable organisations able to show environmentally friendly practices and high levels of achievement.

Beneficiaries: 'No specific group, or for the benefit of the community'
