Objectives: 1. To relieve the suffering of animals and promote animal welfare and conservation in developing countries of Asia and Afridca, in particular but not exclusively, by alleviating the burden of rabies and, 2. to promote public health and advance the education of the public in matters regarding rabies and the risk of infection. In furtherance thereof but not otherwise ARC shall seek to achieve the objects through the following activities: (1) To undertake surveillance of rabies in animal hosts and humans. (2) Education of major target groups, in particular health workers, animal health personnel, wildlife agencies and the general public - principally children, who are at most risk of infection.
