Activities

Activities: 'It carries out activities or services itself'

Purposes: 'the advancement of education', 'the advancement of environmental protection or improvement'

What the charity does: Recycle to Cycle, also known as The Bike Station, is set up to improve mental and physical health, advance education, and protect the environment by promoting cycling as an accessible and sustainable form of transport. The charity does this by providing affordable access to refurbished bicycles, delivering cycle training and maintenance education, and offering inclusive programmes that support people of all ages and backgrounds to cycle safely and confidently. It operates community bike hubs where the public can access repair services, training sessions, workshops, and events. Through these activities, the charity reduces transport barriers, supports wellbeing, builds practical skills, and encourages low-carbon travel for public benefit.

Beneficiaries: 'No specific group, or for the benefit of the community'

Objectives: To encourage and promote good mental and physical health through cycling as a means of transport. to advance the education of the public in the safe use of bicycles and their repair. and to protect and preserve the environment for the public benefit by promoting cycling as a means of transport.
