What the charity does: Our vision is of all Scotland's communities being places of love, welcome, justice and sharing, where everyone can live their life to the full. Purpose • We support local faith groups in their work to tackle poverty • We build connections between local faith groups themselves, and collectively with strategic partners • We build movements for change led by people and groups experiencing poverty Mission 1. To strengthen the ability of faith groups to tackle poverty. 2. To encourage and support faith groups to work with the most vulnerable people in their communities. 3. To nurture, develop and support local leaders and activists. 4. To support people and local groups to speak the truth about poverty. We have a track record of almost twenty years in asset-based community development, working with marginalised communities and supporting people experiencing poverty to take a lead in developing solutions and mentoring others through change.
